SENATE RESOLUTION

COMMENDING THE CELEBRATION IN 1958 OF THE TWO HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF FORT BEDFORD BY THE PEOPLE OF BEDFORD AND BEDFORD COUNTY.

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, June 10, 1957.

The year 1958 will mark the two hundredth anniversary of the building of Fort Bedford at the site of present Bedford, Pennsylvania; an event which is highly deserving of commemoration for its important consequences in the history of Pennsylvania and of the United States.

The building of Fort Bedford opened the way for the expansion of Pennsylvania west of the Allegheny Mountains and determined that the future of North America was to be in the hands of English-speaking people enjoying the blessings of religious liberty and of free representative government. It was built in 1758 as a major base for General John Forbes' successful campaign against the French in western Pennsylvania.

Fort Bedford was of prime importance in opening western Pennsylvania to settlement, for it withstood Indian attack in 1763 and served as a base for Colonel Bouquet's march to defeat the Indians at the Battle of Bushy Run.

This important post and center of settlement was an essential link in the settlement and progress of western Pennsylvania and the Old Northwest, and in maintaining control of the west during the American Revolution, thus assuring that the western territories would become part of the future United States of America.

The Bedford of today is a thriving modern city. Upwards of three hundred conventions are held there annually. It also attracts thousands of tourists and vacationers who are entertained in the world famous one hundred fifty year old Bedford Springs Hotel and in the ultra modern motels and hotels.

The role of Fort Bedford in the making of Pennsylvania and of the United States and its position among the leading cities of this great Commonwealth are so important that its two hundredth anniversary should not only be celebrated by the local community and county but commemorated throughout the Commonwealth as an anniversary of national significance; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby commends the celebration in 1958 of the two hundredth anniversary of Fort Bedford by the people of Bedford and Bedford County, and further calls upon all historical and patriotic organizations of the Commonwealth to commemorate this significant milestone in Pennsylvania history by suitable exercises and ceremonies at some proper occasion during the year 1958.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DONOLOW asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, one of the most important parts of our economy, which is rapidly going out of existence, is the small businessman. Everywhere in Pennsylvania, in every community, we see small stores vacant; the small corner butcher, the small corner enterpriser who helped build this great Commonwealth and this great Country is being rapidly extinguished.

Therefore, Mr. President, I feel it is time that we here in Pennsylvania give recognition to the fact and give recognition to the problem of these young people, most of whom came from other countries and who worked many years to build up this great Commonwealth which Pennsylvania is today. They are rapidly becoming the economic class of the past.

We see in its place big chains and other big businesses coming into existence. Of course, I have no objection to big business. I do not think any Member of this Body does, but we must, of necessity, give our attention to these small people who, because of unfair competitive practices and other practices which have arisen over the years, no longer are the class of people that made Pennsylvania as great as it is today.

Therefore, Mr. President, I call upon this Body to consider this resolution, and pass it, requesting the Joint State Government Commission to make a thorough study concerning how we can aid our small business people and make its report at the next Session of the Legislature. We, here in Pennsylvania, in the past have been gracious to almost everyone, including working people and big business. We have been thoughtful of everyone but the small businessmen. I would suggest, Mr. President, that at the next Session of the Legislature we pass appropriate legislation so that we can help this class to survive.

On behalf of my colleague, Senator Camiel, and myself, I am presenting this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF THE PROBLEMS OF SMALL BUSINESSMEN IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Messrs. DONOLOW and CAMIEL offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, June 10, 1957.

It is general knowledge that the small businessman in Pennsylvania is rapidly being extinguished due to many unfair competitive practices.

Since the small businessman is the backbone of the economy of this Commonwealth, it is imperative that definitive affirmative action be taken by the Commonwealth to insure the continuance of his existence; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a thorough study of the problems of small businessmen in Pennsylvania, and make a report of its findings together with its recommendations for corrective legislation to the next General Assembly.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the recent plight of Sergeant William S. Girard, a member of the United States Armed Forces who is going to be tried by our former enemies, the Japanese, has aroused much criticism throughout the United States; as a matter of fact, throughout the world.

I believe the people of this great Commonwealth will agree with me on this resolution when I say we will never forget the murderous Japanese at Pearl Harbor, when they flew over there and bombed our ships and killed civilians—in fact, they butchered—at a time when their ambassadors were negotiating with President Roosevelt.

We all know what happened, and now the United States Government has seen fit to turn Sergeant Girard over to the Japanese government for trial. I do not believe this man should not be tried. However, he is a member of the Armed Forces and he should be tried under the jurisdiction of the United States. This resolution, which I am about to introduce, deplors the action on the part of our government in sacrificing the rights of an American citizen and handing him over to the enemy. If they have their way, they will do the same thing to Sergeant Girard as they did to our people at Pearl Harbor.

I am offering this resolution on behalf of Senator Dent, Senator Mahany, Senator Pechan and myself. I do not request its immediate adoption, but I would like the Committee on Rules to read this resolution and report it out before the end of the Session.

SENATE RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DEPLORING THE ACTION OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT IN PERMITTING WILLIAM S. GIRARD, AN AMERICAN SOLDIER, TO BE TRIED BY THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT.

Messrs. LANE, DENT, MAHANY and PECHAN offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, June 10, 1957.

The recent decision of the United States Government to permit Sergeant William S. Girard, a member of the United States Army, to be tried by Japanese courts on manslaughter charges has raised the ire of thousands of American citizens.

The possibility of an American citizen serving his country being deprived of his constitutional rights, especially by a former enemy of our country and our way of life, is not only frightening but disgusting.

The adverse comments which have been published in Japanese newspapers concerning Sergeant Girard combined with the growing resentment of the Japanese of the presence of our forces in Japan will lend further toward an unfair and biased trial.

In spite of the unnecessary concessions we made in the status of forces agreement governing rights of American troops based in Japan, the United States Government could have rightfully retained jurisdiction over William S. Girard if it had taken a firm position. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania wishes to make it clear that it deplors the action of the United States Government in permitting William S. Girard, an American soldier, to be tried by the Japanese Government and it further Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 114, REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE AND LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MAHANY, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Wolfe and Machan on March 20, 1957, reported the same without amendment as follows:

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO IMMEDIATELY ENACT LEGISLATION WHICH WILL SEEK A MODIFICATION OF ALL AGREEMENTS GIVING FOREIGN NATIONS CRIMINAL JURISDICTION OVER UNITED STATES SERVICE PERSONNEL

In the Senate, March 20, 1957.

The members of our armed forces serving abroad, their civilian component and the dependents of each, are now subject to the criminal jurisdiction of more than fifty countries in which they may be on duty by reason of the NATO Status of Forces Treaty, the Administrative Agreement with Japan, and Executive Agreements with other nations. These agreements penalize our servicemen who are serving abroad by depriving them of many of the rights granted by our Constitution, which they have sworn to defend.

The Senate deplors the arrangements now existing which make service in our armed forces abroad a hazard by depriving our servicemen, their civilian component and dependents of the rights and guarantees of our Constitution.

The General Assembly therefore expresses its belief that all United States service personnel stationed abroad should be tried by United States military tribunals under the Uniform Code of Military Justice for offenses committed on foreign soil, therefore be it

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring) That the Congress of the United States be memorialized to immediately enact legislation which will seek a modification of all agreements giving foreign nations criminal jurisdiction over United States service personnel stationed there in order that the United States may regain exclusive jurisdiction over members of its armed forces or if necessary the Congress should terminate or denounce these agreements, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the President and Vice President of the United States; to all Senators and members of the House of Representatives of the United States and that copies be filed with the Clerk of the House of Representatives and the Clerk of the Senate of the United States.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have two very important bills to present to the Senate. It is imperative that I present them today in the hope of having them printed. If you can see it your way, I would suggest that they be sent to the Rules Committee. Both of these bills deal with very important subjects regarding the budget and the requirements of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I would like to just state briefly, for the record and for the Membership's information, that one of the problems which is vexing the Commonwealth is the question of payment of the occupational disease compensation benefits. All of us know that these amounts have been climbing over the years, but the jump in this biennium and the next biennium is beyond any reasonable ability of the people of the Commonwealth to pay the entire load out of general tax funds.

Mr. President, with the help of Sam Neff, who is a former Member of the Senate, I made a study on the question of workmen's compensation and occupational disease compensation, with the assistance of a Deputy, Milton Weisberg, over in the Department of Labor and Industry. We came up with a solution which I think should interest every Member of this Senate.

The question of the payment of occupational disease compensation has been one which has plagued the General Assembly since 1935. As we all know, it is difficult to place the blame for the liability on any individual employer, unless the employee has worked for one employer all of his working lifetime. However, when the employee has crossed over into other payrolls and into other indusries, it has become absolutely impossible to place the percentage of liability against each employer. As an outgrowth of this, we have been forced, in the Legislature, to make the full responsibility of the payment of these claims and now the Commonwealth is liable for the entire payment.

In the Governor's budget, the Governor asked for $20,000,000 for the payment of unemployment compensation claims. The House of Representatives cut that figure to $10,000,000. In the amended copy of House Bill No. 1700, we find that the Senate Appropriations Committee has tacked that figure to $12,000,000. In talking to the Secretary of Labor and Industry and Mr. Weisberg, I find that the fund will be completely drained dry at the figure of $12,000,000, somewhere between the dates of June 15 and July 15, of 1958. If this fund is drained dry by that date, we may find ourselves in the position where we will have to have a Special Session of the Legislature, because any payments which are not made, carry with them an interest. Besides that, we know the people who will be receiving this money will either have to go on direct relief or put a lien against the payments.

Therefore, Mr. President, rather than face the possibility of a Special Session of the Legislature or an underappropriation to the occupational disease fund, I have tried, with some help, to work out an answer to this vexing problem. The amount needed today will be multiplied many times, in the future, unless we decide upon some kind of action in this Legislature. We now have some 3,600 recipients of this fund. We have, being processed at this time, 1,685 applications. As the law is written, there is no restriction or no manner of turning an applicant down, unless he just does not pass the medical test. They have found that the rejects are very much in the minority. They are receiving, according to the Department, somewhere between fifty and sixty new applicants each week.

I believe that the cost of this particular item does not rightfully belong to the taxpayers of the Commonwealth through the General Fund. I sincerely believe that a small amount, charged against the payroll cost in Pennsylvania, will be the proper place and manner in which to raise this money. Therefore, by some simple arithmetic, I have found that if we assess one cent on a $100 payroll in this Commonwealth, we will receive, even with an eighty per cent collection, some $21,000,000 a biennium.

Mr. President, I do not believe that any employer in the Commonwealth could find this to be an extraordinary load to carry. This bill of mine transfers the administration of the entire occupational compensation fund to the Workmen's Insurance Fund. The payments from the payrolls will be made on last year's estimate, at the rate of one cent for every $100 paid-out payroll. It will be paid to the Workmen's Compensation Fund and will be administered by that office. This will save on administration and it will also give a proper coverage of the entire problem.

I am sure, Mr. President, that we can then release $12,000,000 from the General Fund of this biennium, which is now included in the General Fund, to be paid to the various departments for the cuts which have been made in some of the administrative departments of the Commonwealth.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask that this bill be referred to the Committee on Rules, if you can, and ask that we hold a meeting as soon as possible. Whether or not the bill meets with approval, let us, at least, get it out onto the calendar where it can be aired and where we can get a reaction to this kind of legislation.

I sincerely believe that over the long range, this is the answer to the payment of occupational disease compensation benefits. I believe, too, that within six to ten years, this will be a diminishing cost rather than a growing cost. I believe this because most of the cases come from the coal fields. All of us know that this is no longer a growing industry, but it is a diminishing or dying industry.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 936, entitled:

An Act requiring employers to make payments to the Department of Labor and Industry to provide funds for the payment of the Commonwealth's liabilities under The Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, as you know, this Commonwealth has a monopolistic liquor business and, therefore, having a monopolistic business, they are the sole purchasers of wines and liquors in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The Liquor Control Board marks into the markup cost a certain figure for the operation of the department. However, Pennsylvania distillers and manufacturers, processors and rectifiers, are competing with out-of-State distillers and so forth, and they compete in Pennsylvania against out-of-State products, although they have to pay the additional Pennsylvania revenue taxes. They pay for the cost of government from the Governor on down; the legislative activities, the judicial and all of the administrative costs of this Commonwealth.

I believe, like the State of Michigan, that we have a problem we must solve for ourselves. The State of Kentucky also follows this particular procedure. I believe there should be a service charge for shelving and warehousing out-of-State liquors in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania over and above that paid by Pennsylvania vendors, because if this results in Pennsylvania vendors or distillers having a greater bulk of the business, this will result to the benefit of this Commonwealth in greater employment and greater taxation on a local base, and it will give us for this biennium approximately $9,000,000 more for our use in meeting the needs of the mental health picture, in the Health Department, and in the various other departments which have been cut.

I would like to present to the Senate and suggest to the Chair that this bill be made a companion bill to the other and referred to the Rules Committee, so that they may be discussed at the same time. This is a service charge on out-of-State liquor business.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 937, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90), entitled "Liquor Code," requiring a service charge to be collected on bottled whiskey and wine purchased by the board when the wine or whiskey is bottled or manufactured outside the Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I was informed that the three Republican Assemblymen from Northampton County filed a resolution with the House of Representatives, calling upon me and other members of the committee which investigated the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission to file a report and give an accounting of the money spent from the $13,000 appropriation which was made to the committee.

Although it was a House Resolution and under the terms of the resolution, the Governor had a right to make an appointment and he appointed me to that committee, and I am assuming because of that the report is not to be filed here in the Senate. However, I shall take the liberty to at least present the report as soon as it is completed and I want to assure the Members of the Senate, and the Members of the House, that the report will be filed before the Legislature adjourns.

There is one paragraph and one inquiry that the gentlemen from Northampton County, in the House, omitted from the resolution. They should have made inquiry as to why the court of Bucks County has not disposed of motions to quash the indictments against four of the defendants who were indicted and charged with one of the worst cases of lavish spending ever to be uncovered in the State Government.

I am not going to go into all that the committee found today, except to say that people in New Jersey and people in the Easton area are taking bets that the defendant will never come trial. Those who are taking the bets will win them if the courts in Bucks County does not act and act soon, because I am informed that if the court should hand down its opinion quashing the indictments two years after the defendants left office, the Commonwealth will be stopped from bringing new indictments. This means that those charged under the indictments will get away without trials just through the delaying tactics of those concerned and that includes the court.

By comparison, Mr. President, a number of people were involved in the Turnpike scandal. Many, many more defendants were involved and many, many more indictments were involved. The same procedures were gone through in connection with the Turnpike indictments as were gone through in the indictments involving the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission, but the Dauphin County court acted with dispatch. As a result, all motions that were made were disposed of and the defendants are now being brought to trial.

Many people are wondering why this same thing has not happened in the Bucks County Court in connection with those indicted for violations connected with the administration of the affairs of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission. If something does not soon happen, because the statute of limitations period is near at hand, I shall prepare a resolution, calling for an investigation to determine this long, undue and unreasonable delay on the part of the Bucks County Court to hand down a decision on the motions to quash the indictments so that we can find out whether there are any shenanigans going on. If there are, proper action should be taken.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CHAPMAN, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 930, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for the construction of armory facilities under certain conditions.

He also, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 932, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for moneys in the Toll Bridge Fund to the Board of Finance and Revenue for the payment of the Loan and Transfer Agent of the Commonwealth.

			Weiner,

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of House Bill No. 612, entitled:

An Act relating to water well drillers providing for the registration and licensing of water well drillers conferring powers and imposing duties upon the State Board of Examiners for Water Well Drilling Contractors The Department of Public Instruction and The Department of Internal Affairs providing for the revocation or suspension of licenses and prescribing unlawful acts and penalties.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I just want to state that the reason I am personally voting against this bill, and voted against the previous bill, is because they propose to create additional licensure boards and create new licenses. It is my understanding that is what they do.

I have studied a little bit of history, and I do not believe that we want to go back to the ancient days of the English Commonwealth when they had the trades and crafts; when by simply creating boards of licensure, they were able to keep from almost any activity those whom they wanted kept out. That is one reason why, for many years, I have refused to vote for any additional licensure boards in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to say that the reason I am voting for both of these bills is because we understand there is a critical water table lowering in the State of Pennsylvania, especially down in Senator Yosko and Senator Van Sant's Districts. They are very much worried over the lowering of the water table. By licensing these well drillers and putting upon them the duty of reporting to a department what their findings are when they drill for water, we may then be able to find out how fast this table is being lowered and what, if anything, we may do in order to correct the situation.

The reason for these bills is not so much to set up a board as it is to get data in connection with our water level and water table in Pennsylvania. That is the reason for these bills and that is the reason I am voting for them.

I do not want to vote for any more boards either. For that reason, some of the bills which provided for additional boards were recommitted to the committees from which they came. This is about the only legislation setting up a board that we have passed this Session.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, in order to clarify the impression of the Minority Leader, let me say that this bill does not create a new license. The well drillers are already licensed under the Act of 1956. This merely raises the eligibility qualifications in order for them to come up to the proper perfection in their profession.

If it is a question of a new license, the gentleman is in error, because this is a better bill than the bill which is actually repealed by the Act of 1956.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it seems that the gentleman from Titusville, Senator Mahany, was slightly wrong and, perhaps, I was slightly wrong. However, when the explanation of the gentleman from Erie hit the floor, it proved my major point.

First, they had us pass a bill setting up licensing for well drillers on the plea that we needed information and data relative to the wells being drilled in the Commonwealth so as to keep a complete record of the water tables of the Commonwealth. Now, less than two years later, we are assembled again. What they are doing is exactly what I complained about. They are raising the eligibility standards of the well drillers. Within a few short years, they will have it so that no one can drill a well except a well driller's son. It has been historical that the craft movements, when licensed by law, have destroyed the ambition and the avenues of endeavor for individuals.

We already have the licensing act, which we put on the books in 1956. At that time, the purpose was only to gather the data, and that is exactly what they are doing. Now, the well drillers come in. They have their foot in the door and now they want to push their whole body in and keep everybody else out of the room.

That is exactly why I am opposed to this legislation, contrary to the argument advanced by the gentleman from Titusville. I am not against gathering the data. I am just against closing the door on future endeavors by any individual who might want to become a well driller.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, just as an observation, the Romans had a saying, "Tempora mutantur et nos mutamur in illis," meaning, "Times change and we change in time."

I see that Senator Blass, of Erie, is an ardent supporter of this measure. All of my bills having been referred to his committee for burial, he, all of a sudden, takes up the cudgels for this group which he kept at bay two years ago. It is, indeed, a great change.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—27

Berger,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Sarraf,	Walker,
Blass,	Kromer,	Scott,	Watkins,

THIRD READING CALENDAR

APPROPRIATION BILLS ON THIRD READING
OVER IN ORDER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that all appropriations bills, on third reading, be held over until we have had an opportunity to review them against the budget requirements. They are now on the Third Reading Calendar and another day's delay will not hurt anything. This will give us an opportunity to study the bills tonight and tomorrow morning.

The bills were as follows:

Senate Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 334;
Senate Bill No. 208, Printer's No. 335;
Senate Bill No. 270, Printer's No. 336;
Senate Bill No. 594 (Pink);
Senate Bill No. 662 (Pink);
Senate Bill No. 815 (Pink);
Senate Bill No. 865, Printer's No. 337;
Senate Bill No. 919, Printer's No. 326;
House Bill No. 1482, Printer's No. 735;
House Bill No. 1658, Printer's No. 643;
House Bill No. 1659, Printer's No. 643; and
House Bill No. 1700, Printer's No. 856.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, may we be at ease a moment?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, if we agree to put these bills over in order until tomorrow, will you be ready to act upon them tomorrow morning, as soon as we reach the Calendar?

Mr. DENT. That depends on how late you keep me out tonight, Senator. I understand you are taking us all out for dinner.

Mr. MAHANY. I cannot hear you, Senator.

Mr. DENT. You cannot hear me anytime when I ask you to take me out to dinner.

I said that I would hope to be able to go over them. As I look the Calendar over, I note there are about thirteen of the bills which I particularly question and on which I would like to have some time to check with the various departments.

As you know, we have been tied up with House Bill No. 1700. I have a stack of amendments for that bill which will take hours tomorrow to, at least, debate. I will try to work on them tonight.

Mr. MAHANY. I would like to dispose of these bills in order for us to send them over to the House for its action. If you will assure the passage of these bills tomorrow, I will see that you leave the party by ten o'clock tonight so that you may go home and study the bills.

Mr. DENT. I might suggest, Senator Mahany, that you should go over to the House and find out whether they are going to pass the House Appropriation Bills which they are holding on the Calendar at this time. If they do not pass the House Bills over to us today, then there is no sense in passing the Senate Bills over to the House. They both will require the same number of legislative days in order to pass finally I understand the House is holding up the preferred appropriations. Therefore, it will not delay anything if we hold these until tomorrow. We will do our best to get over them.

Mr. MAHANY. All right.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bills will go over in their order.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I note on page 12 of the Calendar that Senate Bill No. 720 was taken off the Third Reading Postponed Calendar and amended: If we are to move this bill through the Legislature, we should pass it in the Senate by tomorrow.

I want to call the attention of Senator Dent, the Minority Floor Leader, to an item which appeared in the Pennsylvania Democratic News, which someone handed to me this afternoon. I usually do not make a habit of reading the Democratic News any more than Senator Barr makes a habit of reading the Pennsylvania Manufacturer's News. "However, a couple of weeks ago he did obtain a copy and he read a portion of it into the record. Therefore, I would like to read this article to determine the reaction of Governor Leader to it, and find out whether or not this might be one of Miss Blatt's blasts, because I notice she is Secretary of the Democratic State Committee and perhaps she wrote this. This is what it says:

"Republican leaders, who like to boast that they understand 'business methods' and that they are the only 'friends of economy' in government, will have a hard time explaining why they are pushing up the state debt as they have done during the last week. As of January 1, Pennsylvania owed over $546 million in the regular state debt, the General State Authority debt, and the Highway and Bridge Authority debt. In addition, it owed one-half of the existing debt of state and local school authorities amounting to over $597 million, or about $300 million for the state. Besides that, the Turnpike Commission owed over $459 million. Last week, however, the GOP-controlled General Assembly was ready to put the state nearly one-half billion dollars deeper in debt through $200 million additional School Building Authority borrowing, $100 million additional General State Authority borrowing, and a $150 million for the Korean War Veterans Bonus. As the Harrisburg Sunday Patriot News said on June 2, 'Pennsylvania went into this session in hock up to its ears for years, and this Legislature is making it worse . . . The fuss and furore over how much will or will not be appropriated to run the Commonwealth for the next two years has been shoveled up in so much smoke that Pennsylvanians have lost sight of the really monumental failure of this General Assembly.' And don't forget every borrowed dollar spent costs high interest!"

That is the end of the item in the Pennsylvania Democratic News. Most of these bills were sponsored by Senator Dent and myself to increase the General State Authority debt. I feel that I do not want to be a partnership to something when the Democrats are going to unload the entire burden on the Republicans. Also, I am prompted to say these bills were introduced at the request of His Excellency, Governor Leader, who was part and parcel of the agreement to raise the borrowing capacity of the General State Authority by those amounts. We wanted to take care of Point Park in Pittsburgh, and the Mall in Philadelphia and also take care of erecting some buildings for our medical schools and other institutions.

I feel if Governor Leader does not want that done now, all he has to do is tell us so and we will put these bills back into committee. We did pass one bill in the Senate last week, and sent it over to the House of Representatives, to increase the General State Authority borrowing capacity. I will advise the House leadership to also recommit that bill if they have gotten it on the floor, and if they have not gotten it on the floor, I will advise them to have the committee not report it out.

I think Governor Leader owes us some explanation for this item which appeared in the Democratic News. If this is not in line with his thinking, I feel he should repudiate the article publicly and so state, certainly, for the press. He should also include an item in the Democratic News of next week, stating that the author of this particular article did not know what he or she was talking about when it was published.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, on the advice of my counsel, I plead both surprise and astonishment.

The PRESIDENT. Do not take the Fifth Amendment, though.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, it is true that we have passed Senate Bill No. 313, increasing the borrowing capacity of the General State Authority by $100,000,000, of which approximately $66,000,000 is required for past projects, projects that have already been approved by the Legislature. Some $34,000,000 is going to be used for new and additional projects required and asked for by the departments of State Government.

It is true that we have another bill on the Calendar before us. It is also true that we should vote on this bill today if we have hope of passing it. This bill gives the General State Authority an additional $40,000,000 to be used for capital improvements at the State-aided universities, as well as $1,000,000, by the recent amendment of Senator Scott, for the purchase of land for future construction and expansion of the State Teachers' Colleges. However, I want to say very frankly that it was my belief, and still is my belief, that Governor Leader is behind this program one hundred per cent. I have consulted with him time and time again on the General State Authority program and the school building program, and unless I have been operating in error, and

I do not think I have been, I believe the Governor and the entire Administration is behind these particular bills.

I assure the Republican Floor Leader that it would be wrong to hold this bill up in the Senate. I believe the Governor will make a statement to the effect that he wants the legislation for the worth-while projects that the departments have asked for under the General State Authority.

I am sure that none of the Members of this Senate have promoted any of the projects or have any projects which they want included under the General State Authority. I am sure the entire spending under the General State Authority must have the blessing and the demand of the Administration.

Therefore, Senator Mahany, I do not know who wrote this article. I know it is an authentic publication of the Democratic Party, and that the person who wrote this was not informed of the responsibility for this legislation. It should be corrected publicly because it is unfair to label you and I particularly, as the sponsors of this legislation for increasing the debt limit in Pennsylvania.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, in all friendliness, I would like to call the attention of the Majority Leader to what I think must have been an unfortunate slip of speech. I think he would not want it to stand in the record.

Senator Mahany said that he does not very often read the Democratic News and that he is sure that Senator Barr does not very often read the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Bulletin. The juxtaposition of those two names indicates that he places the Pennsylvania Manufacturer's Association Bulletin in the same category, on his side, as we place the Democratic New on our side.

Mr. President, the Democratic News is the official publication of the Democratic Party. Senator Mahany's statement would infer that the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Bulletin is the official publication of the Republican Party.

I hope that was just a slip and, if so, I think the Majority Leader should have an opportunity to correct it, in all friendliness.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it seems as though Senator Seyler is trying to put words in my mouth. It just proves that figures do not lie, but liars can figure. I merely made a statement of facts that I do not read the Democratic News regularly. I think I can stand on that. I am sure you do not want to object to that, do you?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the gentleman said—and I am trying to help him and he will find it in the record—that he does not read the Democratic News regularly, any more than Senator Barr, he is sure, reads the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Bulletin. That is what Senator Mahany said.

Mr. MAHANY. Of course, Mr. President, as I brought out in my statement, the reason I said that is because, the other day, Senator Barr made a comment and took an article from the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Bulletin and used it for the purpose of argument. I am merely using this as an analogy. As yet, the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Bulletin is not the news media of the Republican Party.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, if the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association is willing, I accept the gentleman's apology.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I might say to Senator Mahany that it would have been better had he left things as they were. I learned a long time ago, and he should learn now, late in life, that when you start to explain, it is bad already.

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, if you want to carry out that schedule, you have to be four people. Can we not spread it out a little bit?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not see how that is possible. We plan to begin the Session tomorrow morning at 9:00 o'clock, a.m., Eastern Standard Time. We must hold these Committee Meetings before that. We also have a Special Order of Business set for 10:00 o'clock, a.m., Eastern Standard Time, which would be eleven o'clock, Daylight Saving Time, to consider House Bill No. 1700.

Mr. YOSKO. Why could we not move the Special Order of Business up an hour or so?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, if you agree not to offer so many amendments to House Bill No. 1700 tomorrow. I thought we would need a lot of time for that. However, if you will slash the number of amendments which you have for the budget, I will agree to schedule the Special Order of Business for 12:00 o'clock, noon, Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. YOSKO. As of right now, Senator Mahany, if you bring the Bible over here, I will place my hand on it and state that I do not have one amendment.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I would like to announce that there will be a meeting of the Committee on Law and Order tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, since we have to be here at 7:30 tomorrow morning, and I would suggest the hour of 6:30 o'clock, let us call the whole thing off. There will not be any meeting of the Committee on Law and Order tomorrow.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I am very serious about this. I desire to appear tomorrow, to plead for Senate Bill No. 54, before the Committee on Law and Order. I would, therefore, like to know when they are meeting. Time is growing short and I do not like to move for the discharge of the Committee, but I would like to have a chance to plead for this bill.

Is the hour for the Committee Meeting set for 8:30 o'clock or 7:30 o'clock, a.m., Eastern Standard Time, tomorrow morning? I would like to know.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, for the information of my colleague from Philadelphia, there will be no meeting of the Committee on Law and Order tomorrow morning. I ask the Chair to cancel the meeting.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, has canceled the meeting of the Committee on Law and order.

RECONSIDERATION OF SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS ON HOUSE BILL No. 1700

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1700 was made a Special Order of Business for Tuesday, June 11, 1957, at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., Eastern Standard Time, be reconsidered.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, June 10, 1957

The House met at 10:00 a.m.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) in the Chair

PRAYER

Reverend Charles R. Thomas, Pastor of the Church of Christ, Bear Creek Township, Luzerne County, guest Chaplain and guest of the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Post, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our loving Heavenly Father, we do thank Thee for the manifold blessings that Thou hast bestowed upon us as a people, as a nation. Truly Thou hast blessed us in a greater degree than any nation in all history, and may we be truly grateful and thankful.

Bless, we pray Thee, these Representatives of the people in their deliberations this day, and may they realize, and all of us, their individual responsibility to Almighty God, for we find in the Holy Bible the words, "For it is written, as I live, said the Lord, every knee shall bow to Me and every tongue shall confess to God," so then, everyone of us shall give account of himself to God.

Oh Heavenly Father, that great man Daniel Webster said that the greatest thought that ever entered his mind was that of his individual responsibility to God. And may we be impressed by that thought this morning, and guided by Thee in all that we might do. In the name of Christ. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Tuesday, April 30, Wednesday, May 1, Tuesday, May 2, Monday, May 6 and Tuesday, May 7, 1957? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Friday, June 7, 1957 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 501

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 7, 1957.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 501, Printer's No. 223, entitled "An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled 'An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto' increasing maximum limits on per capita taxes with certain limitations."

This bill proposes to amend Sections 679 and 680 of the Public School Code of 1949, to authorize school districts to levy a per capita tax of not more than $10.00 in lieu of the former maximum of $5.00. It also provides that a limitation of the taxation imposed under the Public School Code, together with that which is imposed under the provisions of any other act, shall not be, in the aggregate, in excess of $15.00 annually.

It would permit the imposition of additional per capita tax in hundreds of school districts. Although I recognize the pressure which rising school costs places on local school tax sources, I believe it is inequitable and unwise to increase the permissible ceiling on the most regressive tax while retaining present tax limitations upon the more equitable existing revenue sources.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. KELLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1430, entitled:

An Act enlarging the rights and powers of married women as to property and contracts and repealing certain provisions.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mrs. VARALLO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support the passage of House Bill No. 1430 as amended. It is a brief bill, a simple bill and a just one.

House Bill 1430 would give a married woman the right and legal power to make a contract dealing with the sale of her property. It would repeal that part of our existing statute which makes it necessary for a married woman to have the written consent of her husband for the sale of her property.

House Bill 1430 would give the married women of Pennsylvania the same property rights that married men have always had.

What could be more simple, more brief or more just? Do you know that in twenty-five states the wife may convey her real property as if she were unmarried? Then in only eight states, Alabama, Florida, Indiana, Kentucky, North Carolina, Ohio, our own Pennsylvania, and Texas, must the husband join with a wife in order to make a valid conveyance.

It seems strange, in this year of Our Lord 1957, to talk to the Members of this Legislature about the need for equal rights for women. Yet I submit that the present status is something less than the equal rights women are supposed to have achieved with the enactment of the 19th Amendment to the Federal Constitution about forty years ago.

It will take the active, bi-partisan support of all the Legislators in the country to win for all women these equal rights to which they are certainly entitled. I am happy to point out that the bill before us today is indicative of such support.

Not too long ago, Governor Leader strongly endorsed a bill offered in February of this year by Mrs. Donahue, Mrs. Markley, Mrs. Monroe and myself. Today I find that our bill has been incorporated into House Bill 1430, a bill introduced and sponsored by four of my male colleagues.

It is this type of mutual concern and mutual action which will assure every woman of her fair day in court.

For twelve years, since I first came to Harrisburg to sit in this House, I have fought to give the married women of our state equal rights and powers with married men. It is interesting for me to remember that in 1945 I sponsored a bill very similar to the one we are debating today, and now I have the opportunity to finish that particular job.

Now, I am not a lawyer, so I could not even begin to bore you with the legal history of inequality for married women.

But I have read a few lines in a few books on law which are not at all hard to understand. In fact, they are so easy to understand that I have had no trouble disagreeing with the beliefs they state.

It seems that all this equal rights trouble we married women have had for so many years stems from common law.

"Under the common law," I have read, "the legal existence of the wife is merged by marriage in that of her husband." In other words, according to common law, there is a period in most women's lives when they are almost legally dead. This period begins on a woman's wedding day and ends on the day she becomes a widow.

During this time, she enjoys all the rights and some of the privilege ordinarily given only to minors and to the insane.

Well, happily, things are not quite that bad any more. The status of women's rights is improving and has been improving for years, but only through specific legislation amending this cardinal principle of common law.

House Bill 1430 offers one more such amendment. It clears away one more inequality before the law. It breaks down one more barrier along the road to equal rights for women.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that the Members of this House give their unanimous support to this bill. I ask this not only as a woman; not just as a married woman; but as a Legislator interested, as are all of us, in giving equal protection and equal rights under the law to all of the citizens of the Commonwealth.

Mr. McCORMICK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Varallo.

The SPEAKER. Will the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Varallo, permit herself to be interrogated?

Mrs. VARALLO. Since I am not an attorney, as I have said before, I would like to yield to an attorney, Mr. Herman Toll.

Mr. McCORMACK. Just a moment, please. I think that the lady might yield after the question is put, but until the question is put I would like to interrogate her.

The SPEAKER. Will the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Varallo, permit herself to be interrogated?

Mrs. VARALLO. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the lady made a statement in her speech to the effect that under the common law when a man and wife became united in marriage the wife's identity was submerged in that of the husband that they became one and that one was the husband. When I was married two years ago I told my wife that that was the law in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I want to know, since you have said this bill would change the law with respect to married women, whether or not I could still use that against my wife?

Mrs. VARALLO. I am really afraid the gentleman could not use that against his wife any more since this bill would make them equal. The woman does not go into a higher level or a lower level, but she is equal with the man.

Mr. McCORMACK. All right, thank you. Mr. Speaker, now I would like to interrogate Mr. Toll.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Will the gentleman explain to me Section 3 of this bill?

Mr. TOLL. Will you read it to me, and I will explain it to you because I do not have the bill here?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, Section 3, which is the whole amendment to the present law says:

"The provisions of this act shall not affect any act done liability incurred or right accrued or vested or affect any suit or action pending or to be instituted to enforce any right under the authority of any act of Assembly or part thereof repealed by this act."

Frankly, I do not understand that section and I would like it explained to me, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, this is a saving clause to make sure that this act will not affect any existing rights so as to destroy them or affect any transactions which occurred up to the time this becomes law. We found it necessary to include this saving clause which represents Section 3.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman from Philadelphia seems to be the legal light, I would ask him, under the existing law whether the husband or the wife, when they are living together, is held primarily responsible for the support of his family?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I shall.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will answer the question.

Mr. TOLL. As I understand the existing law, the husband is primarily responsible for the support of his family. If the husband is disabled to the point where he has to apply for relief, then the wife is obliged to support them under our Public Assistance Law.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if this bill passes will the husband and wife become in equal measure jointly responsible for the support of the family?

Mr. TOLL. No, Mr. Speaker, the law will remain the same with respect to the obligation of the husband to support his wife and children.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, that is just what I thought. I am opposed to this bill.

The arguments about femal slavery are pure hooey. If they are slaves they take great pains to find a master. And I find, Mr. Speaker, if a woman is not entitled under the law to run a house and a family she does it by means of her wits.

I submit, and I am probably the only one in the Chamber who is going to vote against this bill, that unless husband and wife are mutually responsible for the support of a family that the wife has no right, without the husband's consent, to alienate property which may be essential in the support of the family: I say that is sound, sound logic, and on this idea of inequality, there is no inequality in a real union and there can be no equality in a household divided as to the disposition of particular property. It leads to confusion. It is the professional feminists that have been putting this measure across and they have deluded some of our very estimable housewives, of which the lady from Philadelphia is such an excellent example.

Anyway, this is a bad bill.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, may I briefly interrogate Mr. Andrews?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, where husband and wife live together in the same household with their children, does the gentleman believe that it is the husband's duty to support his family?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I believe that under our system, by reason of our traditions, there should be someone in every family union directly responsible under the law for the support of the family.

Mr. SHERMAN. Therefore, the gentleman does not believe that the wife should go to work in a case where there is a husband who is employed and there are minor children of ages, say 4 and 6?

Mr. ANDREWS. What has that to do with the case in point regarding this law?

Mr. SHERMAN. He asks, I think, what it has to do with the case in point. It has to do with the preservation of man's rights, the conservation of mankind.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to discuss the bill?

Mr. SHERMAN. May I, briefly, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has the Floor. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I must disagree with my learned colleague, Mr. Andrews, when he mentions the fact that he should vote against this bill. I do believe that man still retains his rights in the home as far as employment is concerned, as far as support is concerned, and with the passage of this bill women still can maintain their rights in the home, as she should. A woman shall have the same freedom as heretofore in going out to work, in proper cases. She shall have the same freedom as heretofore in taking care of the rights of her children and other household duties. I feel it is about time that women in industry and women who have been given equal rights as men in all other cases should have this right to mortgage, to convey and to make a contract in the same way and to the same extent as our fellowman has. She shall, under this bill, take away no privileges, no rights of her fellowman, but we do believe in our age and in our times that there is no reason under the sun for her to be denied her rights of contract and her rights to convey, lease and mortgage property the same as her fellowman.

Bear in mind, under this bill she shall, notwithstanding the provisions of this bill, in order to pass the title to real estate, require the signature of her fellowman. She cannot convey any real estate without the signature of her husband because her husband's rights, courtesy, would still be maintained. So let us give her the same rights as a man has, no greater and no less.

Miss DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria County, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. Et tu Brutus! I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Miss DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the argument for opposing the bill by the gentleman from Cambria County, it is that he believes that a woman should not have the right, without her husband's consent, to transfer property which is necessary for the maintenance of the family.

Does not the gentleman from Cambria County also believe that a man should not have the right to transfer property which may be necessary for the maintenance of the family without his wife's consent? If so, why does he not introduce a bill to provide that?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, until such a time as the law definitely and positively releases the husband from the position of head of the house who is responsible, primarily responsible, for the maintenance of the family, he should have something to say about the dissipation of the family assets.

Miss DUFFY. What does one thing have to do with the other? If the property is necessary for the maintenance of the family, why should he have the right to transfer it without her consent and she not? The gentleman has not answered the question.

Mr. ANDREWS. This bill is not designed to enlarge the rights of husbands. It deals with wives.

Miss DUFFY. The gentleman has not answered the question, but that is all right I will let him go for I assume he has no answer.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the lady from Philadelphia, Miss Duffy.

The SPEAKER. Will the lady from Philadelphia, Miss Duffy, permit herself to be interrogated?

Miss DUFFY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, does a wife have a dower interest in her husband's property which the husband cannot sign away without the wife's consent?

Miss DUFFY. Does she have a dower interest in his property?

Yes, she does. Under the law he also will have a dower interest in her property because it simply makes them equal; it does not provide that she has rights in addition. It provides that their rights are the same.

Mr. ANDREWS. My answer to that is that is not the way the act reads.

Miss DUFFY. That is the way the act reads, I suggest that the gentleman from Cambria County read it again. It certainly says the two of them have equal rights.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the lady from Philadelphia, Miss Duffy.

The SPEAKER. Will the lady from Philadelphia, Miss Duffy, permit herself to be interrogated?

Miss DUFFY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the lady from Philadelphia just what experience she has had with married women. I would like to question her about her marital status.

Miss DUFFY. I think the gentleman knows my marital status.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement.

I, too, think that women should, and rightfully deserve to have equal rights. We are not living in the cave man age.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we have presented to the House amendments to House Bill 183, Printer's No. 622, dealing with the subsidy program for the public school system of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

We have worked a great number of days in trying to find a solution of compromise to present to the House in regard to the disposition of the funds for the reimbursement of our public instruction program in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The amendments we have proposed would change the base from the existing 1949 law of $5100 to $5300 the first year, $5600 the second year, with the local effort being retained at four mills. We believe that the transportation ceiling which is being reached in the bill should be retained at $5100 with four mills in an effort to stabilize and hold this level in the reimbursement of transportation costs to the school district.

We, of course, do find that House Bill 183, Printer's No. 622, has one point of discrepancy that we have found it rather difficult to agree on, this being the section dealing with using the actual costs whichever are lesser in computing the reimbursement fraction in reimbursing the school districts.

Now, basically these amendments we presented here today, and we hope and we do know that we have finally come to a solution on this bill. We have tried to find that equal compromise, trying to present to the school directors of Pennsylvania a formula, in securing the money, from the Commonwealth to the school districts and notifying the school districts that certain things would start to be cut back, and in addition to that, notifying them that we intend to carry forth the state's obligations in certain parts of the education program.

The amendments to this bill as proposed here today, are estimated to cost $31,414,955 during the next two years. We would prefer that the debate on these amendments be as brief as possible so that we could move on.

We would like to say and insert it in the record that we on the Democratic side of the House have made our position clear, we have time and time again stated that we will continue to advocate the necessary support of the public education system and to provide the money from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the school needs of this Commonwealth, as well as provide the taxes to raise the revenue to provide this money.

We believe our position is sound. We have advocated this position consistently, notifying each school district throughout our past sessions that we believe in a broad education program for all our children.

We realize that this is a part of the 1955 session's obligations. Therefore, we ask that these amendments be accepted and placed into House Bill 183, Printer's No. 622.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the diligence with which the gentleman from Greene and his colleagues have worked in solving this problem and in the presentation of his amendments.

However, I call attention to the House that on this side of the House we also have worked diligently in attempting to solve a controversial issue. We believe we have that problem effectively solved in amendments which are to be offered subsequently.

Therefore, I ask all Members of the House to vote down the amendments offered by the gentleman from Greene, in order that we may move on to the amendments which will be offered after these are considered.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if local effort will be greater under his amendments or will it be less?

Mr. McCANN. As the present bill is on the calendar, Printer's No. 622, the amendments that I have offered will definitely be much less on local effort. In fact the local effort remains at four mills for each of the two next years. The bill which you have in front of you provides that the first year it moves to four and eight-ninths mills in local effort, the second year to five and one-eighth.

Our amendments that I have offered retain the local effort at four mills for each of the two years.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, the amendments that are now being offered reduce the local effort. I have always felt that the cost of our public schools should be borne by the state.

I, therefore, will vote for these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, during the past week a special committee appointed for consideration of House Bill 183 has worked diligently and dedicatedly in order to solve the problem, and to bring to the attention of this House what we believe is a fair and equitable distribution to all the school districts in the state.

We have held in abeyance any change in transportation. That particular phase of the Act continues as it is in the current law. We have set the equalization effort for the year 1956-1957 at $5300, with a local effort of 4 mills, and for the year 1957-1958, at $5600, with a local effort of four and one-sixth. All things considered, this committee which reported to this caucus now submits the amendments to House Bill 183, Printer's 622, for your favorable consideration.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, on the amendments pertaining to House Bill 183, Printer's No. 622 offered by the gentleman from Bedford there are, of course, two differences of philosophy in the amendments which we this afternoon on this side of the House will accept, not accepting them as an agreed item, but accepting them in the hope that we can work out the solution to the bill.

The first item that we are accepting this afternoon is the one-sixth of a mill increase on the local effort in the second year of the bill, from four mills to four and one-sixth mills.

The second item that we are accepting in the bill on which we have a difference of opinion deals with the computation of actual costs in the second year, which the proposed amendments provide, so that which ever is lesser shall be used in computing the reimbursement.

We hesitated momentarily in considering this situation on the grounds that we feel the greatest number of school districts in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that will be faced with this problem in the second year of these proposed amendments will be the smaller school districts of Pennsylvania, the fourth class mainly, and some in the third class.

We realize that many of those districts do not spend that amount of money in education, but they are reimbursed on that amount in the present law.

Of course, this will tend to improve the educational system of those rural districts on the grounds that the directors will immediately begin to see that the actual amount is equal to the base figure in the bill. For example, instead of spending $5,000, as they do now, they will see that $5,650 is expended at that time. This is something that may bring better education, but we are not quite sure that it will bring better education at that point but will only increase the expenditures by using this computation.

We, of course, have concurred in all of the other sections of the proposed amendments. We on this side of the House are asking all of our Members to support the amendments presented by the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, as he has explained them to the House today. We will have our differences of opinion in the proposed amendments, but basically we will support the amendments and then be ready to vote on the bill tomorrow.

Therefore, I ask that the Members of the Democratic side of the House now support the amendments proposed by the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup.

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I shall. Mr. Stroup is at the will of the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Stroup, in your oral summarization of the contents of the proposed amendments, you stated that the maximum subsidy for the year 1958-1959 would be $5,600. Did you not mean $5,650?

Mr. STROUP. That is correct, sir, $5,650. If I said $5,600 for 1957-1958, I was in error.

Mr. DEVLIN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak on these amendments very briefly.

Under the previous action of this General Assembly, teachers' salaries were increased, resulting in an expenditure in an amount in excess of $2,250,000 by the school district of Pittsburgh.

Under the proposed amendments the Pittsburgh School District will receive a subsidy, I am advised, of $1,040,000, thereby reducing the cost to the taxpayers for the mandated salary increases in the amount of $1,210,000.

We are, therefore, not gleeful about the amendments. We are not endorsing the theory behind either the bill or the amendments, for the taxpayers of the school district of Pittsburgh will be shortchanged, as was ably stated by my colleagues on the other side of the House in their debate.

However, we feel that we are in the dilemma of being forced to accept the lesser of two evils and we will, therefore, vote for these amendments.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am not rising to oppose these amendments, but I am going to take this opportunity to voice a complaint about the manner in which this Session is being rushed to its final day. It was not until about noon that we saw a copy of the amendments which have been offered to us at this moment. We did not get a chance to discuss the matter with our Democratic Members until about 2:00 o'clock this afternoon, and now at approximately 4:30 we are asked to vote on a very, very important bill and amendments.

I say it is rushing things unduly when we are told that amendments are going to be offered on the very day that we see them, and especially amendments of the complexity of these amendments. I think we understand them quite well, but when we get matters as important as these amendments, I do wish that we could have at least one or two days to study them and analyze them, to contact our people back home, to discuss them, and not have to vote on them almost at the moment we see them. I hope that this does not continue throughout the rest of the session.

I realize that we want to get out of here at a reasonably early date, but whenever a matter of this importance comes up, I do think there should be at least a day or two leeway for us to look things over and study them more carefully.

I compliment the committee which has worked on this bill. A lot of our people have worked hard on this matter and they are to be complimented, but nevertheless, the fact that a certain group, a committee, understands the matter which it has studied thoroughly itself does not mean that the general membership understands it.

I do ask for less haste in the future.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I have always been in the forefront trying to protect the interests of the School District of the city of Pittsburgh, and I intend to support these amendments because these amendments changing the figures in No. 662 aid Pittsburgh to the extent of almost $800,000.

In every matter of legislation you always have to arrive at a compromise. It reminds me of a lawsuit. When a plaintiff walks out dissatisfied and the defendant walks out dissatisfied, then you can be certain that justice was done.

In this particular case the urban interests are dissatisfied, the rural interests are dissatisfied. I think the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as a whole, will be satisfied with the work done by the committee headed by Mr. Stroup from Bedford.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time, although I am going to support the amendments being offered to Printer's No. 622, on House Bill No. 183.

I find that this is a new approach, and a change of policy to place a heavier burden on the local effort. There is a basic change of policy here for the House that we are acting upon and, rather than having it said that we arrived at this compromise, I would wish to state that we on this side did not arrive at this compromise today. The presentation of our effort in this direction was made with our amendments. We offered those amendments to hold the local effort for the next two years so that when the next convening legislative body would come here we would go before the electorate and then signify in what direction we were going to move on this matter of education in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Then if we took the position that we were going to place a greater burden upon the local effort to pay for the education system of Pennsylvania, we would do so at a time when the people could make the choice as to what was the better way for providing education in the Commonwealth.

However, to make that change now after we had been going along in this manner since 1949, to make the change at this particular time is a step backward. I have held the position that we should go on without a basic policy change for the next two years. These amendments do not do that. They are an opening wedge, and as I said earlier, a step backward in supplying the kind of educational program the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania needs. It is a step backward and we must recognize it as such, because you drive a wedge by putting a greater burden on the local effort by accelerating the millage up to four and one-sixth mills, and then you have a possibility of increasing that further in the future.

I shall be happy to support these amendments because they are the lesser evil than bill No. 183 as it is today written. However, I shall also be happy to go out before the electorate and take the position that this was not a wise policy change in supplying the needs of education in Pennsylvania, and shall so take that position, and after we are returned here I believe that all of us can then decide in what direction we shall move to supply the revenues and for what level we shall supply those revenues for education in this Commonwealth.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I want to be recorded as voting "no."

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask a question of the chairman of the committee that handled these amendments regarding one section of the bill that evidently something has to be done about at a later date. Would that be permissible for information of many of our districts?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STROUP. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, in checking the bill carefully, I failed to find a section in the bill that would authorize the school directors of the various districts to open their budget after it had once been prepared and passed.

Has that section been overlooked, or is it the intention of placing that in the bill by the other body so that those districts which have passed their budget for the coming school term would then be permitted to open their budget and use the new figures should this become law?

Mr. STROUP. Speaker, in answer to the question asked by the gentleman from Greene, we took into consideration the fact that there are a great number of school districts in the state that are waiting for information on this. However, it is contemplated that in the other body there will be an amendment offered, so that the budgets may be opened up.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 360, entitled:

An Act amending the "Pennsylvania Board of Parole Law" approved August 6, 1941 (P. L. 861) regulating the paroling of certain convicts and abolishing the requirement of sponsors as a condition to paroles

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 360 should be defeated today.

I have before me a letter dated June 6th, written by the Chairman of the Pennsylvania Board of Parole. I think it would be well worth your while to listen for a minute to what he has to say about this bill.

This bill has very serious detrimental factors which the Board of Parole is obligated to point out to you in the interests of its own functions and the public welfare. These factors are:

1. That it requires the Parole Board to grant parole to offenders with a good institutional record when they have served a minimum sentence. This feature does not permit the Parole Board to exercise the usual precautions and evaluations of the many factors involved in the selection of a potential parolee, such as the gravity of offense. This alone would mean that a sex offender, or any vicious assaultive criminal, whose behavior is such that he will be a social and detrimental factor to the public at large, would be mandatorily paroled providing his institution record is good.

In addition, if this bill is enacted the Board of Parole would have no jurisdiction or authority whatsoever to refuse on the foregoing factors. Even though a psychiatric study of the man indicated him to be a dangerous risk, the Board could not entertain the recommendation of professional people in such a situation.

2. It would prohibit parole to offenders twice before convicted and sentenced for any offense, or who have been parole violators. The effects of this provision would be most detrimental to the custodial problems of the institutions. The percentage of potential applicants affected by this restrictive feature of the bill cannot be given exactly at this date; however, the latest statistics from our State institutions indicate that 40% of the inmates in those institutions have had two or more felony convictions, and in this bill there is no distinction made on the type of convictions.

You can readily appreciate that the custodial problems in the correctional institutions would increase immediately when approximately forty percent of its population is deprived of the hope of being paroled.

The third feature of the bill provides that sponsors shall not be required as a condition to parole. The Board of Parole does not retain anyone in prison merely because he has no sponsor.

The term sponsor has long since been discontinued, and we are now using parole advisers, which we consider highly desirable in view of the community interest in parole which is developed through their use, and the help which advisers can give in obtaining employment for parolees.

In greater Philadelphia, where forty-four percent of our parolees are located, we have very active Parole Advisers Association that have and are now extending considerable aid in the formulation of parole plans for potential parolees. It would be most unfortunate to lose this source of community interest, and would aid no one, rather, serve as a detriment to the potential parolee, who needs such help.

The Board of Parole respectfully solicits your support in the defeat of this unnecessary legislation.

I am asking the membership of this House to vote down this bill today.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, when Mr. Readinger becomes a judge in Berks County, which the political climate indicates will occur in November and he sentences a gentleman for a term of not less than five years to ten years in the Eastern Penitentiary, does the judge at that time desire that the man serve five years or ten years in the penitentiary?

Mr. READINGER. I think the judge knows that the Parole Board has certain powers and that after the man has served his minimum he is eligible for parole. If the Parole Board allows him to be free after the minimum, I presume the judge intends that to be as it is.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Berks know that where judges have written letters to the Parole Board and have advised them that in sentencing the individual to the minimum-maximum sentence that the court desired the prisoner be released at the end of the minimum, that the Parole Board in divers cases has refused so to do?

Mr. READINGER. I believe that would be true.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman from Berks believe this to be in derogation of the rights of the judiciary in that respect?

Mr. READINGER. I do not. The law allows the imposition of certain sentences and provides for parole in certain circumstances.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman believe that it would be healthier for the prisoner to be paroled at the expiration of the minimum term?

Mr. READINGER. That would be impossible to answer. If the conduct of a prisoner is such in prison as to warrant his being paroled at the expiration of a minimum, then he should be, and I think in most cases he is. If his conduct is otherwise and the parole officials think he is a bad risk at the end of his minimum, he should be retained, perhaps until the end of his maximum.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, when the gentleman from Berks assumes the role of judge, he will receive information from the parole officer in his county as to the prior record of the defendant, will he not?

Mr. READINGER. I presume so.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. And in imposing sentence, he will take into consideration what that prior record was. Is that not right?

Mr. READINGER. I certainly would.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Having knowledge of the prior record of the individual, Mr. Speaker, would not the judge base his sentence upon the entire life of the individual defendant?

Mr. READINGER. To the best of my ability, yes.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you, Mr. Readinger. I appreciate your courtesy in answering these questions.

Mr. Speaker, the reason I rise in support of this bill is because of the experience I had with the Parole Board many years ago.

I recall when one of our more able judges in Allegheny County sentenced an individual on a morals offense for a term of three to six years. At that time he had knowledge of the prior record of the individual. When the minimum term expired, the Parole Board, because it deemed that the individual was not ready for release, insisted upon his being retained in custody for a period of, I believe, fifteen months. It was admitted that this man was a model prisoner. It was admitted that he had done nothing wrong while in prison. The judge indicated to the Parole Board he desired that the prisoner be released at the end of three years. The Parole Board refused to recognize what the court wanted done.

I call to your attention that under the Federal law where a man is in prison and conducts himself properly, he automatically receives credit for the good behavior while in custody.

The purpose of this bill is to make it easier for the custodians of these prisoners to have a better record while in prison. If the Parole Board can arbitrarily decide that a man is not to be released at the end of the minimum, we say this is unsound penology.

We, therefore, think that anybody who is interested in reforming a prisoner and giving him a chance to do the right thing while in custody should vote for this bill.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman who wrote this letter which I have read was at one time the warden of the Berks County Prison and established an enviable record for being a good superintendent of that institution.

Some years later he was appointed by the Federal government as the man who would take charge of parole work in Germany after the war was over and the United States forces were occupying it. He spent a good many years in that capacity, at the head of the entire system.

I think Paul Gernert knows about as much about parole work as anybody in the state of Pennsylvania and I do think we should give great weight to what he says about this bill, which I have read to you and upon which I will not comment any more.

I think we would be making a very bad move and a dangerous one, if we lay aside the words of advice of a man who should know most about it and put this thing on the law books.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, most of the Members here in the House remember the riot at the Western Penitentiary. The Western Penitentiary happens to be in my district and at the time of the riot I was close by, and entered into the penitentiary with Tom Whitten who was then the Sheriff of Allegheny County. We were among the first in there, and discussed with some of the prisoners, especially those in the hospitals who were not in the cell blocks at the time, what started the riot pro and con.

They told us at the time that most of the prisoners who were in there who were sentenced, especially the out-of-state prisoners, for from five to ten years, or from ten to twenty years, or whatever it may have been, who were model prisoners, expected to get out when their minimum term was up. Not getting out after being model prisoners and good prisoners, and not having a sponsor—they said that was the main thing, it was hard to get a sponsor for someone from Texas or California or Nevada or some other town—was the principal cause of the trouble.

The main reason for this bill is on account of the sponsorship. As Mr. Readinger said a moment ago, the Parole Board tells him they do not need a sponsor. If they do not they have just changed that in the last few months because as late as two months ago I talked to Judge Kennedy of the common pleas court, who was very much interested in this bill, and other members of the judiciary and the common pleas court, who stated that when they sentence a man to five to ten years they feel that if he is a good prisoner, a model prisoner, at the end of that minimum he should be let out of prison.

There were thousands and thousands of dollars of damage done at that penitentiary, and the members down there, in fact the guards and people in the penitentiary—the convicts—explained to us that the cause of that was because these fellows did not have sponsorship.

If they are released at the end of their minimum terms they are still under the jurisdiction of the Parole Board. They still have to report wherever they are told to report. If they live in Texas they report out there to the Parole Board, or if they live in California they report out there.

This bill, in my opinion, is a good bill and I think it will save the state of Pennsylvania thousands and thousands of dollars in broken-up prisons, broken equipment in the penitentiaries, fires and so forth; also in the long run it will save us and those prisoners plenty of money. However, the main thing that I want to bring out here is that the Chesterman report at that time stated that this was the type of legislation that was needed to quiet the riots at the penitentiaries.

I hope you will vote for the bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Vaughan.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Vaughan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VAUGHAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Allegheny aware of the fact that Governor Fine appointed an investigating committee to determine and look into the causes behind the riot in the Western Penitentiary?

Mr. VAUGHAN. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Does the gentleman recall the name of that investigating committee?

Mr. VAUGHAN. The Chesterman Committee.

Mr. McCORMACK. If I am not mistaken, I think the Chesterman Commission made recommendations, but that was not the specific committee appointed to investigate specifically the Western Penitentiary riots. Do you still say that that was the Chesterman Committee?

Mr. VAUGHAN. Well, the power was in the Chesterman Committee. I am not positive that is what they called the committee, that that is the name of it.

Mr. McCORMACK. It was my understanding that the Chesterman Commission examined all of the departments of the Commonwealth and made recommendations as to reorganization of each one of them.

Mr. VAUGHAN. That is right.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, I was thinking of a specific committee appointed by the Governor to examine into the riots. If you say it was the Chesterman Commission, I will not ask you any further questions. Do you say definitely that it was the Chesterman Committee?

Mr. VAUGHAN. What I am saying is that the Chesterman Committee, reporting on economies in state government, said that legislation like this should be passed to save a lot of wear and tear on the penitentiary; let us put it that way.

Mr. McCORMACK. I see. Do you know the causes or the findings that were made by the committee appointed by Governor Fine? Did they find anything there as to the cause of the riot, and the recommendations? Are you aware of those?

Mr. VAUGHAN. The only finding, I understand, was that the ill feeling of the prisoners down there was on account of not getting out when their terms had been served, after being model prisoners.

By the way, that was called the "Devers Committee."

Mr. McCORMACK. The Devers Committee, that is correct. Thank you.

Are you or are you not aware of the specific findings made by the Devers Committee at that time?

Mr. VAUGHAN. No, I would say that I am not.

Mr. McCORMACK. Then you do not know whether this particular bill would conform to their recommendations. Is that correct?

Mr. VAUGHAN. I would say no, I do not.

Mr. McCORMACK. As I recall, at that time you had a similar bill on the Floor, did you not?

Mr. VAUGHAN. That is right.

Mr. McCORMACK. I ask the gentleman to refer to page 3 of the bill and I refer him to line 3, page 3, section 21.

I will read the language to you and you will not have to look at it.

The board is hereby authorized and its duty shall be to release on parole any convict confined in any penal institution of this Commonwealth . . . except convicts condemned to death or serving life imprisonment . . . or twice before convicted and sentenced for any offense or who have been parole violators.

Your amendment would exclude from the authority of the board the power to parole those who are parole violators. Is that correct?

Mr. VAUGHAN. That is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. Are you aware there are at least two types of parole violators? One is called a technical parole violator. I do not know whether it has a name, but the other type of parole violator is one who has committed a crime while on parole, such as a misdemeanor or a felony. Are you aware of those two types?

Mr. VAUGHAN. Yes, I am.

Mr. McCORMACK. A technical parole violator, would you agree, would be one who after being released on parole and still subject to his maximum term, left the jurisdiction for a period of time, or got married without getting the consent of the Parole Board? Are you aware that that person would be a parole violator of a technical nature?

Mr. VAUGHAN. I think we have this type of parole violator every day, and they leave that up to the Parole Board. The Parole Board more or less decides whether they did it wilfully or not.

Mr. McCORMACK. That is precisely my point. I am saying, and I think you agree, they would be parole violators, or they could be deemed parole violators, and brought back for technically violating their parole, by getting married, or getting drunk or leaving the jurisdiction.

Mr. VAUGHAN. By the same token, they do it today, but yet they do not go back as parole violators.

Mr. McCORMACK. Are you stating that as a fact—that they do not rearrest those persons as parole violators?

Mr. VAUGHAN. Yes. I know of cases where, as you say, technical violators may forget, or are pitching so much romance they rush out and get married and forget to tell the Parole Board about it.

Mr. McCORMACK. I can say to the gentleman that they do arrest them. Despite what the gentleman says, they do arrest, in some cases, technical parole violators. Now, assuming that is a fact, that they do arrest technical parole violators, this amendment of yours would prohibit the Parole Board from releasing them on parole again. Is that correct?

Mr. VAUGHAN. No. I would not say that is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. What language would you say would cover your situation then, that would permit them to—

Mr. VAUGHAN. None at all.

Mr. McCORMACK. Today if they break their parole can they not arrest them and take them back in for breaking the parole?

Mr. VAUGHAN. Yes. But they do not; they do not do that.

Mr. McCORMACK. I say they can do that, Mr. Speaker, and they do do that in some instances.

Mr. VAUGHAN. That is right.

Mr. McCORMACK. Assuming it is a fact that they do arrest these technical parole violators, your amendment would prohibit them from releasing them. That is the way I read your bill, and if I am not reading it correctly, I would appreciate your pointing out the language to me.

Mr. VAUGHAN. This was explained to the Reference Bureau and I am satisfied that the language of the bill is all right, otherwise I do not think I would be up here trying to debate it with you. After all, not being an attorney, there may be some technicalities that you may know a little better than the Legislative Reference Bureau, but I have to take their word on it that the bill is OK the way it is.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a few words against the bill.

I think the intentions of the gentleman from Allegheny in amending the Parole Board law along these lines is commendable, and I think that probably he might be justified as a result of the riots that occurred in the Western Penitentiary. I do know there was an exhaustive and elaborate report by the Devers Committee, appointed by Governor Fine to look into the causes and to make recommendations, and that those recommendations were submitted to the Governor and became a part of the 1953 session of the Legislature. Whether or not the recommendations adopted by them are included in this bill, the sponsor is unable to say.

When you are dealing with parole you are dealing with something that is essential in the field of criminology, and a bill such as this is at the least fraught with peril. We are doing something that we do not fully understand. I say to you in sincerity that many times a parolee will be rearrested by his parole supervisor for a very technical violation of his parole. I pointed out to you that the instances are many. Under this bill, as I read it, the language would prohibit the board from again paroling that person who was arrested on a technical violation, and I do not think that any man in here wants to do that. I think it is one thing to say, the Board of Parole shall not parole someone who has committed a crime, or who has seriously violated his parole, but I think it is another thing when you say that they cannot release a man who was arrested merely on a technicality that does not amount to a crime.

Although I commend the efforts of the gentleman to correct this, I think this is not the proper bill to do it, and I ask you, regardless of politics or anything else, to vote against the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 397 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. GOODLING offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 10, 1957.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 397, Printer's No. 324, entitled "An act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled 'An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds' extending the validity of a learner's permit in certain cases," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 788, entitled:

An Act amending "The Penal Code" approved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) prohibiting engaging in the business of buying selling exchanging trading or otherwise dealing in new and used motor vehicles and trailers on Sunday.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 1 (Section 699.9), page 3, by inserting between lines 6 and 7 "It shall be a full and complete defense to any prosecution brought under the provisions of this section that during the six (6) day period immediately preceding the date of the alleged violation the person charged with the violation did for a period of at least twenty-four (24) consecutive hours and for religious reasons not engage in his usual business of buying, selling, exchanging trading or otherwise dealing in new or used motor vehicles or trailers."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I merely want to explain that this amendment is in the nature of a defense to a prosecution brought for violation of this act, if the act is passed, whereby a person can defend if he has not held his place of business open for six successive days and for fully twenty-four hours prior to the date of closing, if he closes his place for religious reasons.

That is the purpose of the amendments.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, briefly.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, as I understand your amendment, this would mean that the seventh day, the day to which this law applies, would be a matter of choice of the individual, if your amendments were to prevail?

Mr. TOLL. That would amount to a correct statement, if it were done for religious reasons.

Mr. STIMMEL. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 788, as it is on the calendar today, requires that all automobile dealers close on the same day in order that no competitive advantage could be taken by anyone.

Mr. Toll's amendments would destroy this uniformity, and I ask that you vote against these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agree to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—8

Breisch,	Dalrymple,	McLaughlin,	Rovansek,
Cooper,	Kehler,	Mihm,	Schuster,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 703, entitled:

An Act amending "The Fiscal Code" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 343) changing certain provisions as to the granting of refunds.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors and have him explain this bill before it is voted on.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STROUP. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STROUP. Back in 1947 or 1949 the oleomargarine refund act came to an end. That Act was declared unconstitutional. At the time it was declared unconstitutional there was a remaining lapsed fund of $19,992.84. There were no appropriations therefore made for the purpose of the oleomargarine fund for the years 1951-1953 and 1955-1957.

A good many of our small dealers who had not gotten in under the wire before that unconstitutionality was established were unable to make applications for their refunds. We are now extending them a period of time so they can make their applications, I think for a period of two years, and go in and get the refund to which they are entitled.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask the gentleman whether he has figured how much it will cost the Commonwealth if they are all filed?

Mr. STROUP. To my knowledge, sir, I think the only amount that would be available would be the lapsed fund of $19,992.

Mr. READINGER. How much time were they given originally, when money was made available for this purpose?

Mr. STROUP. I do not believe I can answer that question, sir, as to how much time they had to make that application. However, by the time the case had gone up to court and the decision had been made, the time had lapsed in which they could make their application.

The effort of the bill therefore is to correct that inequity, because the door was closed on them by reason of it.

Mr. READINGER. Then the gentleman has no figures on how much money would be involved if these claims are allowed to be filed, despite the fact that there is only $19,000 in this lapsed fund he is talking about?

Mr. STROUP. My understanding, Mr. Speaker, is that $19,000 is the only amount that would be available, and when that would be exhausted that would end it. It looks to me like a case of first come first served on the applications.

Mr. READINGER. Does the gentleman not believe that if this bill were to be passed, and these applications were filed totalling $100,000, that there would be quite a pressure on this Legislature later on to appropriate that much money to pay them?

Mr. STROUP. If my interpretation of the bill is correct, I do not believe there is any effort in the bill to make any more money available than that which is set forth in the lapsed fund.

Mr. READINGER. I understand that in the present bill, but if we were to open the door in this matter and let all of these people file their applications years after this took place, the total on those applications for refunds might be $100,000 or $200,000. Would there not be a lot of pressure on subsequent legislators to appropriate money to pay those?

Mr. STROUP. I believe not, Mr. Speaker, I think the only amount that would be available or could be available is the amount that still remains in the fund.

Mr. READINGER. Under this bill?

Mr. STROUP. That is right, sir.

Mr. READINGER. But if this bill is passed they are allowed to file, are they not?

Mr. STROUP. I believe the only amount that could be filed for, would be the amount that is herein set forth.

Mr. READINGER. You could not pay out more than the $19,000, but they could file?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I believe that is all that could be possibly filed. There was no more that was available at that time, and there has certainly been none since.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I think we should defeat this bill. I do not think we have enough figures before us to know what we are doing. Maybe it is right to pay back some of this money but I think we ought to have a lot more information on it before we act on this bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STROUP. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Did I understand the gentleman correctly when he said that when the Supreme Court handed down a decision declaring this oleomargarine license Act unconstitutional, it was then too late for the people who had paid license fees to make applications for a rebate?

Mr. STROUP. I believe the case, Mr. Speaker, was 356 Pennsylvania 20, when the Act was declared unconstitutional. That is the statement that I made.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is there anything that prevented the people who paid license fees from making the application prior to the time that the Supreme Court had rendered that decision?

Mr. STROUP. As I understand, they had five years, Mr. Speaker, to file in order to get that money. That five years had expired, and of course the Act was declared unconstitutional, and they could no longer file for it.

This bill permits them to have another two years to get their applications in. Does that answer the gentleman's question?

Mr. McCORMACK. No, Mr. Speaker, it does not answer my question. Before the Supreme Court handed down the decision could these people have made an application for a rebate, pending the outcome of that decision, in order to protect their statutory rights?

Mr. STROUP. I think that is possible, Mr. Speaker, yes; they could have. However, these primarily are small independent grocery concerns that were not aware of the situation and had not filed their claim. The corporations were taken care of but these little fellows were not.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I think that if these men had been prudent they could have made their applications while the case was still pending in the Supreme Court because there was a statute of limitations of five years. If they were prohibited by law in any way from filing the application prior to the time of decision, then I would be inclined to vote for this bill, but since it was through their imprudence that they did not make the application, I think it is a little too late now. They have slept on their rights. Therefore, the bill should be defeated.

Mr. HORST. Mr. Speaker, in reply to Mr. Readinger's inquiry, I have a letter of August 24, 1956, from Weldon Heyburn in which he says that in 1947 an appropriation of $300,000 was passed. Of that amount $280,007.60 was paid out of this appropriation for these refunds, and in 1951 the sum of $19,992.84 lapsed.

In the rural districts the small country groceryman had no way of getting his money other than taking his certificate of $100, and the Commonwealth's Revenue Department issued a certificate to a banker or a corporation paying taxes to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Quite a few of these country grocerymen did not have any contact and therefore the time elapsed.

Several months ago during the campaign I ran into a couple of grocerymen who had these certificates, and they said they could not get their money from the Commonwealth, money which was due them. I inquired into the matter with Mr. Heyburn and he verified that $19,992.84 of that money was never claimed from the oleomargarine tax which was $100 a year.

That is what this bill is for, to give the country groceryman an opportunity to get his money. The only way they can get their money will be by presenting these certificates, if they have one or two of them, to the comptroller of revenue. They will, in turn, check their records and certify it to the Auditor General and to the State Treasurer, and the money will be paid directly to the groceryman who presents these certificates.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 770, entitled:

An Act regulating certain activities of labor organizations and its officers requiring certain of their records to be public records prescribing certain rights of members imposing duties on the Labor Relations Board and prescribing the jurisdiction of courts in actions brought for the enforcement of the act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title of Act page 1, line 1, by inserting after "labor" an employer; and after word "and" strike out "its" and insert their.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, after word "Labor" add and employer; line 5, after word "labor" add and employer; line 7, after word "labor" add and employer; line 9, after word "labor" add and employer.

Amend Sec. 2 (1), page 2, line 11 after word "Labor" add and employer; line 12, after word "labor" add or employer; line 13, after word "labor" add or employer.

Amend Sec. 2 (3), page 3, line 1, after word "dues" add or makes contributions, and after word "labor" add or employer; line 2, after word "employment" add or operations.

Amend Sec. 2 (4), page 3, line 4, after word "labor" add or employer.

Amend Sec. 3, page 3, line 13, after word "labor" add and employer.

Amend Sec. 4, page 4, line 3, after word "labor" add and employer.

Amend Sec. 5, page 6, line 9, after word "labor" add or employer; line 11, after word "labor" add or employer; line 16, after word "labor" add or employer.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a few words in support of these amendments.

These amendments intend to change this House Bill 770 so that wherever the words "labor organizations" appear, it shall read "labor and employers organizations." In other words, wherever a labor organization is required to render an annual financial report to its members, an employers' organization is also subject to the same requirements if you adopt these amendments.

Now I submit to you in all fairness what this bill intends to do to labor organizations is to also do to employer organizations. I see no reason why an employer organization shall be treated as a sacrosanct organization while labor organizations are required to file annual financial reports and send them to the members.

I therefore ask you in all seriousness to support my amendments.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose these amendments and I offer in support of my position the following reasons.

The gentleman from Philadelphia would include in House Bill 770, which bill provides for the filing of an annual financial statement by labor organizations and the submitting of copies to each member, employer groups; I suppose he means such as the State Real Estate Associations, the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association and such.

There are two very important reasons why these groups are not similar to labor organizations. In the first place, membership in the employer organizations is not mandatory. In every instance it is a voluntary association. On the other hand, membership in the labor organizations in many instances, in most instances, is a mandatory condition of employment.

The second reason is that there is a great deal of difference between the two, in that employer organizations are groups of, or associations of, persons in the same line of endeavor who meet together and have an organization for the purpose of exchanging trade information.

On the other hand, members of labor organizations are members thereof as a very important incident to their employment, a means by which they support themselves and their families.

I, therefore, ask that the Members of this House vote down these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. TOLL and WELSH and were as follows:

Mr. HOCKER IN THE CHAIR

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I am happy that we are debating House Bill 770 at this time. I think it is a matter greatly in the public interest as well as greatly in the interest of members of labor organizations. I think, whether or not this bill should pass here today, it is a healthy thing that activities, especially the financial activities of labor organizations, should be the subject matter of a bill such as this and be a matter for public debate in this forum.

House Bill 770 provides only that labor organizations file with the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board an annual financial statement of all moneys received and expended from dues, assessments and initiation fees. It is not an attempt to have unions disclose their financial strength. There is nothing in this bill that would require a balance sheet of assets or anything of that sort. It is merely an annual financial statement of moneys received and expended from dues.

The bill also provides that labor organizations deliver a copy of this financial statement annually to each member.

The theory behind the bill is that in most of our labor organizations membership is compulsory as a condition of employment. Over and beyond that, the monthly dues, which vary between $2.00 and $5.00 a month, are automatically checked off out of the workers' pay and delivered by check, by management, to the labor organizations. We are talking about money which comes out of the pay check of every member of the labor unions in Pennsylvania. As of now, there is no law in this state calling for a public reporting of these funds or calling for copies of an annual financial statement showing what has been done with this money received from the monthly pay checks of union members. We have proposed in House Bill 770 that this be done.

With the leave of the Speaker and the Members of this House, I will not make extended remarks at this time, but I would like to refer during my remarks also to House Bill 771 which is a companion bill, the Employee Welfare Fund bill. What I have to say largely applies to both bills.

This program entailed in House Bill 770 and 771, is in principle and substantially the same as the Eisenhower-Mitchell Federal Program.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, would you please be good enough to ask the proponent of the bill to confine himself just to House Bill 770 so that 771 can be debated separately?

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I made that suggestion so that we can save time later on 771.

The program in House Bill 770 and 771 is the Eisenhower-Mitchell Federal program. It is in two parts, the public accounting of union funds, copies to the members and registration, examination and audit of all employee welfare funds. This program has been wholeheartedly endorsed by George Meany, national president of the AFL-CIO, who in the April 27th issue of the "AFL-CIO News," a weekly publication, on the front page was quoted as follows:

We have long favored legislation, even more sweeping than the pending administration bill.

In this modern age, said Mr. Meany, we see no danger in public disclosure of union financial reports. Even more important, we advocate that every union member should get a report of what is being done with his own money.

Mr. Meany has endorsed this program in principle. Senator Joseph Clark from Pennsylvania, in a speech Saturday night in Pennsylvania, also endorsed this program. He came out wholeheartedly for the Eisenhower-Mitchell program which in substance is House Bill 770 and 771, on a state-level.

A long standing friend of labor and the labor leader former President Harry S. Truman, is on record as wholeheartedly endorsing the Eisenhower-Mitchell program.

I would like to quote briefly from an article by Victor Riesel quoting Mr. Truman as follows:

I am relying on my memory, but I have a pretty good memory, it must have been Howard McGrath who called in Tobin. You are talking of the early 50's, I am talking of 1949. At that time I became concerned over the big funds and thought the union members' money should be protected.

This is Mr. Truman:

In 1949 I suggested that the Taft-Hartley Act be amended, principally to protect union funds. Much could have been done. All this you talk about today could have been avoided. It all could have been protected then. It all could have been avoided. The human animal is about the same whether you start with the President of the United States or the man on the corner directing traffic. It is difficult to resist the lure of big money. What the union people who pay dues today need is protection. Money is the root of all evil. Now we have some of this evil. It is human nature to err, we need laws against this. "I am a union man," said Mr. Truman, "but I am for the protection of the fellow who pays his dues."

I think if men like George Meany, Senator Joe Clark and Harry Truman favor the principle of this legislation it could hardly be described as anti-union or union wrecking.

I would like to state at this time that no responsible person, in public life or otherwise, would propose legislation that would hamper or restrict the legitimate activities of labor organizations. I personally have gone on public record as being opposed to "right to work" legislation, not that I am against the principle of "right to work" legislation but because I honestly feel in this day and age it could seriously weaken labor organizations. No responsible person today would favor legislation that could have that unsavory effect. We need strong unionism as we need strong government and strong business.

The responsibility enunciated by Mr. Meany, commensurate with the great power of labor, apparently has not trickled down to the Pennsylvania labor leaders for they are not yet willing to support this legislation. I would, however, like to quote from the President of the State CIO in New York State, who in endorsing the Eisenhower program federally, said:

In many unions there is little sign that the leaders are even trying to maintain contact with the membership. Some seem to feel that union shop contracts and compulsory checkoff of union dues have made it unnecessary for them to know what the members want or need.

That man's name is Louis Hollander and he is President of the State CIO in New York. I call that man an enlightened labor leader, in addition to being an honest and competent one. I think it will be men like him who will keep the labor movement vital, alert, honest, clean and democratic.

I personally see no reason why labor organizations should not make a public reporting of their funds. We are talking about big business. We are talking about the money that comes out of the pay checks of the union members.

You take an average, not an average steel worker union, but there are many steel worker unions perhaps that have 5,000 members. I would like to say now, before anybody misinterprets it, I believe the United Steel Workers of America is one of the best operated, most democratic unions we have; I am using them by way of example. If you take a 5,000 man local—the USW monthly dues are $5.00 a man—that is $25,000 that goes into that union treasury every month, and it is automatic. It comes out of the man's pay check, and the company, by check gives it to the union treasury. That is a lot of money, and that is just one little union. I think there should be a provision for a regulation of this money in the public interest as well as in the interest of the union members.

It is true that the union member, the rank-and-file, has very adequate, very forceful representation from lobbyists both here and in Washington, when it comes to such matters as hours, wages and conditions of employment. But it is my opinion that when we talk about regulatory matters concerning the activities of the leaders of organized labor, then the rank-and-file has no lobbyist. I think that is unfortunate but it is nevertheless true.

I would like to refer to a headline in the May 4th issue of the Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph. It says: "Labor Poll Favors Union-Cast Open Skies."

This is an article about a Trendex News Survey Poll. Trendex is one of the large national survey outfits operating out of New York. They proposed a question for members of unions nation-wide. This was their question:

Those interviewed were asked whether they favor a law making it mandatory for union officials to release detailed reports on the expenditures of union funds and give copies to the members. When answers of only those with opinions were considered, the answers were "Yes" 96.1 percent, "No" 3.9 percent.

I think it is fantastic that you would get over a 96 percent favorable response to any question, especially a question involving something new and different in the conduct of the affairs of labor unions. Yet, I have no reason to believe that Trendex is not a scientifically accurate non-partisan organization.

I have further evidence by way of survey. The Institute of Opinion Research of Princeton University, which is recognized throughout this land as a very scientifically accurate and above-and-beyond reproach organization in the sampling of public opinion, asks the very same question, not of union members only but of the general public. The answers were 97.8 percent "Yes" that they favored a law making it mandatory that union funds be filed publicly and copies be given to the members.

The question here today boils down pretty much to whom we represent in this House. Do we represent the people? Do we represent the great rank-and-file, the working men, the members of labor organizations, or do we represent the special vested interest group, the labor leaders who for reasons of their own whatever they might be, do not now wish to be regulated concerning their union finances?

I know, at least I believe, that there are very few Members of this House who would not agree in principle with this type of legislation. After all, it is an anti-Dave Beck bill. I am realistic enough to know of the political influence that the labor lobbyists have, and I can understand the type of pressure that is exerted. I have been subjected to the same pressure from lobbyists in other fields. I would like to say though, the question resolves itself pretty much to whether or not we are going to vote in favor with what is now, I think, the well-known wishes of the general public and the well-known wishes of the rank-and-file, that there be a law making mandatory the public disclosure of union funds.

Let me point out that this in no way can weaken a labor organization by giving financial information to management. In the first place that argument is 20 years old, but it is an argument and I will attempt to answer it. It is public knowledge, how much money a local union takes in from monthly dues, special assessments and initiation fees. I say it is public knowledge and especially to the employer who deducts that money from the union member's pay check and gives that money to the labor union.

This bill is a bill in the public interest, it is a bill in the interest of the rank-and-file. I can certainly with all good conscience say that what I am proposing is not an anti-union bill, and ask the Members of this House to give it their wholehearted support as have Mr. Meany, Senator Joe Clark, Harry Tuman, Mr. Hollander the president of the State CIO in New York, among others.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny has spoken very eloquently and at length in behalf of an objective which is conceded. The question arises as to the mechanics of his bill.

There are international organizations, district organizations, regional organizations and local unions. I would gather from his bill that the local union was required to report, the regional organization was required to report, the district organization was required to report, and whether or not we have jurisdiction over the international organization might be a matter of some doubt.

Of course, it is too late to argue the amendments that went down just a little while ago, but we do have labor organizations and they are paid from some fund, and we have lobbyists from industry and they are paid from some fund.

I am wondering whether, in view of the evidence that those labor organizations that are represented in this Hall of the House, should account for their funds to their members. Other organizations are represented on the floor of the House, on the one hand we have those who negotiate for and in behalf of labor. They do not only negotiate with individuals, they negotiate with a group.

Now if we are going to inquire as to how the labor crowd spends its money in order to have representation here, it is perfectly in order to inquire as to why the employer group should not account. I think the bill should be clarified as to where the reporting begins and to whom. Does the local union simply report to its members its expenditures, and what it sends to the district organization, then the district organization report and what it sends to the international or nation organization? Where are these reports to be centered?

I think the bill does need clarification. I agree with the purpose. The national organizations, as a result of the investigation that is going on, will report to the people. Now how far down the line do we go with the reports? It is simply a question of mechanics.

I think the bill is faulty in its mechanics. I would suggest that, so we could all vote for it, it be clarified. It is the matter of the chain of reporting. If we are going to have the local union report say so. If we are going to have the district organization report, it is all part of the same chain.

I want to vote for this bill, but in the present form I cannot see that it is a useful instrument.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AGNEW. I shall, Mr. Speaker. I want the Members of the House to know that I am not from Pittsburgh.

Mr. TOLL. I am glad to hear that, and maybe some of the people from Pittsburgh are happy about it.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I don't know about that, but from my point of view I would certainly have no objection to living in Pittsburgh. I think it is Pennsylvania's No. 1 city. I am very proud of Pittsburgh.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny?

Mr. TOLL. I do Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire from the gentleman if he will explain on page 4 of this bill, line 3, what he means by the word "deliver" because in his original address I heard him say "mailed to the members?"

Mr. AGNEW. The word "deliver," as the gentleman knows, is a legal word of art. I originally prepared and I was satisfied with the wording "submit or cause to be submitted" to each union member, but I was advised that the word "deliver" with its legal connotations was a better word.

My interpretation of the requirement of the word "deliver" would be that it would be a personal delivery or it would be a mailing, either. Copies of the annual financial statement could be handed to the members at work, or a three cent stamp could be employed and it could be mailed out together with other union mailings.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, would it not be easier for the gentleman to amend the bill using the word "mail" instead of the word "deliver," if he intended that the representative of the union would mail the notice?

Mr. AGNEW. I have no particular manner by which I want the members to receive copies of the annual financial statement. There are a number of ways by which this could be done by the use of the word "deliver." I do not want to make it mandatory that they must be mailed, although mailing would be a form of delivery that would be consonant with this bill.

Mr. TOLL. Well, Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman agree that if a member says that he did not get the notice, the union will be in trouble under this bill?

Mr. AGNEW. I doubt that very much.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, the word "deliver" would give a member of the union the right to bring an action under this bill if it were not delivered to him, or if he did not get it; isn't that so, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. AGNEW. That is right, Mr. Speaker. But I might point out that if these annual financial statements are, first, available, second, filed with the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board, and delivered to each member, there might be a crackpot in some labor organization who had claimed he did not get one, but certainly the labor union could rebut that by offering testimony to the mailing and offering testimony from the other members that they received a copy of it.

Further than that, the only action a member of a labor union could take under this bill would be to make the labor organization comply with the provisions of it. If there were copies of the financial statement available in, maybe mimeograph form or some other form, all they would have to do is hand him a copy of it, and he has no right to go to court.

I think the gentleman is whistling up the side of a mountain.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman indicates that this whistle would bring the labor organization into court at the hands of some individual who insisted that he did not get a copy, is that so?

Mr. AGNEW. If the labor organization does not comply with the provisions of this proposed law, then any member of the labor organization could go to court to force compliance, and so could the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the gentleman from Allegheny does not wish to amend the word "deliver" so as to make it clear just how these notices are to get to the members?

Mr. AGNEW. No. I do not want to make it mandatory that there be a mailing. I want it to be a delivery and I do not care how it is delivered.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, may I further interrogate the gentleman with regard to page 2, line 13, in which he refers to "any other allied group." Would the gentleman please state what allied groups are included?

Mr. AGNEW. That would be any committee, unit or organization, the parent organization of which was the member's labor union.

That provision is in the law, and by answering your question I can partly answer the comments raised by the gentleman from Cambria.

The only labor organizations giving copies of financial statements to members under this bill, in most instances, would be the local union, the international union or any other unit, committee, district or regional labor organization which made an assessment on the members of that labor organization, or received a part of the monthly dues of that member.

I mean if the local union took moneys out of its treasury and periodically paid them to a regional or district organization, which is half way up the chain of command between the local and the international, that regional or district organization would not be required to comply with the provisions of this act. "

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman care to amend this bill so as to spell out and define the conditions which he now explains with regard to the definition of labor organizations?

Mr. AGNEW. It is a matter of interpretation, Mr. Speaker. I have given the gentleman the interpretation of the sponsors of this bill. I think it is the only fair, the only right interpretation. I might remind the gentleman it is getting a little late in the session for amendments.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, may I further interrogate the gentleman?

Does the gentleman include the educational committees, and the homes for the aged, the health centers and the committee for political education, which receive money from labor, in this interpretation?

Mr. AGNEW. No, absolutely not, unless in some local union there was an assessment made on the individual members for that purpose, then it would be included, if it is an assessment. But if it is moneys that come out of the local union's treasury, no, that would by no stretch of the imagination be any interpretation of this act.

Mr. TOLL. Would the gentleman include in this bill, by way of amendment, the definition of the word "assessments" so we could have a clear understanding as to what is intended so far as the educational, health, and agent committees are concerned?

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman from Philadelphia to ask any member of any labor organization what an assessment is and he will get a uniform answer.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the sponsor of the bill with respect to page 6, lines 9, 10 and 11, where any member of the labor organization, in the name of the labor organization, may bring an action at law in Dauphin County. Will the gentleman explain what he means by bringing of a suit in a name of the organization by a member?

Mr. AGNEW. It gives a member of the labor organization the same right as a stockholder has in a corporation. A stockholder can bring a stockholder's action in the name of the corporation.

Mr. TOLL. Such suits, Mr. Speaker, would have to be brought in Dauphin County under the section 5.

Mr. AGNEW. No, read further Mr. Toll. If the action is instituted by the state, by the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board, it is instituted in Dauphin County Court. If it is instituted by the member of the labor organization, it is brought into the court of common pleas of the county in which the principal office of the labor organization is located, or the county where it is located, the place of employment of any such member.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, in that section the individual member is permitted to bring the suit in the local court if brought in his own name. Would that also apply if brought in the organization's name?

Mr. AGNEW. Definitely.

Mr. TOLL. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, you have seen how difficult it is to interpret the word "deliver." It is true the sponsor says that delivering may be by mail, but you also heard him say how clear it is that a person who was dissatisfied or disgruntled might bring an action against the union on the ground that he did not have the notice, and it would be necessary to defend such a suit. That you can multiply by the number of persons who might be tempted to bring such suits because the law provides that these financial statements should be sent to them.

Let me call your attention to the problem that is going to be involved in connection with the sending of notices to the various groups with which labor organizations are integrated. For instance, you have a district council, you have a state federation, you have an educational committee, you have a home for the aged, you have a health center, you have a committee for political education. All of these collect money. They may collect only a dollar, but the gentleman may contend that that dollar represents an assessment. If it represents an assessment, a labor organization may have to have a whole staff of stenographers to send out these notices, and duplications by the way, because the same member could contribute his dollar to political education and be entitled to a statement, he could contribute his dues to the local union and be entitled to a statement, part of his dues actually go to the district council and he is entitled to a statement, part of his dues go to the state federation and he is entitled to a statement.

They have built up, in this business of sending statements, a monstrous enterprise which would take all kinds of trouble and money in order to satisfy this particular situation.

Further, you have the problem relating to this business of bringing actions in Dauphin County so that the unions would have to get a squad of attorneys to defend themselves, all for the purpose of sending a statement to the members of the unions.

Now this is clearly a bill which is anti-union, because if this bill were serious and they wanted to get at the problem of labor funds, or funds which are used for the purposes of lobbying, or funds which are used for the purposes of education, would not they include employer organizations like Mr. Andrews says; are not they engaged in the same activities? Why do they pick out the people who work, are fortunate enough to be organized, who are fortunate enough to have capable representation in Pennsylvania and have been brought to a point of economic dignity?

Because after all if you are able to dispose of and destroy all the men who lead these organizations, and who are doing such a splendid job in their behalf, and giving them the economic independence which they have today, you are destroying the man yourself. If he does not have proper spokesmen, what can he do for himself? What matches a man who works for a living against his employers? For years and years in America we have had nothing but exploitation. It wasn't until recent decades, the last two decades, that there was any improvement in the United States and in this Commonwealth in the situation which exists.

That improvement was brought about by the faithfulness and the diligence of these leaders to these men. You certainly have to give these men credit for having brought the state and the worker up to the point which exists today.

When the gentlemen was discussing 771, I expected to debate that separately, because that represents a different problem. That involves welfare funds, and even there at this moment I am not going to answer them. When 771 comes up I am going to give you a proper explanation of what the Eisenhower administration is doing today with respect to welfare funds, because that particular bill is limited.

I asked the Speaker to limit him on that particular subject. But I merely want to discuss this bill; this is definitely an anti-labor bill, I do not care how it is dressed up for you.

I ask the Speaker to have a slow roll call on this so we can get everybody recorded.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am very much interested in the objective this bill desires to serve.

I am frequently wrong in my judgment, but it is my opinion that if the bill in its present form is not amended on the floor of this House, or is not amended in the other Chamber, that it is quite likely to fail to receive ultimate approval on the grounds that its machinery as set up is unworkable.

I would like to save the bill. If the gentleman wants to stand by the wordage and impair this bill, that is within his province. My advice to him would be to clarify the machinery and make it workable. I am quite certain it is the kind of a bill, if it were clarified, that His Excellency the Governor would be delighted to sign.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, there is no doubt in my mind that there will be federal laws similar to these bills in the not-too-distant future. I want to point out that the pendulum has swung too far the other way regarding the situation we are trying to correct here, and we want to bring it back into neutral—between the far left and the far right.

We have received, many letters in favor of these bills. In addition to that I have received many pages of petitions signed by AFL-CIO United Steel Workers Union members from Reading, and Berks County.

The United States Senate investigating committee has disclosed a crying need for legislation of this type. The people of Pennsylvania are entitled to legislation of this nature. Senator Curwood, a member of the Senate investigating committee told me there will be another 18 months of investigation. I predict that by the time the Senate investigation is completed this bill will have been proved to be woefully inadequate. Certainly labor leaders will not oppose this legislation designed to protect the rank and file workers.

I respectfully urge all of you to vote for this bill.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like permission to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny County.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny County, Mr. Agnew, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AGNEW. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, listening to the gentleman's opening remarks, when we began debating House Bill 770, did I understand the gentleman to say that the primary object of this bill, and his main interest, was the rank and file members of the labor organizations?

Mr. AGNEW. That is right, Mr. Speaker. It is their money we are talking about.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, am I right in assuming then that another one of the primary objects was to prevent the abuse of the funds collected by organized labor, or assessments as you put it?

Mr. AGNEW. Prevent the abuse?

Mr. FLYNN. I say, am I right in my thinking in assuming that was what the gentleman intended to do in House Bill 770?

Mr. AGNEW. Yes, to some extent that is the purpose of the bill, to make sure that union funds are used for union purposes and not for Dave Beck purposes, for instance.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, in my interpretation of the bill, so far as I am concerned I would say that there is no requirement in there that would protect the members against abuse of the funds or the money. I would suggest that the only thing you are going to do is to require unions to disclose their annual reports.

Let me further interrogate the gentleman. I assume, that the gentleman from Allegheny County is quite well versed in union activities insofar as locals and federations and so on and so forth, are concerned.

Mr. AGNEW. I can assure the gentleman that I am.

Mr. FLYNN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, for the information of the House I am not only familiar with the activities of organized labor, I am a member of organized labor, a member of an international that has its office in Philadelphia. It is the Glass Blowers' Association. Our local unions are affiliated with the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor and also affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and the CIO.

I would like to know this. As lawmakers of the state of Pennsylvania we could demand that local unions file an annual report and we could also demand, for example, that the Pennsylvania Federation file an annual report, but could we demand that the American Federation of Labor-CIO, who maintains headquarters in Washington, D. C., make annual reports?

I might say this for the benefit of the gentleman from Allegheny. Each local union operates under a constitution and they operate under their own local by-laws, they have their regular meetings, and at each of the regular meetings, and at each of the regular meetings the money that is expended is voted upon. All current bills and a financial statement are given at every meeting. When it comes to being affiliated with organizations such as the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, it is not compulsory by any stretch of the imagination, it is voted on by the membership.

Incidentally, while we are speaking of that, going further, insofar as our international is concerned, we do receive full reports and we receive annual reports of all money expended. Frankly, I am somewhat amused and amazed to know that the gentleman from Allegheny County is so interested in the welfare of the rank and file members. Being one of the rank and file members, I take it that he must be interested in my welfare also.

I would like to suggest to our membership, the Members of the House, that we know we have some undesirables perhaps in the labor movement. I just noticed the other day that AFL president, George Meaney, suggested to some of our different organizations within the federation that they rid themselves of these undesirables. He is strictly in favor so far as the welfare of all the rank and file members are concerned, and that is why he makes that suggestion.

I would like to suggest to the Members that until such time as Mr. Agnew can clarify all of the provisions in this bill and if he is interested in taking care of the rank and file members, he should spell it out. I suggest to the Members present that we vote down this House Bill 770.

Mr. MULDOWNEY. Mr. Speaker, I think we are wasting a lot of time on this bill in view of the Federal laws, the Taft-Hartley Act, where every member of organized labor receives a report from their unions.

Mr. STRAUSSER. Mr. Speaker, I sensed when these bills were first introduced that they would be controversial. I refer to House Bill 770, 771 that someone else has referred to, and two other bills that were introduced at the same time. So, I asked the local newspapers whether they would not publicize these bills in full; I requested the reaction of the rank and file membership of the local union. As a result of that request, I received over 1500 signatures on petitions, letters, post cards, not counting telephone calls, all in favor of this legislation. I, for one, am going to vote for this bill with a clear conscience.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, very briefly I would like to point out to the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Flynn, that Senator McClelland's committee has received over 30,000 letters from union members throughout the length and breadth of this country giving him information on activities in their own labor unions with which they do not agree. I think the members who took the time and trouble to send these letters are definitely interested in cleaning up their own labor unions.

I would like to say right now that in my opinion the great majority of labor unions are well run, are democratically, honestly and thoroughly run. As a matter of fact, Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen in the minority who have commented on this bill and who interrogated me, every good labor union—and by that I mean the overwhelming majority—does right now, by custom, what this bill would require it to do by law. No good labor organization need fear this bill at all. The only thing that they would have to do over and above what they now do, is send five copies of the annual financial statement to the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board.

I might say that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, I will not say deliberately, but I will say very definitely, misinterpreted the provisions of this bill. This bill, just briefly now, provides only that the local union or the international union—in most cases those are the only ones who get any part of the monthly dues of the member—are the ones who are required to give that member an annual financial statement of what they did with the money.

The only other instance that this bill would apply to would be if the regional or district committee or organization made an assessment upon each member. Mr. Toll well knows what an assessment is. If he does not, any union member can tell him without too much trouble.

Once again, in all sincerity, I do not like the thought that this was referred to as anti-union, or that it had a sinister purpose, because it does not. Whether or not this bill becomes law now, I would state that it is inevitable that this legislation will be law within a very short period of time, both federally and state-wide. It is right that all this money collected by labor organizations should be accounted for.

I ask the members of this House to vote for this bill.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I am perfectly willing to concede that there must be some meritorious purpose to this bill.

However, I have analyzed it and I cannot for all of me discern it, and for that purpose I would like to interrogate the sponsor.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. AGNEW, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, on page 3 of the bill, Section 4, it provides for a financial statement. Now will the sponsor of the bill indicate what type of financial statement is required?

Mr. AGNEW. I have lost my copy of the bill. I thought I had it here. Under the definition, I believe a financial statement is referred to as all moneys received and expended from dues, assessments and initiation fees. That is all.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, under that definition would it suffice if the labor union provided to its members a statement which said "moneys received, X dollars," "moneys expended, X dollars?"

Mr. AGNEW. No, I think that would be a violation of the spirit of the bill. There may be some legal question as to what is a financial statement. I would think there would have to be more detail than that.

Mr. GELFAND. Then the gentleman would admit that the definitions still do not clearly indicate what type of financial statement is required?

Mr. AGNEW. Yes, I believe I do. On the contrary, it is a matter of well known accounting principles in this year 1957 what is and what is not a financial statement.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, although it is a matter of accounting principle as to what is or what is not a financial statement, when a definition of a financial statement is specifically indicated under accounting procedures and accounting principles as required by certified public accountants, it must be defined quite closely. Now this bill does not define, at least to my knowledge, what type of financial statement is required, except insofar as saying a statement indicating moneys received and expenditures made, is that not so?

Mr. AGNEW. Was that a question?

Mr. GELFAND. I will put it this way, does this bill indicate specifically as to what is included in a financial statement beyond a statement indicating the amount of moneys received and the expenditures made by a labor union?

Mr. AGNEW. I think any reasonable interpretation of the bill would require at least a financial statement comparable to a simple profit and loss statement.

Mr. GELFAND. Would the gentleman concede that there may be a question from the definitions in the bill as to what type of statement is required?

Mr. AGNEW. I would like to be able to agree with the gentleman, but I cannot concede that, no.

Mr. GELFAND. Thank you.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, although I could not obtain a concession from the gentleman who sponsored this bill that a financial statement of any particular type is required, he seems to insist that at least the spirit and intent of the legislation would require a profit and loss statement of some type. A profit and loss statement is a particular type of financial statement which has a peculiar definition attached to it, just a balance sheet which has a statement of assets and liabilities is a particular type of financial statement.

There are numerous types of financial statements which could be created for any particular activity and therefore, perforce, for anybody to understand particularly what this bill requires would require a more definite interpretation of "financial statement."

Now insofar as I can see from my close analysis of this bill, I can only determine that what is required in a financial statement is a statement of all moneys or funds received and expended during a fiscal year of the union. Now if that is so, and if that interpretation would be adhered to strictly, it occurs to me the only thing that would be required insofar as reports under this legislation, would be for the union to send both to its members and to the various agencies to whom it has to provide copies of these statements, a statement saying that it had received X dollars and had expended X dollars. And to my way of thinking I cannot see what purpose it would serve under any circumstances.

The bill is poorly constructed in my eyes for that purpose. If it is not amended, so it is more clear in its interpretations of what it requires, I think it should be voted down.

Mr. TOLL. The sponsor of the bill indicated that there was a failure to properly interpret this short bill, which consists of two pages, with regard to who is included. I do not know how many have read it, but it is just clear. It "shall include any international, district, regional or local union or labor organization or any committee unit trust or any other group allied with or formed by any labor organization whether incorporated or not and whether or not formed or organized for educational purposes."

How much broader than this could it be? I cannot conceive of any other organization that could be included.

Now on the question of assessments, I cannot find the word "assessment" in this bill. The definition for the member is "any person who pays dues." Dues go to educational groups, dues go to union groups and as far as the money is concerned, it says on page 3 "every labor organization shall prepare a financial statement for funds received and expended" and the same thing on page 4, "every labor organization shall deliver to each member a copy of the financial statement." This is the broadest thing you could possibly develop as far as mailing out financial statements is concerned. It is very nice to have interpretations from Mr. Agnew, but I think when it comes to enforcing the law, the judges insist upon reading what is in here.

I ask you to vote against it.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AGNEW. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, are you an officer or an ex-officer of any labor organization?

Mr. AGNEW. I am an ex-member. I am now a member of the Allegheny County Bar Association, which is a pretty good union in its own right.

Mr. SMITH. But you were never an officer of any labor organization?

Mr. AGNEW. No, but I was a member of Local 1058, the Common Laborers and Hod Carriers Union in Pittsburgh, the leader of which is now under indictment for extortion in Federal court.

Mr. SMITH. That is all.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the last statement he made I think is typical of his feeling in regard to this particular bill.

Two years ago I heard the gentleman speak about our labor leaders here on the Hill and today he reiterated just about the same words. He does not have much respect for them.

Now let me say to you gentleman here today, speaking as an ex-officer and ex-president of a local union, personally we are all in favor of this type of legislation, but it is my opinion that the only reason we have this bill before us today is because they found one rotten apple in the barrel.

Had our labor leaders who represent the state of Pennsylvania sat down with Mr. Agnew and prepared this bill, I would say it was a good bill and I would vote for it.

However, that was not done. I am in a community where we have 12,000 members. I am a staunch believer that the big unions should be run at the local level. Each night there is a meeting of this local representing 12,000 men. There is a notice placed at the mill gates so that these men know that there will be a meeting so that they can come and voice their opinions on anything that comes before them.

I think if we are going to start to write legislation like this just because we are in a position to write it, then what happens when we are in the majority and we take the stand that we are going to make management do the same thing that you people are making labor do? Then we are going to be in a fine state of affairs.

I say that if the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association has something on its mind, it has people here that they can sit down and talk to in the way of preparing legislation, and the same goes for labor. I am sure labor intends to correct this condition and the gentlemen whom Mr. Agnew mentioned all recognize the evil. They are all willing to correct it, so I believe the job is up to them to correct it. Then if they do not correct it, we will.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1239, entitled:

An Act amending the "Local Delinquent Tax Return Law" approved May 29, 1931 (P. L. 280) eliminating compensation of tax collectors for unpaid returned taxes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KNECHT. Mr. Speaker, this bill would remove from the local tax collector the two per cent commission that they now receive on taxes that are returned, and that are paid through the sales of property by the county treasurer.

Most of the tax collectors in the smaller districts are paid on a commission basis. They are not on a salary and in the anthracite coal regions in particular large sums of taxes are returned, because they are not paid by the owners of the coal lands. In some cases the owners of these lands wait for a period of two years, until the land is put on the tax sale, and then pay the taxes on one year in order that they can be removed from the tax sale.

Since this involves hundreds of thousands of dollars in the anthracite coal region in delinquent taxes, to take away from the local tax collectors the two percent commission that they would receive when the taxes are eventually paid or when the property is sold, I think is taking away a big portion of the tax revenue from these tax collectors, and I think that is unjust. I think it is not fair to these tax collectors. They have all of the paper work in connection with sending bills out, sending additional notices out to the property owners, in making the returns to the county commissioners and they would get no compensation whatever if these properties are eventually sold.

So, I think that in justice to all these tax collectors, not only in the anthracite coal regions but wherever they may be, who have properties returned to the county commissioners that are eventually sold by the county treasurer, to take away that two percent commission would be robbing them of a part of their salary, or rather their fee, which they are entitled to.

So, I ask the consideration of the Members of the House in the interest of the tax collectors who are being paid on a commission basis that you vote against this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. I agree, Mr. Speaker, with the gentleman from Schuylkill. The tax collector probably puts in more time on his bad accounts than he does on his good accounts. The gentleman from Schuylkill, I believe, is exactly right.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, this bill only applies in cases where the tax lands are taken care of by county treasurers.

In a great many cases this system has lead to a situation in bookkeeping which far exceeds its return to the county treasurer because in a great many cases the county treasurer, in cases of small assessments of $50 to $100 to $200, will return the tax to the treasurer, and they have found themselves in a position, where a tax collector is deceased, that there will be a check of two, three or four cents payable to the tax collector's estate long after it is closed. I feel that this matter in the majority of counties simply creates a troublesome bookkeeping problem. The tax collector has ample remedies at his hand and we have found in a great many cases that he simply returns them to the county treasurer as a matter of convenience.

Therefore, I feel that this matter is costing the taxpayers a lot more money from a standpoint of county audits and county treasurer's bookkeeping than is returned to the county treasurer. I ask the Members of the House to vote in favor of the bill.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1528, Printer's No. 746, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1537, entitled:

An Act amending "The Mental Health Act of 1951" approved June 12, 1951 (P. L. 533) regulating the custody of patients' property modifying the provisions relating to the appointment of guardians and the provisions regulating the action of the authorized agent of the Department of Revenue as guardian and providing for the disposition of the body and property of deceased patients.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, on Page 5 of the bill, Section 813.1, there is a provision that if a person dies while in an institution subject to the Department of Welfare, that it is the duty of the superintendent of that particular institution to notify the deceased's next of kin, and to turn over the body to anyone claiming the body under color of right, I believe is the word used. Now, I am wondering whether or not the bill should spell out the fact that the spouse should have a priority there. If a number of persons are claiming under color of right, I think it might give rise to a question. Do you have an answer to that?

Mr. TOLL. Yes. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the law the body, upon its decease, becomes personal property and is inherited by the spouse, either male or female, and so color of right would recognize the common law as it now exists. Color of right would give precedent to the right of the spouse in the body as personal property.

It is a descriptive term, Mr. Speaker, merely meaning that those who have precedence will get it.

Mr. McCORMACK. And you are sure it is not necessary that any language be added to this Section to clarify the common law right of the spouse, or next of kin to take possession.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would say no, because we have the intestate laws now and the other laws of decedent—

Mr. McCORMACK. Is this covered by the—

Mr. TOLL. I would say so, because the body is personal property. As soon as the person is deceased the body is personal property.

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, but this bill specifically says that the superintendent shall turn over the body to anyone claiming it under color of right. You might have several people claiming under color of right, and you say that you would look to another act to determine who has a priority where a number of people claim the body under color of right.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would, because this is a descriptive term and it could be used in the place of "in accordance with the law" or "according to Hoyle." There is a lot of merit in this language and this is a substitute for "in accordance with the law."

Mr. McCORMACK. I am not really satisfied with that answer, but I will not interrogate any further.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. Without objection, all remaining bills on today's calendar with the exception of House Bill 1663 will be passed over. The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1663, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 page 1, lines 2 and 3 by striking out "One Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($1,500,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof "five million dollars ($5,000,000)"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, this bill is the appropriation for the Industrial Redevelopment.

The General Assembly in 1956 made a continuing appropriation in the amount of $5,000,000 to the Authority. The Authority has considered, to date, 27 loan applications from Pennsylvania community industrial development organizations. It has made loans or loan commitments in the amount of $2,955,279 on 22 of these applications. It has pending or under negotiation five applications totaling $865,000. Approval of these applications would bring the total of loan and loan commitments of the Authority to $3,820,279 and would leave an uncommitted balance in the Authority's loan funds of $1,179,721.

It has been indicated that an appropriation of $1,500,- 000 will be made to the Authority, for the 24 months beginning June 1. That sum, together with the $1,179,721 that would remain uncommitted in the Authority's funds following action on the five new loan requests would give the Authority a loan fund of $2,679,721 for the next 24 months, compared to the $5,000,000 it has had for the past 12 months.

The Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority makes mortgage loans to community non-profit corporations for construction of industrial plants. Community corporations put up 20% of the total construction cost of each project as builder-owners; banks and insurance companies provide first mortgage loans normally for 50% of the cost; the Authority provides the balance in the form of second mortgage loans. Authority operations are restricted to "labor surplus areas. The loans are repaid to the Commonwealth with interest. The plants are occupied by approved companies under long-term lease or purchase arrangements.

The Authority has had a $5,000,000 loan fund for the 1955-57 biennium. However, it has been in operation only 9 months, inasmuch as the last session of the General Assembly continued through May of last year, and the summer months were required to organize the Authority board and staff.

During the 9 months of its operation, to date, the Authority has made loans or loan commitments totaling $2,955,279 on 22 community industrial building projects. Of these, 7 loans totaling $1,363,900 have been consummated and disbursement of funds begun; legal work preparatory to disbursement of funds is in process on 15 loan commitments totaling $1,591,379 and actual expenditures will begin during June and July.

The total present dollar volume of loans and loan commitments leaves $2,044,721 remaining uncommitted out of the original $5,000,000 appropriation to the Authority.

Against the $2,044,721 remaining uncommitted in the Authority's loan fund, 5 applications are either pending before the Board or under negotiation between community non-profit corporations, banks, manufacturing firms and the state Commerce Department staff preparatory to filing on projects involving loan requests in the amount of $865,000. Approval of these applications would reduce the Board's uncommitted funds to $1,179,721.

The major portion of the project financing has been provided by 33 banks and insurance companies on a first mortgage basis.

Total factory employment in the plants for which financing has been extended or applied for will be in excess of 5,300 new jobs.

Following is a listing of the communities which have received loans or loan commitments from the Authority, or which are applying to the Authority for loans:

Disbursement of Loans Initiated (7)

Wilkes-Barre, Freeland, Beaver Meadows (Luzerne County), Lewistown (Mifflin), Sunbury (Northumberland), Scranton (Lackawanna), Uniontown (Fayette), Loan Commitments Awaiting Disbursement (15)

Altoona (Blair County), Sunbury (2) (Northumberland), Lehigh (Carbon), Pottsville (Schuylkill), New Bethlehem (Clarion), Windber (Somerset), Uniontown (Fayette), Wilkes-Barre, Hazleton (2) (Luzerne), Saltsburg (Indiana), Littlestown (Adams), Lake City (Erie), Indiana (Indiana).

Pending or Under Negotiation (5)

Williamsport (Lycoming), New Bethlehem (Clarion), Hazleton (Luzerne), Stroudsburg (Monroe), Scranton (Lackawanna).

Members of the House, I have gone to the trouble of reading the towns and counties so that you will get an idea that this particular bill affects the entire state and not just one locality, especially the depressed areas of our state.

I received, and I believe all of the other Members of the House received, newspaper releases during the latter part of May and the early part of June, one from the Daily Record, Stroudsburg, dated May 24th, another from the Morning Press, Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania; another from the Pottsville Republican; another from the Wilkes-Barre Sunday Independent; one from the Sunday Patriot-News, Harrisburg, dated May 26th, with the headline "Who Is The State GOP Trying to Kid?"; Sun Telegraph, Pittsburgh, dated May 26th, Pottsville Republican, again, June 5th; the Evening Gazette, Indiana, May 18th; Stroudsburg Daily, May 31st. All of these newspaper releases and editorials are critical of the proposed amount to be granted under 1663. All of them read exactly the same.

I refer to a headline in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, dated June 5th: "GOP Senators Give In On Two Budget Slashes—Industrial Urban Redevelopment Funds To Be Restored."

It seems to me that we ought to stop playing "goodies" and "badies." Why should we in the House be the "badies" and let the gentlemen in the other chamber be the "goodies"? Let us be the "goodies" for a while. Why should we wait for the gentlemen in the other chamber to restore these cuts? Why shouldn't we do it here and take credit for it? Everybody is in agreement that this is a wonderful program for the state of Pennsylvania, especially for our depressed areas. The program, in a period of nine months, has gotten off the ground tremendously. Now, I know that the gentlemen on the other side will probably have amendments to restore somewhat the cut that has been made in the budget for this particular bill, but I say to you that will not be enough. I say let's put the full amount back as requested by the Governor in the amount of $5 million.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, notwithstanding the impelling impulse to force an early adjournment, they still have time for shadow boxing. Everybody knows that this House is all set to knock down the amendments that have been offered. Everybody knows that amendments will be offered raising the amount now carried in House Bill 1663 to at least $3 million. When it goes across the hall, they are not going to take the $3 million. The gentlemen over there know that is so. Then it goes to a conference committee, and in all probability it emerges from the conference committee in excess of $3 million.

The gentleman from Philadelphia is quite all right. If you do not know what the thinking is on the other side of the Capitol, you ought to know; and knowing, you should write into this bill what is going to be the ultimate version and save time, if you are in such a hurry to get away.

The argument made by the gentleman from Philadelphia is a valid argument. Everybody concedes that this Development Authority has been doing a good job. Now whether it is going to get quite $5 million may be in doubt, but it is certainly going to get more than $3 million. So instead of taking a course from which you do not want to retract you will save face maybe by sending it to a conference committee, and then you can say you did not do it. Now that is not statesmanship. That is not even leadership.

So I repeat, Mr. Speaker, we have a right to expect there has begun to be something like coordination upon the part of the leadership of those who are determining our destinies. Therefore, I call on a majority to write into this bill now what they know is going to be the ultimate figure.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, there is no question but what this industrial promotion program is a good thing for Pennsylvania. It was a good thing when we passed it last session. It originated in the Republican State Senate, was passed over there and was sent over to the House. We, all of us, on a bi-partisan basis, passed the measure and put in the appropriation for $5 million.

There isn't anybody in this House who is against the idea of industrial recovery, particularly in the blighted areas in Pennsylvania, where because of the flight of previous industry or the exhaustion of natural resources, new industries are needed. We are for it a thousand percent.

I think, as I said on the floor of the House the other day, the Secretary of Commerce has done an excellent job. That is certainly a truism and we are all giving him pats on the shoulder for the job he has done.

He had this $5 million and I believe has committed $3 million of it, according to your own figures, which would leave $2 million uncommitted, and I believe, in the process of negotiation here and there.

It takes time to commit the money. You must first find a bank willing to take the first mortgage. You must find a community that can raise the matching money. Of course, the Commonwealth must be ready to step in with the second mortgage money. It is a three-part proposition.

We feel that within the realm of money available, within the realm of new sources of funds, that have been said by the Budget Bureau to be available, if we allocate some more money to this very worthwhile endeavor, it certainly will be in order, but we do not have $5 million out of that major sum to allocate to this with other very meritorious propositions needing the money.

Therefore, I am asking this side of the House to vote down these amendments because I am about to offer amendments which will make the appropriation $3 million for the biennium, which added to the $2 million not committed, will give another $5 million to the department for the next two years, which, while you might say is not adequate, is quite a large sum of money. Of necessity that program will move slowly because it takes time to raise the money in these communities and it takes time to find industries that will come into Pennsylvania.

Industry is watching us to see what we are doing with the manufacturers' exemption this session. If we have to return the manufacturers' tax, of course, it will be a frightful hindrance to new industry and you will not need this $5 million. So many things hinge on what we are going to do this session along the policy of hold the line on taxes which we have been espousing ever since we came here in January.

Therefore, I am asking the Members to vote down these amendments and when I offer the amendments for $3 million total appropriation, I, of course, will ask the membership to vote for those amendments.

It is easy enough to stand in front of the microphone and urge us to spend more and more and more and give more and more and more. The newspapers of Pennsylvania are saying, "You terrible Republicans! You are saving money for the Commonwealth. We want more money. You must give more money for this and more money for that."

But in the other columns of the paper they say, Heaven forbid! Don't pass that soft drink tax. That is a tax on the kids. Don't restore or take away from the manufacturers their exemption. That will drive business out of Pennsylvania. Don't put the tax on trade-ins. That is an unconscionable tax on the trading of property in the state. Don't put the tax on beverages sold 'across the bar. That business is being crucified now. And it would be unthinkable to put the three percent sales tax on clothing because the poor man must buy his cloths.

When are you coming forward with it? I am speaking to the newspapers of this state. They want $94 million restored in this budget. Let them come forward with a sensible tax program that we can weave into our tax structure in Pennsylvania.

I say we have a big budget here in a billion and a half dollars and we in all honesty, are trying to live within this and we are trying safely and squarely and sanely here tonight to give an appropriation of $3 million to this particular project, which we say is splendid, good and worthwhile. I am sorry that we do not have $10 million to give to it.

But within the realm of funds available, within the realm of economy and government, we feel that our amendments will be better than yours for $ million, which I ask the House to vote down.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have no doubt the House will vote down the amendments, but I say to the gentleman from McKean that if he is going to be the leader of a great party in a great state he must begin to think.

If we are so poor in this Commonwealth that we cannot finance industrial redevelopment, that we cannot finance education, that we cannot finance the mental hospitals; then we should confess our poverty of ideas, our poverty of initiation. We have become the victims in this Legislature of a formula—Hold the line, but when the formula is a barrier to progress, it becomes a reproach to a great party, and the Republican party at times has been a great party.

I say to the gentleman from McKean that it is not the duty of the newspapers to provide finance for the essential needs of this Commonwealth, it is the duty of this General Assembly. I say that if the children or the distressed areas need more money, it is up to us to find it. We have not, as compared with other states, reached the ceiling of taxes that will constitute a tax burden and an economic barrier to progress.

So I will conclude by saying, you have revised your thinking once, it is no sin to revise it again. I repeat, if you are going to be the leader of a great party in a great state, it is time to begin thinking.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I think the House ought to realize that this is not a give-away program. This money, with interest, is to be paid back to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I do not believe there is any question, that Mr. Johnson is going in the right direction on this program. He tried to take credit for it but I want to bring out that it was the Department of Commerce that got off to such a flying start in a period of nine months.

You want to keep in mind that you are not giving away anything here. You are going to get this money back and you are going to get interest on the money.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, two years ago when this program started out, as I recall, the Governor at that time asked for $37.5 million for this program. He scaled his thinking down to $5 million, which was ultimately given to him and which is being asked for again this year.

He was thinking big then and he is still thinking big, but if we would spend as much as the Governor asked for, we would have a $2 billion budget instead of a $1.5 billion budget.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the bill that we are about to vote on, the amendment that is offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, we talk about on a state-wide basis. Now perhaps we can talk about it on a local basis.

In the county that I represent in this great area of prosperity that everyone talks about, under the glorious administration of President Eisenhower, for some unknown reason we have the natural resources, we have the labor, but each and every week that goes by more and more of our men are put on the unemployment rolls. For example, this last week the company that employs me cut its forces another 150 men. The United States Steel Company is going to cut its forces and has started to cut them, which will leave another 500 men unemployed in the county that I represent. Yes, this is in the soft coal fields.

It was a God-given asset that someone devised the Industrial Development Authority. As an example, Greene County has started an industrial development authority on a county basis.

Many communities have done the identical thing in starting an industrial development authority. They are getting their house in order by raising money locally to come into the state with projects in this biennium. There is no question that this has only operated a very short time and those who are in charge of this program tell us that if we can accelerate the program in the next two years as we have in the short period of time of its existence, and we hope it will expand and continue to expand, we will run out of money even on the amount that you have agreed to appropriate for this most worthy cause.

I am sure there is not a Member sitting on that side of the House who would like to think that in perhaps the last eighth of the next biennium that your community or county could have a project, having the potential industry having raised their money locally, and having negotiated to secure the finances at the bank, but upon coming to the Department of Commerce be told there are no more funds until the next session. Perhaps your area or mine may end up in that position.

I think that if we ask for $5 million, as we have committed ourselves originally to carry this program across each biennium, we would be doing very, very little. Yet, if it took many, many new additional taxes to carry such a program, I do not believe there is a Member on either side of the House that could not agree on a tax program to pay for such a worthy cause which would produce work for the laborer in these areas.

I know that I have voted for five major tax bills in one session here. I feel confident that if I am again a Member of this House that I would be more than pleased to vote for those taxes or additional new taxes to carry such a program.

The amendments that have been presented by the gentleman from Philadelphia, in our opinion, certainly reflect sound thinking. You are not giving away one single thing to anyone in Pennsylvania except a chance for our communities to create employment for our people, many of whom are in the ranks of the unemployed.

As I said before, my county is only one of sections where a vast number of people are becoming unemployed in this great era of prosperity in Pennsylvania. I think that we, as parties, both Republican and Democrat, could surely get together and provide enough money for this program. It would be the greatest thing in the world to have the additional money available for the entire program that we hope will continue to expand.

I think every Member of this House, be he Republican or Democrat, can feel in his heart the need for such a program. There is no one who speaks against it. The newspapers speak well of it. You and I know what it has done in the areas where it has started to operate.

Therefore, I think if we can see our way clear to provide the money to pay for such a program and if the majority party feels that they need new taxes, I for one, will be pleased to vote for the measure that you present on a non-committal basis. You present the measure and I will vote for it to raise the revenue to finance such a worthy program.

I believe that every Member, and particularly every Member on the Democratic side of this House, believes in this program and wants you people to accept these amendments as drawn up. We feel confident that you will vote them down, but we hope that when you come later to a conference committee you will re-affirm your position and resolve it in the light of thinking a little more of the expanded program that we believe will develop in the next two years in Pennsylvania.

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of these amendments.

Very briefly I would like to say that this plan was born in the Scranton area about 1950, when a group of civic minded people had realized that our coal industry was sick. They in turn solicited their people and they incorporated what was known as "Life Program," and the Scranton story, which is known throughout the nation, was born. Since that time people have seen the good work that was done by local effort and in turn, out of that developed this industrial development fund. Since that time eight plants have been built, and just a week ago Friday our newspaper carried the headline that the Chrysler Corporation had accepted one of our plants in the Scranton area and will employ 500 men. I think part of that money is coming from this industrial development fund. I feel that if we can get plants, as we have nine now in Lackawanna County, for the sake of $5 million we can well afford it. We should have plants like this all over our sick areas.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, for the record and certain men in the House, I would like to file this Resolution for the record from the Chairman of the Industrial Development Commission.

A RESOLUTION

Whereas, the House of Representatives last week have voted unrealistic slashes in the Industrial development and urban redevelopment program in face of the growing need for this vital state assistance to our Anthracite area, and

Whereas, the Senate of Pennsylvania during their consideration of the general appropriation have an opportunity and the responsibility of restoring these two funds to the $10 million amount made at the previous General Assembly, and

Whereas, the members of the upper house from the Anthracite area are fully aware of the accomplishments and future needs of these programs during the current biennium, and

Whereas, the administrative needs of the Department of Commerce for the next two years are felt proper to carry into execution these various programs for industrial plant location, national advertising and research,

Therefore be it resolved that the Northeast Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission, upon unanimous vote of its board of directors, recommend to the General Assembly, and most particularly to the members of the Senate and House from the Anthracite region, that full appropriations of $5 million be made both to the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority and the urban redevelopment program, and that the proposed budget of $1,447,000 for the administrative budget and an additional amount for national industrial advertising as proposed by the state Department of Commerce be passed forthwith,

Be it further resolved that the General Assembly be cognizant that more than 90 percent of the board of this organization, the banks and chambers of commerce in the Anthracite area are of the Republican political faith, and are sharply critical of the embalming of these vital programs which represent severe blows to the future economy of the hard coal area, and

Be it further resolved that copies of this resolution be forwarded to all Anthracite area members of the General Assembly and the Press.

VICTOR C. DIEHM, President

Attorney Ernest D. Preate,
Chairman, Special Legislative Committee,
Northeast Pennsylvania
Industrial Development Commission.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, a short time ago the Majority Leader in his remarks gave credit to the Republican controlled Senate of 1955 for the instigation and passage of the original Industrial Development bill.

I do not recall whose bill it was that we finally passed for $5 million last session. It probably did start in the Senate, but I wish to call to your attention the fact that Governor Leader, when he was campaigning, had among his campaign promises this idea of industrial redevelopment. If I recall correctly, he asked for a fund of $15 million or $20 million to get this thing started in Pennsylvania. It was cut back to $5 million, and now you seek to cut it again.

The original idea was to have at least $5 million passed in the last session and $5 million in this session and in subsequent sessions as long as this money is needed to bring industry into Pennsylvania. I think we can give credit to our farsighted Governor who, seeing the need for this, brought it to the attention of the public and finally proposed it as part of his program.

No matter who gets the credit for it, we have started a good and valuable thing.

Some weeks ago when we were arguing the General Appropriation bill in this House, I tried to point out the fact that this session seems to be the victim of a political slogan of "Hold the line on Taxes." I tried to point out to you at that time that you must weigh the inequity or hardship of passing new tax bills against the needs of the Commonwealth, and as to whether we have a bigger budget this time than we have ever had before or as to any other such statistical figures, but after surveying the need of the Commonwealth we must then determine how much tax we must raise.

I think this session is not going to be known as the "do nothing session of 1957," but I think it is going down in history as the "short-change session of 1957."

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I listened to the various speakers with great interest. I would say the way to get business into Pennsylvania is to give business a square deal.

You do not need to buy business to get them to locate here. Pennsylvania has everything. We have land, we have labor, we have capital and we have enterprise, which are the ingredients that the economists tell us are necessary in order to have business. We have nearness to markets, nearness to raw materials. We have said Pennsylvania has everything. We have everything but a square deal for the businessman.

I am sorry to say that down through the years we, the Republicans, were part of that policy of driving business out of the state until we had the courage to legislate a broad base tax. In every session of the General Assembly, when we needed $100 million to close the gap, we upped the taxes on business, we upped the CNI tax, we postponed the manufacturers' exemption, which we promised them from the time that it was enacted. The capital tax was put on manufacturing corporations in 1936 and we said that as soon as the emergency was over we would take it away from them so that they could flourish in this state.

Pennsylvania, as I have said here, was always known as the mother of manufacturing corporations, because we gave a tax advantage to manufacturing corporations to come into this state. But, in 1936, as you know, some of you were here in this House under Governor Earle when the tax was first put on manufacturing corporations, and it has been continued ever since, until the last session of the Legislature, when you sent a bill over to the Senate which provided that the Capital Stock Tax exemption would be currently taken away from corporations. The Republican State Senate amended the bill and it died at the end of the year, so that manufacturing corporations could look upon this state as a place where they could locate and get some tax relief.

As I say, give business a square deal. What are you doing to business as far as their Capital Stock Tax is concerned now? You are going back five years and opening up settlements that have been made and paid and doubling the tax and calling them in for hearings and driving them into court.

If a question of Unemployment Compensation comes up which would cost the fund $3 or $5 or $16 million, the Governor creates a situation wherein he says, "Oh, that is a lockout, so you are entitled to Workmen's or Unemployment Compensation." I am not saying that we do not want to give Unemployment Compensation, but I am saying it is very easy to create an atmosphere where you can crucify business.

We have upped the CNI, Corporate Net Income Tax, from four to five and up to six percent.

In this session we had to pass amendments to the Sales Tax to eliminate your regulations and rulings under this Sales Tax which were crucifying manufacturing and other business. So, I say you do not really need this industrial promotion fund. What you must do is help business. Come over here to Macedonia and we will help you. We will give you a square deal. We invite you here, we will not persecute you. We will not crucify you. That is what you must say to business, and when you do that business will flock to this, the greatest industrial state in the Union, with our great railroads, our turnpikes, our rivers and our harbor at Philadelphia. As I say, we have everything.

We do not have to buy industry. I think it is ridiculous that you have to give a $625,000 loan to the Chrysler Corporation to come into Scranton, as is indicated by this sheet that I have. If you are doling out the money to urge corporations that are worth over a billion dollars, I think you are throwing away the money. Invite them here and say, we will not tax your capital stock; we will give you a square deal on your corporate net income; we won't put on excessive Workmen's Compensation and Unemployment Compensation rates, and excessive local taxes. That is the way to get business in here. When you do that, this state will flourish again.

I want to be a party to inviting industry here by giving them breaks other than "buying them" to come into this state. That is what we should do. I think $3 million should be enough to take care of those poor companies that cannot afford to come in here, but on the other hand, if we are nice to business, invite them here, treat them well, this state will be bigger and greater than ever.

Mr. ZIMMERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I must endorse the invitation the Majority Leader extended to business to come to Macedonia. I am forced to believe he meant the community in Juniata County of the same name, which I am sure also extends the same invitation. It needs business badly.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in defense of the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz.

In his remarks defending these amendments, he spoke of various editorials published in the various newspapers throughout the Commonwealth. One editorial I have in my hand here in particular, which I think very well hits the nail directly on the head. It is an editorial that appeared in the Harrisburg Patriot under date of May 28th. The title of the Editorial is this:

THE STATE WE ARE IN AND THE STATE OF THE GOP

Rhode Island's Republicans and Democrats are having a "you're another" squabble over the flight of factories from their state and the need for an industrial development program.

There is a striking political similarity, in reverse, to the same kind of an argument which now is going on here in Pennsylvania. Like Pennsylvania, Rhode Island has a Democratic Governor. And like Pennsylvania, it has a Republican state chairman who is blasting him.

Rhode Island's Republican Party will cooperate all the way in any planned program to bring in new factories and their new jobs, the GOP chairman, William T. Broomhead, announces. He blasts Democratic Governor Roberts for failing to come up with a program "to cure the ills of the economy of the state." Republican Broomhead wants a state program along the lines of the one set up in Pennsylvania by the Leader Administration. Rhode Island newspapers have been holding up Pennsylvania's industrial development program and this State's advertising, promotional and scouting programs for new industry as an example of what Rhode Island should be doing.

Here in Pennsylvania, the Republicans just have come up with Commerce Department appropriations which they propose to ram through the Legislature and which would drastically cut back the Commonwealth's industrial development program.

At the same time in Washington, a Republican named Dwight D. Eisenhower has a proposal before the Congress to set up a federal loan program which is a national carbon copy of the Pennsylvania program put forward by our Governor Leader and approved by the last Legislature.

Perhaps it is too much to hope that Pennsylvania's Republican Party soon will catch up with Pennsylvania's Democrats on a program as important as industrial development is to the future of the Commonwealth.

But is sort of makes a Pennsylvanian wonder about the GOP organization and legislative leaders in this State.

It makes a Pennsylvanian wonder when this Commonwealth's GOP is going to catch up with the Republican Parties of other states and the Republican who now lives in the White House.

Now, Mr. Speaker, on the basis of that account, I would like permission to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, in the event that the Eisenhower Administration in Washington should adopt the Federal loan program, similar to the industrial redevelopment program we have here in Pennsylvania, would you think that the Senior Senator from Pennsylvania would support the Eisenhower program?

Mr. JOHNSON. Well, Mr. Speaker, I do not believe the question is germane to the issue.

I would say we have a very fine Senior United States Senator, he has always been for the good of the country and I think he has been an outstanding man in this nation.

Mr. FLYNN. One further question, Mr. Speaker. Has not the Republican State Chairman, Mr. George Bloom, repeatedly defended the appropriation bill as has been released by the House Appropriation Committee? Has he not repeatedly defended the position taken by the Republican party as to cutting these particular appropriations, for example, as to this one we are speaking on now?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say that the Republican State Chairman is in accord with the thinking of the Members of this House that we should try to live within a budget of $1.5 billion, which is almost $500 million more dollars than was spent by the last Governor of Pennsylvania in his last two years. I believe he does share our thinking, and you can say that the Republican party feels that $500 million more money for the Governor to spend than Governor Fine had to spend in his last two years is certainly adequate, particularly in view of Governor Leader's promises from one end of Pennsylvania to the other, which is still ringing in our ears, that he would save $100 million and have a millenium in this great state.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I have here a copy of the telegram that was sent to Mr. Norman Wood, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, and I quote:

"Attention Chairman:

"Washington County Redevelopment Authority representing cities, boroughs and townships governing 210,000 citizens strongly proposed reduction of appropriation requested of Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority. Proposed cut extremely unfair to industrial distressed counties unable heretofore to take advantage of program.

Signed: "Melvin B. Bassi, Chairman,
"J. G. Kassab, Executive Director."

Now, Mr. Speaker, it so happens that from my legislative district in Washington County two of our outstanding constituents happen to be the Honorable Senator Martin, who lives in the city of Washington, and the Honorable George I. Bloom, who retains his residence in Burgettstown, Pennsylvania, which incidentally is in Smith Township.

We in Washington County are somewhat similar to Greene County; we are in one of those areas that is very, very much wanting so far as industry is concerned, and I do not think there are any two people more prominent nationally and locally who know the problem any better than our good Senator Martin and the Honorable George Bloom.

I think they would be the first, particularly Mr. Bloom, to defend the position I am taking regarding our county trying to get help on industrial programs because, as is stated in this telegram sent to Mr. Wood, it only refers to our area because we were unable heretofore to take advantage of the program. The Industrial Authority has been created in Washington County and in these townships and all of our boroughs and cities are taking an active part.

We wish that you gentleman would reconsider your position in so far as these cuts are concerned and I would like to suggest to the membership that we support the amendments of Mr. Schwartz wholeheartedly.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am glad to hear the leadership of our party admit at last that we have been taxing business out of this state.

I say that, and I think I have a right to say it, because I have been consistent in the last two sessions of this Legislature in voting against any increase in taxes on corporations or business, and I still say that if we make taxation in this state more attractive to business, we will not even need these $5 million that we are going to give to the Department of Commerce for the industrial fund.

I say that advisedly because we in Altoona and in Blair County have an Industrial Authority. We had it long before the state organized one and I will be frank to say that since it has been organized we have come to the state and have gotten assistance from it, not too much, but some. However, it is going to reach a saturation point of just what industries you are going to be able to attract in the state by helping to buy their way in. You are not going to attract very many of the big corporations in here, if any. They are not interested in borrowing money from the state to find a location. We have instance after instance where big corporations have expanded and most of them have expanded in the neighboring states of Ohio and New Jersey when they have expanded in the East.

Your industrial development figures of both those States from the Federal government will bear that out.

So I say to you in all sincerity, if you are interested in getting employment in this state for the people, then let us create a more favorable tax structure than we have even now to attract business and industry into this state, we shall then expand in this state and you will not have this recurring problem of unemployment throughout the state, believe me.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, the Chair has allowed the Majority Leader and the gentleman who just spoke great latitude on speaking on these amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has allowed every speaker great latitude.

Mr. GAILEY. I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader in regard to some of his statements.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that he accepted on behalf of his party, some of the responsibility for the business taxes here in the Commonwealth for the last twenty years?

Mr. JOHNSON. What I said is in the record. I do not believe I have to repeat it.

Mr. GAILEY. Is the gentleman prepared to say on the floor of the House here that the Republican party should accept all of the responsibility for business taxes for the last twenty years?

Mr. JOHNSON. No. To repeat, the taxes on business were first put on under a Democratic administration, under George Earle, in 1936, who put the manufacturer's capital stock tax on manufacturing corporations for the first time, who also put on the corporate net income tax. I believe it started out at five percent and the next session you raised it to seven percent.

Since that time, yes, the Republicans have kept the tax on the capital stock on manufacturing corporations until last session we changed the Democratic bill which forever took the exemption away from manufacturing corporations, and restored the exemption so that it would take effect December 31, 1957, the end of this year.

We have, down through the years, dropped the corporate net income tax from the high of seven down to three, and then, to repeat what I said, it is true that as we went down through the years and needed the hundred million each biennium, we upped the corporate net income tax. That is very true, and I have said it before on the floor of this House, we probably should have put on a broad based tax. We tried to do it in 1951 and we were fought then by the very clever Minority Leader.

In 1953 we were finally able to put on a sales tax, a broad base tax, wherein the man on the street finally put his shoulder to the wheel to help run his State government. I want to tell you—you were not here—it was a terrific job to put over a broad based tax in Pennsylvania. We did not get one single Democratic vote for it any more than we got Democratic votes for the sales tax this time from Philadelphia.

I realize that is a long speech but I will seize every opportunity to defend our position.

Mr. GAILEY. Is it not true then that in the session of 1939-1940, 1941-1942, 1943-1944, 1945-1946, 1947-1948, 1949-1950, 1951-1952, and 1953-1954, the House, the Senate, and the Executive, the Governor's office, were all in the hands of the Republican party?

Mr. JOHNSON. No, part of the time we had a split Legislature: I beg the gentleman's pardon, three or four sessions it was a split Legislature but whenever the CNI was upped or the manufacturers' exemption was postponed, it was always done by both parties. I do not remember any dissenting votes.

Mr. GAILEY. I beg the gentleman's pardon, he is correct. In that period of twenty years, in one session 1941-1942, the House was Democratic, but in all of those other legislative sessions, the Republican party was in absolute control of state government. Is that not correct?

Mr. JOHNSON. The answer is obvious.

Mr. GAILEY. I thank the gentleman. To return to the specific amendments here, I desire further to interrogate the gentleman.

Would the gentleman not state that this program, by virtue of the long session last term, has only been in effective operation since August of 1956?

Mr. JOHNSON. I cannot recall the effective date of the bill nor the effective date of the appropriation. It could be approximately at that time. That is correct.

Mr. GAILEY. Would the gentleman admit that under the statistics as given by the Commerce Department, and heaven knows the Commerce Department has been showered with enough praise in the last ten minutes that I trust the gentleman will accept their figures, that loans totaling almost $4 million have been either consummated, committed, or under negotiation with commitment very shortly to be made in that amount?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say there has been about $3 million worth of loans that have either been made or are committed and $865,000, or something like that, in process but not acted upon, which leaves $2 million of the fund, and if we give them $3 million that will make $5 million.

Mr. GAILEY. No, the amount of loans consummated and committed total $3 million.

Mr. JOHNSON. $2,900,000 as under the statement of May 24th.

Mr. GAILEY. There are applications pending and under negotiation of $865,000. Is that not correct?

Mr. JOHNSON. I think there have probably been letters written in and things like that, probably true.

Mr. GAILEY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. JOHNSON. I do not think there is any binding agreements other than for about $1.3 million.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, the debate has been long on this, I will be very brief with a few remarks to this bill.

The SPEAKER. The bill is not before the House. We are discussing the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz.

Mr. GAILEY. On the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz.

In the short space of approximately nine months we have seen that the Industrial Development Authority, by the admission of the Majority Leader, has loaned almost $3 million. Their figures indicate also that under negotiation they have commitments pending for almost $900,000 additional, bringing the total amount which they have been able to place in this period of time to nearly $4 million. This, for a nine month period with a program that was just started. We have stretching ahead of us, a period of two years which this appropriation is supposed to take care of.

Other Members on the floor have already read some of the editorials which have appeared in newspapers in regard to this subject. We have also heard, I believe, what specific areas in the State have been touched by these loans and the progress that has been made.

I do not think anyone has mentioned the number of jobs that these particular loans have already created or are about to create. With those plants which have been committed or consummated or under present negotiation, it is estimated that employment will be created for over 5,000 unemployed Pennsylvania workers.

Perhaps the Members of this House do not know that out of the total unemployment pool in the United States, the unemployment pool created by industrial or economic depression, Pennsylvania has one-third of the total. Is this situation going to improve? Do those Members sitting on the other side of the House from the coal regions really believe that the coal industry is going to make a remarkable comeback in the next five years, to derive jobs for these people? Of course it is not. I am just glad that I can sit on this side of the House and go back to my constituency, admittedly a prosperous one, the city of York, in York County, which has not had any really substantial unemployment problems. I am just glad I do not have to go back to Luzerne County, up in the coal regions, and tell the people up there that I voted against this bill.

(Remarks withdrawn by Mr. Gailey)

The SPEAKER. That is a personal reflection and the gentleman is entirely out of order.

Mr. GAILEY. I will withdraw those remarks.

This particular bill, however, perhaps raises the issue closest to home. Other appropriation bills we have had here, generally have dealt with the great amorphous mass of people. They do not affect us too closely at home, unless one of us is directly affected with someone who is mentally ill or someone who is not receiving sufficient compensation when they are unemployed, or someone who is not being adequately compensated for economic or industrial diseases. But this bill affects us right at home. You have to go home and look your constituents right in the eye. It is going to be a real privilege tonight to see whether the Republican organization is really as organized as they seem to be so far in this session. I just want to see the Members over there rise up in response to their leadership's command and vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I will be as brief as I can.

It would be a pity if we decided this issue by reciting the litany of the sins of the respective political parties. I can point to a great many errors which I have made and which the Democratic party has made, and I can point to a great many errors which the Republican party has made, and I personally regret any attempt to becloud the issue pending by means of purely partisan comment. Of course, from a crude political standpoint, the best thing that could happen to the Democratic party would be for your party to be very niggardly in its dealings with the problem of industrial development.

I think if you will look at the record you will find that since industrial development became a live issue, Pennsylvania on balance has gained industrially rather than lost. That is, if we take into consideration the industries that have expanded and the industries that have come to us during the recent past, we will find as I have said that, we have gained on balance. If we could in one fell swoop, by appropriating $5 million, accomplish the results that have been accomplished, it is only plain common sense to repeat the experiment.

It is a mistake when you are riding to victory to lower your sights, and that is what we are doing with this $3 million proposition which is going to come before us very shortly. We are riding well. Now you say because we are riding well, we will lower our sights. Members politically you are making a mistake. Politically, I should rejoice in the course you are pursuing. Absolutely I do not rejoice.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Schwartz, you are the "daddy" of the amendment that is being hashed around on this floor right now, is that right?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I believe that is correct.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Schwartz, I have one question to ask you in regard to it. How did you vote on House Bill 1040 when it was before this House, the tax raising measure of this session?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McCORMACK. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the question before the House is, will the House adopt this amendment, not how a Member voted on a particular bill that has no relationship or no bearing to this amendment.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I think that I am in order because of the fact that this gentleman introduced the amendment and I am asking him again how he voted to raise the money.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has ruled that the only matter before this House is, will the House agree to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz? The Chair has ruled that the point of order is well taken.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, the answer is apparent. I will quit with that and I will only say this, that he is one of 15 members who did not vote at all on House Bill 1040.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, let's be square. I have noticed that the words "let's be square" have entered into this proposition.

I want to stay in order, I do not want to get out of order. We are talking about the amendments to this bill.

These amendments increase the appropriation. If I understand the appropriation, it is to help small industry. If I am correct, that is what the amendment will do. It will increase the appropriation to help small industry in Pennsylvania, and to get more small industry into Pennsylvania. Over the years in Pennsylvania, since I have been a Member, we have tried to get a Constitutional amendment before the people of Pennsylvania in order to have a graduated income tax in Pennsylvania. We have not been able to do that.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not speaking on the question before the House. The only question before this House is on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, —

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the question before the House.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I have sat and listened since we started debating these amendments, and they have been all over the field.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is absolutely right, but we are going to confine the remarks from here on out, to the question before the House.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman can be in order and he knows certain things that are in order, and if the Speaker insists, I will insist that every bill be read at length from here on until the end of the session.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has that right.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I would like to bring out that another gentleman who spoke on the floor on these amendments, likewise, did not vote on this bill, namely, Mr. Auker.

I am speaking of the bill that the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, referred to. House Bill 1040.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is out of order and is not speaking on the question before this House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. BRETH.

RESOLUTION No. 129.

In the House of Representatives, June 10, 1957.

Millions of Americans are protesting the treatment given Army Specialist 3/c William Girard of the Overseas United States Armed Services in Japan. But for a quirk of fate William Girard could have been a serviceman from Pennsylvania or any other state rather than his native Illinois. Therefore, a prompt readjustment of his case is vitally important to every citizen in Pennsylvania because of the action accorded him in being surrendered to Japanese Courts.

This action deprived him of the protection of the American Flag and the U. S. Constitution that is the legal and moral right of a serviceman abroad and which is specifically provided for in American law.

Also the decision handing him over to the Japanese was an act of injustice and simply in the interest of an expedient foreign policy generated by riots on Taiwan.

Also this decision by-passed the responsibility of the Army for acts of its servicemen committed under orders in line of duty.

Moreover, this decision is said to have been disapproved by the highest army official in this country. In addition, the security treaty with Japan upon which the Girard decision is based, is considered without containing sufficient provisions to justify or authorize the treatment accorded this serviceman.

Therefore, be it resolved; That the House of Representatives requests the Commander-in-Chief of our Armed Forces, the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower, to exercise his powers and immediately reverse all rulings which will deprive Serviceman Girard or any other American Serviceman overseas of his right and privilege to liberty and justice with a fair trial under the conditions of the Constitution of the United States of America, and under no other court in the jurisdiction of any foreign power.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 104, REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE AND LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. DONOLOW, from the Committee on Judiciary General, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Donolow on January 22, 1957, reported the same with amendment as follows:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND EXAMINE THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM OF THIS COMMONWEALTH

In the Senate, January 22, 1957.

The courts in our Commonwealth are being faced with a tremendous backlog of untried civil and criminal cases. One explanation may be that there has been very little change in our judicial system in the Commonwealth since Colonial days.

The increase in population through the years, the improvement of economic and financial conditions and the large expansion of commercial and industrial activity, has brought a great increase in legal action in both the civil and criminal divisions. Thus a tremendous backlog is developing year after year with the result that cases are not being disposed of with the rapidity they should be. This condition is due to the great modern demands that have arisen as a result of our progress. It becomes necessary to reorganize the judicial system so that it can meet modern demands and also be put on an efficient and business like basis.

In some instances, the backlog of criminal cases has developed into approximately five thousand and the civil cases approximately six thousand. Our judges have so many duties sitting on both criminal and civil cases that it becomes almost impossible to keep up to date. In many nonbail criminal cases, in some jurisdictions, the defendants are not tried as promptly as they should be and some are held in prison untried for as long as eight to nine months.

If this problem is not met and solved as quickly as possible, we may find in the not too distant future that the entire judicial system of this Commonwealth may break down; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough study and examination of the judicial system in this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

BILL IN WHICH HOUSE NON-CONCURRED IN SENATE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of House Bill No. 741, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 28, 1953 (P. L. 723) entitled "Second Class County Code" providing for the assignment and compensation of county policemen in certain cases.

SENATE RECEDES FROM ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HOUSE BILL No. 741

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate recede from its amendments non-concurred in by the House to House Bill No. 741.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate recede from its amendments non-concurred in by the House to House Bill No. 741?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I would ask the Members of the Senate to vote "no" on this motion to recede from the amendments placed in this bill by the Senate.

The amendments which were placed in the bill by the Senate were arrived at after due deliberation. Under this bill, we would be forcing the county of Allegheny to place someone, who had been injured on another job, at the same salary which he was receiving prior to his disability. There is no obligation on the part of the county to retain that employee. By replacing him in another job, other than the type of job he was doing before, would not be fair to the county because the county would be required to pay the prevailing wage which the employee was receiving prior to the disability.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask the Members of this Senate to vote "no" on this motion.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the amendments which we placed in this bill were gone over by the Republican Members and the Democratic Members. As Senator Schmidt has stated, without the Senate amendments, the bill definitely would create embarrassment and would only aid one individual. It is a precedent which will be set. Therefore, it is only fair to stay with our amendments and not recede from them. I hope that can be accomplished.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate recede from its amendments non-concurred in by the House to House Bill No. 741?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, when I had Senate Bill No. 912 drawn, I thought we were doing something for the employees of the railroad associations. I went over and told Senator Dent that I thought this was something which would benefit the railroad associations, and also Senator Mallery was advised by me to that effect.

Since the bill has appeared on the Calendar, however, the railroad employees' representative has advised me that he is against the bill. Speaking on behalf of his organization, they are opposed to it. Inasmuch as the employees themselves, speaking through their representative, do not want this legislation, I am not one to force it upon them.

Therefore, I move that Senate Bill No. 912, on third reading, be recommitted to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to second the Majority Leader's motion.

I also want to state for the record that the employees, after a careful study of this bill through their representative, found it will not do what they originally thought it would do and, therefore, they have asked that the bill be recommitted.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I also wish to second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1121, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 4, 1927 (P. L. 519) entitled "The Borough Code," increasing the expense allowance for delegates to meetings of the State Association of Boroughs.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time, on behalf of Senator Fleming.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1017), page 2, lines 10 and 11 by striking out the brackets before and after "twenty" and by striking out "twenty-five"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1017), page 2, line 13 by striking out "five" and inserting in lieu thereof: "four".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I rise in opposition to these amendments.

In the last Session of this Legislature, we limited the boroughs to the number of days and the amount of money which could be spent in attending a borough convention. We went completely to the right. Of course, in the past there was no limitation on what could be spent and the boys really went to town. That is why the drastic action was taken. We now find that action was too drastic. We find these conventions are necessary.

This bill would allow five days at twenty-five dollars a day; the five days to include the time spent going to and from the convention. I do not believe an allowance of twenty-five dollars a day and a limit of five days is too much to permit members of council to spend in attending conventions. To cut this down to twenty dollars a day, I think is just being silly.

Therefore, I ask you gentlemen to defeat the amendments and permit this bill to pass with the allowance of twenty-five dollars per day.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.)

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

HOUSE BILL No. 564 CALLED UP

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I call up, from Page 2, of today's Final Passage Calendar, Senate Bill No. 564, Printer's No. 192, which went over in its order temporarily.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 564, entitled:

An Act amending the act of December 5, 1936 (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "Unemployment Compensation Law" further providing for ineligibility for compensation because of labor disputes.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in regard to Senate Bill No. 564, I have before me a brief analysis of this particular bill, and I would like to point out to the Members of the Senate the concepts of this legislation which we have before us. I am quoting from this analysis and it says:

"1. Our Pennsylvania law has a three-way test requirement for a claimant to avoid disqualification under a labor dispute. There is now a rather rigid test even when applied solely at a local establishment where the dispute is engendered. Application of the three-way test to claimants in all residually closed down establishments of an employer, regardless of the location of the actual dispute, would be still more rigid. A number of States do not have this three-way test.

"2. The amending language in this bill in its use of the word 'operated' by the employer is a very general and all-inclusive definition or, worse, lack of definition. Such verbiage, being used on a broad base, could cross major industry lines, involve various kinds of ownership situations, and thus apply disqualification far beyond perhaps the intended application of this particular piece of legislation.

"3. The existence of the Brumbaugh Act in Pennsylvania could apply an additional hardship for workers disqualified under the broad language of this amendment; in that all Pennsylvania workers affected by a dispute, even though engendered in another state, could not be referred by our department to another employment while categorized as being involved in a labor dispute.

"4. Adjudication in the area of 'decision on labor dispute' among multiple-State operations of an employer would, in effect, mean a delegation of same from the State of Pennsylvania to some other State. Pennsylvania avenue of decision, on the basis of Pennsylvania law, would certainly be mitigated against. It would be complicated, for example, as to the alternative ruling of a stoppage by labor dispute versus lock-out when 'lock-out' was immaterial in the law of the State rendering decision. The history of a variety of court decisions on an interstate basis, with respect to the whole area of 'labor dispute,' 'work stoppage,' 'lock-out,' would make Pennsylvania subject to infinitely greater variability in court decisions elsewhere.

"5. It would appear the concept of granting a 'fair hearing' to directly affected persons would be substantially denied when issues were determined remote from the point of their application here in Pennsylvania. There is strong question as to whether 'due process of law' could be enjoyed by Pennsylvania workers subjected to a Michigan decision based on Michigan law, for example.

"6. Differences in both intra and interstate decisions as to what constitutes 'participation,' 'interested in,' financially supporting' and so forth, exist in varying degrees as far as the courts are concerned. Again it would appear that Pennsylvania would subjugate itself to multiple variability via other States over and above the variability that exists already in Pennsylvania.

"7. Pennsylvania itself has a permanent disqualification in industrial disputes, not limited as in other States such as New York. Obviously, a disqualifying decision made in another State could have much greater financial impact on a Pennsylvania claimant in a benefit year than could occur in a State like New York.

"8. Delay in the area of decision elsewhere could be critical in terms of the benefit process and payments here in Pennsylvania. Court delays and so forth could mean that we must hold benefits indefinitely, awaiting the decision process somewhere in the United States. Delay in administration of appeals in some States is far in excess in the time lapse factor in Pennsylvania in this particular respect.

"9. On the other hand, a delayed adjudication of an appeal elsewhere, involving a reversal, could stretch out and even meet a legal denial of the Pennsylvania law in allowing other reversals.

"10. 'Grade or class' tests apply in some States and not in others. This could confuse the issue of eligibility under our 'grade or class' test. Broad application of 'grade or class' tests in other States could reach far beyond the existing area of the decision in this particular field here in Pennsylvania.

"11. As mentioned above, 'establishment' could be and has been variously interpreted by many States. Pennsylvania's broad and complex industry diversification, both in ownership and form of corporate entity, could bring far more complex affects if other less diversified States were to dictate their own concepts on the question of an 'establishment.' This is brought out by thinking in terms of United States Steel ownership of captive mines, Anchor Hocking in its multiple-products establishment, Radio Corporation of America and its separate plants; General Electric, Armstrong Cork and even chain stores, such as the A. and P., Food Fair, Penn Fruit and many others.

"12. Pennsylvania citizens could be qualifying for benefits in Philadelphia due to a favorable ruling in a Radio Corporation of America case in Camden and be disqualified in Pittsburgh for an unfavorable condition in an identical Radio Corporation of America case which might exist in nearby Ohio; class treatment would be the result.

"13. The amendment appears to allow great room in employer's choice of creating a 'stoppage' at any remote location other than the point of actual dispute stoppage by not supplying parts or materials from its own manufacture or source in lieu of buying available parts or materials from other sources and thus keeping the operation going. It would dictate a secondary stoppage on the basis of consumer demand, whether or not it had a stake in the Unemployment Compensation Fund in keeping an establishment in Pennsylvania active. Unemployment compensation costs would not be a factor or incentive for continuing employment in this particular effect."

I say to you, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I believe all of us on both sides of the aisle are interested in those people who receive unemployment compensation benefits.

At the last Session of the Legislature, we worked hard and long to work out a bill which would protect our people who are unemployed. As a matter of fact, unemployment compensation payments in destitute areas are a stabilizing factor as far as our economy is concerned. That is particularly so in the coal regions. I dare say that perhaps this bill might have some merit; I do not know. However, I am afraid it is the wrong piece of legislation to be considered by the Senate.

I hope the Members on both sides of the aisle will take into consideration this analysis which I read, prepared by competent authority. I hope that you will vote "no" on this bill in order to protect the benefits of those laborers who need unemployment compensation benefits.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I was unable to hear the entire dissertation which was read by the gentleman concerning Senate Bill No. 564. However, I believe one of the points which he mentioned was that Pennsylvania employees might be subject to the foibles of the decisions of another jurisdiction.

In connection with this bill, Mr. President, I do not believe it is necessary to explain the contents thereof. Everyone has received an analysis concerning the intent and the result of it. However, the allegation that Pennsylvania employees would be at the mercy of the decision of some foreign jurisdiction, I believe is incorrect. All cases would be decided by the Unemployment Compensation Board, as they would all arise under this law in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I believe this is a fail bill, and I think the contents of it are well understood by every Member of this Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Berger, I just want to ask you one question. It has been circulated around that this bill is a secondary boycott bill, is that correct?

Mr. BERGER. I do not so understand that it is.

Mr. LANE. Thank you.

Mr. President, I want to close my remarks by saying that we, on the Democratic side, feel that the Unemployment Compensation Act in Pennsylvania is a good piece of legislation. We would be greatly disappointed if it were mutilated by this bill and these amendments. I hope the Membership on both sides will take that into consideration.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not believe that the statement just made by the gentleman from Washington, in all fairness, is a correct statement. I do not believe that this bill, in any way, would mutilate the Unemployment Compensation Law of Pennsylvania. I believe, however, on the contrary, it would make it more fair in its application in the instances intended to be governed thereby.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. CAMIEL. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will be so recorded.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, not having heard my name called, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Armstrong will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS ON HOUSE BILL No. 1700, ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE, TUESDAY, JUNE 11, 1957, AT 12:00 O'CLOCK, MERIDIAN, EASTERN STANDARD TIME

The PRESIDENT. The hour of 12:00 o'clock, meridian, Eastern Standard Time, having arrived, the next order of business is the Special Order of Business on House Bill No. 1700, on third reading and final passage.

House Bill No. 1700 is now before the Senate.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1700, entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the executive legislative and judicial departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and for public schools for two years beginning June 1, 1957 and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May 31, 1957.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, a long time ago, I learned that six and one-half years just are not seven. Therefore, we find that six and one-half months are not seven. During these past months, there have been many statements made concerning the matter which we have before us this afternoon, a matter of very serious portent to all of the peoples of this Commonwealth.

Today, at long last, we are engaged in the great battle of the budget. To the uninitiated and uninformed, it would appear that we are locked in a death struggle because of unsurmountable obstacles and that there can be no solution without turmoil and conflict. This is not true. We can and we should, and I hope that we will be able to, discuss the problems facing us in a spirit of co-operation and willingness to give and take and to eventually compromise.

There have been many budgets written before and, no doubt, there will be many more written in the future. There is always a struggle between those who demand more services and those, sometimes the same people, who demand less taxes.

This particular budget was conceived in the maternity ward of a political party's headquarters. It, therefore, has not the soundness and the clearness of a financial document that should have been tailored to the needs of the Commonwealth and its peoples, rather than to the ambitions and hopes of a political party's leadership.

Let us start off on the premise that to fight for an increased budget is not popular. While we acknowledge this, we must, therefore, assume that what we are doing is trying to clearly correct injustices in the matter of services to the people.

During the course of debate, Mr. President, various Senators on this side of the aisle will show beyond a reasonable doubt that many of the cuts in the budget were made to suit a political plan rather than to fill the required needs. In order that there is no misunderstanding, we must first establish that there is a great discrepancy between the figures submitted by the Republican Appropriations Committee, as to the amount of money expended during the 1955-1957 biennium, for the following twelve items of importance:

First, the Department of Welfare. The Republican estimate of expenditures for 1955-1957 is $135,926,000; the Budget Office figure, based upon expenditures and firm commitments, as of May 31, 1955-1957, is $143,092,000, or a difference of $7,166,000.

Number two, Industrial Development Authority. The House Appropriations Committee estimate of expenditures is $1,546,000; the actual expenditures and commitments, $2,955,000, or a difference of $1,409,000.

Number three, Housing and Urban Redevelopment. The House Appropriations Committee estimate of expenditures is $1,297,000; the Budget Office figure of actual expenditures is $4,997,000, or a difference of $3,699,000.

Number four, Department of Property and Supplies. The House Appropriations Committee estimate of expenditures is $1,414,000; the Budget Office figure of actual expenditures is $2,776,000, or a difference of $1,361,000.

Number five, General State Authority Rentals. The House Appropriations Committee estimate of expenditures is $21,500,000; against $23,400,000 actually spent.

Number six, Department of Revenue, Collection of Revenues. The House Appropriations Committee estimate of expenditures is $12,240,000; the Budget Office figure of actual expenditures is $13,923,000, or a difference of $1,683,000.

Number seven, Department of Forests and Waters. The House Appropriations Committee estimate of expenditures is $6,400,000; the Budget Office figure of actual expenditures is $6,949,000.

Number eight, Department of Health-Tuberculosis Control, TB and Crippled Children's Hospitals, combined with the School Health Program and County Health Departments. The House Appropriations Committee estimate of expenditures is $1,369,000, $15,493,000, $8,758,000 and $1,229,000; the Budget Office figures of actual expenditures are $1,830,000, $15,776,000, $9,249,000 and $1,760,000, or a difference in these particular items dealing with health of $191,000, $283,000, $490,000 and $530,000, or differences of well over $1,280,000 in actual expenditures, as compared to the estimates read out by the House.

Number nine, Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission. The House Appropriations Committee estimate of expenditures is $1,000,000; the Budget Office figure of actual expenditures is $2,000,000, or a difference of $1,000,000.

Number ten, Sealing Abandoned Coal Mines. The House Appropriations Committee estimate of expenditures is $1,088,000; the Budget Office figure of actual expenditures is $1,696,000, or a difference of $607,000.

Number eleven, Penal and Correctional Institutions. The House Appropriations Committee estimate of expenditures is $20,339,000; the Budget Office figure of actual expenditures is $20,778,000.

Number twelve, Military Affairs. The House Appropriations Committee estimate of expenditures is $3,137,000; the Budget Office figure of actual expenditures is $3,863,000, or a difference of $726,000.

The State Veterans Commission, administration and assistance. The House Appropriations Committee estimate of expenditures is $1,070,000; the Budget Office figure of actual expenditures is $1,178,000, or a difference of $107,000.

The total difference amount to $22,146,000.

You will note that these are actual figures from the Budget Office and, therefore, as of May 31, 1957, the end of this biennium, there are twenty-two odd millions of dollars which have been spent, or allocated to be spent, over and above the amount of the estimate made by the Republican-controlled-House Appropriations Committee.

Without attempting at this time to go into each and every line-by-line item of this budget, we will try to bring to you the more serious administrative deficiencies created by House Bill No. 1700. When we approach this problem, we want it clearly understood that we, too, are interested in economy. However, when such economy is accomplished by the sacrifice of honest principles and ideals and humane services, then it is truly a false economy. We will fight with every ounce of strength at our command for adequate and realistic appropriations to public education, to the institutes of higher learning, to our hospitals, to the dedicated care and honest demand of the mentally ill and retarded children, to the physically handicapped, to the programs designed to prevent the ravages and the heartaches, financial, and the physical distress of epidemics which are being eliminated by the careful studies and approaches and programs in the field of public health dealing with the preventive sciences; to the proper and honest consideration of the needs of the unfortunates who find themselves in financial distress and must, through no fault of their own, seek public assistance. We will fight for adequate appropriations to the lame, the halt and the weary who have been before and must of necessity now be taken care of in the categorical reliefs to the blind, widowed mothers and dependent children; to the proper and efficient administration of the various departments of government, created to serve a specific needs in the scheme of democratic government.

These things we must do. There can be no equivocation with need. Need is a positive ingredient in the mixture of revenues, taxes and budgets. Need is the basis of, one, service; two, administration; and, three, taxes. Each of these three component parts is equally important because they must go together. When they are properly blended, then the need is erased. With this in mind, we will carry on this afternoon in the hope that we can demonstrate to the people of Pennsylvania that there are some things in a democratic government which must take precedent over capital gains and stock dividends.

Mr. President, I read in this morning's paper about the latest action of my friend, Colonel Rockwell, the man who is now famous for his remark, "If we eliminate industrial taxes, we can close the mental institutions"; the man whose only cure for all of the evils and ills of this Commonwealth is to shut down the State services, close the mental institutions, take away public support of the public schools systems, go back to the days of unrestricted industrial domination of every political subdivision of government, the elimination of each and every tax, no matter how small, upon the corporate bodies of this State and placing upon the pedestal of the untouchables the profits of corporate industry.

As a group and as human beings, we subscribe to the rights of industry to profits, but by the same token we subscribe to the rights of the people to keep a portion of their earnings. There has been a complete change in the taxing picture in the last twenty years. We, the people, are willing to pay our share, but we, the people, want to see others pay their share. The dilemma we find ourselves in now is caused by the extreme pressures and misrepresentation by very few representatives of certain industries. In the main, the majority of industrial leaders are willing to pay their just share of the cost of government. They recognize that for every dollar of tax exemption given to them in Pennsylvania, they have to give to the Federal Government at least fifty-two cents, and that out of this great biennial reduction of $135,000,000 by the Capital Stock Tax exemption to a relatively few industrial concerns in Pennsylvania, the Federal Government will receive something approximating $70,000,000. To replace this $70,000,000, the people will have to pay out of their every day earnings the full $135,000,000 for the services of this Commonwealth, which are required and demanded as much by industry as by the people themselves.

A quick look at the anticipated income will show that out of Governor Leader's proposed budget of $1,559,000,000, $476,000,000, or thirty per cent, is paid by corporations and that the other seventy per cent are noncorporate with the bulk being personal taxes upon the people of this Commonwealth. I only make this point to show that while the people have received more services and while the obligations of the Commonwealth have increased, there has been a disproportionate share of the burden placed upon those who are least able to pay.

As a perfect illustration, Mr. President, I will give you only one example. Let us take an example of a separate budget item which is now before this General Assembly. It has been placed squarely upon the tax paying public and, yet, in total, it is being inherited from the industrial and mining corporations of the Commonwealth. I speak of the occupational disease compensation. The present estimate of $15,000,000 is needed to pay these benefits to some five to six thousand workers who were incapacitated while employed in private enterprise. By what stretch of the imagination can industry honestly say that this is a burden to be placed upon the shoulders of the farmers, housewives and the every day citizens of this Commonwealth?

In this Session of the Legislature, the relief or the escape from taxes and obligations to the industrial segment of our population totals nearly $200,000,000.

I remember hearing a Republican Governor, not too long ago, make a speech at a time when he was being badgered into the position of making a decision between relieving taxes on industry and putting taxes upon the people. He said the following, and I quote:

"I will not sit idly by and watch an increase in the price of admission to the bleachers and a reduction in the price of admission to the box seats."

This year, we have seen the reverse in Republican thinking. The box seat holders are getting into the game practically free, while the bleacherite is paying for the full cost of the game.

As we analyze the budget today, we will become more specific. Sections of the budget dealing with the major departments will be discussed by various Senators. Amendments will be offered to restore the money required for needed services. I expect to join in the specific discussions. However, for purposes of testing our individual awareness of Pennsylvania's requirements, I will yield at this time to Senator William J. Lane, of Washington County, who will take up the first series of amendments dealing with the Department of Welfare.

Mr. President, I now yield to Senator Lane.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President—

Mr. MAHANY. May I ask that the gentleman yield, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Lane, yield to the Senator from Crawford, Mr. Mahany?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, previously when we have had controversial legislation before us, we have agreed that we hear from each side alternately. I wish we could stick to that procedure because if one side is going to take up all the time and not let the other side speak, through yielding one to the other, we are not going to have an opportunity to be heard in answer to the various arguments presented by the other side.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I will be glad to yield to the Majority Leader. I like to hear him make speeches.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, my speech is not prepared and, therefore, I am going to make an effort to answer some of the items which Senator Dent touched on in his prepared speech.

Senator Dent, early in his remarks, said that:

"This particular budget was conceived in the maternity ward of a political party's headquarters. It, therefore, has not the soundness and fairness of a financial document that should have been tailored to the needs of the Commonwealth and its peoples rather than to the ambitions and hopes of the Republican Party's leadership."

I do not believe he meant the budget was conceived in the maternity ward of a political party's headquarters because, as Republicans, we had nothing to do with the conception of this budget. I imagine this budget was prepared by the Governor. If they want to allege that it was prepared in the maternity ward of a political party's headquarters, it is all right with me. I do want to point out to the Senator that certainly it was not conceived in the Republican Party's Headquarters.

If Senator Dent is talking about the bill which is before us, House Bill No. 1700, I can assure him that it was not prepared in the Republican Party's Headquarters. This bill was the result of much study on the part of many of our House Members and Senators, especially Senator Kessler and Senator Probert, who spent many hours in the Appropriations Committee Joint Hearings with the House leadership, going over the various items in the budget. I do not want to neglect Senator Stevenson, who was also there many hours. Many of the other Senators were there when they could find time to attend those hearings.

I regret very much that I was not able to spend more time in the hearings but, because of my job as Majority Floor Leader, I had to see a great number of people who wanted to see me at various hours of the day, and that, together with the Sessions, prevented me from attending these meetings more often. However, these Senators did go to those hearings and they questioned many of the Cabinet Members and their staff who came, in answer to the invitation issued by the Appropriations Committees of both the House and Senate, and answered questions. I believe they kept a record over there of the questions and answers. Many of the answers were misleading and, perhaps, I might even go so far as to say false.

I received a release today, for instance, stating:

"Auditor General Charles C. Smith made public information showing that thirty-nine persons were carried on the payroll of the Danville State Hospital at annual salaries of $106,196, although they never worked at the institution.

"These persons, who received salaries ranging from $2,412 up to $6,390 a year, were subsequently transferred to the payroll of the Department of Welfare in Harrisburg where they had always been employed," said Smith.

"The effect of this highly irregular procedure was to cause the Danville State Hospital to incur payroll expenses against its appropriation for work never performed at the institution.

"In addition, the financial operations and budgetary requirements at Danville, a mental institution operated by the Commonwealth, were distorted and the control of personnel appointments by the Office of Administration were circumvented."

"The Auditor General said the situation was discovered by accident when one of the employees asked for a transfer to another job in another Department.

"Subsequently the wholesale overloading of the Danville payroll was uncovered. Inquiries are now proceeding to determine if similar conditions exist at other institutions under the jurisdiction of the Department of Welfare.

"While it has been established that these particular employees actually worked in the offices of the Department of Welfare in Harrisburg, it would be entirely possible under such an irregular arrangement, to include employees on an institution payroll who never performed any work for the State."

"The Auditor General said that when the situation was called to the attention of Welfare Secretary Shapiro at Appropriations Committee Hearing last May, the Secretary 'at first categorically denied it was true as the transcript of the hearing shows.

"He later modified his testimony to the extent that he said some hospital employees had been brought to Harrisburg for training purposes.

"However, in the case of the Danville Hospital employees, our investigation shows that these employees, all of whom were clerks, were carried on the Danville payroll for as long as a year without at any time reporting for duty at the institution which is located at least sixty miles from Harrisburg.

"How it was possible for the hospital superintendent to certify every two weeks that these persons were actually working at the institution under his supervision has not been explained."

"The Auditor General said the records showed that many of the appointments were made by Llewellyn Lloyd, personnel director of the Department of Welfare, 'who has had no official capacity at the Danville State Hospital.'

"Other appointments were signed by Doctor Robert L. Gatski, superintendent of the Danville Hospital, while nine of the appointments bore no signature whatsoever.

"All of the employees have now been transferred to the administrative payroll of the Department of Welfare in Harrisburg, the final transfer being dated June 3 of this year. Fourteen of the employees have resigned."

"The Auditor General said 'there was no evidence whatsoever that any of the personnel were used to either treat or care for the mentally ill.'"

Then follows a list of the various employees, showing when they were taken off the Danville payroll most of them were off the Danville payroll as of April 5, 1957. This also shows the various salaries which they drew.

When Secretary Shapiro appeared before this committee on April 30, 1957, he was asked by Mr. Norman Wood, who is Chairman of the Appropriations Committee in the House, whether or not these employees were working at Danville. I want to read the conversation as it appears on the record between Mr. Wood and Mr. Shapiro:

"Mr. Wood: Mr. Secretary, I have been informed that you have about thirty employees working in the Department that are chargeable to Danville State Hospital. Is that true?

"Secretary Shapiro: No.

"Mr. Wood: Are you sure of that?

"Secretary Shapiro: Yes sir, in the beginning we had to train some people. The way we trained them was to send them into the institutions.

"Mr. Wood: These people are on your payroll over here, but you charge them against the appropriation of Danville State Hospital.

"Secretary Shapiro: Mr. Chairman, there is a lot of information that is wrong.

"Mr. Wood: I got this information from the Auditor General's Department and they ought to know.

"Secretary Shapiro: The Auditor General's Department is giving you wrong information, if they tell you we have thirty people on the payroll of Danville in our Department."

This committee had a lot of trouble in obtaining satisfactory information from these various persons who appeared before them, and there is no question then that perhaps some of these figures may be wrong which are included in House Bill No. 1700.

I do not believe we have ever prepared a budget for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, appropriating millions of dollars as we do, which was absolutely letter perfect, and I am not going to say this one is.

I have heard many speeches in the Senate by Senator Dent, and others, about fat in the budget and how we should do this and do that with it, and how we should pare it down. Now the shoe is on the other foot and they do not like it when we are trying to pare it down to meet the revenues that we may expect from the economy of Pennsylvania.

The House, acting upon the information which they had at that particular time, felt that the needs as set forth in the appropriation bill, House Bill No. 1700, were all right; that the amount of money appropriated would satisfactorily take care of the needs as set forth in various items of the budget, and they have worded it accordingly.

Now when House Bill No. 1700 came over here, the House felt we should have the same information and we should not change it very much. We have taken the liberty, however, of changing it in many aspects, for instance, under the Department of Welfare, as House Bill No. 1700 left the House, there was not much certainty about the amount of money which actually would be taken in by the various mental hospitals from the paid patients. Therefore, we felt that the superintendents of the hospitals should not be forced to operate their institutions on an uncertain amount. Instead of taking an amount to be received from the paid patients and adding that to a certain sum which was set forth in House Bill No. 1700, as it left the House, we added the amount of anticipated expenditures from each of these hospitals to each hospital's appropriation and upped the figure by that amount.

It has been alleged that we prefer certain hospitals in Republican districts. I want to say, categorically, that is not true. In most cases, we raised the amount which was in House Bill No. 1700, as it left the House, by the estimated amount to be received from the paid patients and these estimates were made by the Department of Revenue.

For instance, for the institution in Senator Chapman's District, the Warren State Hospital, the appropriation is quite a bit under the amount which they say they need and the amount which is in the Governor's budget. However, taking into consideration the amounts that were spent over the past bienium in these various institutions and projecting them to the end of the biennium, because we do not have final figures on all of it yet, we felt that the amounts set forth in this bill, as amended, would be satisfactory and would allow these institutions to operate satisfactorily.

I was visited yesterday by a couple of people from Philadelphia who were quite amazed when they saw me. They said that from reading the papers, they had been given to understand that just about every Republican up here had two heads and was some kind of a monster in cutting down the amount which was to be given to these various institutions. When they found that I was not quite the culprit that I had been painted, they were quite amazed. I told these visitors that certainly the Republican Senators, as well as the Democratic Senators, want to see to it that these youngsters in the mentally defective institutions, and the adults in the adult institutions, will be properly fed, will be properly sheltered and will be given the type of care that should be accorded them by a civilized society. I told these people that I felt the amount that was set forth in House Bill No. 1700 would properly take care of this, but in the event that it did not, we were going to put this bill into Conference Committee, composed of two Republican Members and one Democratic Member of the Senate, and two Republican Members and one Democratic Member of the House, and that this Conference Committee would take into consideration all of the facts and figures which were presented to them and, no doubt, would come up with an adequate bill to take care of all the needs within the amounts of revenue which we could anticipate receiving.

That seemed to satisfy my visitors. They said that was all they wanted to know. They just did not want their little boy to be mistreated or underfed. They wanted him to be well taken care of. I assured them that as far as I was concerned, that was my interest also.

I did not want to have a lot of fanfare and buses attendant to my little visitation to a mental hospital right in Harrisburg, but I did have occasion to go out and visit that institution for three hours the other morning. I did not have any press photographers along with me. I did not have all of the things which Governor Leader had planned to have along with him when he wanted us to go down to Byberry, because I have no present aspirations to run for United States Senator. However, I did get quite a lot of information there. I found a lot of the people in that institution are probably there permanently. Their cases are chronic and many of them were born with the disease which now afflicts them. Others got the disease later in life, but the seeds of it were with them at birth. In other words, it was hereditary. About all they can do with that type of patient is to take care of them, feed them well and see that they are properly sheltered. That is what is happening there. These patients received a very good meal while I was there. I saw that most of them were rather well fed and were being taken care of well.

I think we owe a great debt of gratitude to the superintendents of these mental hospitals for the type of treatment which they are giving these patients. I want to do everything I can to see to it that this program continues. However, we cannot just take some funny figure that is put out by the Department of Welfare, or by Governor Leader, and say that is the amount we are going to give them. I think we must take into consideration the needs of the hospitals, based on what they have spent in the past, and try to work it out in some way so that House Bill No. 1700 can be fit into our present tax structure. Also, if there are any more figures to be arrived at, I suggest those figures be referred to this Conference Committee, which no doubt will be appointed to take care of this bill, and then both the House and Senate may work out these various amendments to be put into the bill and submit their report for adoption at some early date.

I am hoping that we will be able to adjourn in the near future. Therefore, I want to have this Conference Committee appointed as soon as possible in order that they may start their work.

The Democrats will, no doubt, offer amendments all afternoon which they know will not be accepted. I want to say now that any amendments which they present, even though they might be voted down now, can be taken into consideration by the Conference Committee. Perhaps many of them which the Republicans vote down now will be accepted by the Conference Committee and put into the bill when it is finally submitted to us.

We feel that, inasmuch as we have put into the bill all of the figures based upon the facts which we have available, we should vote this bill through the way it is now and then have the Conference Committee go over any further facts or figures in the light of any more revenue that may be received. Perhaps the budget can be increased, and if it can be increased, I want to have it increased.

As far as these amendments which are to be offered this afternoon are concerned, I do not believe any of them will be acceptable to the Republican side of the aisle.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I assure the gentleman that I was not mixed up in the particular address or street numbers when I called attention to where this particular budget was given birth. Although, I might say, if you insist it was given birth over in the Governor's Office, there was quite a postnatal operation performed on it at the Republican Headquarters.

So far as the names which were mentioned here concerning some thirty-nine odd people who were on the payroll at Danville, I might suggest to the Senator that up until this Session of the Legislature, the departments received lump sum appropriations. It is not new to have men on a payroll, within a department, working in different bureaus of the department or different institutions within the departmental scope of activity. Whether it is a good practice or not should have been determined a long time ago, because you allowed that very kind of government to go on on this Hill for a century or more. We were the first to come up with a demand for a line-by-line budget. I agree that in the future that will not be possible. However, let us not heap condemnation, at this time, upon a department head for using the means and methods at his disposal which have been time-honored and in use on Capitol Hill.

In so far as allowing the amendments to go over and be considered by the Conference Committee, I think that is all right. I can understand that, because we have always had to do something along that line. If you will note, in my remarks I said that we did not have to do this with strife and turmoil. I said that we could do it with a reasonable approach of cooperation and compromise. However, for the benefit of both the Republican and Democratic Members of the Senate, the amendments should be offered here upon the floor in order that each may be exploited to its fullest, so that each may know exactly what we think is the amount needed for the various activities of the Commonwealth.

We do not know, any more than you do, about what is the exact amount that is required in any department. We have to do exactly what you did for sixteen year on Capitol Hill. You had to take the word of your Budget Director. You had to take the estimates of your Department of Revenue. You had to take the estimates of need from your various departments of government. However, all of us are willing to sit down and try to compromise.

I have criticized the Governor lately, right in the Appropriations Committee and over in his own office. I said that he was too realistic. I said that he had performed the job which the Legislature felt was its prerogative over the years. The Governor took the budget estimates of the departments and, then in his own budget, he cut those estimates down to what he believed to be the basic and bare need. The Legislature has run along in time-honored custom, and it always feels that it is not doing its duty unless it takes the budget and pares so much from each department head's request. Therefore, by running along in that time-honored schedule, we now find ourselves in the process of cutting below the needs of the Commonwealth in many instances. You have, in many instances, cut the needs of the departments below the 1953-1955 expenditures, let alone the 1955-1957 expenditures. We are now in the years of 1957-1959 and no one can expect that the departments can hope to operate with the same amount of money that you gave them four or six years ago. Even the normal growth in the cost of government would demand that something be added to the departments.

For instance, the request to the Governor was for $20,000,000 for occupational disease. He did not consult the Legislature; he consulted the records. He felt that they could skim through on $15,000,000. The House immediately cut it back to $10,000,000. They did not bother to go over and find out how many cases are on the list of compensation awards. The only thing they did was just cut it down by $5,000,000, because they were in the same position as a tailor who did not know his business. He looked his client over and he reached up and took a bolt of cloth. He then proceeded to sew without measuring. After he had sewn the suit, he tried to fit it and he found that he had to cut and re-sew and patch here and there. That is what happened in the House. They took the bolt of cloth and they cut it without rhyme or reason. We now find ourselves in the position where, by the admission of the Majority Leader, we have to go into conference to patch and cut and re-sew again. We are willing to do that, and we are willing to work. However, we want to lay out, before all of you, the needs of the Commonwealth as they have been determined by the expenditures of the areas covered by the budget.

Therefore, Mr. President, with the permission of the Majority Leader, I again will yield to the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane, who will take over on the subject of welfare.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, yields to the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in listening to the Majority Leader, if I were to engage in debate here in answering him on some of the statements which he made, I would probably be up here at this microphone for the remainder of the day. However, Mr. President, it seems to me that by his statements, this is the first round and not the final round. There is going to be a Conference Committee appointed, consisting of two Republicans and one Democrat from the Senate, and two Republicans and one Democrat from the House. This is a Democratic Administration, and, therefore, that is strictly bipartisan. I would imagine we are going to accomplish a lot with a setup such as that.

In regard to our State mental hospitals receiving different portions of the budget, I might say to the Majority Leader and to the Members of the Senate that we, of the Democratic Party, are interested in mental health not only in Dauphin County, Philadelphia County and Washington County, but in every county of this great Commonwealth. If the Harrisburg State Hospital receives a sufficient amount of money on which to operate, we, the Democratic Members of the Senate, would be very happy, indeed, to see that happen.

I might say to the Majority here today that I am not going to participate in demagoguery. I am going to give you the facts. However, before I give you the facts, I want to leave this thought with you. I hope the cut in this budget was not brought about by determination of the Majority to discredit the Democratic Party. As a matter of fact, I do not believe that is possible here in this Senate, because I have worked with most of you gentlemen for quite some years and I have great respect for your sincerity and your integrity. However, these drastic cuts were made over in the House of Representatives. I do not know what they are all about, but I hope it is not for the purpose of embarrassing the first Democratic Governor we have had in Pennsylvania in sixteen years.

When we talk about mental health and what each Party has done for mental health, and what we expect to do, I want you to know, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, that the condition of those poor unfortunates here in Pennsylvania, as far as State-aid is concerned, was deplorable prior to 1947. It was due to an ace writer for the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, I believe a Mr. Ray Sprigle, who brought about this great exposure as far as mental health conditions were concerned here in Pennsylvania.

I have before me today a copy of the Legislative Journal of Tuesday, May 6, 1947. There are some very interesting facts contained in this Journal which I would like to gloss over briefly. I note that the House of Representatives, on that particular date, a Representative Weiss, of Westmoreland County, I believe, inserted into the record the background and the record of Mr. Ray Sprigle who was, as I said before, an ace reporter for the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette. Mr. Weiss read into the record an article which was written by Mr. Sprigle and it reads as follows:

"A study of Pennsylvania's 22 mental hospitals, as reported by Ray Sprigle in the Post-Gazette, concludes that the trouble with the hospitals is more administrative than physical.

"The state is planning to build $82,000,000 worth of new mental hospital buildings. But that will take 10 years. Mr. Sprigle reports that it will be about two years before the first of these buildings is ready for occupancy.

"Meanwhile, 43,000 mental patients urgently need better care. It can be provided in their present crowded quarters if the state hires enough competent psychiatrists, nurses and attendants.

"Sufficient personnel will be hard to attract unless the state opens its purse strings and competes with the Federal Government in the hospital labor market. Federal salaries now are greater than those paid by Pennsylvania."

In his last article, Mr. Sprigle said:

"Millions of dollars' worth of magnificent new buildings will not serve to correct the ancient evils that for decades have cursed the administration of the 22 mental hospitals maintained by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

"New buildings, new housing, not only for patients but for nurses, attendants and physicians, are desperately needed at every one of the state's mental institutions.

"But new buildings alone will correct only one of the myriad forms of maladministration that besets the state's mental hospital system—the present terrific overcrowding of wards and facilities.

"New buildings are for next year at the earliest. It is likely to be two years at least before a single one of Pennsylvania's mental patients steps into the first of the projected new buildings."

Mr. President, I want to go on and quote to you some statements made by Governor Duff, who I believe became awakened to the fact of what was happening in Pennsylvania. Therefore, we must give credit to Governor Duff for pushing this mental health program. In his message to the Senate and House on February 1, 1949, Governor Duff said the following about mental health, and I quote:

"I feel obliged to call your attention further to the urgent necessity for the large amount of funds requested for the mental health program as specified in the Budget.

"I realize, as you do, that the funds asked for are great. But I also realize that the urgency of the demand for them is equally great. The chief reason that so great an expenditure of funds has been necessary for mental health in the current biennium, and will continue to be necessary in the next biennium, is that in the past we refused to meet adequately and promptly the challenges of the problems of mental health as they were presented.

"Everyone reading the daily papers is obliged to be aware of the variety of problems presented by various phases of the problems of mental illness. The time has come when society must attempt to protect itself against the dangers that we have heretofore refused to provide against. We should no longer continue the practice of awaiting for catastrophes to happen before we are sufficiently stirred up to take some measure to prevent them.

"There is a tremendous need in Pennsylvania, as elsewhere, for increased research into the cause of mental illness, and training in the care of those who are mentally ill, as well as provision for the restraint of persons afflicted with certain mental quirks and sexual abnormalities that make them continuous menaces to society. We have arrived at the place where there is need for institutions of the type where we are concerned more with the methods of cure and prevention than merely with the custodial care of the chronically mentally ill.

"We need to understand not only the effect of mental pressures that produce bodily ailments, but also bodily ailments that tend to cause mental illnesses. Research has proven beyond question that emotional instability is caused in many people by certain types of physical illness.

"Research has also made clear that many mentally ill patients may be prevented from falling into the classification of chronically mentally ill patients if they are received in time and receive the proper treatment and care necessary to restore them to full mental health again.

"The great problem of today, when such a high percentage of our population is suffering from mental illnesses, is to treat those illnesses of the mind in the early stages the same as medicine would endeavor to treat physical illnesses in the early stages before they become chronic. Because once mental illness becomes chronic the patient becomes, in all human probability, a permanent charge upon society; while if they are treated early before they do become chronically ill, they can be restored to useful lives in society.

"For the above, and the other reasons that I stated in my former message to you, I earnestly hope that the requested funds will be made available for use in the coming biennium."

Mr. President, that was by Governor James H. Duff.

I might also say, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, that the Honorable John S. Fine, former Governor of Pennsylvania, took up the cudgels for mental illness in Pennsylvania. I have to give him credit because he tried to do a good job, even though he had to fight his own Party. Governor Fine is to be congratulated for the position he took on mental illness.

For the interest of the Members of the Senate, I would like to read to you a letter which was received by the Department of Welfare. It was sent by the Lycoming County Commissioners, and addressed to Miss Beatrice Robinson, Child Care Division, Bureau of Children's Services, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It reads as follows:

"Dear Miss Robinson:

"The County Commissioners request that the $675,000.00 of State Funds which has been taken out of the Welfare appropriation for Child Welfare Services be re-allocated to these services.

"We believe that this amount being reduced to the County will tend to reduce our staff and their efficiency. The County will be unable to continue protective services to dependent and neglected children.

"We certainly hope that this request can be accepted at this time."

This letter is signed by Victor C. Wise, who is Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners for Lycoming County. This is in regard to the allocation of funds for child care in the various counties of our Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I have several charts I would like to display to the Members of the Senate, because I do not believe that all of us realize the magnitude of this problem. Before I present the amendments, I would like each and every Member of the Senate, who would like to look over these charts and graphs, to do so, because they affect each particular county.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have a chart here on the population of our hospitals for mentally retarded children. I would like the Members on the Republican side, especially, to look this chart over.

Let us take Laurelton, for example. It had a population of 8,962 children as of May 1, 1957. On May 1, 1956, it had 8,815 children. On May 1, 1955, it had 9,003. However, what I want to point out is that the official capacity of Laurelton, as of May 1, 1957, was 7,594. As of May 1, 1956, it was 6,993. The same figure is applicable to 1955.

Mr. President, I would also like to give the percentage of occupancy. The occupancy of Laurelton State Village right now is 118% of its capacity. There is no wondering why we Members of the Senate cannot have a retarded child committed to our institutions.

Let us take a look now at Pennhurst. Pennhurst is a small institution and, as of May 1, 1957, it had 895 patients. As of May 1, 1955, it had 1,012. Its capacity is 1,000. Today, its capacity is 82.7%; in 1955, it was 101% full.

Let us talk about Polk. All of us in western Pennsylvania have worked with Polk and we know the problems which Doctor Walker has up there. Let us just look over Polk, and then we will realize what we have done as far as this budget is concerned. I am quite sure those Members on the Republican side who will serve on this Conference Committee should bear this in mind.

Polk had a population, as of May 1, 1957, of 3,075. On May 1, 1956, it had a population of 3,376. On May 1, 1955, it had a population of 3,429. Polk is officially accredited to handle 2,550. However, as of May 1, 1957, Polk had 120.6% capacity. There were twenty per cent more children in Polk than should be there. I know that a few of you gentlemen have visited Polk and you know the problems which exist in that area.

I have a list here, county by county, of the retarded children who are on the waiting lists in Pennsylvania. The grand total is 2,974.

Let us take a look at Erie County. In Erie County today, there are eighty-five retarded children on the waiting list.

In Crawford County, there are thirty-four.
In Mercer County, there are thirty-nine.
In Venango County, there are twenty-nine.
Butler County, by the way, has forty-nine.
In Armstrong County, there are twenty-seven.
Over in Beaver County, there are sixty-eight.
In Allegheny County, there are 684.
In Westmoreland County, there are 135.
In my county of Washington, there are seventy-seven.
In my district of Greene, there are twenty-six.
In Somerset County, there are thirty-one.
In Cambria County, there are 101.
In Clearfield County, there are thirty-seven.
In Centre County, there are twenty-two.

For the information of Senator Chapman, even in the northern tier counties, there are twenty-six in Warren County, thirty-eight in McKean County, four in Potter County, ten in Tioga County, eleven in Bradford County and five in Susquehanna County.

Over in Lackawanna County, in Senator McMenamin's District, there are thirty-nine.

In Luzerne County, there are forty-two.
In Bucks County, there are thirty-three.
In Montgomery County, there are forty-eight children on the waiting list.

In Dauphin County, in the Capital City of Harrisburg, there are forty-seven children on the waiting list.

There are seventy-five children on the waiting list in Blair County, waiting to be admitted to an institution.

Here is a map of the patient population in the mental hospitals and schools for the mentally deficient in Pennsylvania. This shows some proportion of the patients, but it does not include private mental hospitals and schools in Pennsylvania.

The inmates of the hospitals are in blue ink, the inmates of the schools are in green ink and the grand total is in red ink. The grand total here in Pennsylvania is, as far as our mental population is concerned, 47,783. Let us just skim over this a little bit.

In Erie County, you now have 1,216 mental patients in State hospitals.

In Crawford County, you have 343.

In Mercer County, you have 464.

In Lawrence County, there are 415.

In Beaver County, there are 746.

In Allegheny County, there are 7,456.

In Washington County, there are 813.

In Greene County, there are 166.

Let us look over in Dauphin County. You have 911 people in mental hospitals in Pennsylvania from Dauphin County.

Bucks County has 1,087.

Montgomery County has 1,487.

Chester County has 634.

Delaware County has 1,233.

Philadelphia has 10,994.

Now that is just an example of the magnitude of the mental problem here in Pennsylvania. In York alone, you have 674.

I would like you Members on the other side to look these graphs over. I say they will give you an incentive to re-examine this Department of Welfare budget.

I am not up here today fighting for any particular individual. I am up here trying to explain to you, and to the people of Pennsylvania, the mental health problem which confronts the people of Pennsylvania, and the fact that we cannot be picayunish in our approach to this particular problem.

I have worked on the Appropriations Committee with with you gentlemen and I feel that, in most cases, you have made a sincere effort, as far as mental hospitals are concerned, but I still think we are lacking to a great extent in our efforts by not providing adequate funds and excess funds, if necessary, to carry through a mental health program.

Before I offer my amendments, I want to point out to some of the Members of the Senate the population that you have which is being taken care of by your county governments, as far as neglected and delinquent children are concerned, and the amount of funds that are allocated to your own particular districts.

In the 1955-1957 biennium, the county of Chester received the sum of $20,545.93. That is the reimbursement program for aid to counties for the care of dependent, neglected and delinquent children. Your county commissioners are supporting this and they are very enthusiastic about its operation.

The county of Clarion, a small county in the western part of the State, receives an amount of $2,693.72. The county commissioners there have entered into an agreement with the Department of Welfare to carry on their program.

Fayette County, which is across the river from my county of Washington, receives $24,266.01.

Forest County, Senator Mahany, is in the process of signing an agreement with the Department of Welfare so they can receive a reimbursement.

Franklin County has a reimbursement of $27,484.13.

Fulton County, which is a small county, reimbursement of $220.

Greene County, which is in my Senatorial district, receives a sum of $20,701 under this reimbursement program.

Huntingdon County receives $20,586, in addition to seventy-five per cent reimbursement for payment of the staff.

Indiana County—

Mr. MAHANY. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. I do not understand what this reimbursement program is, Senator. I was reading another item when you started on this. Will you please tell me what this reimbursement is you are now referring to?

Mr. LANE. I am referring to the $1,675,000 which I believe the Governor requested in his budget for reimbursement to counties for the care of delinquent, neglected and dependent children.

Mr. MAHANY. I understand.

Mr. LANE. Did you hear Fulton County, Senator Mahany?

Mr. MAHANY. I heard the counties, yes. However, I did not understand what reimbursement program you were referring to.

Mr. LANE. Indiana County receives $15,384 under this reimbursement program.

Juniata County receives $776.28.

Lawrence County receives $10,733.

I might advise Senator Van Sant that Lehigh County receives $58,257.60.

Lebanon County receives $10,733.09.

Lycoming County receives $30,737.12.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, will the gentleman yield again?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Lane, there is another bill on our Calendar relative to this particular matter. I wonder if you could keep your remarks confined to the amendments to House Bill No. 1700, instead of some other bill on our Calendar. Would that not help us all if we could do that?

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, that would be fine. However, you understand that I have amendments to replace in House Bill No. 1700 the amount which was taken out, the entire amount of $1,675,000.

One of the Senators over there sponsored a bill for $1,000,000, which may cut this child care program by $675,000. What I am trying to point out to the Members of the Senate is this. The $1,000,000 in this appropriation bill is not sufficient. I can prove it to you by reading these figures to you, because I think all the county commissioners in Pennsylvania will demand that this money be placed back in the budget, in view of the fact that it is going to cost them additional funds to take care of their dependent children in their counties.

I know in my own county of Washington, we are going to be very much upset if we lose any money.

Mercer County receives $21,934.55.

The little county of Mifflin receives $17,987.44.

Monroe County receives $8,539.72.

Montgomery County receives $5,057.97.

Montour County receives $2,825.66.

McKean County receives $34,478.18.

Northampton County, Senator Yosko, receives $34,017.63.

Northumberland County receives $15,459.28.

Perry County receives $1,098.56.

The great county of Philadelphia receives $167,000.

Potter County receives $5,073.

Schuylkill County, Senator Wagner, receives $68,496.95.

Snyder County receives $1,410.

Sullivan County receives $6,756.50.

Susquehanna County receives $9,501.39.

Tioga County receives $25,894.74.

Union County receives $5,103.46.

Venango County receives $18,901.11.

Warren County receives $12,551.80.

Wayne County receives $6,267.30.

Westmoreland County, Senator Dent, receives $16,610.97.

Wyoming County receives $2,985.

York County hit the jackpot by receiving $79,495.66.

My County of Washington receives $14,521.85.

Carbon County receives $16,854.

Centre County receives $10,521.

Clearfield County receives $25,344.

Crawford County receives $47,615.

Columbia County receives $8,756.

Cumberland County, Senator Wade, receives $24,704.14.

Clinton County receives $24,076.13.

Dauphin County receives $84,135.49.

Delaware County receives $79,011.30.

Elk County receives $8,778.88.

Erie County receives $99,314.34.

Lackawanna County receives $68,004.85.

Lancaster County receives $36,104.51.

Luzerne County receives a cool $100,000 under their reimbursement program.

Somerset County $26,915.53.

Adams County receives $14,256.11.

Allegheny County receives $108,000.

Armstrong County receives $13,790.

Beaver County receives $36,800.23.

Bedford County receives $7,890.73.

The great county of Berks receives $36,728.16.

Blair County receives $63,866.73.

Bradford County receives $34,000.

Bucks County receives $47,567.

Butler County did not spend its fair share of the reimbursement fund and, therefore, they only received $726.

Cambria County receives $86,733.

Cameron County receives $2,066.

That is just a portion of the enormous amount of money which is allocated from the Department of Welfare to the various counties. I wanted to bring this to your attention because I do not believe that all of us realize just what is going on as far as child care is concerned here in Pennsylvania. I feel that the $1,000,000 appropriation bill, which we have on our Calendar today to take care of child care in Pennsylvania, is not going to do the job.

In addition to the figures I have read here, I also have a map of the reimbursement to counties for the care of dependent and neglected children, and I would like to have the Majority Leader and the Members of his group look over this material. I think they will realize the problem that faces the Department of Welfare, and the people of Pennsylvania, when it comes to the care of the mentally ill and the problem of dependent and neglected children.

I think you all know the position I have taken on this floor. I say that juvenile delinquency is in itself a major problem. I do not believe you are going to cure juvenile delinquency by making criminals of these children. I believe they must be rehabilitated under the supervision of proper and competent personnel. The only way you can do that, and save a lot of money for those who might succeed us, is to adopt an adequate program, as far as finances are concerned, in order to properly finance this particular department of government.

If I have talked too long today, I am very sorry. I did not mean to take up all this time, but I say to you gentlemen here that the problems of the mentally ill, the problems of delinquent and dependent children are, as of today, at the crossroad of their destiny. I believe it is the responsibility of this Senate to make sure these people have the proper care. We are going to have to appropriate the money.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am offering amendments to House Bill No. 1700. Since Senator Mahany has advised me there will not be any amendments accepted, I hope the Clerk will keep the amendments and turn them over to the Conference Committee.

I would like each and every Member of the Senate, if he sees fit, to support these amendments. They restore the original figures of the Governor's budget into the Welfare program.

Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 63, line 19 to page 76, line 4 inclusive by striking out all of said lines and inserting:

In addition to this amount, moneys received from the United States Government or from any other source as contributions for this program shall be paid into the General Fund and credited to this appropriation."

Amend Section 7, page 97, line 15, to page 98, line 18, by striking out all of said lines; Amend Section 8, page 98, line 19, to page 99, line 2 by striking out all of said lines; Amend Section 9, page 99, lines 3 to 5, by striking out all of said lines; Amend Section 10, page 99, line 6 to page 103, line 6, by striking out all of said lines; Amend Section 11, page 102, line 13, by striking out "11" and inserting: "7."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I should like to make a few brief remarks in support of the amendments presented by Senator Lane.

From the figures which he gave here in the Senate this afternoon, it is obvious that mental illness is perhaps the number one problem in Pennsylvania. You must realize that statistics show that one out of every eight persons will need psychiatric aid sometime during their lifetime. Mr. President, that means that mental illness is a disease that may strike every other family in the State of Pennsylvania. Under the present program, Mr. President, I should like to call the attention of the Senate to these figures. At the present time, and under the present program, fifty-six per cent of the patients have been discharged in less than thirty days; ninety-five per cent of the mental patients have been discharged in less than ninety days.

Unless we amend House Bill No. 1700, Mr. President, I should like to call your attention to some of the damage the present bill will do in the city of Philadelphia. At the present time, and under the present program, we have established a Reception and Reclassification Center at the Philadelphia General Hospital. That program costs approximately $3,500,000. Unless we amend this House Bill No. 1700, I have been informed that this program must be shut down immediately.

Now what does this reception center do? To that place are referred people suffering from mental illness for the purpose of classification. This center examines the patient and makes a determination whether the particular patient should be sent to a hospital or whether he can be taken care of through home care. This program can result in great saving, in that a great number of patients will not have to be sent to hospitals. As I said before, under the present program, this reclassification center must be shut down.

I should also like to call to the attention of the Senate a new institution in the city of Philadelphia which, apparently, is receiving scant attention at the hands of both the House and Senate. That is the Eastern Psychiatric Institute, located at Henry Avenue and Abbottsford Road in Philadelphia. Mr. President, I have here a statement from the Medical Director of that institution, and I should like to read a part of it for the record. He says:

"Attached is a summary of our Appropriation Request and the necessary cut which will have to be made if the appropriation request is reduced by 2½ million dollars as recommended."

The Governor recommended the sum of $6,374,662. As the bill stands at present, this recommendation has been cut to $3,883,966, or a total cut of approximately $2,500,000.

"The Institute was built at a cost of $12,000,000.

The purpose of the Institute was specifically designated as a research center into the cause, treatment and prevention of mental disease. Its purpose also was to provide training for medical students, psychiatrists, nurses and other professional personnel who enter into the care and treatment of the mentally ill. The Institute has an adult in-patient unit of 250 beds, an adult out-patient service, a 50 bed children's in-patient unit and a children's out-patient service. Provisions were made for research laboratories and class rooms for instruction. Careful and thoughtful planning went into the construction of the building in correlating it with the research and training program needs. Careful consideration was given to the kind of staff required to cover the areas of research both fundamental and clinical in order to gain a foothold into the understanding of mental illnesses. The organization of the staff was planned so the approach to our understanding could be made in the biological, psychological and sociological fields. Adequate staffing was contemplated for training groups of 20 psychiatrists, both for the adult and children's field, 200 student nurses per year, 5 clinical psychologists in advanced training per year, as well as 10 or more psychiatric social workers. In addition to this we anticipate training technical personnel for the other hospitals both for therapy and laboratory work.

"This reduction means that we will have to cut back the research programs, both fundamental and clinical, 36%. It will be necessary to reduce the population from the 12 adult wards to 4, and 3 children's unit wards to 2, a reduction of 61% of available beds. As a result of reduction in bed capacity, we must reduce our training programs. The residency training program will be reduced 75%. The nurses training, psychologists, social workers and technical trainees will have to be abolished. In addition to this loss in research and training, there will be a great loss of service to patients. The maintenance of the plant and grounds will of necessity be reduced to a minimum."

Mr. President, I did not read the entire statement, but do want to say that we must regard this institution as a training ground for psychiatrists and nurses and personnel who will go out all over the State. That seems to have been lost sight of when this appropriation was cut by two and one-half million dollars.

Mr. President, I should like to refer to one other institution in Philadelphia, before sitting down, and that is the Philadelphia State Hospital, previously known as Byberry. I have a statement here from Dr. Eugene L. Sielke, Superintendent. Here is an institution with a population of 6700. This hospital was cut from a recommended appropriation $19,527,736 to $15,567,000, or a reduction of approximately $4,000,000. Now the significant fact about the report which I have in my hand is this. It will take $17,200,000, or at least another $1,500,000, to retain the present professional personnel. At the present time, the professional personnel at the Philadelphia State Hospital is only forty-seven per cent of the doctors and nurses required by the American Psychiatric Association. To bring their standards up, so that the hospital will have seventy per cent of professional personnel, which is the minimum passing standard of the American Psychiatric Association, this hospital will need an appropriation of $21,000,000. However, the Governor's recommendation was for $19,500,000.

I am about through with what I wanted to say. Mr. President, I hope, when this bill comes into conference, that political considerations will be forgotten and these institutions will be given the consideration which they deserve.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair started to turn the gavel over to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Robert D. Fleming) in the Chair.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I am not going to take too much time. I did hear Senator Silvert say that he hoped, when the bill came before the Conference Committee, it would be a bipartisan effort. I want to remind him, if I may, that during the last biennium Secretary Shapiro came before my committee. He had several bills before it, one of which was to take away some of the powers of the boards of trustees because he said he could do a better job by eliminating some of their powers. He also came to me when it came time for his appropriation and, if all fifty of us will recall, we gave Secretary Shapiro every penny for which he asked. However, I am not so sure that he spent that money wisely and well. The reason he received the appropriation that he asked for was because he convinced me, as well as the other Members of the Senate, on both sides of the aisle, that he could do a better job if he were given more money.

Now you will recall, he also held a threat over our heads when he said that he would use the $10,000,000 that was available through Hill-Burton funds, thereby making our general hospitals in our areas suffer, which were in the process of improving their physical plants, either by building a new hospital or improving by adding additional beds. If you will recall, he arbitrarily said that he would use those funds for the State hospitals unless we gave him $10,000,000 more. Because we did not want to hurt our local hospitals, we increased his appropriation by $10,000,000.

I want to read a letter which I received from one of Secretary Shapiro's employees. It will not take long. It says:

"Dear Sir:

"After reading about the Republicans efforts to cut the Governor's budget, and the big talk of Welfare Secretary Shapiro and his clan in Harrisburg"—and I am quoting, incidentally; please do not misinterpret that I am saying this—"brings to my mind what one of his superintendents stated while I was an employee of the state at Morganza. The following statement was made right after the Governor gave the Welfare Department an unlimited budget the first part of 1956. 'We must spend all the money that is given to us, so that we may get even more on our next budget.'

"An example of the waste of money at that time could be pointed at a building, and several silos built at Morganza. The building mentioned is approximately 125 feet long, and 50 feet wide with only the 50 foot ends closed in, there are no sides at all to this building, yet each end has an expensive door and lock in it. The cost of this building, over 70,000 dollars. The silos that were built have built-in conveyor belts. The silos that were already at the dairy barn are still in good condition, yet they were never filled, even when there were several hundred head of hogs, chickens, beef steers, and four head of horses. All the above mentioned animals were gotten rid of before these new silos were built.

"It has also been stated by the Secretary of Welfare Shapiro in November of 1956, that it was none of the business of the people of Pennsylvania as to what goes on in any institution or how money given to this department was spent. Secretary Shapiro stated at a meeting held last November in his office between the union representatives (Reuben Miller, Edward Dailey and Ralph Rush), Norman Lourie, Mr. Miles, and a personnel manager of the Welfare Department, that if any employee of the Welfare Department gave out any information to any newspaper, or news that could be made public, that employee would be fired on the spot.

"This above statement is only a small part of the waste of one institution. Multiply this several times and again by the amount of institutions and you will find that millions of dollars are wasted each year by the Welfare Department."

Mr. President, I want to say, too, that Secretary Shapiro, in the span of fourteen months, had a secretary who received eight raises. That Secretary received eight raises in fourteen months. She is no longer there. The Secretary has had seven publicity men since he has been the Secretary of Welware, some being given higher pay than the man who preceded him. Of course, it goes on. It goes without saying that in many of these institutions, people who were fired for political reasons received less money than a replacement who had no experience. We know this went on.

For instance, at Morganza, where it costs something like fourteen dollars a day to maintain one of these delinquent children, they have eighteen psychiatrists and less than 200 boys and girls, where they used to have as many as 600. The institution is so poorly run that the judges in western Pennsylvania refuse to send or commit any of the children to Morganza.

Now for fourteen dollars a day, which amounts to about $5,111 a year, I could very easily send seven good boys and girls to a State Teachers' College and give them a college education, because it only takes about $700 to pay for a boy or girl's room and books and tuition at one of our State Teachers' Colleges. Yet, for these 200 boys and girls who are at Morganza, we have eighteen psychiatrists, many of whom are going to the University of Pittsburgh and taking postgraduate work. As I said awhile ago, when they had a population of some 600 at Morganza, they only had three psychiatrists and they did not have the number of runaways that they do now. You have as many as twenty boys who run away from Morganza every week.

Senator Mahany mentioned something about the fat in the budget. When we had Republican Governors, all we heard from the other side was, "there's fat in that budget and it ought to be squeezed out and taken out." Now that the shoe is on the other foot, we are supposed to go along with the figures that are given to us.

In 1951, I, as a Republican on this side, when we had a Republican Governor who gave us certain budget figures, recall that we arbitrarily trimmed, in many cases, ten and fifteen and twenty per cent from the amounts asked for. For instance, when labor and management sit down to arbitrate, in most cases, both of them are asking for more than they know they are going to get or going to give. I think that is the same case with all of these department heads. They are asking for more than they need, knowing that the Legislature is going to cut down or try to save money. I am sure the money that we are giving to the Department of Welfare is sufficient. We are giving them more money than we gave them two years ago, yet from the propaganda that is being circulated, you would think that we were cutting the department. We are not cutting it. We are giving them, substantially, many millions of dollars more than we gave them two years ago. I am sure that none of the welfare services are going to be hurt one iota when this budget is adopted. However, as Senator Mahany has said, if there are some areas of difference where, maybe, we have made errors or overlooked certain areas, I am sure that in the Conference Committee those mistakes can be ironed out and the additional money added if it is needed.

I want to say just one more thing if I may, Mr. President. We hear so much about 1,000 less people being admitted in our mental institutions this year than there were last year. Of course, a great hullabaloo is being made about the tranquilizing drugs. Certainly, they have a place in our remedial care of these patients but, in many cases, the tranquilizing drugs are not going to cure these people and those are the ones who are going to require custodial care for perhaps the rest of their lives. If the tranquilizing drugs are going to do the things they claim they are going to do, and are doing, then we are not going to need these institutions. We are going to have less and less people being committed to these institutions for any length of time.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, after hearing the gentleman from Armstrong, I have found that, unfortunately, I deal primarily in facts and many of the things he said have not been backed up by facts. I do not want to take the time to go into them in great detail but, if I remember correctly, the gentleman served on the investigating committee at Morganza and on the investigating committee at Laurelton. If my memory further serves me correctly, those committees found nothing in either one of these institutions that would bear out the statements made by the Senator from Armstrong. From the reports that were written, from the discussions held and from the witnesses interviewed, none of these problems which he presents here were presented nor contained in the final reports.

Incidentally, Senator, if they only have 200 students at Morganza, and twenty are running away every week, then within ten weeks we would have no problem at Morganza.

Also, I think you made a statement which I do not believe you would want to stand by, and I think you should correct the record. You said that Governor Fine sent a budget over here and you arbitrarily cut it. I do not think you and your colleagues are so unintelligent that you would act in that manner, and take a budget and arbitrarily cut it, without going into the necessity for these funds or, at least, trying to find out where the fat is in the budget.

I say to you, as do the rest of my colleagues, show us where the fat is in this budget, show us where we are getting unnecessary money for unnecessary services, and we will willingly vote with you to cut out these amounts that are being asked for by the departments.

Concerning the tranquilizing drugs which you spoke about, some of the medical literature that I have read—and I do not happen to be a doctor—goes into quite some detail on the excellent results they have had with some of these drugs. Medicine, being the inexact science that it is, may come up with many, many results as a result of using these drugs and perfecting them. Therefore, I think you and I are not in a position to say whether this is a better way to handle the problem or whether this will eventually solve the entire mental health problem. I think the best we can do is go along with the doctors and recognized authorities on this subject, for the moment until we find some other or better means to do the job we are trying to do.

Incidentally, Senator, at Laurelton, after Senator Shapiro took over as Secretary of Welfare, they took the padlocks off the doors, they took the bars off the window and they sent home a number of girls who were cured or could use out-patient treatment. They have cut down on the use of the institution as a custodial institution or type of prison, and made it more of what it is supposed to be, which is an institution to take care of young ladies who have reached a certain stage in their mental development where they are no longer able to carry on or do the things that are necessary.

The one important part of the letter you read, criticizing the Secretary, which I think you should have emphasized is the part which stated, "I was an employee." "Was" to me means past tense. I am sure you can get many disgruntled employees, who have been fired or no longer have a job, to come forward and tell you many things that they heard personally from the Secretary. I do not know of any Secretary who would discuss such matters with employees working in any department of this nature.

I think, also, one of the things that gives lie to what this gentleman wrote is the fact that Secretary Shapiro has written many times to every Member of this Legislature asking each one of us to please come and visit these institutions, to please come and ask questions and to please come to his department and discuss the problems of the hospitals or the institutions in our various areas. I do not think he would tell his people not to talk to the public or to the press or to hide any information, when he is asking you constantly to come and make use of the information which he makes available to you.

Further, Senator, one of the things that you forgot to mention, and on which I think you would like to change your remarks, is the fact that Secretary Shapiro changed the department from being just an adjunct to a prison and made it one where they dealt with the problem of curing people. This business of locking people into cells, or into institutions, and allowing them to stay there—if they got better, fine, and if they did not, also fine, and you and I going along paying taxes to keep these people—has changed. If you can show me that the Secretary has not cured people, has not had them discharged from these institutions and has not cut down some of the population in the institutions, I will go along with you in cutting his budget.

You also must remember, Senator, that many areas are gaining in population. The people are also becoming more and more aware of mental health, so that many times people suffering from illnesses which previously we diagnosed as something other than mental health, are today being recognized for what they are. Up to a very recent date, to have somebody in your family who was even considered mentally sick was almost viewed as a crime and a shame, and that person was often kept in an attic where he never came to light of day. We are more and more becoming educated to the point of realizing where these people need help and that we now have institutions to help them.

I do not see where we can trade people for politics, and I think that is what we are doing by cutting the Department of Welfare budget.

Mr. President, only a few years ago in Philadelphia—and I address myself to the Philadelphia problem, even though we are elected to take care of many areas of the State because this problem I know and know well—people who were brought into a magistrate's court for having had some difficulty with a neighbor or with a member of their family, who were actually not criminals or should not have been treated as criminals or even handled as such, were sent off to jail. At one time, we had a population in the jails of Philadelphia of about 300 people who were mentally sick and for whom there was no place.

During the last biennium, we instituted a program in Philadelphia to assign these people, who were sick, to the Philadelphia General Hospital where they were sent into a reception center, their problem diagnosed and then they were sent, through the Department of Welfare, to the different hospitals that could handle their problems. If their problem was in out-patient treatment, there was an institution to take care of that. One of them is in Philadelphia and also the Mercy-Douglass Hospital, which took care of this very problem. The Philadelphia General Hospital made available a certain number of beds to take care of these people who were mentally sick and who actually were not criminals.

Unless the appropriations are created to take care of this problem and to continue on the work that has been begun, we will lose in Philadelphia 468 beds which could be made available to mental patients. We will lose the sixty to eighty some beds that are available now in the Mercy-Douglass Hospital. I do not think we want to go back to the days when people who were mentally sick were kept in chains or behind bars.

I am sure you gentlemen on the other side do not want to punish people in Philadelphia who are mentally sick, just because the Senators who happen to come from that area are of a different political faith. It is unfortunate that these people who are mentally sick cannot pick a Republican Senator or a Republican area in which to live, so they can be assured of getting some kind of treatment. I do not want to believe what I read in the newspapers to be true, but I have heard that the statements attributed to some of the gentlemen on the other side are not true and I am willing to accept that on faith.

Therefore, I will offer these amendments and ask that they be considered when all the amendments are to be considered on this bill. These amendments are on behalf of these institutions in Philadelphia.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease a moment.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I wish to withdraw the amendments I just offered and will hold them until such time as all the amendments are offered to this bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair thanks the gentleman. Will the desk please return the amendments to Senator Weiner?

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Lane in his discourse on his amendments brought out the institution of Polk, with which I am quite conversant, because I do go down there quite often. I want to say that Doctor Walker, who is heading this institution, is a very competent person, a good friend of mine, and I value the information which he gives to me very highly.

We find that in these various institutions where you have a population of around 3,000, the per patient cost per day, according to these doctors, should run around $3.50. The population at Polk was a little under 3,000, as given by Senator Lane, but let us assume it is 3,000. If we multiply that figure by $3.50 per patient per day, we get a total cost of $10,500 per day, at this rate, to take care of 3,000 people. If you multiply that by 365 days, and that result by two, in order to take care of the two year period, you get a total of $7,665,000. The amount which is set up to take care of Polk, under House Bill No. 1700, is $7,819,000 which is about $150,000 more than the $3.50 per patient per day. Therefore, we feel that the amount we have set up here for Polk is adequate. I believe that Doctor Walker feels it is in line.

It has been stated that Polk is overcrowded and there is a long waiting list, with which I agree. We passed legislation here, under the General State Authority setup, which will allow us to construct four new institutions in the State of Pennsylvania to take care of defective children. I feel, within a short period of time, that we are going to be able to relieve this waiting list and take care of the children who should go into Polk and these other institutions.

The picture is quite confused because of the various figures which have been handed out to us. That is the reason we want to consider all these things in the Conference Committee.

I have just been handed a notation here, stating that there was a $28,000,000 balance in the Department of Welfare as of May 31, 1957, and $17,000,000 of that amount was in the mental health program.

When we discussed this budget a year or so ago, we were told by Secretary Shapiro that he needed every cent of this appropriation. Yet, we find that even though he spent much of it on what we thought was unauthorized, he had a large amount left when the end of the biennium occurred.

This other program on which Senator Lane spent a great deal of time, the reimbursement to counties and nonsectarian agencies for children's services, is the program for which the Governor recommends $1,524,000, of which $524,000 was to come from Federal aid. Therefore, out of State moneys, there is needed, according to the Governor's own budget, $1,000,000. That is the amount which Senator Stevenson has included in his bill for these particular services. So, we are giving the Governor all that he has asked for in his budget for these particular services and this particular program.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I was very pleased to hear Senator Mahany make his speech because I think I can now prove to the Members of the Senate, and the people of Pennsylvania, that if he has accepted a figure of $3.00 per capita per day for inmates at Polk, he is admitting that we are spending more money on maintaining the criminals in our institutions than we are in trying to rehabilitate those unfortunates who are in our homes for retarded children.

I might also say to the gentleman that the American Psychiatric Association, which is a national association, has set the figure of $4.50 per day per person in a mental institution. Senator Mahany's figure is just about $1.50 less than the figure which the American Psychiatric Association recommended.

In regard to the child care program in the counties, I might say to the Majority Leader that Senator Yosko now has an individual amendment, which I think amounts to $1,675,000. He wants to amend the bill to conform to that amount. He is going to try and amend Senator Stevenson's bill which now calls for $1,000,000. This, at least, will be $675,000. Someone has their wires crossed somewhere on the matter. The original figure for child care was $2,200,000 and then it was cut back, due to the fact that all the money was not expended, to $1,675,000, and that is the figure we understand is absolutely necessary to maintain this child care program in Pennsylvania.

If Senator Mahany advises me that Doctor Walker is well satisfied with a per capita cost of $3.00 per day, there is something wrong somewhere, because I believe Doctor Walker belongs to that association and the cost, as far as the American Psychiatric Association is concerned, I repeat, is $4.50 per day per patient in a mental institution.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I believe the record will show that I said it was $3.50 and not $3.00 per patient day. That is approximately the amount that is being expended. I agree with Senator Lane that this is $1.00 less than the amount recommended by the Psychiatric or Psychiatric Association. I think the doctors pronounce it one way and the laymen pronounce it another.

Senator Lane, there is not much rehabilitation that can be done with these children. Most of them are there permanently; they are chronic cases; they have been that way from birth. If you will go out there, you will find there are still, even in this enlightened day after Secretary Shapiro has been in control for some time, children sitting around the perimeter of a room in chairs, with a kind of straight jacket on so they cannot get at each other. There are other, of course, who are able to go out.

If I could get this newspaperman off my back long enough to talk to you intelligently, I think I could make more sense. The Bulletin is evidently going to press and he is trying to do something here with me.

Mr. President, there are still bars in these mental institutions. Just a couple of days ago, I had occasion to visit one and they still have bars on the windows to keep the people inside.

Perhaps what Governor Lead said is true. He said only about one Senator out of every four has ever gone to visit a mental institution. Let us have a showing of hands. I wonder if Governor Leader is as wrong on this as he is on a lot of other figures. How many Senators who are now here have never visited a mental institution of any kind?

(No response from Members of the Senate.)

Mr. MAHANY. I believe we are all accounted for. I would say Governor Leader is as wrong on this as he is on many other things he says. Every Senator, at some time or other, has visited a mental institution, and I believe many of them have visited these institutions quite often.

Senator Blass was a trustee of the board at Polk State School for, I believe, seventeen years until he was relieved of his duties by Governor Leader. Someone was appointed to take his place who is not nearly the expert that Senator Blass is.

I would also, at this time, like to point out to Governor Leader, after his charge that we are all a lot of cowards and do not have the guts to visit a mental institution, that I do not find that it takes a great amount of bravery or guts, as he puts it, to visit a mental institution; that is, if you are really sure you are going to get out. If Governor Leader thinks it takes courage, it must be that there was some question in his mind whether they were going to open the doors to let him out after he had visited an institution. It did not take any great courage for me, Senator; not a bit.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am going to disagree with the Majority Leader when he makes the statement that all of the children at Polk, or a great percentage of them, will be there permanently, because they have an educational program at Polk. As a matter of fact, at certain stages of the game they transfer children from Polk to the child welfare districts in the various counties for the purpose of paroling them. When they say "parole," they mean putting them in an institution or a home. The reason they do not transfer those who are in the educational program at Polk is because they do not want to interrupt their education.

I have been around quite a few of these mental institutions. I have visited Polk many, many times in my capacity as a county commissioner. I would like to say to the gentleman that as far as Polk is concerned, and particularly Polk, they can use the money because they need additional staff up there and they need more modern equipment. If Doctor Walker says $3.50 per patient per day, he is admitting to me, and to the people of Pennsylvania, that the State of Pennsylvania is spending more money in maintaining criminals in institutions than they are on those who are mentally ill. For that reason, I say the budget should be increased. There should be a per capita cost there of at least $4.25 per day.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I am very glad to see, at least, a price tag put on the daily care of patients in these hospitals. If $3.50 is the minimum which should be allowed and we multiply that by 6,700, which is the number of patients at the Philadelphia State Hospital, we will have somewhere around a $21,000,000 allowance at the end of the year.

As a matter of fact, they are getting less than a $3.00 allowance per patient per day at the present time. With the budget cut of $4,000,000, reducing the appropriation to $15,567,000, conditions at the Philadelphia State Hospital are going to be precarious. There necessarily will have to be a decrease in their food allowance.

At Norristown State Hospital, an allowance of $3.60 is made. In the last budget, at the Philadelphia State Hospital, a $3.00 allowance was made. There will also be a decrease in the fuel allowance. With the price of fuel increasing and the price of food increasing, we can readily imagine what is going to happen at the Philadelphia State Hospital within the next two years.

The employees at the Philadelphia State Hospital were given an incentive plan; an incentive plan to give them some interest in their job. If we decrease this allowance for the next two years, the employees will have to take cuts in their pay and it will be more difficult to get help. This will result in a larger turnover, and inexperienced men will come in there to take their place.

You must also take into consideration the fact that the population of Philadelphia State Hospital in November 1956 was 6,592 and today it is 6,700. Its capacity, according to their own statistics, is 5,366. Therefore, I hope these statistics alone, especially since they are admitted by our opposition, will result in the allowance being increased for the next two years.

If we can give Philadelphia State Hospital approximately $19,000,000, which I believe they asked for, they could do a half decent job. If we do not grant them what they are asking for this time, we are going back to the old system of custodial care, with no hope at all, which they had before, with guards there to keep the patients in a large room, and without the admission and discharge rate, which I understand has been doubled because of the increase in the appropriation.

I say it is wrong to decrease the appropriation, as has happened in House Bill No. 1700. They were given in the last biennium, $16,308,000. Now with over 1,000 more population, you are decreasing the appropriation one-half million dollars and I do not know what you expect from that institution. I am not speaking the words of Secretary of Welfare Shapiro. This is the report of the doctor directly in charge of that hospital, Doctor Eugene L. Sielke, who has been there for a long period of time, whose reputation is outstanding in the field and who is trying to do a good job. It certainly does not become our Body to cut down his appropriation.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated? Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, it is my impression that, in the normal course of events, the appropriation item for children's services in the counties would have been included in the General Appropriation Bill, House Bill No. 1700. As we have noted, it is not in that bill, but an appropriation for that purpose is now in a Senate Bill. Can the gentleman inform us as to the reason for this departure from the usual procedure?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Stevenson introduced that bill. I understood him to say the reason for it was because he thought it should be by a separate bill. I so understood it would have to be by a separate bill.

Senator Yosko and I are trying to find this item in the Governor's budget. I thought it was on one page and he says it is on another.

Mr. SEYLER. I have it back here. I can give that to you.

Mr. MAHANY. Will you tell me what page number it is in the Governor's budget?

Mr. SEYLER. Yes, it is on page 157.

Mr. President, I thank the gentleman. I take it his answer is concluded. While he is looking over the budget, I would like to make a comment on this item.

The Commonwealth, from time to time, encourages local communities, local counties in this case, to get into a certain field of service. The county goes ahead in good faith and installs certain services. With those services installed, it means acquiring personnel, oftentimes trained personnel, for which you must go out of the State or to another county. People, on the strength of the legislation passed by this State, are brought into our county, and into the other counties of the Commonwealth, to work at these specialized jobs and perform these services.

If the Commonwealth, having done that, withdraws or retracts these services to the extent that some of the personnel can no longer be retained, which, of course would be true if this item were cut to the point to which it is cut, then I believe the counties would be well advised in the future, if this is going to be typical of the Commonwealth's conduct, not to enter into any more of these services based on the promises of the Commonwealth. As you can see, there are only two things a county can do if our services are going to be cut by twenty-five per cent, as this bill would do one thing to do would be to take off that much service, which would mean discharging some of its personnel and giving less service to the community the other thing to do would be carry on the service at the expense of the county, which the county, in many cases, is unable or unwilling to do, because it has entered into this program on the faith that it would receive compensation in line with the Commonwealth's original offer.

Therefore, Mr. President, it seems that this particular item, which the gentleman is now searching for, is one where we should see to it that there is enough money so that the counties can continue the service which they undertook in good faith, at the Commonwealth's request. They should not have to resort to meeting this difference by local taxation.

The second comment I would like to make concerns a remark by the Majority Leader about Governor Leader. The gentleman sometimes loses his perspective and makes some remarks which I think, perhaps do not do credit to his ordinary, good taste and good nature. He made some facetious remarks here about the Governor's statement that it took some courage, perhaps, to go to these mental institutions, and he implied that perhaps the only courage it took, on the Governor's part, was that he was afraid he would not get out. That was a rather uncalled for remark which I would not make about the Majority Leader.

I would say that it perhaps takes a thick skin or a strong stomach to go and see some of the conditions which prevail in these institutions, which I have seen depicted by camera, without feeling some distaste. Perhaps the skin of the gentleman is thicker than that of the Governor. If that is what he is maintaining, I have no argument with that. Perhaps he has a stronger stomach. Certainly, the Governor's compassion in this instance, I think, is obviously genuine. I do not think the whole subject is one for frivolous and humorous remarks. The plight in which these people find themselves, and the condition of some of our institutions prior to a year or so ago is such that it was not a subject for humor. To that extent, at least, I wish to take exception to the remarks made by the Majority Leader.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Senator Seyler.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Seyler, Senator Yosko and I seem to differ relative to the exact place in this budget where this program appears. Am I not right in saying that it is on page 157, at the lower half of the page?

Mr. SEYLER. My understanding is that the item covered in Senate Bill No. 919, sponsored by Senator Stevenson, is the same item which, in the budget, appears on the lower half of page 157, under the heading, Children's Services."

Mr. MAHANY. Under that item, as I read my copy, there is set up for this particular service, for the 1957-1959 biennium, the sum of $1,524,000, of which $524,000 comes from reimbursement from Federal funds, leaving a net for us to raise of $1,000,000. Is that correct?

Mr. SEYLER. Where do you find the item of $524,000 subtracted, as being from Federal Funds?

Mr. MAHANY. Under the heading, "Source of Funds," appearing on the last portion of the page.

Mr. SEYLER. At the bottom? Yes, I see the item.

Mr. MAHANY. This is where we get our make-up of the $1,524,000. Five hundred and twenty-four thousand dollars comes from Federal aid and $1,000,000 comes from the General Fund appropriation, which totals $1,524,000. Is that correct?

Mr. SEYLER. I say you are reading correctly, as I see it.

Mr. MAHANY. Of course, all we need then, for this purpose, is $1,000,000 from the General Fund. Is that correct?

Mr. SEYLER. That seems to be correct arithmetic.

Mr. MAHANY. That is the amount Senator Stevenson has in his bill. Therefore, if we pass Senator Stevenson's bill, the House passes it and the Governor signs it, that will take care of the needs as per the Governor's request. Is that true?

Mr. SEYLER. I would say that sounds true.

Mr. MAHANY. Another thing is that you stated the counties were relying on some contracts set up, as I understand it, by legislation enacted by the State. Can you tell me under what legislative authority Secretary Shapiro instituted this program?

Mr. SEYLER. The Children's Services Program?

Mr. MAHANY. Yes.

Mr. SEYLER. The only citation of legislation I find in the budget is reference to the source of Federal funds. I would assume that it was necessary for local legislation to be passed before we could take advantage of the Federal funds. However, the gentleman has an advantage over me because I do not have the citation at hand.

Mr. MAHANY. I cannot find any legislative authority for this either. I believe that Senator Shapiro, acting as the Secretary of Welfare, just took this under his own jurisdiction and decided that he was going to give out these grants under whatever authority he had in the General Appropriation Bill of the last Session. I do not believe you will find any legislative authority for this, even though you check all the law books in the State of Pennsylvania. Between now and tomorrow, I wish you would ask the Secretary of Welfare what legislative authority he had in putting out this money to the counties.

Mr. SEYLER. I will be glad to do that. It is my opinion, for whatever it is worth to you, that Children's Services were in existence and being subsidized, in part by the State, in my county prior to the appointment of Secretary Shapiro.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not understand that to be correct. However, I would like to have a report on that subject from Senator Seyler tomorrow.

I do not like to refer to the Governor's actions facetiously, but he left me no alternative when I picked up the newspaper the other day and saw, in glaring headlines, that the Governor stated we were all cowards and did not have any guts. He just did not refer to the Republicans when he said that. He also included you Democrats in his all-inclusive statement. I just want to tell the Governor that I have visited the mental institutions for many years. Any time I wanted to visit them, I was always admitted; any time I wanted to get out of them they always permitted me to leave I did not feel it took any courage to go in when I had pretty good assurance that I was going to get out.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I have the task of being the anchor man for the Philadelphia delegation in the Senate, as far as the mental health appropriation is concerned. I just want to wind up our requests by saying these words.

We, in Philadelphia, hope that the Republican Members of this Senate do not relegate 2,000,000 people in the city of Philadelphia to the rank of second class citizens by the appropriations you have given to our institutions. As one of the largest cities in this State, and as a city which is progressive and should be well taken care of, I think the ax came down very hard on our institutions and the welfare of our people.

I do not like to think that our only crime in Philadelphia, for being taken care of in such a manner, is because we are a Democratic city. I do not think that is true. I know the men on the other side have a great deal of feeling and a great deal of respect for the problems which confront this Commonwealth. However, we, in Philadelphia, cannot help wondering why, of all the counties, we have been treated in the manner in which we have been treated regarding appropriations.

Mr. President, I hope, when this bill gets to the Conference Committee, that my good friends, on the Republican side, will search deep in their hearts and realize that we, in Philadelphia, need, and would like to have, the same treatment as you have displayed to most of the counties in this Commonwealth.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I did not intend to debate this issue but, after the last statement made by Senator Mahany, I just had to say something.

Senator Mahany talked about the Governor making some statement about somebody being a coward. I was in the Appropriations Committee room when Duke Kaminski walked in and read the Governor's statement. Frankly, it made me just as sore as it made Senator Mahany and the rest of you. I was ready to pick up the papers which were in front of me and just go up to Room 400. However, let me say that all the criticism which has been leveled at the gentlemen on the other side, the same criticism has been leveled at the Republican Party by civic organizations, through the newspapers by editorials, by groups of all kinds who are interested in good government and in a decent mental health program, and from many other sources. These criticisms have been caused by you, the Republicans, yourselves. I will tell you why.

You started out a little while ago by saying that some of these cuts were made because of the hearings which were held by the Joint Appropriations Committee. It is true that the hearings were held. However, I cannot, for the life of me, understand why, after you held those hearings, you did not get together with the Members of the House and agree on an appropriation bill which would not have subjected you to the criticism which has been leveled at you.

When you turn to the mental health program, what do you find in House Bill No. 1700? It is of your own making. I cannot understand why you made these cuts in one branch of the Legislature, controlled by your own Party, and subject yourselves to all this criticism, cut your heads off, and then, when the bill comes over here, try to sew your heads back on again by restoring the cuts. I just cannot understand it.

This is what you did over in the House on House Bill

No. 1700. I am now talking about mental health and the Department of Welfare. You reduced the budget by $27,000,000, and when you did that, the criticism started. Now you are trying to rectify it. For example, you reduced services to the aged by $1,555,743. You reduced the day care for children of migrant workers from the budget request, as I have it here, of $295,532 to $8,000. Between you and me, you should take the $8,000 out because it is like throwing $8,000 down the sewer. What can you do with $8,000 for this problem? You just cannot do anything effective with it. If you cannot do an effective job with it, you may as well eliminate it entirely. However, by making that large a cut, you just opened the door for people to criticize you.

When you cut the expenses for the return of the mentally ill from $1,737,000 to $517,000, in round figures, you opened yourselves to criticism from that group.

I received fifty letters from blind associations regarding a budget reduction for the blind. You then eliminated a few of the programs that are contained in the budget and, because of that, you got some more people against you.

Let us take a look at the ten medical-surgical hospitals. In House Bill No. 1700, you reduced those appropriations by $4,718,000. By doing this, you got people in every locality, where these hospitals are located, bouncing all over you with all sorts of editorials, criticizing you.

What did you do with the seventeen mental institutions? You cut $30,539,000 from the mental institutions and then you really got in wrong. The boards of trustees began to complain and threaten to resign; the hospital administrators threatened to resign. When it was reported to the newspapers, it made headlines and the headlines made editorials. Therefore, you subjected yourselves to that criticism.

Let us come down to the institutions for the mentally deficient and the epileptics. You reduced that appropriation by $7,670,000 and you got some more people on your necks.

When you came down to the training school at Morganza, you cut that appropriation by $547,000, and one of the items which was contained in the budget was left out entirely.

As I see it here, the reimbursement to the counties for mental health services was cut by $5,428,000.

I could go down the line giving the figures to make up the $27,000,000 that you cut from the budget. Now you say you are going to throw it into a Conference Committee and you are going to restore whatever is justified. That is too little and it is too late. At least, it is too late so far as you are concerned. Therefore, whatever criticism has been leveled at you by the newspapers and by others, in my opinion, was justified.

Mr. President, I have heard some criticism made here about Secretary Shapiro this afternoon. Some of it was pretty picayune. I heard that he gave some girl eight raises and that he hired some publicist. What has that to do with running the mental health program? Let us get away from this picayune business and let us think of the over-all mental health program for the good of Pennsylvania.

I just want to say that Secretary Shapiro makes me just as angry as he does you, because of his attitude sometimes. However, I want to say this because I believe it. If Pennsylvania is taken out of the muck, so far as mental health is concerned, you can give credit to Secretary Shapiro. He works at it day and night; he eats it, he sleeps it and he really works at it. If there have been any improvements in the mental health program, I defy anybody to say that Secretary Shapiro is not to receive credit for it. That much I will say for him. However, I will repeat what I said before. He makes me just as angry as he makes many other people. Secretary Shapiro was appointed to do a job. He is doing the job, and you must give him credit for it.

In one breath, I heard someone on the Republican side say that Secretary Shapiro was extravagant. In another breath, I heard there is $17,000,000 remaining from the last biennium. Therefore, the two statements do not tie in. Secretary Shapiro must have been thrifty in some respects. He has given us a mental health program of which I think we can be proud.

The situation on mental health in Pennsylvania has reversed itself over the last two years. We were getting kicked all over the lot, two years ago, because of the lack of a program. Now the criticism comes for trying to destroy what has been built up. Of course, it takes money. I am hoping that the Legislative Budget Committee Bill will pass the House. I also hope the Governor will sign it, so that whatever funds we appropriate for mental health, or for any other purpose, can be controlled by this Legislature.

You know, every once in awhile, when you walk through the halls of this Legislature and you hear talk about the mental health program, you hear the mentally ill referred to as "nuts." I never say anything to people who refer to them in that respect. However, I say to myself, "Stupid ass," because it is not the fault of those people who are mentally ill. They are human beings, the same as we are, except they are sick in body and sick in mind. We should sympathize with them and we should do everything we possibly can for them. If we do that, we will receive our reward from the people and we will receive our reward from the Creator, as well.

Mr. President, there is one item in this budget about which I want to comment and then I will be finished talking. That item is in regard to the Eastern Psychiatric Institute in Philadelphia. That institution really got a budget cut. It was cut just about fifty per cent. I think that cut is a big mistake, because I think that institution is the guts and the heart of the whole mental health program. It is in that institution where they train people to care for the mentally ill.

All of us were over in the House when Doctor Menninger was here from Kansas. He said that he could cure and help the mentally ill in a stable if he had the trained personnel. With that, I agree. He said that in the State of Kansas, the first thing they concentrated on, in connection with their mental health program, which is the best in the Nation, was training people to administer these institutions and to care for the mentally ill. After they got the trained personnel, they then began to build new institutions because they knew they could staff them. Unless we train people in Pennsylvania to care for the mentally ill, we are going to pour our money down the sewer. Therefore, Mr. President, I hope because of that the appropriation to the Eastern Psychiatric Institute will be restored in order for it to carry on the good work it is doing.

It was not Secretary Shapiro who made the recommendation for that budget request. It was the heads of five of our medical schools in Pennsylvania, who form the board of trustees and who are charged with the management of that institute. It was the Dean of Jefferson Medical School, the Dean of the University of Pennsylvania, the Dean of Woman's Medical College, the Dean of Temple University Medical School and the Dean of Hahnemann Medical School. They are the people who made the budget request. They are the people who are responsible for running the Eastern Psychiatric Institute. I was told by one of them that, right now, they have some of the best scientific brains on mental health working at that institution, developing programs and training people who will be funneled into the seventeen mental institutions which we have in Pennsylvania. I repeat, Mr. President, it will be a mistake to cut that appropriation in half. I certainly hope it will be restored.

Every penny we give for an over-all mental health program will take care of itself after the program gets into full force and is working. If we could reduce the case load in each one of these institutions, it would mean a savings in money. I predict if we can institute the kind of a program which they have in Kansas today, all of the money we are spending today will be returned.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to clarify a point in our debate in regard to the reimbursement to the various counties for the care of dependent and neglected children. I would like to advise Senator Mahany, if he will listen, that I just talked with Norman Lourie, who is the assistant to Secretary Shapiro. Mr. Lourie advised me that when the Welfare Department made up their budget, their first figure was $2,021,000. Then they found there was an error, and a figure of $1,000,000 was put out. That was an error and we were so notified. What they actually need to match the Federal money is a sum of $1,675,000.

I wish to inform the Senator that they are going to receive $524,000 from the Federal Government. They must have this money, it is my understanding, in order to secure the Federal money for this program.

I thought that would clear it up because there has been some confusion as to the actual amount needed for this particular part of the program.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. LANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. SILVERT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and Mr. SILVERT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20

Barr,	Hays,	Mullin,	Seyler,
Camel,	Lane,	Murray,	Silver,
Dent,	McGinnis,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Derk,	McMenamin,	Sarra,	Weiner,
Donolow,	Miller,	Schmidt,	Yosko,

NAYS—27

Berger,	Kessler,	Propert,	Walker,
Blass,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Scott,	Watkins,
Chapman,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Watson,
Ehrgood,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Whalley,
Elliott,	Mahany,	Van Sant,	Wolfe,
Flack,	Mallery,	Wade,	Fleming,
Harney,	Pechan,	Wagner,	Presiding Officer

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, Senator Pechan was quite disturbed that I did not say anything today. So, not to sappoint him, I want to say a few words on behalf of the historical bills which have been tangibly cut. The Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish did not help this year; that is gone.

There is a gentleman living in Norristown, a prominent attorney and one of the advisers of Senator Proctor, who as instrumental last year in effecting the demise of two bills, Senate Bill No. 672 and Senate Bill No. 673, relating to historical zoning. The gentleman is none other than an attorney by the name of Gallagher, who is now President of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania. Even so is Mr. Gallagher, the arch conservative, a man of no restraint, a man of circumspect, a man who places constitutional principles higher than the preservation of the glorious historical heritage of Pennsylvania, is indignant because of the cut in the appropriation for historical purposes in Pennsylvania.

Unless those reductions are rectified, Mr. President, I believe we will suffer a setback in our work for the preservation of Pennsylvania's historical sites and landmarks.

There is no doubt, in light of what is now going on in Virginia, where they have such fine celebrations in Jamestown and are benefitting from the many tourists who come there from the world over, that we, in Pennsylvania, are very much on the debit side.

For this reason, Mr. President, I do hope that all the members of the Senate, to whom the gems of Pennsylvania's historical past are dear and near, will see to it that this will not be touched.

I remember a scene which touched me during the recent Session, and that was Senator Kessler pruning the budget. However, when it came to the figures dealing with the Historical Commission of Pennsylvania, he threw his hands up and said, "This we do not touch." However, this time it has been touched. I do hope it will be reconsidered in order that the ambitious program of restoring many sites in Pennsylvania and of increasing the flow of tourists can be brought to fruition so that Pennsylvania can become the mecca of American tourism.

Even the city of Lancaster, where they are trying to rebuild the Landis Agricultural Museum, which no doubt will compete with Cooperstown, in New York, will suffer setback.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am pleading with the Members of the Senate to be considerate and restore the figure of the appropriation for the Historical Commission of Pennsylvania.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I am offering the following amendments, and I then ask to be recognized to speak on the question of the adoption of the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 44, line 16 by striking out "$1,491,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "$3,010,642"; amend

Sec. 3, page 45, line 9 by striking out "$433,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "$505,071"; amend Sec. 2, page 47, line 19 by striking out "615,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "650,000"; amend Sec. 2, page 48, line 3 by striking out "$150,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "$200,000"; amend Sec. 2, page 48, line 7 by striking out "245,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "290,491"; amend Sec. 2, page 48, line 10 by striking out "200,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "251,102"; amend Sec. 2, page 49, line 2 by striking out "$405,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "$670,935"; amend Sec. 2, page 49, line 7 by striking out "345,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "366,000"; amend Sec. 2, page 51, line 7 by striking out "$3,642,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "$4,093,000"; amend Sec. 2, page 51, line 11 by striking out "280,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "361,000"; amend Sec. 2, page 51, line 14 by striking out "40,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "48,800"; amend Sec. 2, page 51, line 17 by striking out "34,668,470" and inserting in lieu thereof: "36,736,470"; amend Sec. 2, page 52, line 5 by striking out "$1,757,600" and inserting in lieu thereof: "$2,182,600"; amend Sec. 2, page 52, line 20 by striking out "education or"; amend Sec. 2, page 52, line 20, by striking out "2,100,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "3,300,000"; amend Sec. 2, page 53, line 7 by striking out "10,850,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "14,500,000".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I have included in these amendments all of the recommended changes, as far as we are concerned, in the Public Instruction budget.

It is not my purpose at all to conduct a filibuster, as has been inferred perhaps here, but it will take a little bit of time to discuss this. It is a subject which seems to me is of primary importance to all of us. We just heard a discussion of the Welfare budget, and that, of course, is a budget which has a great deal of human interest, dealing as it does with our less fortunate citizens.

The problems of public education are the problems which will determine the welfare of this Commonwealth and of this Nation in the future for a long time to come. We see all around us that the other nations of the world are doing all they can, and de-emphasizing other areas of expenditure, in order to see to it that a full program of public education is afforded.

In America we have no central agency that can do this and, perhaps, wisely so we have provided that the States shall have the job of seeing to it that our youth are educated to become citizens. Therefore, Senator Hays and I entered upon a bit of research on this budget to determine whether this budget would furnish the kind of program of public education which would meet the specifications and the needs of a modern Commonwealth in these times.

I, first, would like to make some general observations about the budget before I enter upon a detailed discussion of what these amendments entail. To begin, I would like to say that we found that the amounts in the Governor's budget represented, in most cases, already a compromise figure; that they were not the figures which were originally offered by the department as meeting the needs of the Commonwealth in these various areas, but that they had already been reduced from that figure. Figures were offered which, in the best professional judgment of the people of the department, were the amounts necessary to do the job. These amounts were reduced. Perhaps this was a mistake. Perhaps it would have been wiser, in view of what has taken place, for those original amounts, which did represent good professional judgment, to have been included in the Governor's budget. I want you to know that they were not. Those figures which you are now cutting represent previous cuts in what seemed to these people, who work in this area, the needs of this department.

Another general observation I would like to make is that the expenditures which apparently formed the basis, in many cases, for the appropriations placed in this bill are presumably based on figures given by the department of the expenditures up to a certain date, and then a projection made of those figures to the end of the biennium. We found several things about that.

First of all, we found that the actual projections, which were furnished by the House Committee on Appropriations as being the estimated expenditures, and on which you base your figure, do not agree with our Department of Public Instruction, in many cases.

Secondly, we found that the pattern of expenditures, in many cases, in this particular budget on Public Instruction, was such that the expenditures are heaviest near the end of the biennium, in the last months of the biennium, because those are the months in which the school fiscal year is ending. For that reason, since that pattern was not carried out, and since an estimate was made based on expenditures up to a previous date, the figures given in this estimated expenditure were largely incorrect.

Thirdly, we found, with regard to this figure of estimated expenditures, that the expenditures made during the last biennium, in many cases, were not representative of the needs of the next biennium for several reasons. First of all, many of the programs under the Department of Public Instruction could not be begun during the last biennium until two-thirds of the biennium was over, and you know the reason for that. The reason for that was because the Legislature was in Session for an unusually long time, and most of the important items of legislation, in the program of Public Instruction, were held up until near the end of the Legislative Session. For that reason, these appropriations could not, in many cases, be representative of the needs of the next biennium. Also, many of the new programs that were legislated during the last biennium—and late as they were—were, in this biennium, only in the process of being geared-up and getting started.

I give you, for example, the program for retarded children. It takes time before you can find the right personnel who are needed, and before you can set up the procedures that are needed to get such a program rolling. For that reason, we did not reach a typical expenditure in this program until very near the end of the biennium, and in some areas of the program, not at all.

Further, with regard to these estimated expenditures, the Superintendent of Public Instruction was appointed very late in the biennium. For that reason, he could not begin the innovations in the program that were needed or the improvements in the program that were generally recognized as needed until very late in the biennium.

To sum up what I have said, we might say that we have had one and one-third years of a very weak program in the Department of Public Instruction during the first biennium of this Administration, and we had only two-thirds of one year which constituted the beginning of a real program.

Another observation I would like to make is that many of the appropriations in this budget are cut in cases where you just cannot cut. In other words, the Legislature has mandated certain expenditures, and it is just a question of the department taking the population figures involved, the number of teaching units or whatever it is based on, and multiplying that by the amount of money legislated and arriving at a result. Sometimes it is a more complicated formula, as in transportation, for example, which uses the reimbursement fraction. However, in any case, you cannot cut these figures. They have been figured out by the department, by men who have worked in this field and who, certainly, in their judgments and calculations about the amount of money that will be required, and in the population figures they produced to base it on, are more reliable than any of us in this Chamber. I am speaking for those people and saying that these items cannot be cut. I am thinking of items such as salaries of the county superintendents, the assistant county superintendents, and so forth; the item of transportation, which I just mentioned and many others, which I will mention in the course of discussing these amendments.

You cannot cut those appropriations and it is ridiculous to put on paper such cuts, because everyone knows this will only result in a deficit for the amount noted.

Finally, I would like to observe that this particular budget deals with the education of children. As I said before, it concerns our future as a State and as a nation. These false economy that I would like to point out in these various items is ruinous if we go through with it.

For anyone who is interested in following, I would like to take up these amendments item by item. There are not too many of them. I will mention the pages and the line numbers, in case you want to follow.

The first one I am going to discuss is the general appropriation to the department which covers salaries and expenses of the department. This budget item is found on page 44. The appropriation itself is found on line 16. I would like to tell you that the Governor's budget in this case called for $3,010,642 and this has been cut, in House Bill No. 1700, to $1,491,400. In other words, there has been about a fifty per cent cut. The Governor's request has been cut in half, to the tune of one and one-half million dollars.

This was based on an estimated expenditure, according to the House Committee's figures, of $1,482,000. This is a very good example, Mr. President, of the deception which is contained in these estimated expenditures. Let me give you the actual expenditures, not fictional, not estimated, but the actual expenditures for one month in the budget near, as I say, the end of the biennium when we were getting toward a defensible program. Then let us multiply that by twenty-four and let us see which of these two figures, the one in the Governor's budget or the one in this bill, is the more sensible, the more factual and the more realistic.

Let us take the month of April 1957, which is a recent month. These are actual expenditures from the Department.

For salaries and expenses, $91,731; an item called Junior Historians, $956; State Council of Education, $4,778; and a sum which is paying for the on-going revision of our school curriculum, $12,917, which adds up to a total of $110,382. Now that represents one representative month. I chose one month late in the program because, as I said, the pattern of expenditure increases as you reach the end of the millennium. If we multiply that one month's expenditure by twenty-four months, and that is what it will take to run for the next two years, we come up with a figure of $2,649,168. As I said, even this figure is deceptive for this reason. It does not include a full program, because we are still in process of gearing-up. There are personnel and services which are not covered in this item.

I now go to an estimate of the department. We should add, to make that figure representative of the next twenty-four months, $335,788, in the opinion of the department, because that represents the salaries to be incurred by the persons who are already in line to be hired, projected over twenty-four months. That would bring us to a total of $2,984,956. The Governor's budget asked for $3,010,642 or a difference of about $30,000. This is taken care of by the fact that in our figures, we have not at all made any increase in materials or any other things we buy, such as printing, supplies of all sorts, nor made any increase in cost, which we should do. For that reason, I would say that the figure of $3,010,642 requested in the Governor's budget is a realistic one, one that will stand out. The figure of $1,491,400 which is in this bill would make it impossible for this department to operate in the manner in which our legislation has asked it to operate, and in the manner in which the parents and other people in this Commonwealth expect it to operate.

I would like to point out that throughout this department, the positions needed and provided for in legislation are only eighty per cent filled as of this time. The reason for this, of course, is that it has been difficult to recruit people. Due to inadequate salaries and due to other problems in this connection, it has been difficult to get the kind of people we need, although we are in process of getting them. We have made progress. Salary increases, in some cases, have made it possible to get adequate personnel.

It is estimated, by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, that in order to make this cut which appears in House Bill No. 1700, in this one item and still keep the department going and performing the services which you have mandated it to perform, in such fashion as it may be able to, it will be necessary in order to meet that cut for this Department in this one item to let out 17 employees from their figure. The figure of 117 employees includes present employees, plus the number of employees which as I said, were contemplated and about to be hired under the program.

This reduction in the appropriation would necessitate a drastic dropping of personnel. It would mean that some deputies would have to be eliminated and some bureau heads would have to be eliminated. It would mean that some very experienced personnel who have been with the department for ten to fifteen years would have to be dropped. This, of course, means that the services of the Commonwealth which are performed by this department in public schools, and other schools of the Commonwealth, would be curtailed and would deteriorate.

This is a serious matter. Look at this figure which covers salaries and expenses. If you look behind this

For years, and deservedly so, our Department of Public Instruction was criticized for a lack of leadership, a lack of vision. Now we have made the arrangements for, and we have underway, a program which I believe has to some extent and will further, as it goes rolling, take up that slack and place our Department of Public Instruction in the forefront among the various States of the Nation in the leadership of a good educational program. In this bill and with this appropriation, we are about to destroy that program.

The second item I would like to discuss will be found on page 45, line 9, of House Bill No. 1700. This is the item which deals with the State Library. You are all familiar with the State Library. I know that many of you probably resort to it for research purposes, books and other services. I do myself. It is a very important part of our State Government and we should keep our State Library among the good State libraries of the Nation.

More than that, I would like to point out to you that this item also contains an appropriation which is essential to the rural extension library program in this Commonwealth, which is about to be expanded and which will have importance in the predominantly rural counties of this Commonwealth. Incidentally, as contained in House Bill No. 1700, the appropriation of $433,000 represents a cut of $72,000 from the suggested item in the Governor's budget of $505,000.

If this cut goes through, the Department informed Senator Hays and I that it will prejudice the receiving of $685,000 in Federal funds to be used for a rural extension program. This fund is dependent on local and State action, in addition to Federal action. The department is embarking on the program, and the program will have to be scuttled if this cut is made.

The next item is not covered in my amendments, but I would like to call your attention to it. One page 46, line 15, you will find a curious item. This is an item for the Examining Boards. If you check this item, you will find the Governor asked for $1,101,000. At the present time, this budget calls for $1,151,000. That figure represents an increase of $50,000. I am not attempting to do anything about that by amendment. I have no complaint because that represents, I understand, the provision for additional barber shop inspectors. I have no objection to that. If they are needed, I am perfectly willing to go along.

It is more than what the Governor asked for, you see. Fifty thousand dollars has been added for barber shop inspectors which, perhaps, is a good thing. I am not anti-barber; therefore, I am not against it. However, I want you to contrast adding $50,000 to an item like this when we are taking out money that is needed for the education of our children and youth. I say if this austerity budget must be carried out, if our children's education must suffer and if the future of our youth must be prejudiced, let us not put in additional moneys for barber inspectors.

The next item in my amendments, however, is on page 47, line 19. This has to do with the Public School Employees' Retirement Board salaries and expenditures. The Governor's budget asked for $650,000, and House Bill No. 1700 makes provision for $615,000. This would mean a cut of $35,000. To get behind the figures and talk about this cut in terms of service, this cut would deprive the department of the services of consultants. In this case, I believe it is the Mellon Bank that was asked by the Commonwealth, due to legislation passed by the past Legislature, to enter upon a program of reinvestment of the funds in this retirement fund in order to get more income.

As you know, every year the Commonwealth has to put money into this fund in order to take care of the fact that our investments do not meet the anticipated figure on which we built the fund. In order to get more money into the fund, a program of reinvestment was begun with a banking consultant, working for the department. Cutting this appropriation would mean cutting that service. What you are saying in this amendment is that we are going to save $35,000 and perhaps spend $100,000 during the next biennium to make up funds, which perhaps could have been avoided.

The next item in my amendments is one which has already been brought to the attention of the Senators. It is on page 48, line 3. The Governor has asked for a sum of $200,000 for a school lunch and school milk program. This appropriation deals primarily with administration, but unless you have the administration, you cannot get Federal funds. The Federal Government puts up the funds for this program and our children benefit by receiving school lunches and school milk.

Someone in the Senate must have become interested in this, because I notice in the Senate version of this bill, under the new printer's number, that you have added $30,000, bringing the amount up to $150,000. Even at this, it may mean a severe curtailment of the program. We have had an increasing population. That is one thing which has raised this cost. Another thing is the fact that school lunch programs have been promoted by the schools. Another reason is because we have had more transportation of school children. Therefore, more children could not go home for meals, which means greater necessity for entering upon this school lunch program.

I do not know how you are going to stop that expansion. You cannot stop the population. Also, we are trying to encourage more jointures and mergers and, therefore, we are going to have more of a problem in feeding these children.

This reduction would mean that out of a staff of twenty-one, nine people would have to be dropped because, as I say, this money goes into administration. It is also possible that about $4,678,000 in Federal money for school lunches and milk-aid might be forfeited thereby. About forty per cent of the program would have to be curtailed with the dropping of these additional personnel. We would not do it this way, but forty per cent of sixty-seven counties is about twenty-five counties. I wonder if you would like to designate to the department which counties you would like to have deprived of school lunches and school milk. In that way, we can meet the cuts made in this bill.

The next item I would like to discuss is on page 48, line 7. This is an item which concerns speech and hearing rehabilitation centers. This item covers the funds by which those centers are operated.

Here is an example of an item which had already been cut in the Governor's budget more than in the professional judgment of the educators of the department was thought wise. It had already been cut by $15,000. You gentlemen have gone ahead and made an additional cut of $45,000, which makes an actual cut, a net loss let us say, of $60,000 out of a requested item of $290,481. All the money in this fund goes for two purposes; for personnel to examine the children for their hearing and speech, and for hearing aids which are furnished to the children under the program.

At the present time there are five centers in the Commonwealth. Those centers are located at Harrisburg, State College, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Scranton. It was proposed by the department to add one more, which would have been in the Erie area. That would have made a total of six centers. The present setup serves approximately 7,500 youngsters.

This cut would mean, first of all, that the Erie center, which would take care of the children in the northwestern area of the Commonwealth, will be scuttled. They will not be able to do it. Any of you who have any feeling about the children in the northwestern part of the State can feel that you can, by your vote, contribute here as to whether they will have that center or not, because the superintendent said flatly that it will be impossible. Not only that, but one of the five centers now set up for speech and hearing problems among children will not be able to be carried on. One-fifth of the present services will be cut out. Shall that service be cut in Harrisburg, State College, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia or Scranton? This is another decision you might help the department to make.

The next item I have in my amendments is found on page 48, line 10. This is an amendment which deals with the public service institutes which are operated by the department, the purpose of these being to teach firemen, policemen and municipal officers more about the law regarding their duties, and more about the techniques and skills of their duties. School directors, justices of the peace, constables, supervisors and so on, are among the people who are being trained and educated. The Governor's budget calls for an item of $251,000. You have reduced it to $200,000, which means—and it is easy to figure this—that you are going to have to drop one-fifth of the program that is, one-fifth of the present institutes. Home rule and good local governments depend on well-trained and well-informed local officials. Good law enforcement, public health and public safety depend on this kind of training.

For a long time, the program of the department trains the individuals. The new program of the department which is already in operation and would continue if they could afford it, is to train the leaders right in the region and then they can train these classes. This is a vastly improved program, because it reaches a considerably larger number of these people who need the training, than did the previous program.

I say if you are going to cut this program by one-fifth again you could help the department by telling them in what counties these services shall be dropped or in what counties these services shall be dropped or in what areas of service. Shall it be the firemen, the policemen, or what shall it be?

The next item I want to talk about is on page 48, line 2. That item covers the administration of the Authority and Sinking Fund requirements. We have turned over to the department an important job, which they originally did in part up until the last Session. We assigned them this new job because, when we looked over the picture of the millions of dollars that we are putting into the school building program and realized that no one was really checking on this to see that wise decisions were made and that a lot of unnecessary things were not being built, we realized, at that point, that we needed someone to supervise this job and we turned it over to the department.

The Governor's budget for this item asked for $670,135, which the department said was not enough. In other words, the Governor had cut this appropriation lower than the need of the department to do this job of supervising the spending of these millions of dollars on this important matter of school buildings. In your bill, you cut that to $405,000, which is a cut of $226,000 or more than one-third.

You cannot do a job like this unless you have the personnel to do it. You need the kind of personnel who can go in and really check on what is needed, to see whether prudence and economy are being practiced, in order to save the State money in reimbursement and to get an economically and educationally sound building program for the Commonwealth.

Last Session we were late in passing this legislation, as you know. There was considerable discussion, and it was late in the Session when we did it. Therefore, the program was late in getting started. Gearing up was again a difficult process because of the personnel problem. Therefore, we have actually only been operating the program for six months, and then not at the full strength of the program.

This program supervises expenditures which, by 1959, are estimated to reach $825,000,000. At the rate of $6,000,000 a month, we are advancing money to erect these school buildings. I think you will agree that at the rate of $6,000,000 a month, we need someone to check on these expenditures and see that they are being handled properly. Do we want this job done or do we not? If we do not want it done, let us cut it out. Let us not have a job half done.

If this cut is made, there will be a delay in the processing of the applications of the school districts which have sent in applications. The local districts, in other words, will be held up in their building programs in every county in the Commonwealth which has applications before the department. The superintendent, at this moment, has ordered applications of school districts returned, because they cannot be processed. If he has to make these cuts, it will be totally impossible to meet the rate at which these applications are submitted.

On page 49, line 3, is the next item in my amendments. This deals with farm and home safety education. It is a relatively small item and it was not in Governor Leader's budget at all. The House Committee on Appropriations put in an item of $30,000. Why was it not in the Governor's budget? I think this is important. It is only a little item, but I think it is important because it reveals the haphazard fashion in which this budget was thrown together, it seems to me. If they had investigated, they would have found that the $30,000 which they have now in, and have added to, this austerity budget is already included in another item.

According to the recommendations of the Governor's commission which called for consolidation of functions for more efficiency and to prevent duplication, this item had already been included in the vocational education item.

Since you did not cut that item and you put an appropriation of $30,000 in this bill, what you have done, in effect, is given a boost of $30,000 to the vocational education budget. I do not object to this, but I say it is a very haphazard way to construct an appropriation bill.

The next item is one which I think should attract some of your attention and interest. It is on page 49, line 7. It is an item that deals with the Pennsylvania State Oral School, which is an institution for the education of deaf pupils. The Governor's budget called for $366,000. You have reduced that request by $21,000. At the last Session, we passed an appropriation of $400,000 for this purpose.

I would like you to realize that this is the only school in the Public Instruction budget that you cut. It is a school for deaf pupils. You will remember that I referred before to the cut in this rehabilitation program for speech and hearing defects among children, which also cuts the program for the deaf. What am I to gather from this? Are we angry with the deaf and hard-of-hearing children? These are children, handicapped in their way, just like children handicapped in other areas.

You may ask why they did not spend the $400,000 they were appropriated in the last biennium. The head of this institution was a gentleman who was serving until a qualified person could be appointed. The qualified person was not found immediately. He has now been found and he is about to be hired. This cut would mean, among other things, that it would be impossible to hire a qualified person as the head of this institution.

My next item is on page 51, line 7, and it relates to the salaries of county superintendents, assistant county superintendents, supervisors of special education and so on. The Governor's budget called for an item of $4,093,000. House Bill No. 1700 calls for $3,642,000 or a reduction of $451,000 in this item. Our county offices are, of course, the intermediate units in our State educational system. Education is a State function. We operate these institutions through our connection with the local educational systems, our representatives in the counties.

At the last Session of this Legislature, the same Members who are now proposing this bill, in many cases, voted to have increased personnel in these county offices and we voted to increase the services. We did not increase the salaries. There is no increase in salary represented in the Governor's figure. This is one of those exact figures; this is one you cannot cut. It is a question of actual need. The only way you can cut this budget would be to legislate cutting salaries, cutting the number of personnel and the services they are to perform. Is that what you want to do? If it is, I wish you would introduce the legislation to do it so that the department would know what to do about this. The department says—and I think they are as expert as anyone—that this figure simply cannot be cut. Their estimate is a firm one, and it represents the amount that will be needed.

It may be, alternatively, that you are planning on a large deficiency in the Department of Public Instruction. If you are, and that is the answer, of course, the thing to do I think is to be honest about it and say, "We do not expect this will meet the needs, but we would prefer to take care of it by deficit financing."

The next item, appearing on page 51, line 14, is related.

It deals with expenses paid to county boards for holding their meetings. Again, here you have a fixed cost. You just take the number of members of county boards and multiply it by the figure in the legislation and that gives you your answer. Senator Hays and I have noted that the amount of the cut would just about mean, using the new figure in this bill, that we could finance nine meetings a year, rather than the twelve meetings which are now held by these county boards. Is it the Republican stand on this that we should have only nine meetings a year of the county boards? If it is, there, again, we should know that this is what you want and the members of these county boards should know it.

The next item is transportation, on page 51, line 17. This is a large cut of $2,068,000. Here is another figure which cannot be cut because you get the figures, you put them into the formula and you come out with the answer. John Hertz of the department has estimated this figure.

I think any one of use who has worked with Mr. Hertz, who has been with the department for a long time, would have to agree that he is probably the best qualified person in the Commonwealth to give you an exact figure on what this would cost. He holds that this is an uncuttable figure.

I do not know what your intention is. Are you intending to reduce the amount of transportation? If that is the purpose, let us announce that to the local districts and let them know they are not going to receive the amount of transportation they have come to expect through your legislation.

The next item is miscellaneous subsidies. Senator Watkins, I only have a few items left. Miscellaneous subsidies is a nice thing to cut because who is going to shed tears for something miscellaneous? We do not even know what is miscellaneous. However, when you break down the term "miscellaneous" and find out where these funds go, it becomes less of a joke and less humorous.

What is included in this miscellaneous item is the tuition of children placed in orphanages and the tuition of children placed in private foster homes. This applies to cases where the court takes children out of their homes because of a decision that this would be for the improvement of the child's environment and places them in orphanages or private foster homes. It also applies to children who have no homes and are placed in such homes, in which case tuition is paid to the districts who receive them.

Another item under the heading of miscellaneous subsidies is the education of blind babies. Another item is scholarships for the blind and deaf. Another item is competitive scholarships which are handed out annually to students who have the highest marks in the competitive examinations in our local Senatorial Districts. The education of the Cornplanter Indian children is included in this miscellaneous item. Finally, it includes taxes which are paid for and used for flood control, which are paid to local districts to make up for the loss of taxes that such districts sustain for that reason.

This is a sizeable cut for that department. It is a cut of almost one-half million dollars. You have previously, by law, said that the Commonwealth is going to pay the whole bill with regard to these children placed in orphanages and foster homes. Are you going to withdraw from that position? If so, where is the legislation to do it?

Next to my last item, if you will bear with me, is one which cuts the appropriation for extension education. This is on page 52, line 20.

I think that what you have said you want to do, as I read it in the newspapers, is drop the moneys which were formerly paid for programs regarding adult recreation. However, that is not what the bill does. The way the bill is worded, in line 20, on page 52, it would not only cut out adult recreation, but it would cut out two other important things. It would, first of all, cut out all adult education. Maybe you want to do this; I do not know. You have not said so publicly. There are many worth-while programs furnished in adult education. For example, for people who were deprived of a secondary school education, there is an adult education program to repair that gap in their own education. That is the sort of thing Abraham Lincoln might have done, had such facilities been available, and many other men who are honored in American public life and American industry, who are self-educated people.

The second thing you would cut out is education for children and youth to the extent to which you support it, because as I read this line, Senator Mahany, it says:

"No part of this appropriation shall be used to reimburse school districts for adult education or recreation" and then the phrase "EXCEPT FOR THE BLIND" is added.

I think an important thing for you to consider is whether you mean to cut out these two programs which have been held, in my experience, as very worth-while ones. In light of our concern over juvenile delinquency and youth problems, it seems to me this is a poor time to cut out our support of youth and children's recreation programs throughout the Commonwealth.

My last item, Mr. President, is on page 53, line 7. It deals with special education for the handicapped. In this situation, there has been a cut made, from the Governor's recommended figure of $14,500,000, to $10,850,000. In other words, a cut was made of over three and one-half million dollars. Here, again, is a figure which cannot be honestly cut, because it is based on the formula which you have established and the application of the legislative intent which you have established. This money goes to school districts or county boards. You have mandated that they provide this service.

The whole program for handicapped children, the department says, will be placed in jeopardy if this cut is made. The program for handicapped children is one which certainly merits the support and interest of everyone in this Senate. I believe it would be a great mistake to make this cut because some of the most unfortunate people in our Commonwealth, and their parents, to whom these children are very dear and precious, would be the sufferers by this kind of a cut in the budget.

Mr. President, I would say in conclusion that the men who are working in this field in the department, men whom you have trusted for years, most of whom have been with the Department for ten or fifteen years, who are experts in their fields and thoroughly respected by their colleagues in education, have no question in their minds, nor do I have in mine, that this is a destructive program to the public system of education in the Commonwealth.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would urge the Republican Members to cast aside their differences and to vote in support of these amendments.

I would ask, Mr. President, after any other speakers have spoken, that we have a roll call on the amendments.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, certain departments of State Government deal with things and other departments deal with people. The Department of Property and Supplies and the Department of Forests and Waters primarily deal with things. Some other departments deal with both things and people. The Department of Public Instruction, primarily, deals with young people.

My colleague from York County, Senator Seyler, has given a good summary of his amendments to House Bill No. 1700. I think the only thing I can say is to give you two capsules of impressions on House Bill No. 1700 and the amendments which Senator Seyler has offered.

It seems to me that the whole philosophy and thinking behind House Bill No. 1700 is the philosophy of the backward look. It also seems to me that when we are dealing with growing, young people, in a dynamic world, we should project our sights two, four, six, eight or ten years into the future and not go backward two, four, six or eight years in the past.

Therefore, Mr. President, I think everything which Senator Seyler said emphasizes the fact that unless these cuts are restored, we are going to try to keep children in the status quo, which is impossible. A road or an automobile may be able to continue, if nothing happens to it, for two years. However, in the life of a child, when two years are gone, those two years can never be returned.

My first objection to House Bill No. 1700, and the reason I favor these amendments, is because I think the amendments give a forward look to young people in Pennsylvania and not a backward look. My second objection, which Senator Seyler also treated, is the fact that so many of the items in House Bill No. 1700 were mandated in 1955 and in previous Sessions of the General Assembly. Therefore, if we pass House Bill No. 1700, as it now stands, we are putting our expert knowledge against those in the Department of Public Instruction. There is a definite formula used to compute the amount we owe for transportation, for salaries in the county offices, for tuition for children in homes, for education of the blind, for the basic appropriation for the teaching units and so forth. It seems to me that if we pass House Bill No. 1700, in its present form and do not amend it, the other thing we will be doing, which I do not believe the people of this Commonwealth want us to do, is end up this biennium with another deficit.

As I recall, Mr. President, this Administration picked up a deficit of $70,000,000 two years ago. It is my opinion, if House Bill No. 1700 is passed in this form, that we will only be creating a false illusion and, once more, find ourselves with a bigger deficit at the end of this two year period.

For these two reasons, and many more, I rise to support the amendments presented by Senator Seyler because I think House Bill No. 1700, as it is now presented, gives the backward look instead of the forward look. It leaves only deficit financing.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I feel that I should make a statement in regard to these appropriations inasmuch as I serve as Chairman of the Education Committee and, also, as a Member of the Committee on Appropriations.

For health reasons, I had to deprive myself of the privilege of sitting in with the Appropriations Committee when they held their hearings regarding the needs of the Department of Public Instruction. Apparently, the department did not justify its requests, for whatever reasons you may want to conclude. However, I was called upon very recently, by a spokesman for the Department of Public Instruction, and asked, as Chairman of the Education Committee, whether it might be possible to have $1,800,000 restored to their appropriation. I suggested that this might be difficult because the hearings had been held, they had their day in court and it was a rather tremendous sum. I added that was particularly true because of the fact that they did what other departments have done. They started to scare everybody who was involved, either directly or remotely, with their appropriations. They sent word out into the field that the world was coming to an end if these cuts were not restored.

I went a step further than that, Mr. President, and I asked the spokesman for the department whether, in case they could not get a restoration of the $1,800,000 which they mentioned in their appropriation, it might be possible to revamp some of the items to take care of their needs. Their feeling was, as represented to me, that if the amount could not be restored, or if only a portion of it could be restored, there might be some shifts in the distribution of the appropriations which would permit them to function satisfactorily and adequately.

At that time, Mr. President, I made the further suggestion that it would be very difficult to take these items and battle them out on the floor of the Senate. Since I had assurance that this bill would go to a Committee of Conference, I suggested to those spokesmen that they not only makes their requests for the restoration of the cuts, but also advance a shift in various items which would allow them to come out in a satisfactory fashion by the time the Conference Committee would meet. I was told this would be done and the suggestion seemed to have been received very graciously and very satisfactorily.

I find myself just as sympathetic, and just as interested, in the boys and girls of Pennsylvania and the Department of Public Instruction as is the gentleman from York and the gentleman from Centre. I am extremely sympathetic. I do not think it is possible this afternoon, since we are not doing it with other departments, to just up and adopt these amendments and make these restorations. You must justify them one by one and I am certain we would not all be in agreement.

Therefore, Mr. President, my suggestion is, in my very best judgment, that the bill be permitted to go to a Committee of Conference in its present form, and let the Department of Public Instruction do what it assured me it would be in a position to do, and that is make its request and make its suggestions for the shifting about of items in order for the department to live with the bill as it is finally adopted.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Wagner, regarding whatever cuts are in the appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction, may I ask whether you recommended those cuts, as Chairman of the Committee on Education and as a Member of the Appropriations Committee?

Mr. WAGNER. As Chairman of the Education Committee, I have no business to recommend nor deal with those appropriations. As a Member of the Appropriations Committee, I would have had. However, as I stated, because of personal health conditions, I was forbidden by my doctor to attend the rather exhaustive hearings held by the Appropriations Committee regarding those items. Therefore, I did not have anything to do with the final figures.

Mr. YOSKO. Were you consulted about the cuts while House Bill No. 1700, in which the cuts are incorporated, was being drafted?

Mr. WAGNER. I was not consulted. I might add that I was neither consulted by the committee which did the drafting, nor was I consulted by the Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. YOSKO. Would you know who recommended or who was responsible for the cuts made to the Department of Public Instruction?

Mr. WAGNER. I would not.

Mr. YOSKO. Thank you very much.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I just want to comment on the remarks made by the gentleman from Schuylkill. This is, in effect, of course, the same argument which is being used regarding all budgets; namely, that you will fix this up or do something about it in the Conference Committee. The unfortunate part of it is that the Conference Committee, as all of you know, is a place for resolving differences between the House and Senate. It is not a body in which all of us, unfortunately, can have representation. Therefore, we offer amendments because this does give us an opportunity to vote, just as it gives the gentlemen on the other side of the aisle an opportunity to vote.

I was not elected by the people of York County, for example, to turn over to any committee, conference or otherwise, my ability to vote on issues. Therefore, Mr. President, we have offered these amendments in order that each Member on both sides of the aisle may be recorded and take his stand on these issues.

I share the hope—and I hope it is more than a hope—of the gentleman from Schuylkill when he says that he hopes in the Conference Committee, barring any other solution, some of these cuts will be restored. I wish I had some assurance that Senator Wagner would be on that committee. I wish the gentleman from Centre, Senator Hays, could be on that committee. I certainly would not oppose that solution, if that is the only solution offered to us by the Majority Party. However, I hope everyone will vote their convictions on the amendments.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I trust that the remarks I am about to make will not be misconstrued. I have the highest regard for the Chairman of the Education Committee, Senator Wagner, with whom I have served as a Member of the Education Committee. However, I must take issue with him on a remark which he made. He said that he has as much sympathy for the children in the schools of Pennsylvania as we have on this side.

Mr. President, we cannot offer the children of Pennsylvania sympathy. The children of Pennsylvania are entitled to the best that a Commonwealth of the size and wealth of this Commonwealth can give to them. The least we can give them is a good education. I am not going to give them sympathy.

As long as I am a Member of this Senate, I am going to vote to provide the funds, and I am going to vote to give the funds, to the schools of Pennsylvania in order for the children and the teachers of this State to have a healthy atmosphere in which to educate and be educated.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I simply want to suggest to Senator Schmidt that this interest was not reflected when it came to voting for taxes to provide the money.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, in answer to Senator Wagner, I will say that I did vote and I will also say that I voted to prevent the exemptions in the three per cent sales tax. I may also remind the gentleman that, just the other day, I introduced a bill to amend the present sales tax in order to remove those exemptions.

What we have done by not removing these exemptions has been reflected on this floor today. We have taken the money away from the children of Pennsylvania, the ill of Pennsylvania, the sick of mind, the sick of heart and the sick of body. You have done this in order to allow certain, privileged individuals and corporations in Pennsylvania to have tax exemptions which you and I, and everyone else, cannot have.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SEYLER and Mr. SCHMIDT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20

Barr,	Hays,	Mullin,	Seyler,
Camiel,	Lane,	Murray,	Silvert,
Dent,	McGinnis,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Derk,	McMenamin,	Sarraf,	Weiner,
Donolow,	Miller,	Schmidt,	Yosko,

NAYS—27

Berger,	Kessler,	Propert,	Walker,
Blass,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Scott,	Watkins,
Chapman,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Watson,

Elliott,	Mahany,	Van Sant,	Wolfe,
Flack,	Mallery,	Wade,	Fleming,
Harney,	Pechan,	Wagner,	Presiding Officer

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, since the whole theme of this afternoon's discussion seems to lead to the conclusion that there will be, and must be, a Conference Committee, I would like, at this time, to present amendments to House Bill No. 1700. These amendments will place House Bill No. 1700 in line with the recommendations of the Budget Bureau for the biennial years of 1957-1959. In so doing, I will be able to have on record, for the use of the Conference Committee, the items in the budget as they appeared when the budget was presented and these same items appearing in House Bill No. 1700. That will give the Members of the Conference Committee an opportunity—I hope it will be that kind of a conference—to take up the bill, item by item, and have before us the Democratic position and the Republican position. If we can give and take and compromise, there is no reason in the world why we cannot come out with some kind of legislation which will allow the needed and major services of the Commonwealth to be continued.

However, Mr. President, this does not preclude the right of any Member, including myself, to speak about any particular department which he feels has a peculiar and separate case. I do want all of these amendments voted on at this time in order for the record to contain the Democratic position.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer to the Chair the following amendments, covering the entire bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

MOTION TO ADOPT AMENDMENTS

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the amendments just read by the Clerk.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if Senator Dent is merely offering the amendments for the purpose of having a record to aid him in the Conference Committee, I think the offering of them will give him the record, but we do not have to adopt them. All we would be doing by adopting these amendments would be bowing to whatever requests the Governor made. I feel that we, as Members of the Legislature, should not do that, because we certainly have a duty to perform for the people of Pennsylvania. We have put House Bill No. 1700 in as good shape as we can, under the circumstances. I do feel, however, that many of the controversial items will be ironed out in the Conference Committee.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on these amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, are we going to discuss these amendments prior to voting on them?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. As I understand Senator Dent, any Member who felt he wanted to discuss the amendments was in a position to discuss them. However, in the interest of time and with the hope that the Conference Committee would consider them all, he was offering them as one package to be voted on at one time.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, is it the intention of the Senate to recess for dinner and return this evening?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair cannot answer that question.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in answer to the question, I would like to state that we have some other appropriation bills on the Third Reading Calendar which should be acted upon. Whether or not we can do that before dinner will depend upon how much longer we are going to take on House Bill No. 1700.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I understand there are several Members on the Democratic side who have quite a number of remarks to make. I imagine, from the time we have already consumed, it will take at least another hour or two.

Is it the intention of the gentlemen to sit here and continue through that discussion, finish the Calendar and recess for the evening or shall we come back?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would suggest to the Members who have remarks to make regarding their feelings about House Bill No. 1700, they should reduce them to writing and I will permit them to be introduced into the record at this point without reading.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, in reply to Senator Mahany's remarks, I feel that quite a number of us here have certain feelings on some of these matters pertaining to the appropriation bill, and we would like to express them on the floor of the Senate, for the value they may have in the future. I do not imagine they will have much value for the gentleman on the Republican side, but I think they will be of some value to us. I think we should express ourselves for the record in the future.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would state that any Members who desire to discuss the amendments will be recognized for that purpose.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I might say that I think we are attending a very important Session. I think we are approaching the end of the Session and we should not rush through this matter. I do believe that quite a number of the gentlemen want to express themselves; they have a right to and they should. I do not think we should do a hurry-up job. If we have to work tonight, I am willing to work. There are some other bills on the Calendar which are debatable also.

I think we should recess for dinner and come back and finish our work in a proper manner, without rushing through it. At least, that is my opinion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, while the gentlemen are making up their minds, I would like to call your attention to the Department of Revenue. After all is said and done, it is the key department on the Hill when it comes to the finance of the Commonwealth.

If you will look on page 138, you might get quite a shock. You will find that for the biennium of 1957-1959, you are appropriating to the Department of Revenue $3,836,000 less than you appropriated to it in the 1953-1955 biennium. You will find, if you take the actual expenditures for the fifteen months of collection of the sales tax, that you arrive at a figure of three million, seven hundred odd thousand dollars. If you multiply the amount per month that has already been expended, you will find that you are short $3,346,000, in the appropriation to the Department of Revenue, to collect the sales tax based on the rate of collection as it is today.

In the collection of other taxes, particularly corporate taxes, where enforcement of the law is maintained, you have cut that from $8,390,000 to $6,365,000, which is less than the amount which was appropriated in any of the last two bienniums to the department.

I do not know what was in the minds of the budget-cutters when it came to the Department of Revenue. This is one department which cannot be accused of having high-priced technicians brought in. These are just the collectors of the taxes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. You are asking them to cut almost $5,000,000 from their budget, which is practically a little over one-fourth of the entire budget. If you intend to cut that much from the Department of Revenue, how do you expect to collect those taxes you do have to collect? If this is the kind of cutting you are doing, I think you should take a look at each department. There has been too much emphasis put on welfare. In the eyes of the public, the only department's appropriation which has been cut is the Department of Welfare. That is not true. The budget was cut, according to the newspapers, by some $95,000,000.

Of this amount, $27,000,000 was related to welfare. Where did the rest of the money come from? Are we going to cripple every department on the Hill so that they cannot administer their proper duties?

Mr. President, this is a very serious matter. We have consumed the time in discussing the Department of Welfare to draw attention to the specifics in that department. However, I am sure that if you will look over the entire budget, you will find that you made many serious cuts. For instance, F.E.P.C. just will not be able to operate, according to membership of that commission. Do we find ourselves in the position where the Department of Revenue is going to be crippled so that we cannot collect the moneys due the Commonwealth, thus having a greater deficit than what can be anticipated now?

Mr. President, if we are going to balance this budget anywhere near a reasonable figure, we are going to need more help in the Department of Revenue. We are going to need more help over there in order to collect the taxes based on the increased estimates which we must put into the budget if we hope to balance it.

This cut, Mr. President, is absolutely ridiculous. You cannot cut that amount of money from the Department of Revenue and expect it to function. The expenditure for the collection of the sales tax was $5,463,000 during this past biennium and it was only a fifteen month collection period.

Certainly, we have a lapse of $2,036,963, but do not forget that was put in there for the cost of the stamp plan. The stamp plan did not go into effect. However, the actual cost of collection, for the next twenty-four months, is a little over $9,000,000. It is $9,372,000, to be exact, on the basis of expenditures we are making today. We just cannot cut that particular item as low as that.

The expenditure for the collection of all other taxes in the Department of Revenue was $8,460,000. You are only offering that particular department $6,365,000. In other words, you are cutting over $2,000,000 from the actual cost of collection of the industrial and corporate taxes of the Commonwealth, cigarette taxes and the rest of them. Somewhere along the line, was either a very serious mistake, a serious blunder or a premeditated act to cripple this Administration in its next biennial operation. If we do that, are we not cheating the people of Pennsylvania by allowing those who are assessed with taxation to get away without paying it? Are you hoping that we will make such a bad record in the collection of taxes that it will reflect upon us at the polling places? That particular item does not interest me.

Another thing I want to say right now is that when Senator Wagner was talking and when Senator Mahany talked before, almost every opposition speaker came up with the proposition that men or women in the departments affected had come over and had given them information contrary to the information which we have. What is going on? Are we receiving two sources of information; one for the Republicans and one for the Democrats? Are the department heads being sabotaged by people within their own departments? Are they coming over to the Republican Members and giving them information which is not available to us? If these departments can be operated as cheaply as some of these informers tell you, we want to run it that cheaply. However, let the informers come out in the open with their information, the same as the Cabinet Officers had to do. If there are those in the departments who would rather see the departments destroyed by sabotage, in order to curry political favor, then they should be exposed. Who are the people who are telling you that a department can get along on so much money and we have to get our figures from the Cabinet Officers and the Budget Office? If anyone has told you that you can operate the Department of Public Instruction on the basis of this budget, expose them. If they claim to be authorities, we will discuss the present secretary and put one of your authorities in that job. If you have authorities in any of these departments who tell you that you can operate the departments for so much less than what the Governor has asked for in order to operate them, I am sure the Governor will remove the Cabinet Officers and replace them with the persons who are giving you your information. I do not know who they are.

I only have this budget which to work, the same as you have always had in your day. I only have the information which we get from the Budget Office. I am sure there are places where we can cut the budget without affecting vital services. This group is just as interested in doing that as any group that ever sat in the Senate. However, there are some things which we realize cannot be cut, without curtailing services to the point where it is injurious to the welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Therefore, Mr. President, if that is the position with which we are confronted, then I would suggest to the Republican Leader that he bring with him those private estimates which have been given out by certain individuals in the departments, and I will try to bring with me the estimates given to me by the Budget Office. In that way, perhaps somewhere in between, either by a little hiring and firing or by a little knuckle cracking, we can get down to the truth as to how much is really needed in the departments, and give the people in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a realistic budget with a realistic tax program.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Senator Dent, again, I would like to understand our procedure. Is it your intention that a vote be cast on the entire group of amendments at one time?

Mr. DENT. Yes, after each and every Senator on either side of the floor has had his say about any section of the amendments which he wants to talk about.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I desire to debate these amendments.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it is our usual rule to adjourn here at 6:00 o'clock p. m., Daylight Saving Time. We are forty-five minutes over that limit now. I would suggest to the gentlemen that we defer further debate on this until we return from dinner.

It is not going to do any of us any physical good to stay here and work for another three or four hours in view of the fact that we have some other bills on the Calendar which are controversial. It will mean that we are going to have to eat a late dinner before we go to bed and tomorrow probably only about half of us will be present.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Therefore, Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 8:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

MEMBERS OF DEMOCRATIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE OF DELAWARE COUNTY PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, it gives me a great deal of pleasure to introduce a fine-looking group of young ladies from my county. I am sorry to say, not only to the Republican side but to the good Democrats, that once in awhile I get a vote from them. They never tell anybody about it, Mr. President. It is a military secret, you know. However, it does give me a great deal of pleasure to present this group.

Will the ladies of the Democratic Women's League of Delaware County please rise when I call their names? Helen B. McCauley, President; Mary L. Conner, Treasurer; Mary E. Repetto, Correspondence Secretary; Catherine Adams, County Vice-Chairlady; Ada Holsey, Jury Commissioner; and Mary Altieri, Vice-Chairlady of Upper Darby. There they are, Mr. President.

Over on the other side of the aisle, I see another group. I will have to mention Mrs. Fisher's name, from Birmingham Township, or she will be awfully angry because we are neighbors. Will you ladies please rise?

Mr. President, it is a real pleasure to have these girls visit here. They represent the minority section of Delaware County, but we are proud of them down there.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. On behalf of the Senate of Pennsylvania, the Chair would like to welcome the guests of Senator Watkins to the Senate. We hope that your visit will be both interesting and informative.

The Chair would also like to state that he now understands why Senator Watkins always pulls about a 50,000 majority when he runs for office.

MEMBERS OF PENNSYLVANIA FEDERATION OF DEMOCRATIC WOMEN PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. MURRAY. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am honored and pleased to present some beautiful girls from Luzerne County, who are also attending the Democratic Convention here in Harrisburg. They are Mary Cavallini, Mrs. Mamie Furmanski and Mrs. Ethel Mattes.

MEMBERS OF PENNSYLVANIA FEDERATION OF DEMOCRATIC WOMEN PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, several of my colleagues have had the privilege of introducing guests in this Chamber. I have just recently learned that I, too, have some guests here. They are attending the Convention of the Federation of Democratic Women. I certainly would not want to miss this opportunity to present them to the Senate at this time.

I am very happy to present the officers of the Democratic Women's Club of Whitmarsh Township. They are Mrs. Earl Cooper, President; Mrs. Irvin Osslick, Secretary; and Mrs. Benjamin Ferguson, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. They are seated on the left side of the Chamber.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. On behalf of the Senate of Pennsylvania, the Chair would like to welcome the guests of Senator Probert. We hope that your visit to the Senate will be most interesting and instructive to you.

MEMBERS OF PENNSYLVANIA FEDERATION OF DEMOCRATIC WOMEN PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this is not to be considered part of the mental health debate, but more to prove also that Centre County is represented at this important convention which is taking place in Harrisburg these few days.

I want to present four lovely ladies from Centre County.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. On behalf of the Senate, the Chair would like to welcome the visitors from Centre County. We hope that you, too, will have an interesting visit with the Senate.

MEMBERS OF CITY COUNCIL OF PITTSBURGH PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. On behalf of the Senate of Pennsylvania, the Chair is most happy to welcome Mrs. D'Ascenzo to the Senate. We hope your visit will be interesting to you.

CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 1700 RESUMED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The amendments to House Bill No. 1700, Printer's No. 856, on third reading, are now before the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, a comparison of the budget, particularly the Health Department budget, as submitted by the Governor and that submitted by the Appropriations Committee and passed by the House, shows in the item of salaries and expenses, that the Governor requested an appropriation of $11,660,000 and the House saw fit to enact a sum of $10,253,000 or a $1,104,000 difference from what the Governor requested. All the way down the line, in so far as the recommendations of the Governor are concerned, the Health Department appropriations were reduced.

The main argument of those who are supporting the budget, as submitted by the House Appropriations Committee, is that the Health Department will underspend its budget of $43,000,000 for the 1955-1957 biennium and that the new budget provides $5,000,000 additional to that amount.

The facts are as follows. The department did request $47,000,000 for the 1955-1957 biennium. The budget for the 1955-1957 biennium was not enacted, as we all know, until a year ago, in 1956, during which period of time, prior to the enactment of the budget, all of the departments were operating on a restricted basis, not knowing what would be finally appropriated for those departments. As a result, the actual work of the department, the programming of the department, was not carried out until the last ten months of the biennium.

When the budget for 1955-1957 was finally approved, it provided for increases only for the one remaining year of this biennium and was for approximately $43,000,000. Of this amount, the department will spend all except approximately $500,000.

If the department had been able to provide the same services for the total two year period of 1955-1957, as provided in the one year of 1956-1957, it would have spent approximately $47,000,000 in the two year period; therefore, the proposed budget of $47,000,000 actually does not represent an increase in funds, but means that the department must maintain the services at the 1955-1957 level.

The budget passed by the House provides funds only for existing local health departments. It specifically prohibits any funds from being used for new local health departments that maybe formed after passage of this budget bill. This is particularly critical in such counties as Lancaster, York, Montgomery and others where considerations are under way to establish a county health department.

The Health Department requested $800,000 for the operation of the Pittsburgh League Hospital for Addictive Diseases. This entire request was eliminated and, by so doing, provides the department with no facility for this purpose. At the present time, alcoholics are treated in a section of the Department of Welfare Hospital at Clarks Summit. The Department of Health has been ordered to vacate the section it is now using.

Narcotic addicts are now being treated in jails and at the Federal Hospital in Kentucky, which has patients in excess of 100 per cent capacity. The proposed use of the Pittsburgh League Hospital would serve as a pilot operation to develop a team approach to both categories of these addictive disease problems.

The proposed budget does not recognize the increasing costs of operation of the tuberculosis hospitals. For the year 1955, we list below the average per diem cost of operation of State tuberculosis hospitals in six States as compared with average costs for the tuberculosis hospitals in Pennsylvania for the same year.

In the State of New York, they are paying $12.62 per diem for the care of their tubercular patients; the State of New Jersey is spending $13.78 per patient per diem; the State of Delaware is paying $13.11 per patient per diem; Massachusetts is paying $16.59 per patient per diem; Michigan is paying $13.16 per patient per diem; Ohio is paying $18.07 per patient per diem; and Pennsylvania is paying $9.14 per patient per diem.

The budget recommended by the Governor provides an average per diem rate of $8.38 and the House-passed budget is at a per diem rate of $7.80 per patient. In determining these per diem rates, the cost of operating Mont Alto Sanatorium was used as the base figure. Mont Alto is comparatively new and requires considerably less to maintain than do the other four older hospitals. It is evident that no recognition has been given to the rising cost of operation of the tubercular hospitals. In fact, appropriations are reduced.

Since budgets must be prepared two years in advance, it is quite impossible to be accurate in estimating the costs. The Department of Health would prefer that these institutions follow the per diem recommendation of the Governor, which is at the rate of $8.38 per patient per diem, which is an absolute minimum allowance.

At Leech Farm, which has a capacity of 425 beds and a waiting list of patients, it would be necessary under the present proposed House Bill No. 1700 to restrict its patient load to 250 or 300 patients. Patients not receiving early hospitalization would require prolonged hospital care at greater expense, would be responsible for spreading infection and would require greater efforts for medical and work rehabilitation.

Tuberculosis case-finding would be reduced by one-third. All of you know of the great work that is being done by the Health Department throughout our counties by reason of the mobile units that go around with X-ray machines. As a result of these X-ray pictures, some twenty-five new cases, if the budget is cut down, will remain undiscovered. This will eventually cost the public $15,000 for hospitalization or a total of $375,000 for each year of this curtailed program, in addition to Public Assistance grants to families and dependents.

Some eighty per cent of the tuberculosis cases in Pennsylvania are hospitalized in advanced stages, requiring prolonged care. An even larger number each of cancer and cardiac conditions of the chest are discovered by X-ray examinations.

Again, going back to the question of alcoholism, the proposed eighty-bed State-wide alcoholism and blood condition center in Allegheny County would have to be abandoned, despite the fact that in Allegheny County alone there are at least 40,000 alcoholics, most of whom are in need of treatment.

In addition, grants for the present program of the University of Pittsburgh Alcoholism Clinics and Services at St. Margaret's Hospital and Falk Clinic may be curtailed, according to Robert Olson, Director, to allow only an out-patient service.

Gentlemen, I could go on at length telling of the effects this curtailment in the health program will have. Suffice it to say, for years we have been trying to establish a good health program in Pennsylvania. We started on this fine program during the administration of Governor Duff. Each succeeding Governor has endeavored to do something for the health program in Pennsylvania.

The enactment of this appropriation bill will necessarily curtail the advancement of the health program in Pennsylvania and will only take us back to the situation we found ourselves in prior to the Duff Administration.

I, therefore, appeal to you that you do everything in your power to restore these cuts. Do not wait until a Conference Committee meets. By the way, I want to ask you what assurance do any of us here have that a Conference Committee will do the job that we here should do today? We have no assurance of that. Do not be surprised if the Members of the House stick to their guns over there and tell you Members on the other side that they do not intend to budge. If you reach that stalemate, where are you going to be?

Now is the time to make the amendments that you propose to make in the Conference Committee. Put in the amendments, let them be there, and then when you go into conference you will have something to fight for. If you do not enact these amendments, I am quite fearful of what will happen in the Conference Committee. I am not ready to depend on the results of a Conference Committee report. I will be more satisfied if the Members of the Senate do their job and enact the amendments which should be placed in this bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would like announce the return of the Lieutenant-Governor, who will now preside.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. President and fellow Members of the Senate, public health is a service of government which is of concern to all citizens and voluntary health organizations.

In 1948, under the leadership of Governor Duff, a study of public health administration and organization in Pennsylvania was made by an independent and highly qualified public health organization. During the Administration of Governor Fine, progress was made in implementing the recommendations of the study, particularly the enactment of legislation to permit the establishment of local health departments and decentralizing of the health services of the State department. It has been the hope of all thoughtful citizens that Pennsylvania would continue to look to the future in bringing needed health services to its citizens.

The budget for the fiscal year 1957-1959, as recommended in House Bill No. 1700 by the Appropriations Committee, reduces the Health Department's budget as submitted by the Administration by about $4,000,000. We believe this reduction will not only halt future progress, but is retrogressive in affecting the services of the Health Department. It will have the effect of destroying the progress which has been made in decentralizing health services throughout the State. It does not give consideration to new, pressing needs in the health field, such as addictive diseases, chronic diseases and changes in treatment and control of the problem of tuberculosis. I am certain that everyone here knows these things because they have heard them in committee.

The Board of Directors of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society told me, at their meeting in Erie on April 10, 1957, that they were in full support of the budget as submitted by the Administration. It is significant to note that the budget, as submitted, was at that time $9,000,000 less. We are now $4,000,000 below the suggested figure in the Governor's reduced budget.

I have been here twenty-three years and I have noticed that health and welfare are two vital issues. For the first time, in the last five or six years, through your Governor and our Governor, we have attempted to move this forward. If these appropriations are not put into this bill, there are possibilities, and definite possibilities, that we will regress again to being about forty-third in public health and welfare in the United States.

I had a longer speech, but owing to the lateness of the hour, I am going to submit the remainder of this speech so to not occupy too much of your time. I hope you will adopt these amendments so that when the bill does go into the Conference Committee they will have it there, and if they want to delete the amendments that will be their business.

There being no objection, the statement was ordered to be printed in the Journal as follows:

STATEMENT BY SENATOR SARRAF

The proposed reduction in budget appropriations need by the State Department of Health, if it is to maintain services deemed imperative for protecting and improving public health for all our citizens, appears not only to be ill-considered but actually to jeopardize vital functions of one of the most important branches of State Government.

It seems unlikely that the Members of this Legislature would resort to such drastic and illogical action as to reduce by about $42,000,000 the appropriations considered basic if the Department of Health is to continue a sound public health program for the Commonwealth.

It is easy—but it is hardly in the best interests of humanitarianism—to apply cold mathematical formulas in an attempt to curtail services aimed at alleviating human pain, misery and suffering. Yet, in advocating the curtailment of public health services represented by House Bill No. 1700, that is exactly what the supporters of this bill appear to be doing. The budgetary request for the State Department of Health, for $54,000,000 to permit it to operate during this biennium, represents months of careful study on the part of many competent persons who are fully conversant with the needs for public health services in our Commonwealth.

To attempt at this late date to slash this carefully worked-out budget without even the semblance of a study of the actual needs is to make one's self liable to charges of recklessness and irresponsibility.

It is no wonder that reputable organizations and individuals have expressed concern and disappointment over the apparent eagerness of certain Members of the Legislature to ride roughshod over the proposed budget for the State Health Department. In expressing their concern, these organizations and individuals are serving as the spokesmen of the millions of individual citizens who are watching apprehensively, but without the means of voicing their misgivings, this proposed action.

I need not elaborate on the three principal results in the Health Department's budget that would follow if this proposed slash were made; the discontinuance of the regional pattern of health services, the drastic curtailment of chronic disease programs which are now accepted as one of the most vital in the public health field, and the termination of plans for additional facilities to care for such addictive diseases as alcoholism and narcotic adiction.

Regarding the threatened discontinuance of the regional pattern of health services, it should be recalled that as early as 1948 a study of public health administration and organization in Pennsylvania was made by an independent organization known for its high qualifications in the field of public health.

Recommendations of that study—including the establishment of local health services—were implemented in the years that immediately followed the study, and during the present Administration considerable progress has been made along the same lines. Pennsylvanians hope that the future will continue to bring needed health services for all our citizens.

There is still time to repair the damage that threatens our basic public health service picture for the Commonwealth. It is my firm conviction that the Members of the Legislature will exercise their wisdom and take the proper action to restore to the Department of Health these much-needed funds.

Public health is a service of government which is of concern to all citizens and voluntary health organizations.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MURRAY. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I rise to protest the cuts in the Mines and Mining Department. It is inconceivable to me that such drastic cuts should be made in the Department of Mines. The Department of Mines was created to protect the health and safety of the miners and enforce the mining laws of the Commonwealth.

In Pennsylvania today we have a Secretary of Mines who I am happy and proud to say comes from my Senatorial District, the county of Luzerne, and lives in the city of Wilkes-Barre. He is a dedicated man and is doing a tremendous job with the mines and mineral industries of Pennsylvania.

The reasons why the appropriations requested by the Pennsylvania Department of Mines and Mineral Industries should not be reduced are these:

For salaries and expenses, the amount requested was $1,600,000; the reduction is $360,000.

This appropriation is used for the specific purpose of paying salaries and expenses of the personnel and mine inspectors, who administer the safety laws and regulations which protect the health and safety of persons employed in and about the coal mines of Pennsylvania.

In addition to the enforcement of these laws, the following services are rendered by these people:

Investigations of coal mining conditions under public buildings;

Investigation of subsidences in the coal regions;

Investigations of coal mine fires;

Investigations of coal mine refuse bank fires;

Assistance to the Department of Highways in matters pertaining to surface support within the coal regions;

Assistance to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission in matters pertaining to surface support within the coal regions;

Assistance to the Subsidence Committee created under the Act approved May 31, 1956;

Cooperative investigations in the coal region with representatives of the Sanitary Water Board;

Policing of storage of explosives on the surface at coal mines.

The salaries and expenses of the Secretary, three Deputies, forty-nine Mine Inspectors, three Electrical Inspectors, three Waste Disposal Investigators and office personnel, are paid from this fund. The actual amount required for the payment of the salaries paid as of this date, and the estimated expenses, would require an expenditure of the $1,600,000.

This will not permit any increment raises or increased expenses during the next biennium.

In addition to the work already performed by the above described people, additional duties were placed on them by the 1953-1955 Legislative Session, which required that all small mines in the bituminous coal region be investigated and inspected in the same manner as any mine employing more than five men. This requires the inspectors to make investigations of an additional 800 small mines, which the law requires to be investigated at least three times each year.

The argument is used that since the large mines have been closing, particularly in the anthracite region, the duties of the mine inspectors are less. This is not a true statement, because every large mine that is operated has an operating force of its own, consisting of experienced men employed as superintendents and certified mining engineers. When these mines close and an average of 1,500 men are unemployed, several hundred small mines open up throughout the region and the miners plan and operate the mines to the best of their ability. Mine inspectors advise and instruct them in the manner in which they should be timbered and advanced, in a manner which will protect the lives of those employed therein. The accident which occurred recently at Lykens is a true example of what exists on the operation of small mines.

Another added duty provided by law during the 1953-1955 Legislative Session requires that each area that is used as a waste disposal area in either coal region be approved by this department. They are not approved unless precautions are guaranteed by the user to prevent mine fires. This law was passed because it had been determined that the majority of mine fires burning were caused in this manner.

An increase of our inspection force is required to efficiently administer the new duties required under the recent legislation described above.

In the bituminous coal open pit mining fund, the amount requested was $105,000; the reduction of this fund was $15,000.

This fund is used specifically for the purpose of administering the Bituminous Strip Mining Act. The force already employed is pressed to enforce this Act. Rigid enforcement has resulted in the following accomplishments:

From 1945 to 1955, a ten year period, acres restored by operators, 26,297; from 1955 to 1957, a two year period, there were 16,333 acres restored.

In 1954, trees planted, 5,292,000; in 1955, trees planted, 6,415,000; and in 1956 there were 10,602,000 trees planted.

No increase over and above that amount required for the past biennium was requested.

In the care of injured mine workers, the amount requested was $115,000; the reduction, $15,000.

This appropriation is used for the purpose of paying the salaries and expenses of people employed as first aid and mine rescue instructors. It is the duty of these people to hold classes and instruct miners in first aid, so that should an accident occur in the mines they will be able to aid their fellow worker. These first aid and mine rescue instructors are also qualified to assist in any serious coal mine disaster that may occur, such as an explosion or mine fire. We also pay the expenses and upkeep of three first aid trucks which are used at these disasters. An increase was requested so that a new truck of this type could be purchased, since the ones in use are practically obsolete.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this, is a very important matter, sealing abandoned coal mines. The amount requested, $3,000,000; reduction, $1,900,000.

I would particularly like to say to the gentlemen who come from the bituminous area, we in the anthracite area have lived with this condition for many years. You gentlemen are just realizing what subsidence means in the soft coal area.

This is the only fund that can be used by this department to assist people living in the coal mining areas and who are distressed due to occurrences which are the result of coal mining. Some of the requests received from these people are for assistance when subsidences have damaged hospitals, churches, school buildings and homes, and with this money the Department of Mines is able to flush areas of this sort which provides sufficient surface support; extinguish mine fires burning near hospitals, churches, school buildings and homes, that throw off obnoxious gases that are harmful to the health of inhabitants of these communities; they also seal areas affected by strip mining were bodies of water have accumulated, limiting pure streams use, drinking water and fishing, and create hazards so far as drowning of small children is concerned; sealing abandoned shafts to deep mines where children could wander; and dewater abandoned coal mines which would provide employment for unemployed miners. The majority of this work has been done in the anthracite region. However, subsidences are now occurring in the bituminous coal region and the people in that area are just beginning to experience the distress caused by occurrences of this nature.

In the administration of anthracite mine drainage, the amount requested was $200,000; reduction, $100,000.

This is a new division which did not begin to function until our appropriation was received for the 1955-1957 biennium, fourteen months after May 31, 1955. It is necessary to administer the work under the Joint Federal-State Mine Drainage Program in the anthracite region.

In gas operations, Well Drilling and Coal Mining Act, the amount requested was $200,000; reduction, $100,000.

Two hundred thousand dollars was requested for the administration of the Oil and Gas Division of the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries for the next biennium. House Bill No. 1700 reduced this request by fifty per cent.

Following is a minimum salary and expense breakdown for the next biennium:

Deputy, required by the Act, salary, $23,000; six oil and gas inspectors, salary, $90,000; mining engineer; chief clerk; two secretaries, one for Harrisburg and one for Pittsburgh office; two stenographers, one for Harrisburg and one for Pittsburgh office; and rent allowance for home offices for oil and gas inspectors, which comes to a total of $198,660.

This does not take into account the chargeable rent for the Pittsburgh office that has not been determined as yet.

Following is a detailed explanation of the reasons for the $200,000 request, and a possible explanation of why such request may have been reduced:

Act No. 225, of the 1955 Legislature, became effective February 1, 1956. Act No. 636, granting the appropriation for the Oil and Gas Division, was passed May 31, 1956.

Act No. 225, of 1955, requires that the division secure the services of geologists, petroleum engineers and gas engineers. Until December of 1956, we had been able to get only two qualified field inspectors. Between December 1956 and April 1957, we employed four additional geologists and engineers.

As the work of the division progressed, more clerical help was needed. Between November of 1956 and April of 1957, the office personnel was increased from one to five, including the chief clerk and the required mining engineer.

Act No. 225 required a Deputy Secretary to administer the provisions of the legislation. This deputy was employed in November of 1956.

Because of the technical requirements necessary for most of our personnel, the full establishment of the division was necessarily slow. However, we will have a full complement for the coming biennium. Because of the time taken in peopling the division, all of the original appropriation was not used. This will not now be the case.

At the request of both the coal industry, and the oil and gas industry, we have recently established a Pittsburgh office to expedite some of the investigative work required. With a reduced appropriation, this office will have to be closed.

If our requested appropriation is reduced, we will have no alternative but to reduce our personnel accordingly. This will mean:

Oil or gas companies requesting permits to drill wells, case wells, plug wells, or applying for alternative technical methods will necessarily have to await their turn, which in most cases will cause an economic hardship to the requesting company.

Coal companies requesting pillar permits will have to stop mining within 500 feet of the well location until such a time as we have a field man available to make the investigation.

The requirements of the law define how files must be kept and specify that the division shall make such files available to interested parties. Because of location requirements, the services of a mining engineer are necessary to integrate the various locations between surface and mine properties, and to plot the same.

The department could operate at the fifty per cent reduction in the appropriation only at the possible economic hardship of the affected coal, gas or oil companies. The Oil and Gas Division is held legally responsible for the several provisions of the Act, and such provision must be administered as stipulated by the Legislature, regardless of whether or not sufficient personnel is available to administer it efficiently.

Now, gentlemen, I want to come back to the subject of sealing abandoned coal mines. Appropriations for sealing abandoned coal mines originated in the 1947 Session of the General Assembly as a result of an Act approved June 30, 1947. Each Session, since that time, has continued this appropriation. The full record is as follows:

1947-1949 biennium, $1,090,000.
1949-1951 biennium, $1,407,000.
1951-1953 biennium, $1,000,000.
1953-1955 biennium, $1,500,000.
1955-1957 biennium, $1,700,000.

The use of the fund has been expanded until it now includes four separate items:

Sealing abandoned coal mines.
Dewatering abandoned coal mines.
Extinguishment of fires in abandoned coal mines.
Flushing of mine voids in abandoned coal mines where danger of subsidence may be imminent.

It is worthy of note that in each case the use of funds is limited to abandoned coal mines. Our anthracite region has more abandoned coal mines than ever, due to the depressed market for anthracite at the present time. Our bituminous coal fields have great numbers of abandoned mines, due to exhaustion of recoverable coal and due to the fact that modern mining methods make it necessary to operate a lesser number of mines in order to produce the tonnage that is needed.

We are proud of our performance in the program we conducted under this account during the last two years. Each project was legally advertised in newspapers, sealed bid proposals were received and the contract was then awarded to the lowest responsible bidder. The records in this Department prove conclusively that it obtained much more for each dollar of State funds expended than had been accomplished previously.

During the 1955-1957 biennium, our appropriation on this account was $1,700,000. Due to the fact that the appropriation was not made until approximately half the biennium had elapsed, the bulk of that amount will be used during the latter year of the two year period.

Contained in the files of the department are a large number of requests for help, throughout the coal fields of the Commonwealth, in situations that can properly be corrected by application of funds from this appropriation.

The department has recommended for consideration that an amount of $3,000,000 be appropriated to this use for the 1957-1959 biennium. This represents an increase of $1,300,000 over the 1955-1957 figure. However, when it is understood that the problems of abandoned coal mines are increasing and that the 1955-1957 fund was used chiefly in the second year of that period, I do not believe that the request will be found excessive when full consideration is given to the need for it.

Mr. President and members of the Senate, I have here the Report of the Subsidence Committee to the General Assembly, under Authority of the Act of 1956. There were some distinguished Senators who were on that committee. It was a Joint House and Senate Committee, composed of John F. Stank, Chairman, James J. Jump, James Musto, William J. Reidenbach, and Frank A. Wallace, Members of the House of Representatives; Senator Harold E. Flack, Senator Hugh J. McMenamin, Senator Theodore H. Schmidt, Senator William Z. Scott and Senator John T. Van Sant, Members of the Senate.

I just want to read a paragraph from the recommendations of that Subsidence Committee. Following is the recommendation:

"That the General Assembly enact legislation establishing an independent administrative commission in the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries, to be known as the Coal Mining Subsidence Commission, for the purpose of conducting studies of subsidence and carrying out flushing programs in the anthracite and bituminous regions. That an appropriation of $150,000 be made to the commission, and a tax of two cents per ton of coal mined be imposed to finance the commission's program."

Mr. President, in lieu of the fact that we have no legislation on the books at the present time, I feel this committee should give serious consideration to the recommendation of the Department of Mines.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I would like to say a few words tonight in support of the amendments which would restore the budget in the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries, as it was originally issued by the Governor.

Following Senator Murray's excellent and comprehensive analysis of the various cuts made by the Republican Leadership in the budget of the Mines and Mineral Industries Department, there is very little that I can cover which would be new. I think Senator Murray has done an excellent job on the situation in the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries. However, I would like to address myself to three particular items in that budget.

The first of these is not a cut, but just an elimination. The Republican Leadership in Pennsylvania has completely eliminated from this budget, moneys for the Coal Research Board. The Coal Research Board originated by an Act of the last Session of the Legislature. In that biennium, $500,000 was appropriated for the purpose of research to find new uses for coal. Coal is certainly one of Pennsylvania's most important and basic minerals. We all know that for years the coal industry has been a sick industry. It has been the hope and prayer of the men who work in the mines, the mine owners, the operators and the citizens who live in mining areas, that with declining markets for the old uses of coal, chemical research would find new uses which would stimulate, again, the coal industry and make it the prosperous industry it was a generation ago.

A plank in the 1954 Democratic Platform promised that if the Democrats were elected in 1954, we would appropriate money for chemical research for the development of new uses of coal. That platform plank, like most others in the Democratic Platform, was carried out in the last Session of the Legislature. I do not think I have to labor the point that research is necessary and is a vital element in every industry in America today.

This week, Mr. President, we have on our own Calendar, bills appropriating money for research in connection with mushrooms. Certainly, if mushroom research is necessary for those who are interested in the growing of mushrooms, then coal, one of the basic industries in Pennsylvania, is entitled to have some money spent on its behalf to develop new uses and new biproducts therefrom.

Let me tell you that the Coal Research Board, in the last biennium, has spent the sum of $500,000 which was appropriated to it, among several research agencies for use to accomplish the purposes set forth in the Act. Contracts between the board and these research agencies are in process and will be fully executed, subject to the approval of the Governor. This appropriation has been divided equally between research for anthracite and bituminous coal.

This is the first step of its kind made by the Commonwealth, relative to research for its coal industries. Pennsylvania is blessed with an abundance of coal deposits. Five billion tons of anthracite, and thirty billion tons of bituminous coal, remain to be recovered in Pennsylvania.

Mining of this valuable resource is vital to the economy of Pennsylvania. More varied uses must be discovered for it. It must be discovered for it. It must be mined at less cost, prepared for market with greater exaction and sold over wider horizons. We recommend an appropriation of $680,000 for the Coal Research Board in this biennium. This is $180,000 greater than the appropriation made during the last biennium. We Democrats sincerely believe that the way to continue to expand our great coal industry must be found through continued research.

Let me just list for you the research agencies to which this money has been allocated:

To the Anthracite Institute in Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, for economic and technological study of European markets for Pennsylvania anthracite, $17,500.

To the Bituminous Coal Research Corporation in Pittsburgh, to develop factors affecting plasticity of Pennsylvania bituminous coal, in relation to design of combustion equipment, the sum of $60,800.

To the Carnegie Institute of Technology, in Pittsburgh, for a study on the molecular distillation of coal, the sum of $20,000.

The balance of the appropriation has all gone to the College of Mineral Industries at Penn State University for such projects as developing the production of metallurgical coke from blends of anthracite and bituminous coal and to determine the mechanism of the thermodecrepitation of anthracite; an investigation of the chemical nature, physical structure and distribution of ash in anthracite; the mineral constituents of anthracite in their relationships to the chemical characteristics of ash; the cartography of the mineable bituminous coals of Pennsylvania and the mode of sulphur occurrence; and the reduction of sulphur in coal during carbonization. These and many highly technical projects have been initiated by this Democratic Administration in order to develop new uses for coal, to expand its markets and to develop new biproducts.

The Republican Leadership in Pennsylvania has not cut this appropriation, but has just completely eliminated it from the budget. Therefore, the people of Pennsylvania, particularly those who live in coal regions, will know that in the next two years not a single penny will be spent for continued research in connection with coal.

Before I close, Mr. President, I would like to say just one or two words about two of the items which were covered so well by Senator Murray.

One is the very drastic reduction in salaries and expenses in the Department of Mines and, secondly, the great cut in the appropriation for mine sealing, under the Mine Sealing Act.

I am wondering whether the Republican Leadership fully understands the implication of these cuts. I am wondering whether those Senators who do not live in coal regions know that by eliminating this money from the budget, they are jeopardizing in a very real sense the health, the welfare and the lives of thousands and hundreds of thousands of people who live in the coal regions. Many of us over here sympathize with your desire for economy, but cuts of this nature can never be justified. You have cut so deeply into the general administration funds in the Department of Mines that mine inspectors are going to have to be laid off.

More than a generation ago, Pennsylvania began to require inspection of mines, to install safety practices and to try to eliminate the hazardous conditions which are inherent in coal mining. Now, for the first time since this program was started years ago, we are taking a step backward. We are removing from the payroll the men who determine that mines are safe for other men to work in. The next disaster that happens in Pennsylvania's coal mines, where scores of miners are trapped and killed, will not be the first one. Who knows whether the lack of an inspection in the next two years will not cause a similar mine accident.

Can you think of the grief, in the towns where these deep mines are located, which will result if one, two or many men are trapped below the surface, or killed, or suffocated in an explosion in the mines because of coal gas, due to a lack of adequate inspection? Do you know what it means for a man to go down into the bowels of the earth every morning and lie on the flat of his stomach, sometimes in seams which are only twelve inches high? Do you know what it means to work in water? Can you imagine the little feeling of satisfaction he gets, knowing there are stringent laws on the books of Pennsylvania which require safety inspections, which require the elimination of pockets of coal gas and which require many other safety practices? Can you imagine what this will do to Pennsylvania's coal miners when they know that mine inspectors are being laid off and they are not sure, when they go into the pit in the morning, whether they are going into what used to be a safe mine or whether they are not coming out again that night? Do you know what it means to seal an abandoned mine shaft or to fill in an open stripping pit which has become filled with water?

Mr. President, the summer school recess season has just started. In Lackawanna and Luzerne Counties, in the past few years, there has not been a summer when more than one child has not drowned in abandoned pits which have become filled with water. This Democratic Administration initiated a program to try to fill in the stripping pits in order to eliminate this danger hazard. We have tried to level off the ground and reforest it, in order to make it available for factory sites. This program is now going to come to a practical halt, as a result of these budget cuts.

As Senator Murray has described, other situations exist where deep shafts are abandoned sometimes and left open. One of the original purposes of the Mine Sealing Act was to go all over Pennsylvania and seal shafts, which may be deep holes in the ground, possibly 500 feet or more in depth and ten to twenty feet in diameter. More than one person has walked into unguarded holes of this nature. This is a real hazard in the coal regions.

In the past few years, we have been plagued with mine fires for many reasons, one of which is that in abandoned stripping pits, after the high grade coal is taken out, low grade seams are left exposed. Among other things, garbage is sometimes dumped into these pits and, by spontaneous combustion, the garbage catches fire and the seam of coal will become ignited. That coal fire can travel miles underground.

Two years ago, in the city of Carbondale, in Lackawanna County, there were people killed in their homes while they slept at night by coal gas which seeped into their homes as a result of an underground mine fire.

Mr. President, this money which was to be appropriated by this Administration, under the Coal Mine Sealing Act, was to protect the lives and the health of the people in the anthracite and bituminous coal fields, by making certain that the mines were inspected properly, that open stripping pits were filled in as quickly as possible, that open shafts were sealed over and that mine fires were either put out or the possibility of fires starting eliminated.

For these reasons, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I urge you to vote for the amendments which would restore to House Bill No. 1700, the appropriation asked for by the Governor for the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I regret very much that these speakers get up and give speeches which have been prepared for them by the various department heads. I except Senator McMenamin from that; I think most of his speech was probably his own. Most of these others, however, I think were mainly formulated by the various cabinet officers or their particular staff.

I regret every much that they do not start out by stating to us the amount appropriated for the particular purpose in the 1953-1955 biennium, also tell us where the increases have been made and also why these extra services are necessary.

I do not like to keep repeating it, but it seems to me there was a young fellow by the name of George Leader who ran around Pennsylvania, back in 1954, telling everyone that the Republican Party was spending too much money, that it was time to cut down, it was time to economize and by the old Democratic processes of economy, we could cut out a lot of taxes and he would manage the State of Pennsylvania on a sound, economical basis with less money than the Republicans were spending. Everyone of these appropriations which these fellows are pleading for have been raised, sometimes as much as twice the amount they were back in the 1953-1955 biennium.

Regarding this particular case of the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries, back in the 1953-1955 biennium there was expended the sum of $2,744,565. In 1955, of course, when Governor Leader took office, the record was changed. He wanted us all to forget what he said when he was elected Governor and he had a lot of new ideas, some of which we went for. Among his new ideas was the Coal Research Board and we appropriated, at that time, $500,000 for this purpose.

The contracts, as I understand, or most of them, were let only a few short months ago, and the people who have been assigned this work have just started on their duties. This is a continuing appropriation and has been carried over into this biennium. Therefore, the work of this Coal Research Board will continue. Instead of appropriating a lot more money, such as the $680,000 which the Governor wants us to appropriate for this biennium, I say let us find out what we get for the $500,000 we appropriated in the last biennium. We should see what their reports are and find out what research recommendations result from the work that is being done under this project.

Let us operate the business of the State of Pennsylvania the same as we would our own business. If, in my business, I hired someone to work on some research in connection with a product which I was manufacturing or a product I was raising, I certainly would wait until I received a report from the fellow I hired last year before I would hire another fellow or more people this year to continue the same research. I think we should have at least one report from these people in order to find out what they have done and whether this project is worth-while before we appropriate $680,000 more to them.

I will admit, if I had my way, the Conference Committee would reshuffle these appropriations to some extent, and would give more money for the mine inspectors. I think that is necessary. I think we should have all the mine inspectors possible. As far as insuring that there will be no youngsters drown in Senator McMenamin's District, we cannot very well do that, because I imagine if ten times the amount of money in this appropriation were spent, there might very well be a youngster unfortunate enough to fall where there is water and drown this year. That will happen up in Crawford County, in French Creek, too, and just about every county in the State of Pennsylvania there are some unfortunate accidents. As long as you have youngsters and people running around, you are going to have tragedies. We try to reduce them as much as possible, but you cannot eliminate them entirely.

I think it is foolish to come in here and say that you want to have all this money to do all these things. We try to protect these people as much as we can. On the other hand, we feel these people in the coal industry should be helping themselves, too, to some extent.

Over in Clarion County, and in all the soft coal areas, since back in 1945 when Senator Fleming was instrumental in getting on the books of the Commonwealth a law relative to strip mining, the strip miners have had to seal their banks, they have had to recover the property which they disturbed and the surface and so forth. They have done a wonderful job. They have planted trees on this ground which has been reclaimed and they have had to put up bonds to do that.

Why can they not do the same thing in the hard coal area? It seems, since I have been a Member of the Legislature, that we have had to take tax money and pile it into the hard coal area for various and sundry projects. I am glad to do my share of it, but it seems to me that some of these mine owners should also aid in these projects and help themselves a little bit. If they do not, they are going to bankrupt the State of Pennsylvania in doing all these things for these people which in other parts of the State, we have to do for ourselves.

As I say, I hope this Conference Committee does reshuffle, to some extent, the various items so that we can have more mine inspectors and so that we can do some of the things which Senator McMenamin has said are so important, but yet, in the over-all picture, without raising the amount so large that we will not be able to afford the amount that is contained in the amended requirements. I hope this Conference Committee will be able to do that.

Mr. President, I was just handed a note here. I understand under this Coal Research Board, they only recently organized to spend the $500,000 we gave them just a year or so ago for this particular project. As I said before, I hope we can at least wait until we get some report on their work before we have to give them $680,000 more.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, when I started, I was not sure anybody was interested in figures at this hour of the night after so extended a debate.

Of the three appropriations about which I spoke, for the Coal Research Board in the last biennium, $500,000 was appropriated. There was requested for this biennium, $680,000, and the bill as it now stands has nothing in it. For the Mine Sealing Act, in the 1953-1955 biennium, $1,500,000 was appropriated. In the last biennium, that was raised to $1,700,000. There was a request in this budget for $3,000,000. That has been cut to $1,100,000, which is even $400,000 less than it was in 1953 and $600,000 less than it was in the last biennium.

On the matter of salaries and expenses, in the 1953-1955 biennium, there was appropriated $1,201,400. In the last biennium, there was appropriated $1,300,000. There was a request in this budget for $1,600,000. This has now been cut back in House Bill No. 1700 to $1,240,000, which is thirty-eight odd thousands of dollars more than in 1953.

Certainly all of us know that the cost of living on almost every item has gone up since 1953, which, I think, is something to remember when Senator Mahany refers to what George Leader may have said in 1954 when he was running for Governor. When I heard him, he sounded to me just like President Eisenhower sounded in 1952, and all of us know what has happened in Washington since 1952. We have found, in every segment of our economy, rising costs. Therefore, even if no new projects were started by this Administration in the next biennium, salary increases are necessary to State employees, from top to bottom, in order for them to live and to raise their families because of the high cost of living since 1952 in America.

Unless salaries and expenses are increased, people just will not work for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and we will get no services at all. I think it is well to remember that since 1952, the cost of living in America has reached an all-time high, the national debt has reached an all-time high and the peace time budgets have reached an all-time high.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, it was my privilege to serve on the committee which dealt with the question of subsidence in the hard and soft coal regions. I only wish that the Senator from Mercer would have had an opportunity to be present at the hearings which were conducted in the Districts represented by Senator Flack, Senator Scott, Senator Wagner and Senator McMenamin, and had been present when those people appeared before the committee to tell us of the damage that was done, not only to property but to life, by reason of subsidence.

All this subsidence is a result of neglect on the part of the Commonwealth, in years gone, in permitting mining to be done in the fashion in which it was done. Those people did not know what was going on under their property. They did not know the conditions under which mining was permitted in Pennsylvania. Today we find these people with the cellars of their homes sinking into mine pits. The level of the floor of their living room may be three or four feet below the level of the floor in the dining room, and their front porch may be pulled away from the house. Parochial schools may be unsafe for children, churches have had to be abandoned and the windows and the belfry have had to be removed. We saw all those things in the hard coal region.

We cannot tell those people that we took care of it in the soft coal regions and they must take care of it in the hard coal regions. We are not appropriating money to rectify the situation as it now exists, but we want money for that department to operate in such a way as to prevent anything happening in the future and to let those people know what the conditions are. That is all we are asking for.

I say the same conditions that exist in the hard coal regions are now beginning to develop in the soft coal regions. We are already having subsidence there. Therefore, for the safety of the people of the Commonwealth, I ask that these cuts be restored to this bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, before we leave mines and mining, I would just like to say this about research in coal.

It has long been said that a man with a stomach full of food would never be sympathetic to a hungry beggar. Those of us who were raised in the counties with coal economy recognize and realize the importance of coal research. You just cannot measure it out in monuments. You cannot measure it out in anything that is concrete. It is sort of an abstract spending; it is something that is spent which you cannot just measure out in cold facts. However, it is the kind of money that needs to be spent in order to help rehabilitate the areas in this State of ours, both in the anthracite and in the bituminous, which long ago lived in relative wealth and prosperity because king coal was dominant.

We have had many sad years in our regions. I speak to you Senators on both sides of this floor from the coal regions of Pennsylvania. What has happened to us because there has been some money spent in research? How many uses for inferior coal and hard claimed coal have been found through research? The elimination of the bulk of the spending in that field spells another setback in your communities and mine.

Today we voted, and we will vote later, on the calendar. I am going to vote for the bill put in by Senator Harney, appropriating 50,000 for mushroom research. It is not a big employment industry, but it is an industry in this State which expenditures for research may help. All of us have voted, over the years, for oil research, research in cattle breeding and research in almost every field of industrial and agricultural endeavor.

Someone said we should not talk tonight; maybe we should not. However, I think it is important to talk about the things that count. I think, during this Session of the Legislature, we have become penny-wise and pound-foolish. An industry should not call on the telephone and say, "Do not go any further; cut it out. We have learned enough. Just do not raise taxes."

In the days when industry, particularly the coal mining industry, was in the doldrums, they came to this Legislature and begged for research and we gave it to them. Now we do not want it anymore because it might spell some kind of a reversal of a position; a position that means, in the future, much loss to the great communities of this State that have yet to find their place in the sun which they once had.

I do not know what is going to happen to these appropriations. I am not particularly sure anything will happen but whatever you do, do not cut out the kind of money that is spent for the welfare of the future.

There is still hope and a great future for coal in Pennsylvania. It is a great natural resource, embedded in the earth by the Lord above, to be exploited for the good of humanity. However, we have reached the stage now, in this great atomic age, where coal has to find new uses, and they will not do it in private enterprise. They will contribute, yes, but we, the people, through our taxes, through these appropriations, will contribute the greatest amount of help. Therefore, do not pass by the opportunity to keep up coal research.

When it comes to mine sealing, you cannot understand the problem unless you have lived in those communities where your water has been poisoned and your hillsides blighted by the dread acids which come out of mines that have been closed years ago and left, by those who exploited the wealth of the earth, to the care of the peoples of this State. Do not cut out mine sealing. Those of you who come from the communities that have no mines—sometimes I think a lot of us come from communities that have no minds. Sure, you are nicely situated in some of the greener-pastured communities of this great State, with your fresh waters, your rivulets and your springs, but come home and live with us where we have to go down below the coal mines, deep into the limestone, to get water for our homes.

Let us help our neighbors to have the kind of communities in which most of you live. The coal communities of this great State need the help. Of all the departments on this Hill, the one department that has no monuments to it, no lasting recognition of its deeds, is Mines and Mining. It is unheralded and unsung when its employees go out and to the things that count for the everyday existence of the peoples in those communities.

I beg of you, the Members of the Senate on both sides from the anthracite and bituminous fields, to stand up; stand up for the communities you live in and give to them the aid they expect from you to rehabilitate these communities. Give them the fresh waters out of the heavens, allow the green pastures to grow again and bring back into your communities the prosperity you once had. You will never do it except through one department of this State, the Department of Mines and Mining.

To all of you, I say help us the way we help you. To Senator Blass, I say we voted with you, and we will vote again with you, to keep Lake Erie from becoming a blighted area and to protect the fish from the rays and the eels that have ruined and crippled your industry. We never hesitate to vote with you, Senator Blass. Do not back up and vote against us now. This is the type of condition which needs the consideration of every man in the Senate. I know; I was born and reared in a coal mining town which was in relative prosperity in the days that we lived. I have seen these towns become nothing but haunted areas with people driving from forty to fifty miles every day of their lives, twice a day, to earn a living for their families.

Do not cut out research, no matter who tells you they do not need it. If any of the coal operators of this State tell you they do not need it, then they are blinded fools. Through the years they have been the stepbrothers of the Manufacturer's Association in this State. They are still the stepbrothers of the Manufacturer's Association. They go along because of the ties and connections in the intercorporate body. However, they forget that this is a position that needs their help. We, of the Legislature, know that money spent in these fields will save us money in the future. Do not vote against this kind of legislation.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will. Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. I would like to inquire of the Senator concerning the fund for coal research, about which he has just made a very impressive statement. How much money was appropriated in the 1955-1957 biennium for that purpose?

Mr. DENT. Do you mind if I refresh my memory?

Mr. BERGER. No, Senator Dent. May I say the sum of $500,000 was appropriated for that purpose?

Mr. DENT. I thought it was $500,000, but I wanted to make sure, because Senator Mahany desired to know what it was spent for and he wanted to see the results.

Mr. BERGER. May I inquire if you can tell me how much of that appropriation has been expended at this time for coal research?

Mr. DENT. I think I can tell you, if you will just wait until I gather some papers from my desk.

There was expended $447,000 out of the $500,000.

Mr. BERGER. Does that represent, Senator Dent, money which has been spent from this fund or money which is in contemplation for expenditure?

Mr. DENT. They are continuing expenditures, Senator Berger. Suppose you make a contract with Penn State or any other research laboratory. When you make the contract, it is like building a home. I make a contract to build a home in June. Perhaps I have not finished it until a year later, in July. However, the money is spent and that is what this is. It is committed for projects already allocated and contracted for.

Mr. BERGER. If I understand you correctly, then the money which has recently been committed for this purpose, but not expended, will be used during the ensuing biennium for the purpose of coal research?

Mr. DENT. That is right.

Mr. BERGER. In your opinion, Senator Dent, will it be feasible to expend an additional $680,000 for this purpose during the ensuing biennium?

Mr. DENT. Just as feasible as it was during the years when the Republicans were in control, when they kept adding appropriation upon appropriation for research in oil, coal and textiles. Although the money was not paid out, it was already allocated and contracted for. We continued the appropriation because it is a continuing problem.

Mr. BERGER. If my recollection serves me rightly on the items which you have referred to,—and I admit, without any question, that research in all of these matters is eminently desirable—those items which were in the prior budgets for the purpose of oil research and textile research, to my recollection, never, at any time, exceeded for oil, at any rate, I believe the sum of $60,000. It may have been raised in one of the more recent bienniums, but it was an amount of money which could feasibly have been used during the biennium to which it was appropriated.

Mr. DENT. Might I say to you that if you wish, you can get from the Department of Mines and Mining the allocation of the $475,000. However, in order to understand each other, let me just give you something. For instance, there has been allocated to the College of Mineral Industries, at Pennsylvania State University, $60,000, as late as April 8, 1957, for the production of metallurgical coke from blends of anthracite and bituminous coal.

A great many of us who come from the coal regions have often wondered why we were not able to make coke out of anthracite coal. Through research, we have discovered that we are able now—and I think we will do better with research—to use as much as fifty per cent anthracite with fifty per cent bituminous high metallurgical coal, and arrive at a metallurgical coke which is adaptable to the making of steel. What does this mean? It means that this State of ours was mined out, in the early days, of its high metallurgical coal. It was mined out in the days when it was low in price and they used it and wasted it, completely wasted it. Now we are up against competition from Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia, with their metallurgical coals, and they are taking our markets. However, it does not mean that they are taking our markets, alone. They are taking from us something even greater in our economy. The steel companies, which situated in the western part of Pennsylvania, situated there because of two things; number one, the great abundance of metallurgical coal; number two, some iron ores.

Long ago, we developed a technique for bringing our iron ores in from Wisconsin, Minnesota and Kansas. However, we cannot bring in both metallurgical coal and iron ore. Therefore, if these other regions are able to produce metallurgical coke to the point of cost where it makes a difference in the price of a ton of steel, we will eventually lose our basic industries in the western part of Pennsylvania. We are spending money, and this is not the first draft of this spending. This is the second bite of an appropriation made two years ago. It will continue and we may get to the point where, by blending the ample anthracite that we have with the very sparse metallurgical coal that we have, we can provide a coke in our steel mills which will be reasonably priced so that we can contain our industry where it belongs.

Let us go further, Mr. President. We have something here which is almost unbelievable. We have Bituminous Coal Research, Incorporated, of Pittsburgh. They are studying, for $60,800, the factors affecting plasticity of Pennsylvania's bituminous coal in relation to design of combustion equipment.

For those of you who have never had any technical understanding of the coal business, I want to say that coal comes in many grades. We have veins and tons, and millions of tons, of low grade coal. However, these low grade coals, through research, are becoming as valuable as the high metallurgicals we had years ago. Coal research must continue because coal is the basis, and the original basis, of Pennsylvania's strength and its wealth. We have grown as a community in Pennsylvania because we were gifted with the seams of coal. We have not even touched the surface of our coal. We have taken the easy Pittsburgh veins, the Connellsville veins and the coking coals because they were high veins, because they were easy to mine and because they were valuable. Now we must crawl down on our bellies and get the low grade coals, but these coals are the strength of our communities. They are more valuable than all the oils of the earth because, even from coal, we can make the gasolines required to run our everyday automotive bodies. There are so many derivatives from coal that they stretch the imagination of man. Therefore, every nickel we spend for coal adds to the future of this State.

Mr. DERK. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am very much perturbed about House Bill No. 1700. I am going to speak, very briefly, in support of the amendment which was introduced this afternoon.

Mr. President, a cut of $1,650,000 in the Department of Agriculture, or twenty-three per cent, is more of a cut than this particular industry can stand at this time. This is the number one industry of Pennsylvania.

We have heard a lot about coal, about health, about mental illness and child welfare. However, it was quite obvious this evening, at 7:00 o'clock, that everybody was extremely interested in getting some food. Food is the fundamental sustenance of all our people and our animal life. The protection of the food which we consume is of great importance. I, therefore, wish to talk to you about the Department of Agriculture.

I have broken down my remarks regarding the various categories and the first item is salaries, wages and expenses in taking care of the welfare of our people of this Commonwealth, such as enforcing the dog laws and seeing that we have pure, clean and wholesome milk for consumption. This requires chemistry and marketing. Our soil conservation is one of utmost importance, to see that the various hill farms are arranged so that we have contour and strip farming to preserve the land in order to avoid erosion. It is, therefore, important that these county agents, and the various men out in the field, give the aid to agriculture which it so deserves, and to carry on their work in order to make a living for their families and provide the fiber and supplement for the people of this world.

Under this department, Mr. President, let me call your attention to the supporting of the Farm Show. This is really one of the greatest shows we have in Pennsylvania. It is one of the greatest shows we have in the United States. There is no industry that attracts the crowds of people, the seekers of knowledge, as does this Farm Show which is held in our Capital City of Harrisburg.

The appropriation asked for by the Department of Agriculture was $5,745,000. Of this amount, there was granted $4,700,000, or a cut of $1,045,000. This is a cut which the Department cannot stand in order to carry on with the services which Pennsylvania is rendering to agriculture.

There are many expenses connected with the Department of Agriculture than cannot be borne by it. I am particularly familiar with this Department, being engaged in the practice of veterinary medicine. Very often, I have been called upon, in many years gone by, in the course of inspection and testing of livestock, to wait as long as six months before we could be paid because this fund had been cut to extremes.

This year, Mr. President, the Department of Agriculture is not asking for any more money than it had last year. It is just asking for the amount of money that is necessary to carry on this important work. No one desires to work for nothing, but if there is one group of people who are underpaid, who do work at a minimum wage and who have learned, early in life, to practice economy and careful economics, it is the farmer and those who are connected with agriculture.

The second point that I want to talk to you about, in this amendment, is the matching premiums to our county fairs, to the grangers and to the exhibits by the farmers. Heretofore, the department has matched the fair's appropriation with the State appropriation for the prizes which have been awarded to the farmers and to the children who have exhibited at these county and small municipal school fairs. In the budget, $110,000 has been requested for this particular work of the department. This was cut down to $100,000, or a cut of $10,000. This will only allow a forty per cent matching to the county, township and school fairs which we have in this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I am not trying to increase the budget nor am I asking for a large amount of money, when you consider that agriculture is the largest, the first and the strongest industry we have in Pennsylvania. I am talking about an encouragement for these young farmers of $10,000 versus millions about which we have heard this afternoon.

Another important factor which I do not believe is too well understood by most of the Legislators is the indemnity which is paid on reacting cattle. Many years ago, we had in this Country, and in Pennsylvania particularly, cattle infected with bovine tuberculosis, which is commonly known as t.b. among cattle. By careful persistence, and weeding out and slaughter, we have been able to reduce tuberculosis to less than one per cent of the population of our cattle in this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It does not require a large appropriation to keep our animals clean and free from infection. However, it does require a sufficient amount for salaries, in order to have these animals tested periodically to find out if they are clean from the contagion and infection which are given off in the milk, known as bovine tuberculosis.

Mr. President, we have lots of milk in this Commonwealth which is not pasteurized. We are drinking whole milk. This is particularly true with the hired help and with the inhabitants on the farms in our agricultural areas. It is, therefore, imperative that these animals be kept clean at all times.

You may talk about an increase in the appropriation but we are asking for a substantial decrease in one appropriation to this Department. As Senator Mahany has said, he would like to know something about the figures of the 1955-1957 biennium. In the 1955-1957 biennium, we had allocated, for the eradication of tuberculosis and brucellosis, the sum of $1,918,000. All the department asked for this year was $1,500,000 because, with the program that we have and with a certified state on brucellosis among cattle, we have been able to return to the General Fund over $380,000 which was not used. This amount of money being returned was not entirely due to not having to pay any indemnity. It must be remembered that this is a matching fund with the Federal Government and the Federal Government pays a percentage of the amount of money which is expended on condemned cattle.

I want to call your attention to back as long as twenty years ago, when this Country was quite infected with tuberculosis and abortion. During that time, and for the past twenty years, the Commonwealth and the United States Government have allocated and paid out, in indemnities, $27,000,000. This amount of money does not represent, by any measure or means, the amount of money which has been lost by the farmer. In many cases, it did not cover fifty per cent of the loss of the animal, which the farmer had to suffer. In addition to that, the cleaning of the premises, the isolation of new animals which came in, the trouble the farmer had to go to and the cut in his products, far exceeded the $27,000,000. In the past twenty years, the State and Federal Governments have spent over $52,000,000 to clean up the livestock industry.

Mr. President, it would seem a crime, at this stage of the game, to allow the infection to come back and endanger the population of our livestock and, at the same time, endanger the lives of human beings. We are very careful about the foods, the milk and the meat which we produce in agriculture, to see that they shall be properly inspected and properly handled in order that we do not bring out any infection that comes from our lower breeds of animals.

The department has also turned back, in the past year, $4,600 which had been allocated and set up to buy a mobile laboratory unit, which is so badly needed. They advertised for bids and found there was not a laboratory available which they could purchase. Therefore, this money was returned to the General Fund and should be allocated again. This is absolutely essential because of the cost in carrying out the regular testing of the cattle, which can only be detected by ring testing and by the testing of milk.

The cut in this respect is $510,000. The Governor only asked for $1,500,000. In the last biennium, the department was granted $1,918,000 and it has taken a cut down to $990,000, or a reduction of $510,000. This amount of a cut, the department cannot stand and thereby carry on the work which it has carried on so successfully the past twenty years.

Doctor Milo, Chief of Animal Industry, under the Department of Agriculture, has held this position for the last twenty years. He has been a most sincere, most ardent worker and has brought about this fine condition we have in our livestock industry. He, to, is perturbed that something might happen whereby they might not be able to pay the indemnity and continue with their testing.

Let me divert a little bit from the testing of cattle. We found that we had great difficulty in eliminating brucellosis from cattle and from swine in the livestock industry, to the extent that the department started, about five years ago, to do calf-foot vaccination. This calf-foot vaccination has been carried on, on a matching basis, by the Federal Government, whereby the Federal Government furnishes the vaccine. I want to tell you that in the last twenty months, this ticket has been picked up entirely by the Federal Government, thus allowing us the department to return this large amount of money to the General Fund. However, they have no assurance that the Federal Government is going to continue paying for this calf-foot vaccination. Should it not, they would be in a terrible circumstance in carrying on their calf-foot vaccination.

Last year, legislation was passed by this honorable Body that we would allow, have and sponsor a livestock show of beef cattle, swine and sheep, under the supervision and approval of the Department of Agriculture. This has been a very successful show and it has done a very good job. They have requested for the biennium $125,000 for this show, and have been granted $50,000 or a loss of $75,000. Therefore, it is impossible to carry on, in agriculture, this show among beef cattle, swine and sheep.

In concluding my remarks on agriculture, I do not want to make them long or boring with a lot of figures. However, one of the important segments that we have in agriculture is our Future Farmers and our 4-H Clubs, who are very much interested in bringing their prize animals into the Farm Show, showing them, having them graded, having them tested and having them judged. They prize themselves very highly on the awards they receive. At that time, these prize animals are sold to the highest bidders. This program was started last year also. We have granted this segment of agriculture, the Future

Farmers and the 4-H Clubs, $20,000 for one year. Since the department has the show started and well underway, it receives a large patronage. They felt they could get by this year, not with an increased amount of money, but with $30,000 for two years. That amount has been reduced to $20,000, on which they cannot operate.

I ask you gentlemen of the Senate to carefully consider these amendments for the benefit of livestock industry and the Department of Agriculture, which is representative of the number one industry in this Commonwealth.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, when any of my congregations have been preached to from six to seven or eight hours, and I get at them, I do not expect to make many converts. I am not much more optimistic tonight. However, I have a job to do and that is to try to salvage humanity. I am talking of the amendment to Section 2, page 38, line 19, relating to the Parole Board.

This board—

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. RUTH. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I suggest that we finish up each subject I see Senator Hays is about to address us, and I imagine he is going to talk about agriculture. One or two on our side might have something to say about agriculture. Can we not take these subjects and complete one before we get into another one?

I suggest to the Minority Leader that he marshal his forces in that order.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to get off the subject for one minute and ask permission to make a brief statement.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Berks, Mr. Ruth, has the floor. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. RUTH. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I do not know whether it is just me—it does not appear to be—but it is getting terribly close in here. I notice Senator Taylor is fanning himself, Senator Wade fell asleep for a while and everyone seems to be uncomfortable.

I do not know whether the air conditioning has been shut off, but it seems to me it has been slowed down, if it has not been shut off. I would appreciate it if the Lieutenant-Governor and the Majority and Minority Leaders would instruct those who are in charge of the air conditioning system to please turn it on so that it is comfortable here. I understand we are going to be here for awhile, and as long as we are going to be here, let us be here in comfort.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I now yield to the Senator from Centre, Mr. Hays.

Mr. HAYS. Thank you Senator Ruth. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, as a boy I spent my years on a farm and so I feel compelled to speak briefly in defense of the amendments to the agricultural portion of House Bill No 1700.

My colleague, Senator Derk of Lycoming County, has done such a splendid, comprehensive job, as has the Secretary of Agriculture, my fellow townsman, Doctor Henning, that I think my part in this program will be to call to the attention of all the Members of the Senate, before they vote on these important amendments, an editorial appearing in the current issue of the Farm Bureau Mirror, a Pennsylvania farm newspaper, entitled "Expendable Legislators." I quote as follows:

"Farmers are watching Pennsylvania's 'Battle of the Budget' with more than usual interest, not because they have a particularly partisan in politics, but because they have a feelin' that when all the shoutin' is over, they'll again find themselves 'on the short end of the stick.'

"Deep in the heart of most of those who produce our vital food and fibre is a growing conviction that political expediency means the providing of services for only the great masses of voters. If there's anything left after the loudest squeaks are silenced, maybe the farmer can have it. In the past, there's been very little left.

"Politicians too often forget that farming, and the services needed for a successful agriculture, are of vital interest to all the people; not only to the minority of people who slave away that all may have full stomachs. If votes are what politicians want, how can they scrap honest and ethical plans for needed soil conservation, for milk sanitation, for food inspection, for livestock disease control? These things are essential in providing healthy diets for all the people who vote . . . and those who don't vote.

"By the same token, when needed services are provided, the people must be willing to pay for them. Government can give nothing more to people than it takes from them. In fact, it can give less than it takes. That's why farmers think twice about asking Government to do something which they can more economically do for themselves. That's why Pennsylvania farmers have consistently voted down subsidies and politically-inspired 'farm programs' which, in the long run, result in no greater income for their farming operations . . . and provide no benefits to all the people.

"Those who seek to eliminate padded budgets and leeches on payrolls are to be commended. Likewise, those who seek to get a dollar's worth of value from all government services should be praised. But those who would indiscriminately slash needed services, or proper remuneration to those who adequately prove the services, should be questioned about their motives. Legislators who put political expediency above the interests of the people as a whole, are expendable. The people have a way of proving that at the polls."

That ends the quote from the Mirror.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I feel somewhat qualified to speak on the subject of agriculture. Perhaps I am not the expert Senator Hays, Senator Derk or Senator Madigan might be, but I feel qualified by reason of having spent some fourteen years on a farm. When I hear my good friend, Senator Dent, tell about how hard he worked around the coal fields and of how much he was deprived, I have a lot in common with him because, when he was going through that age, I was experiencing much the same thing on a small farm near Saegerstown.

Our farm was so darned unfertile, it was hard to even raise an umbrella on it. I hoed corn, pitched hay, milked the cows and did all those various chores incidental around a farm. I remember of one time when we were very proud of some Black Minorca roosters which we had. I got a box, painted it with white enamel inside, put two Black Minorca roosters in the box and took them down to the show. They did not have any tendency to fight, so I put them both in the same box and got away with it.

The biggest thrill I have ever had in my life was when I received a blue ribbon award for that display of Black Minorca roosters. I did not expect the State of Pennsylvania, or the county of Crawford, to give me any money because I won first prize. That blue ribbon is around somewhere in my possessions to this day and it was a big enough prize for me.

I feel it is rather silly to spend all this money to match with county money, and so forth, for various prizes. You take the money away from the farmer, run it through Harrisburg and then give it back to the farmer. I think the farmers would be just as satisfied today with a blue ribbon as I was when I was a youngster.

I also remember the time when we had pigs on the farm. I went down every morning to get the swill from the Saegerstown area and brought it home for the pigs. We were very proud of our pigs. One day a railroad train of the Erie Railroad went down very close to the pig yard and there were some pigs on that train which evidently had hog cholera. Through that, our pigs got hog cholera and when I went out to the pig yard one morning, I found all of the pigs with their legs up in the air. They had all died from hog cholera and there was not much we could do about it. We did not expect the State or anyone else to give us money for them then either. We did not have very much money, so we just pulled our belts a little tighter and that winter when Senator Dent's stomach was full of spaghetti, which his father probably provided for him, I went hungry most of the time. When Senator Dent gives you that business about his stomach being lean and mine being fat, it was not always that way. Today, thank goodness, we are both ending up in about the same shape.

I want to tell you that we have provided, in this budget much of what the farmers need. The biggest cut that has been made here, or the biggest reduction let us say, from the Governor's request is in the item of the swine brucellosis program. I understand that is not necessary at this time in Pennsylvania. The Federal Government has refused to enter into that particular program and, therefore, it was deemed expedient to eliminate the $510,000 under the animal indemnity program and cut that request from $1,500,000 to $990,000.

The stem rust control was left about the same. Under the development and operation of the livestock show there was a $50,000 unspent balance in the 1955-1957 appropriation, which continues and is also made available for the 1957-1959 biennium. That, together with the $50,000 which is provided in House Bill No. 1700, gives $100,000 for this purpose.

Most of these items are left the same, with very little exception. I feel the amount which is in this budget is very near the amount which the farmers need and should have in their Department of Agriculture. I believe there will not be too much complaint coming from them.

Some group or other is going to get the short end of the stick, as has been brought out here. If the farmers, the miners and everyone else mentioned in the budget wind up even, all that will have been done is taking money from one group and giving it to the other. By virtue of going through Harrisburg, some of the money is taken out. Therefore, in the end, they do not get back as much as they send down. Someone or other does get shortchanged by virtue of the various shenanigans that go on down here.

I think we would probably be a lot better off if we just left the people back home have their money without shipping it down to Harrisburg where we take out a big portion of it, and then ship it back to them in some form of subsidy or another.

If you give that youngster the same type of blue ribbon I received when I was a youngster, I think he will be just as proud of it as I was, without giving him a lot of monetary prizes along with it.

Mr. DERK. Mr. President, and Members of the Senate, I would like to inform Senator Mahany that the swine brucellosis testing, which required about $500,000, is not in this bill. It is not included. It was not included last year, but in addition to the $500,000 that was requested, there has been an additional $418,000 deducted from the amount. It is that amount that I am interested in, not the $500,000 for the testing of swine. I have made such a statement at the budget meetings with the Secretary of Agriculture.

I further want to tell Senator Mahany that we do not pay any money to the farmers for hogs that die of hog cholera. They are still a loss to the farmer, just as much as they were at the time you took the Black Minorca roosters to the fair and got your blue ribbon.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lycoming, Senator Derk.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Derk, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DERK. I Will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Derk, on this brucellosis program, I find on page 32 of the Governor's Budget an item of $510,008 for that program, which I understand was included in the $1,500,000. Is that not true?

Mr. DERK. Will you please repeat that, Senator Mahany?

Mr. MAHANY. On page 32 of the Governor's Budget, there is an item of $1,500,000, near the center of the page. I understand that the amount of $510,008, which was for brucellosis control in swine, was part of that program. Directly opposite that, under the word "Program," it says:

"A new program of $510,008 is for brucellosis control in swine, replacing a certification program of brucellosis in cattle which is nearing completion."

Is it not true, in round figures, that the $510,000 would be part of the $1,500,000?

Mr. Derk. That is right.

Mr. MAHANY. If your subtract the $510,000 from the $1,500,000, you get $990,000.

Mr. DERK. That is right. However, the Governor cut it that much, and then the Appropriations Committee cut it to $500,000.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, I do not want to argue with you but I do not understand it that way. Sometime between now and tomorrow, will you check that? I feel the way this is set forth in the budget, on page 32, that this $510,000 is supposed to be part of the $1,500,000. I do not want to argue with you about it. I would rather have you check it and see whether or not that is true.

Mr. DERK. I will, Senator.

Mr. MAHANY. Thank you.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think we should answer the question, at least Senator's Mahany's inquiry at this time. The original appropriation, Senator, was $1,918,000.

We used, out of that, $510,008 for brucellosis control. If you will note, that has been cut, by the Governor himself, to $1,500,000. We have now gone to $990,000, which means it is cut further approximately $510,000.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, you and I do not agree on it either. We had better get together between now and tomorrow and see what this actually means. I believe it was understood that the $510,000 was included in the $1,500,000.

Mr. DENT. All I can say, if we are to get together between now and tomorrow, is that we will have to sleep together.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, again I refer to Section 2, page 38, of House Bill No. 1700, dealing with the Parole Board. The functions of this Parole Board are:

"To have exclusive power to parole and reparole, commit and recommit, for violation of parole.

"Supervision and surveillance for parolees and to facilitate their rehabilitation;

To make investigations and recommendations to the Board of Pardons in all cases applying for clemency;

"To investigate the background of persons sentenced to county and State prisons at the time of their commitment;

"To provide supervision and surveillance for persons on probation and paroled from other States;

"To supervise special parole cases referred by the court."

In the biennium of 1953-1955, the appropriation actually was $1,809,376. The appropriation for 1955-1957 was $1,920,000. For the 1957-1959 biennium, the estimated budget figure is $2,225,000. That figure was cut back to $1,850,000, or $41,000 more than was appropriated in 1953.

Mr. President, I would like to substantiate the request, because this group of people is increasing. At the end of February 1957, there were 5,353 parolees under the supervision of the Board. At the end of March, there were 5,382.

This is what happened. The Appropriations Committee evidently used a three or four month period when the expenditures of the Board were at their lowest. They were at their lowest because the Offices of Administration prohibited the board from purchasing any equipment from August 1956 until March 1957. Therefore, the expenditures in that respect were for salaries and institutional expenses only. They had an average of eighteen vacancies on their staff from November 1956 to February 1957, twelve of them being parole agents. This Parole Board obtains its agents through the Civil Service Commission. When they are accepted from the eligibility list, it takes from two to three weeks before they learn that many of them will not accept the positions. In November the names of agents on the eligibility list were exhausted and the Parole Board had to wait until February 1957, when a new list was set up.

Mr. President, this program is for the purpose of salvaging humanity. I could talk an hour tonight on the experiences I had in 1937 and 1938, when I served as chairman of a commission to investigate these conditions. I could tell you about the terrible conditions we found at that time, when prisoners were paroled by the judges. We found instances where a traveling judge, coming from another jurisdiction, convicted a man and he was sentenced. About three months afterward, one of the officials of the court wrote to the judge, saying that this man should be paroled. The Judge wrote back, saying, "I forget all about the facts in the case. If you think he is worthy, please sign my name to the parole." They filled out the parole on the back of the indictment, sent it to the judge and he signed his name, thus freeing the man. Those were the conditions we found. Then, that commission recommended the present State Parole Board and in 1941, the board was implemented. It was improved in several years and we now have a system that is working better than it has ever worked. Many other States are today introducing and passing legislation, setting up parole systems similar to ours in Pennsylvania.

Because of the continuous increase in population, on a percentage basis, we must realize that the criminal population increases, too. We must also realize that it requires more work on the part of the Parole Board.

For this biennium, the Governor asked for $2,225,000. This amount has been cut to $1,850,000, or a cut of $375,000, at a time when the population of parolees is increasing. The board feels that it can get along with an additional $300,000, and is thus willing to forego a $75,000 program set up under Section 19 of the Parole Act, which has not been implemented. The Parole Board feels, if it only receives $350,000, additional, it can continue to operate. Otherwise, this parole work will become merely a paper operation and will become unrealistic. We will drift backward into the days of the 1930's, before our State Parole Board was put into existence.

Mr. President, I am pleading for the Parole Board from this standpoint. You are not dealing with horses, cattle and swine. You are dealing with humans, with people who have become derelict and who have an opportunity to be rehabilitated. If we do not do that, they will go back into their old groove and, in a few years, because of this we will have to expend millions of dollars for our prisons and our public assistance. That will not include the heartaches, the trials and the suffering that will be entailed.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am earnestly pleading that we restore at least $300,000 of this cut, in order for the board to operate on the same basis as before. Today, we have a man at the head of this board whom I have known since his childhood. I followed his life. He was good enough for the Federal Government to send him to Germany, after the World War, and he set up the parole system in Germany. The Federal Government did not want him to come to Pennsylvania. He could have received more money in Europe, but he is a Pennsylvanian and he wanted to take part in this great work. Today, he has this Parole Board and Parole system on a basis such as it has never been before. However, if we cut this appropriation, making the board eliminate about twenty parole agents, then we will have fifty men taking care of over 5,300 parole cases. It is humanly impossible for them to do that.

For that reason, Mr. President, we are asking to have this appropriation restored to the amount of $300,000 more than House Bill No. 1700 now contains.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I have the duty to go into what I feel is one of the most important parts of the budget that has been discussed today or this evening. As I look at the budget and see the cuts which have been brought about by the Republican Majority, especially in the two subjects that I am going to discuss, mainly, the Advisory Board on Problems of Older Workers and the F.E.P.C., I feel that the Members of the Republican Majority, on the Appropriations Committee, seem to have spared no one, not the young, the old, the underprivileged or those suffering from occupational diseases. Everyone felt the heavy ax of the Republican-controlled Appropriations Committee. Yet, I felt, in viewing these cuts, that they certainly were not brought about by the men whom I know as the Republican Members of the Senate. I feel it has been conclusively proven, by these cuts, that this surely was the work of the ex-officio Member of the Senate and the ex-officio Member of the House, that genial bachelor from Washington County, George Bloom. I am surprised that Mr. Bloom would wield such great influence with the House Members, who are independent in their thoughts and certainly have the great ability to think about the needs of the people of Pennsylvania. Of course, I am doubly surprised that Mr. Bloom's influence would creep into this Senate among the Republican Members who, in view of their ability and their service in the past, would be taken in and cut this budget as heavily as they have, which affects people who should not be affected.

Mr. President, I direct your attention to what the Republican Majority did to the problem of the older worker in Pennsylvania. The Governor requested an appropriation of $193,000; he has received $100,000 to date. If there has ever been a problem in Pennsylvania, and in the Nation, it is the problem of taking care of our older citizens who have reached the age where, because of their lack of ability, physically, they find no place for economic returns in this world. If we owe anything to anyone, it is to these workers who have reached the age of sixty-five and who no longer can find employment. This also applies to those who have reached the ages of between forty-five and sixty-five and find themselves useless citizens.

The greatest commodity that we have in this Nation, and in this State, is our human labor force. Yet, we in Pennsylvania, tonight, will take the position that they are not entitled to $193,000 to protect the future of every man and woman over the age of sixty-five. Let us look at the record.

We have, today, in Pennsylvania, one million and a half citizens who have reached the age of sixty-five and cannot find employment. The average income of the male group is $1,400 a year. The average income of the female group is $564. Of this group, twenty per cent of the males are not employed and fifty-seven per cent of the females are not employed. This is a pressing problem. It should no longer be a question of funds here, but it should be a question of spending our resources to take care of this ever-increasing problem.

Mr. President, I draw your attention to New York State. Two years ago, it inaugurated an over-all program of recreation, of housing, of health and, of course, of employment for its aged workers. We, in Pennsylvania, after much struggle, last year, passed a bill creating an advisory body and, at this Session, we cannot secure sufficient funds to make that body operate properly.

Mr. President, the very program for which we fought last year, and which most of the Members of the Senate thought had merit, is this year, by your cuts, being sabotaged and, therefore, making it work ineffectively and taking away the lifeblood which is needed to bring results. So much for that, Mr. President.

Another most important program has felt the ax of the ex-officio Member of the House and Senate, Mr. Bloom, and that is the Fair Employment Practice Act. I thought last year, under a Democratic Governor and a Democratic House of Representatives, that Pennsylvania grew up and had, at last, opened its heart and recognized that we had a problem involving our minority peoples. After much fight and much struggle, we finally put through a Fair Employment Practice Act. I may say, Mr. President, that this commission, under the able leadership of Harry Boyer, has done an excellent job. Through community programs, it has undertaken and promoted fair employment practices in this State greater than in any other State in the Nation for such a short period of time in which it has been in operation.

The commission started with fifty per cent personnel and, yet, it operated efficiently, with that lack of necessary help, in so short a time. They came to the Governor and requested from the Governor an appropriation of $599,000. The Governor knew we had to practice economy in this biennium, to the extent of cutting down our appropriations, in order that it would not be necessary to go to the people for greater taxes. The Governor then suggested $371,000 of this $559,000 requested by the commission. The Appropriations Committee saw fit to decrease this amount to $225,000.

Mr. President, it may be interesting to note that New York State—where their problems are comparative to our problems, due to our growth of industry and the growth of the problems in that field—receives $1,036,000 more than Pennsylvania does per biennium in this field.

There is a great deal more to be said, Mr. President, on this subject. I realize that other Members of the Senate, on this side of the aisle, would like to talk about the Fair Employment Practice Act. However, I just want to draw the attention of the Members on the Republican side to a newspaper article, which newspaper I have been led to believe has given the Republicans, in the past, a great deal of support. This is The Pittsburgh Courier. In referring to this cut in the appropriation, it says in part as follows:

"This points up the need for everyone who is interested in Fair Employment Practices to immediately stand up and be counted—especially Republicans."

Mr. President, I want to finish what I have to say by just leaving this thought. I feel that no one outside of this Body should wield any influence on the Members of this Senate. I think we should look deeply into our consciences before we cut programs such as assistance for the older workers and the Fair Employment Practice Commission.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am amazed to hear Senator Donolow accuse us of allowing people to come in and interfere with our work and counsel us in relation to legislation. I can assure him that is not the case. These figures have been compiled mostly by the Members of the Senate, especially by Senator Probert, Senator Stevenson, Senator Kessler and others, who have worked with Members of the House in order to arrive at these figures. As I said many hours previously, I do not believe this matter is absolutely perfect, but it is in a lot better shape than what Senator Donolow would lead us to believe.

Over a period of years, I have known many people who have come to the Democratic Caucus to counsel the Democrats and persuade them relative to legislation which has appeared before us. If you will search your minds, you will probably find that to be true. However, let us not get into that. I think it is beside the point. I feel that if any Senator desires to counsel with someone who he feels has some knowledge on figures, or has some knowledge of some law or bill which is pending before us, he has a perfect right to seek counsel. That has been true for many years; it is true now and I think it will be true for many years to come.

Let us now go into the budget regarding the two items to which Senator Donolow referred. First, the Fair Employment Practice Commission. The amount of $225,000 is the same amount which was contained in the 1955-1957 appropriation. I feel, with $225,000, they will be able to continue to do a good job. I understand, according to the figure which I have before me, that only $161,795 was spent for this purpose in the biennium which has just closed. Therefore, if we give them this extra money, they will be able to get along all right for another two years.

As far as the Advisory Board on Problems of Older Workers is concerned, I would point out to Senator Donolow, if my memory serves me correctly, that he and most of the other Democratic Members of the Senate did not want to incorporate the problems of the older workers with the Fair Employment Practice Commission and fought against it. It was through Senator Fleming, and others, that we were enabled to persuade the Democratic Members of the Senate to even consider the problems of the older workers in this regard. We have placed in House Bill No. 1700 the sum of $100,000 for this work. According to the figure I have, when the 1955-1957 biennium closed, there was only $12,324 spent for this purpose. Therefore, this amount gives them about eight times the amount they spent during the last biennium, and it certainly should be enough to take care of this problem. If they cannot take care of the problem with that amount of money during this biennium, then if they will come to us, at the next Session, with actual figures as to their needs, we can appropriate more money for the next biennium.

Mr. President, these new programs that are started are like locomotives. You cannot get them into high gear all at once. They must pick up speed slowly. They picked up some speed in the biennium that just closed, which is the biennium in which we inaugurated these programs, and they will pick up a little more speed in the next biennium. Perhaps, at the end of this biennium, they will be under full steam and, at the time of the 1959-1961 biennium, they will have experienced the amount needed in order for us to arrive at a more accurate figure the next time.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I feel just as lacerated as this budget. However, I just cannot let this opportunity go by without mentioning the figures regarding the Fair Employment Practice Commission Act.

Senator Mahany, can you tell me on what date this Act went into effect, during the last biennium?

Mr. MAHANY. Offhand, Senator Barr, I cannot tell you. It was toward the close of the Session, I believe.

Mr. BARR. It was near the end of September, was it not?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not think the 1955 Session had to long to run.

Mr. BARR. As the Democratic State Chairman, I want to tell you that this is certainly a nonpolitical commission. I want to assure you that I do not know anyone who is working for the commission. I had nothing to do with any appointments because I felt it was above and beyond politics. However, I do know of some of the experiences in New York State. We may have less people than New York State, but this was the first State where the Fair Employment Practice Act was introduced. It has been very effective there, and they are appropriating one million and several hundred thousand dollars.

I think you will agree with me that Pennsylvania is not five times less than New York in population; yet in House Bill No. 1700, you have recommended $225,000. In my opinion, I thought the Governor's recommendation of $371,000 was less than it should have been.

I am sorry if I have taken your time by almost making a speech, but now I shall ask you my question.

Do you think that Pennsylvania should have a Fair Employment Practice Commission and not receive the vehicle with which to function; that is, personnel?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not know exactly how much money would be needed. I think this is probably an adequate amount for this biennium. I thought I would see many things done differently down here in Harrisburg after this Act was put on the books. For instance, I noticed that in the Penn-Harris Hotel that all of the people who operate the elevators happen to be of the colored race. I thought I would see whether or not this Act worked out. I thought, when we passed the Fair Employment Practice Commission Act, I would probably see a couple of white people, now and then, operating the elevators. However, to this day, the hotel still maintains the same colored people on its elevators as it did two, three, five and ten years ago. I noticed that in the Harrisburger Hotel that the waiters over there in the dining room happen to be of the colored race. I have not objected to that because that is their business. However, under the Fair Employment Practice Act, I understand employers were supposed to integrate the races and when vacancies occurred, and white people applied for the jobs, they would get the jobs. I thought there would certainly be some vacancies occur in these two hotels and perhaps some white people would have a chance to obtain employment. Up until now—and these hotels are within a stone's throw of the Capitol—the same conditions exist in these two hotels as they did ten years ago, when I first came down to Harrisburg.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the gentleman does not seem to want to answer my question. I am not debating the Fair Employment Practice Commission Act.

Mr. MAHANY. What has it done, Senator Barr? They have not done anything—

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to say to Senator Mahany, before I ask any more pertinent questions, that we are debating House Bill No. 1700, as I understand. I want to tell Senator Mahany that it was April 5, of last year, before the Executive Director of the Fair Employment Practice Commission was appointed. It was November 7, of last year, before its eight representatives were placed in the field.

Senator Mahany is using false figures. What has been done in the Penn-Harris Hotel, the Harrisburger Hotel or any other hotel in the State is irrelevant. I am just simply stating to the gentleman that his figures are nonsensical.

It is like the House Appropriation Committee's estimated expenditure. I think it was proven to Senator Mahany that that estimated expenditure figure was between twenty-two and twenty-four million dollars off base. The staff of the Fair Employment Practice Commission was just appointed in November of 1956. Senator Mahany is using figures which are figures just pulled out of the air.

My question is, if we have a Fair Employment Practice Commission, are you in favor of a Fair Employment Practice Commission that can be well staffed and do the job?

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Barr, I am for the commission. However, I would like to find out what it has done up to date.

From listening to your arguments, it seems that all we have to do is appropriate to the commission a lot of money and it then will go to work. We did give it some money and, as you said, it started to operate last November. What has it done? Let us have a progress report. Has anybody been arrested? Has the commission placed anybody in jobs which seemingly before were closed to them? What has been done as a result of the Fair Employment Practice Act in Pennsylvania?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to inform the gentleman that I do not think the Act was put on the books to arrest a lot of people. I think it has had a moral effect for the good of the people. I think most of the problems have been solved by the commission.

If you want a progress report of how many cases they have had and how they were dispensed with, I promise the gentleman by noon tomorrow, I will present it to him in black and white.

Mr. MAHANY. Good, that sounds like a fair color combination.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have just been informed that every Senator—and I must say I am one of those at fault—has on his desk a progress report of the Fair Employment Practice Commission. Nevertheless, I will bring it up-to-date for you tomorrow.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I heard Senator Mahany state a few times and attempt to indicate the amount of money that was spent during the last biennium by the Fair Employment Practice Commission. Of course, when he talks about a biennium, he is talking about twenty-four full months and he is right when he does that. However, the Fair Employment Practice Commission has not been functioning for a twenty-four month period. As a matter of fact, it has been functioning for only seven months. During that seven month period, it had available to it $225,000. According to the figures I have here from the Budget Bureau, all but $60,582 was spent. This appropriation that is requested, in the amount of $371,631, is for a twenty-four month period. The commission was organized, it is functioning, and, as I understand it, it is making considerable progress.

I do not know whether anyone who served on the Joint Budget Committee asked for a report from the Fair Employment Practice Commission, which they had a right to do to determine how the money was being spent, but I do remember receiving, through the mail, a report on the activities of the commission. We certainly cannot expect too much to be accomplished in a seven month period. Now that the commission is organized and now that it is carrying out the law that was passed by this Legislature, I do not think its hands should be tied by reducing its appropriation to the extent where it is ineffective. As I said earlier this afternoon, if we are going to do that, we should abolish the program in its entirety, because if we do not give them sufficient money on which to operate, it is throwing money down the sewer because we do not get the results which we are asking.

I think in justification, since this commission was just established and has been functioning for only seven months, it should be given a fair trial by having sufficient money to operate for the next twenty-four months.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I have been trying to get the floor for some time to speak on the question of the Fair Employment Practice Commission. In the meantime, Senator Yosko and Senator Barr have covered a good bit of what I intended to say.

I do want to refer to a statement made by Senator Mahany. I am sorry that he is not here at the moment. He said that he had observed, since the Fair Employment Practice Commission Act went into effect, that the Harrisburger Hotel still employs colored waiters, the Penn-Harris still employs colored waiters and that he has not seen white waiters there.

We want to suggest to Senator Mahany that if he feels that either the Harrisburger Hotel or the Penn-Harris Hotel are discriminating against the white people by employing colored waiters, he is free to make a complaint to the Fair Employment Practice Commission and ask it to look into the matter.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President — —

Mr. PECHAN. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I yield to the Senator from Armstrong if he wishes to speak on the Fair Employment Practice Commission.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I just want to say that I do not believe Senator Mahany has any complaints and does not want to bring any before the Fair Employment Practice Commission. I think what he intended to bring out was the fact that he has not seen much that the Fair Employment Practice Commission has done during the time they have been in operation.

I would like to say, while we are talking about the Fair Employment Practice Commission, that Senator Donolow made a statement that the present Governor and the Democrats enacted the Fair Employment Practice Commission Act. I want him to remember, if he will that just two years ago, the majority of the votes came from the Republican side of the Senate, and we insisted on this old age amendment being put into the Fair Employment Practice Commission Act. You fellows on the other side of the aisle objected very, very strenuously when we added that amendment. I recall very vividly how strongly Senator Fleming fought for that amendment. Now you are trying to take credit for that phase of the bill.

From the report I have on the work that has been done by the Fair Employment Practice Commission, they have received more complaints about old age discrimination than they have about color, race or creed.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, before we leave these halls tonight and the Republicans attempt to take all the glory for this amendment pertaining to the aged worker, let us straighten out the record right here and now.

The Fair Employment Practice Commission Bill was introduced two years ago. It was strictly a Fair Employment Practice Act relating to color, creed and national origin. The Republicans, hoping to cripple the bill, put in an amendment covering discrimination against aged workers. Every group in the State of Pennsylvania, who was interested in the Fair Employment Practice Commission Bill, strictly felt this was not the place for that amendment.

If the last speaker would look at the record, he would see that I had introduced a separate bill prior to the Fair Employment Practice Commission Bill, asking for an Advisory Committee on the Aged Worker Problem.

When the amendment was then put into the Fair Employment Practice Commission Bill, the members on this side of the aisle voted against the amendment because we felt, and we still feel, that the Fair Employment Practice Act was not the place to put such an important problem as the aged worker. There was no other reason, why we, on the Democratic side, voted against it. We believed in the principle, and we still, do, but we did not feel that it should be wrapped up with this other issue. That was the popular opinion, and the leading opinion, in Pennsylvania then as it is today.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I thought I was going to be able to sit here and not say anything. However, I certainly could not permit the remarks of the gentleman who just spoke to go unchallenged.

Age was not inserted in the Fair Employment Practice Commission Bill by the Republican side of this Senate with any thought of crippling the Fair Employment Practice Commission. It was inserted because we felt that the group of workers most discriminated against in Pennsylvania were those people between the ages of forty and sixty-two. We knew from talking with many of those people that, when they made applications for jobs, they were practically unemployable.

I recall that on the Conference Committee, which worked out the details of the Fair Employment Practice Commission Bill, I believe there was Senator Wagner, Senator Seyler and myself who sat, on the part of the Senate, and worked with a similar committee of three from the House. I would leave it to the Democratic Member of that Conference Committee from the Senate, and I think he would agree, that both Senator Wagner and I were most insistent on age being put in, not with any thought of killing the Fair Employment Practice Commission, but with the thought that we were doing something that would very definitely strengthen the law. We drew to the attention of the Conference Committee that the State of Massachusetts had such a provision in their law, and that several other states were considering it.

It is not a question of who gets credit for the passage of the Fair Employment Practice legislation. Certainly it was the Legislature of Pennsylvania, the General Assembly, and when it was enacted we had a Democratic House and a Republican Senate. Any of the gentlemen who have spoken know full well that were it not for the majority of the Republicans who were in control of the committee, from whence came the legislation when the bill was reported out, it could not have been reported out. We would rather feel on this side of the Senate—and we hope that you, on the other side, would feel the same way—that this type of legislation was enacted because it was a forward step in Pennsylvania and a step for the social good of all the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I now yield to Senator Schmidt for the purpose of finishing this debate on the Fair Employment Practice Commission.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, to clear the record on what the commission has done in the first year of its operation, may I read to the members of the Senate a report released by that commission? Part of the report reads as follows:

"Complaints processed by the Commission during its first year of operation totaled 144. Of the charges, twenty-eight per cent were based on race or color; seven per cent on religion; four per cent on ancestry or national origin; and ten per cent on age. The remaining fifty-one per cent of the cases involved unlawful newspaper advertisements and illegal job application forms.

"Aggrieved individuals filed forty-seven per cent of the complaints, while the remaining fifty-three per cent were initiated by the Commission itself.

"Seventy per cent of the complaints were charged against employers, six per cent against employment agencies, three per cent against labor organizations and twenty-one per cent against others, principally newspapers which printed unlawful advertisements.

"Of the seventy-four cases closed by the Commission as of March 1, discrimination was found and adjusted in forty-two per cent, the specific charge of discrimination was not proved in thirty-four per cent, the Commission lacked jurisdiction in fifteen per cent, and the complainant withdrew the charge or otherwise failed to proceed with the case in nine per cent.

"The remaining cases either were awaiting action by the Commission or were under investigation.

"In all of the cases closed, the Commission did not find it necessary to go beyond the conference and conciliation stage in reaching an adjustment. No hearings were held or scheduled.

"In presenting an over-all view of the work of the Fair Employment Practices Commissions in Pennsylvania during the past year, the report noted that a total of 289 cases were handled by the official agencies of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Erie.

"Of the total cases, fifty per cent were filed with the State commission, thirty-four per cent with the Philadelphia agency, thirteen per cent with the Pittsburgh Commission and two per cent with the Erie group."

Getting back again to the question of age and so that it is not misunderstood, the Members of the Democratic side of the Senate, in the last Session, were not opposed to the question of discrimination as to age, but we vehemently opposed its being placed in a Fair Employment Practice Commission Bill, because we felt the two were absolutely different subjects and should be handled differently. We did ask that a commission be set up to take care of the question of age itself. In fact, I believe a study had been made by the Joint State Government Commission on that question.

In so far as age itself is concerned, the budget of the Advisory Board on Problems of Older Workers—which is the problem you are talking about—in the amount of $193,000 has been cut to $100,000. Whether the problem is dealt with under the Fair Employment Practice Commission or dealt with under an Advisory Board, it still remains that there has been practically fifty per cent of the proposed budget sliced in this appropriation bill.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, at the risk of being charged with being a special pleader tonight, I rise to ask support for those amendments to House Bill No. 1700 which are addressed to the Department of Commerce and its appropriation, particularly with reference to administration of the funds for slum clearance, urban redevelopment and the new industrial program with its revolving fund for loans to build factories.

Perhaps, Mr. President, this is a problem peculiar to the coal regions. If so, I am perfectly willing to fight for it because, since I represent the coal regions, I think it is not only my duty, but my privilege to speak on behalf of the people who live in those wonderful counties.

As I recall the bill which created this Industrial Development Authority, it was sponsored by Senator from many areas in Pennsylvania, outside the coal regions. At the risk of repeating one of Senator Dent's more eloquent statements, may I again point out that all of us in Pennsylvania are one family. If one member of the family is sick, we are not healthy as a unit. Therefore, all of us as Pennsylvanians owe it, not only to our own people but to all of Pennsylvania to do all we can in order to improve the economic health of all of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, these amendments would appear on page 16 of the bill, lines 2, 4 and 7. The amount requested by the Governor in his budget for the conduct of a publicity campaign, through advertisements, press releases and so forth, and tourist inquiry services, was $1,447,000. This has been cut to $1,110,000, or a reduction of $337,000.

For the conduct of an advertising campaign, in connection with the industrial development program, there was a request of $475,000. This amount has been cut by $275,000.

For the conduct of an advertising program to develop tourist travel and vacationing in Pennsylvania, a request of $275,000 has been cut to $200,000.

Most importantly, Mr. President, is the fact that the lump sum of $337,000 has been cut from the general administrative appropriation to the Department of Commerce. Tied in with this are the two other bills which came to us last night from the House, covering urban redevelopment and slum clearance, and the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority. They are not on the Calendar before us, but they are closely related.

By analogy, let me try to explain it this way. It seems to me that in the words of a popular song of the moment, which goes something like, "Take a star from out of the sky and the sky is blue," the theme of the song being that nature is an ordered system, and if you disturb one part of the ordered system, the entire system is disturbed. Therefore, Mr. President, unless the Department of Commerce receives sufficient moneys in order to hire the necessary trained personnel to run this industrial development program, any money which is given for the loan fund will just be wasted. In other words, if there is no administrative personnel, it will not make any difference whether the Secretary of Commerce gets $1,000,000 or $100,000,000. Therefore, I think it is appropriate that we discuss these related measures tonight.

I do want to say that you are cutting the heart out of Pennsylvania's attempt to advertise its great natural resources in strategic locations, through national advertising magazines and in such periodicals as the Wall Street Journal, in order to bring before industry all over America, the many advantages that Pennsylvania has to offer new industries and corporations that want to expand into Pennsylvania, and to advertise the fact that in Pennsylvania, under the Democratic Administration program of last Session, their plants can be one hundred per cent financed without any investment by themselves.

Mr. President, in attacking this program, it seems to me that the Republican Leadership has finally come up with a way to eliminate all taxes, by just making Pennsylvania a desert. In a desert, you do not need State Police. In a desert, you do not need factory inspectors. In a desert, you do not need schoolteachers. Therefore, if you want Pennsylvania to go on the industrial decline and have our population move out of the State, certainly you are going to eliminate taxes and you are going to eliminate Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, this industrial development program, in all of its facets, was a platform plank in the 1954 Democrat platform, which was made law at the last Session of the Legislature. I think most of us will recall that in the 1953 Session, the Chesterman Committee recommended the entire abolition of the Department of Commerce because it was considered to be a waste of money and was offering nothing productive. In 1955, when this Administration came into office, a survey was made, at the direction of the Governor, to determine whether or not the Chesterman Committee Report should be carried out and the Department of Commerce abolished, or whether there was a way of making the Department of Commerce a useful agency in Pennsylvania. This survey was conducted on a nonpartisan basis, with the aid of the Pennsylvania Economy League. It was conceived that Pennsylvania could be greatly benefited by a program of industrial advertising and a program under the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority, whereby funds would be loaned to local groups and, when supplemented by bank loans, new factories could be built.

All of us know that in the last decade or so, before this, Pennsylvania had been gradually losing its place among the top industrial States. Other States were offering more to industry to locate in their States than we were offering. Pennsylvania and its government was asleep at the switch in the postwar fight for new factories and new businesses. This has never been more vividly demonstrated than in the northeastern coal region counties and in some of the southwestern counties. In my own county of Lackawanna, in the 1940 decade, we lost more than 50,000 people to other States. In the neighboring county of Luzerne, which is represented by Senator Flack, it lost more than 50,000 in population. In the other coal region counties, Schuylkill and elsewhere, likewise, thousands of people started to leave.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, when 50,000 people leave a county, it means about 20,000 families have broken up. Their roots are torn from Pennsylvania and they go to industrial areas in other States in search of jobs. Those who go, in the main, are young people. Therefore, the loss is felt even in the future when young people leave. Families are not created and our population does not grow. Gradually, this industrial blight was spreading all over Pennsylvania. If you read an issue of the Wall Street Journal of this week, I would venture to say that you will see advertisements, on the part of a dozen or more States, telling manufacturers why they should locate new plants in their States. One day last week, I looked and found that even the State of South Dakota was trying to entice industry within its borders. We all know about the strong efforts made by the southern States in the past fifteen years. We know, too, that Pennsylvania suffered some losses in that direction.

Mr. President, when you cut this industrial advertising fund, as it has been cut, you are practically cutting in half any advertising that Pennsylvania can do in the next biennium. We must remember, because of the length of the last Session, that this program has been in operation for only a year. Therefore, it is not a true index to say that so much money was expended in the last biennium. So much money actually was expended only in one year.

Mr. President, I believe that the Pennsylvania Industrial Fund, in the short time it has been in operation, has done a magnificent job. Naturally, I am partisan because I am a Democrat and because I come from an area which has been helped. Only a week ago Saturday, Mr. President, the Chrysler Corporation, of Michigan, announced that it was locating a plant in Lackawanna County. That will mean at least 500 jobs for our people.

Let me just read part of the release from the Department of Commerce on this very wonderful development. It reads as follows:

"Based on discussions begun in March between our Commerce Department staff and the Scranton industrial development organization, financing plans have been completed and Chrysler has now announced it will move into a new 205,000 square foot community-built plant at Eynon, just outside of Scranton. Chrysler will produce and assemble military tank parts and employ 500 men.

"To provide the plant facilities for Chrysler it will be necessary for the community non-profit corporation—SLIPCO—to expend approximately $1,400,000 on plant construction. The money will be raised from local financial institutions and the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority.

"The Authority will place second mortgage loans on eight of the Scranton area's community-built plants, already established and operating. Proceeds of these loans will be used to supplement a first mortgage loan and make possible the completion of a plant for Chrysler.

"The Authority at its April meeting made and has since disbursed a loan covering $275,000 of the total requirement; the remaining Authority loans will come to approximately $625,000.

"The Authority's loans are being made under a provision of the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority Act that makes it possible to 'unfreeze' a part of community funds previously raised and presently tied up in long-term financing of manufacturing plants, provided the money is used to construct new plants."

Mr. President, there, for one factory in one county, is $625,000. That is, roughly, a little better than one-sixth of the entire appropriation for the biennium. As you will notice, Mr. President, this is a loan which will be repaid. It is matched by local loans from banks. This is not a form of spending, but rather this is the creation of a fund from which loans can be made and repaid in a perpetual revolving fund setup. If Lackawanna County, on one application, received a little better than one-sixth of the entire appropriation, what is Somerset County, in Senator Whalley's District, going to receive? How about Senator Flack's county of Luzerne? How about Senator Mallery's county of Blair? How about Senator Dent's county of Westmoreland? There just is not going to be enough money in this appropriation to insure that all of the factories which want to come into Pennsylvania can come in.

Mr. President, in the short time which this plan has been operating, I think it is already acknowledged, throughout the Country, that Pennsylvania's Industrial Development Act is the best. Men have come here from half the States in the Union to see how we are doing it. In particular, a group from Ohio has been very pleasantly surprised and is advocating the same type of thing in Ohio.

For once in our lives, and thanks to a Democratic Administration, we have the jump on the other forty-seven States in this very vigorous postwar competition for new industries.

There is no question that I am biased, Mr. President. I am proud to have been a sponsor of the bill which set up this Authority and to be a Democratic Senator in this Administration, which has done so much in so short a time on the road toward rebuilding Pennsylvania as one of our great industrial States.

Let us see what some of the newspapers of the State have been saying about this cut in the Department of Commerce appropriation. I think all of us know that that not very many newspapers in Pennsylvania can be accused of being Democratic partisans. The following is an editorial from the Pottsville Republican, on June 3, 1957, entitled, "Pennsylvania's 800,000 Starving."

The hour is late and there is no point, in this long discussion, in reading verbatim every single editorial. We have all received copies of them. However, let me just run down the list of those few Newspapers which are represented in the group that I have here.

There is an editorial here from The Evening Gazette, Indiana, Pennsylvania. Is that a Republican or a Democratic newspaper? I do not know, but it is in favor of this budget, as the Governor requested, in the Industrial Development Program.

Here is another editorial from the Stroudsburg Daily, dated May 31, 1957, entitled, "Shortway, Industrial Program Go Together." The following is a short paragraph in bold, black type, which I can pick out easily and read to you:

"And he"—referring to Governor Leader—

"was right, we believe, in warning Republican legislative leaders to abandon plans to curtail the state's industrial development program because the Shortway 'must go hand in hand' with efforts to develop industrial expansion in Pennsylvania."

Another paragraph, in bold, black type, from the same editorial, reads as follows:

"Any effort of the Republicans to fit this request into their admirable campaign to cut the budget would be the height of short-sightedness. The relatively trivial sums being loaned for the construction of industrial plans are one of the wisest investments the state could make."

Mr. President, here is another editorial from the Hazleton Plain Speaker, dated Tuesday, May 14, 1957. This is a front page item:

"GOP Economy Axe Reportedly Falls On State Aid Program." Carried over on the second section, the headline is, "GOP Economy to Hit Area."

Here is another editorial from the Stroudsburg Daily Record, dated May 28, 1957, which says the following, in part:

"We've embarked on a state program of finding new industry and helping it get established here. The General Assembly has an obligation in this endeavor in that it should create a favorable tax climate for industry. It can also give a full measure of financial aid to the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Administration."

Here is an editorial from the Altoona Mirror, dated May 1957, and another editorial from the Uniontown Evening Standard, dated May 29, 1957, entitled, "No Cuts Wanted."

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, dated June 1, 1957, headed its editorial: "Don't Penalize Job Drive."

The Wilkes-Barre Sunday Independent, on May 19, 1957, headlined its article as follows: "Cutting Not Economy," with the subheading, "State Aid to Industrial Drives is Spending That Shows a Profit."

The Pottsville Republican, again, on May 25, 1957, said, "Don't Let 'Em Cut Funds for Industry."

The last editorial I shall refer to is from our own local Sunday Patriot-News, dated May 26, 1957, addressed to this subject, entitled, "Who is State GOP Trying to Kid?"

Therefore, Mr. President, we see that newspapers, from one end of the State to the other, have vigorously opposed the cut in the Department of Commerce appropriation. They recognize, each in their own community, the great help that this great democratic proposal has been in rebuilding a healthy economy all over Pennsylvania.

I am also sure that we have received many letters from civic groups from all areas. Let me read a part of one from the Northeast Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission. This Commission is headed by Victor C. Diehm, President of the Hazleton Broadcasting Company, Hazleton. The Treasurer is James F. Koch, President of the Hazleton National Bank; Vice President is Frank C. Mueller, Vice President of the Schuylkill Division of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company; another Vice President is Roy Stauffer, President of Roy Stauffer, Incorporated, West Pittston, Pennsylvania; and another Vice President is Rulison Evans, President of the Scranton Spring-Brook Water Service Company, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, these men are not Democrats. They are great Pennsylvanians; they are community leaders. They are, I believe, in the main, Republicans and they are pleading, not only with me but with every Senator, to make certain that this program, so vital to the welfare of the entire State, is not hurt and is not slashed to pieces and crippled in this last minute drive of the Legislature.

This letter is addressed to me, as the Senator from Lackawanna County. It is signed by the Chairman of the Special Legislative Committee, of the Northeast Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission, namely, Attorney Ernest D. Preate. Attorney Preate is Secretary of the Lackawanna County Republican Committee. He wrote to me as follows:

"In an urgent appeal to you, suggesting that you and your colleagues in the Senate of Pennsylvania restore a full $5 million appropriation for fiscal 1958-59 to the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority revolving Fund. . ." Going on, he says:

"As a co-sponsor of this bi-partisan,, non-controversial program, strongly supported by the chambers of commerce, banks and utilities in the northeastern section of the state and in labor surplus areas across the commonwealth, together with the state Chamber of Commerce, I know that you feel that continuance of this new and successful program must be assured."

In Mr. Preate's concluding paragraph, he says:

"As secretary of the Lackawanna Republican Committee and counsel of the Scranton Story of Industrial Development, and one who assisted in the drafting of this program favored by industrial development, everywhere, our bankers and other lenders, our utilities and transportation systems, I heartily recommend that an appropriation of $5 million be restored for the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority."

Mr. President, Ernest Preate knows that he can count on my support. I am sure that he hopes he can count on the support of thinking Republican Members of this Senate to restore these cuts in the budget. Unless this program goes forward, we are at a crossroad in Pennsylvania as to whether or not we will continue to grow and keep our place in the sun as a great industrial State in this Nation. If you cut out this type of program, you are only insuring, as I said before, that we will end up in a desert. Of course, you will save taxes because there will not be anybody here. All our people will be in Newark, New Jersey or Wilmington, Delaware or out in Youngstown, Ohio, working.

Mr. President, if you go forward with this Democratic program, on the other hand, you are going to provide in Pennsylvania a Democratic oasis, a veritable Garden of Eden. This is the type of thing which is going to insure, again, for the Democratic Party in Pennsylvania, in 1958, another great victory. We are the Party which is willing to progress and help all of Pennsylvania. Under the Democratic leadership and the Democratic programs, such as have been sponsored in this Session and in the last Session of this Legislature, and, in particular, this industrial development program, we are going to build new factories, new roads and new schools to provide full employment for every Pennsylvanian, regardless of his political affiliation. This is the type of program that the people respond to.

We have heard, and I have read to you, pleas from Republican leaders, pleas from editorials from Republican news papers and from nonpartisan newspaper, saying, "Don't for partisanship sake, permit politics to hurt Pennsylvania for years to come. Restore the program and the cuts to the Department of Commerce budget, which will insure progress for Pennsylvania in the future."

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I heartily endorse the recommendations made by my distinguished colleague, Senator McMenamin. The Members of this Senate know full well my thoughts regarding promoting industry in our State. Over the years I have believed that we should do everything to promote industry in order to provide jobs for every man and woman who is able and willing to work. In my opinion, it is most important that everyone should have a job who is able and willing to work, so that he or she can provide a living for his or her family or other dependents and pay taxes, rather than the unemployed being a charge upon the State.

I believe I introduced a bill, co-sponsored by my colleagues on the left, and I was told by my friend, Senator Dent, that if I had provided an appropriation in my bill, which was patterned after the New York law, then that bill might have become law. I now admit that it was one of the mistakes that I made, and one which I regret. However, the people back home know that I have been a staunch advocate. I am proud of the organization that we have in Blair County, which is doing everything it can to promote industry.

I heartily approve of the program that the Republican Members of the Senate have undertaken to make a searching investigation of this budget, not necessarily to cut down on useful projects but to effect savings. If we can effect savings, I am hopeful that we can find the money to raise this appropriation in order that we can continue the progress that we are making in Blair County. I hope we can promote progress such as we are having in all parts of Pennsylvania where more employment is needed.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, most of the Republican Members of the Senate were in favor of restoring whatever cuts were made in the amounts needed for industrial and urban redevelopment. We so indicated to our colleagues in the House. I understand, if they have not already done so, they are in the process of passing two bills which will provide the necessary funds for these two items. Therefore, Mr. President, under the circumstances, we should not put those appropriations into House Bill No. 1700 due to the fact that I believe these amounts will be restored for those purposes.

As far as the amounts are concerned which are needed for the Department of Commerce to advertise in various magazines for industries, I also feel that is essential. In fact, as I remember it, a couple of Sessions ago, the Chesterman Committee made a recommendation to the effect that the Department of Commerce be completely abolished. In that way, we were going to save part of the $100,000,000, which they stated could be saved if we adopted all the Chesterman Committee recommendations.

Senator Dent and I introduced legislation to abolish the Department of Commerce. I remember, in this very room, we had people coming from all over the State of Pennsylvania. We even had people coming here from the Department of Commerce to testify why they did not feel this particular recommendation of the Chesterman Committee should be adopted. As a result of the hearing and the testimony which was offered at that time, I know that I voted against the bill and, I believe, Senator Dent voted against the bill. I do not know how Senator Leader voted. He voted for most of the recommendations of the Chesterman Committee Report, in order to enable himself to go out and campaign over the State, giving us the business because we did not vote for the recommendations. He said that if he were elected, he would see to it that all the recommendations were put into effect. This was one of the recommendations. Instead of putting it into effect, he is now coming over and beating us over the head because we have not given him more money to spend on this particular feature. That is how inconsistent this Administration has been.

I noticed in yesterday mornings' Harrisburg newspaper a very lovely picture of my good friend, Senator Dent. It was one of the outstanding pictures he has had taken, appearing in the public press. I was quite proud of the fact that I knew the Senator. However, somewhere in juxtaposition of the picture was a headline which stated, "Senator Dent Does An About-Face." I would suggest to the same newspaper that it print another picture tomorrow morning of another one of our Senators. I think he would make almost as nice a picture as Senator Dent. That would be a picture of Senator McMenamin. I also suggest that they print the same caption. He made a very lovely speech tonight about the wonders of the present Administration. Only about a week ago, I understood he was so upset over the present Administration that he was going to refuse to ever run again for office. Therefore, I would suggest that Senator McMenamin has also done an about-face in coming to the defense of the present Administration.

I would say to Senator McMenamin that he and Senator Dent are not the only ones who do an about-face. I think Governor Leader does an about-face just about every day. I get rather tired of having my head beat in for not going along with things and increasing the items which Senator Leader said he would abolish if he ever became Governor of the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I was going to say, I thank the Majority Floor Leader for calling attention to the fact that I had my picture in the paper, and that is very unusual. I particularly liked what he said about by doing an about-face. I will say this, Senator. I try to take a good picture on either one of my faces.

In all seriousness, Senator Mahany, when the Chesterman Committee Report advocated the abolishment of the Department of Commerce, it was rather a useless department at that time. There was no program in it for industrial development and there was no program in it for urban redevelopment. In fact, at that time, I think the Senator from Allegheny County, Senator Holland, came up with a very astounding revelation. He discovered that out of 172 employees, 161 one of them were labeled clippers. They had them classified as clippers, subclippers, sub-subclippers, and so forth. We felt it was about time to stop the clipping of the people of Pennsylvania and, at that time, there were some of us who decided that particular department had outlived its usefulness.

Thanks to Senator Mallery,, and others on both sides, we have now made that department a very effective department. I am happy to know that the House has decided to sponsor the proper amount in the budget.

I might say that while the House is talking economy and preaching economy, why do they not practice it? They did not have to pass two separate bills to get themselves in right, politically; bills costing some thirty-six hundred dollars each. All they had to do was to allow us to amend this bill, and that is all there would have been to it. That proves, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that the whole picture is political and not practical.

I want to say a few words tonight about a department that has not been mentioned. It seems the old adage that the creaky gate gets all the grease is true in politics. The Department of Welfare has made itself heard, and so we are restoring funds to the Department of Welfare in the amounts that are needed. The Department of Commerce has found it has friends. They have made themselves heard, and we are restoring to the Department of Commerce the amount of moneys they need. Lo and behold, we have a department that probably is run by one of the finest men who has entered public life in my lifetime of political endeavor. He is a quiet, soft spoken individual. He is a prototype of that typical American who crossed the plains in a Conestoga wagon, lived on the frontier, tilled the soil, cut the forest and initiated industry. He has been an outstanding Secretary of Forests and Waters.

I do not usually pay compliments to the group which comes into politics from the universities. I have been known, on occasion, to a critic of that particular breed of political neophyte. I have criticized some of the Secretary's colleagues, on occasion, and will again when I find they are doing a sloppy, bad job. However, I also believe that when a man does a good job, he is entitled to the credit for that job. The Secretary of Forests and Waters, Maurice Goddard, has endeared himself to the people of Pennsylvania by his untiring efforts on behalf of the programs that mean a great deal more than some of us happen to believe they do.

We have taken from the Department of Forests and Waters all of the needed moneys to do the jobs that are required in each and every district in this State. I am hopeful that we will be able, before we are finished, to do something for that department.

For instance, to show you the shortsightedness, a simple item in the budget, an item on maintenance of the Valley Forge Park Commission, was cut from $252,000 to $227,000, an insignificant amount of $27,000. However, this is the year that some 50,000 to 60,000 Boy Scouts will be down at that park visiting from all over this Commonwealth and this Nation. We are cutting that budget at this time and if ever they needed the extra money, they need it now. It will cost more than that to pick up the blue ribbons Senator Mahany talked about, which the boys might lose after they earn them. These are the type of cuts in the budget which just do not have any reason, any rhyme or any sense.

For instance, on the salaries and expenses of that department, you have cut $1,420,000 for the administration of the Department. I do not believe any Senator on this floor can say Secretary Goddard is a wasteful administrator or one who is not capable of doing the job right.

I know that, altogether, we have cut some six and one-half million dollars from that particular department. I believe we can do something about it. The Senate has passed over to the House a bill on Point Park, which calls for $1,196,000 in this budget. We can forget that now because Senate Bill No. 313, sponsored by Senator Mahany and myself, takes care of that item. We are going to be pound wise and penny foolish this time. We are going to take the whole need of Point Park and put it into one project to keep from spending in small amounts and having the increased cost from year to year negate everything we have done the year before.

We have $1,050,000 for the Independence Mall in Philadelphia, which we can forget about in this Department because, under that same bill, we have provided the same kind of wisdom. We are now going to build the Mall under one particular project, which is good thinking; good, sound business thinking. That means we have approximately $2,244,000 that we need not replace in that budget.

We do have to replace some items in the budget. The Pennsylvania State Park and Harbor Commission, under the Governor's request, was entitled to $345,000. It was cut to $155,000. We can forget that item because under an enabling act passed here under the guidance I think of Senator George Stevenson, who worked as diligently and as hard to get that legislation through as any man who ever promoted good legislation on this Senate Floor, we have the oil and gas lease moneys that we can use specifically for the park. Therefore, we can reduce the budget in that amount.

No matter how much you reduce a specific item which, perhaps, can be taken from the oil and gas lease money or, perhaps, can be made up in other appropriations, you just cannot take out of that particular fund, the operating expenses of the department. If you do not give the department operating expenses, what good are all the other items that you are going to carry in the budget?

The one thing I cannot understand is the cut in the budget from $700,000 to $200,000 for the desilting program which we have fought so hard for on the Schuylkill River. How many of you realize that we have spent in that riverbed some $16,000,000 of the taxpayers' moneys? Unless we keep up the operation under this kind of an appropriation in the Department of Forests and Waters, it will only be a matter of time until that river goes back to the original state it was in when we started the desilting program. It is like a field. If a farmer tills his field, plows it, sows it and harvests it, the field stays fertile and alive, too, but if he lets go to pot and seed, it grows up in bushes and eventually it is of no use to he or to anyone else. So it is with this kind of project.

Stream clearance and flood control was cut $1,500,000. We cut it out completely in this particular department.

I want to say to you that I can speak with authority on that particular subject when it comes to my community. In the old days, industry always located near the riverbeds and the creekbeds because of the availability of water and the stream for taking away its waste. Within the last twenty years, because of the building up of the communities, the streams are not carrying the water they did previously during the slack seasons. When the rain comes, the streams overflow and industry suffers. When industry suffers, the people suffer.

We were in danger, in our community, of losing one of the largest enterprises in Greensburg, one in Jeannette and all of us know the predicament down in Turtle Creek, in Allegheny County, with Westinghouse. An ultimatum was laid down to the communities that unless they did something about stream clearance and about flood control in these communities, industry would have to move. I represented my communities and came down to the department. We have cleaned up Brush Creek in Jeannette, we are cleaning up Bull Run, we are taking care of the different streams that are feeding through our small towns, and industries not only have stayed there but they have expanded. You cannot cut out this kind of a program. These are investments in the future. They pay dividends today, but they will bring capital gains in the future.

Therefore, I say to you, whatever we do, let us not put all the grease on the squeaky gate. Let us go into the other departments of the State that require the aid, the help and the attention of this Legislature. Let us not just put it where someone has made himself heard. There has been no outcry for replacement of the cuts in Mines and Mining, in Forests and Waters or in Health. The big cry has been in Welfare and in the Department of Commerce. Inasmuch as we are going to fight, and have kept fighting, for the needs in those departments, let us not close the book on the departments that mean so much to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I probably would be the last one here to get up and make any condemnation of Secretary Goddard. Secretary Goddard has done just about everything I could think of to please me with just one small exception. He told the Governor to veto my pet Pymatuning bill which we passed here a week or so ago. However, that was in line with his thinking and I am not going to object too much to that, although I differed with him and told him so. Perhaps under a different Administration, he might give different advice.

Be that as it may, I want to compliment the Secretary. He is one of those so-called eggheads or brain trusters or whatnot, as we sometimes refer to them, whom I like very much. I think he has done a good job. He did a particularly good job for my little town of Titusville. He cleared up the stream up there and made it very nice.

I differ with my friend, Senator Dent, that we are cutting the heart out of Secretary Goddard's appropriation. There are many continuing funds in the Secretary's department, to which he has access. These funds do not lapse, but they continue on and he has those funds at his disposal. He also has the oil and gas lease royalty fund at his disposal. I understand that with this appropriation which we are giving him, of a little over $10,000,000, the Secretary will have around $30,000,000 to spend for the various projects under his supervision.

I feel that certainly that is adequate funds for the Secretary to expend on these various projects throughout the State of Pennsylvania, in which we are all interested. If these figures are wrong in some way, then the Conference Committee may take that into consideration, and where there is any shortage here that would cripple Secretary Goddard's department, I would suggest the Conference Committee take that into consideration and restore as much as is possible in light of the revenues which we expect to collect.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I am directing my remarks to the Department of Property and Supplies. On page 41, line 8, of House Bill No. 1700, there is a cut of $416,404. This covers salaries and expenses for a physical plant survey of all Commonwealth property. This is a duty imposed on the Secretary of Property and Supplies by the Administrative Code. By granting this appropriation, we are only complying with a law which places this duty on the Secretary.

On page 41, line 20, a cut of $423,493 is proposed for Capitol services. This reduction will mean that the vitally necessary repairs to State buildings, such as leaking roofs and unsafe elevators and so on, cannot be accomplished. I do not think it is economy to allow the great buildings on Capitol Hill to deteriorate.

The next item is probably the largest cut in this department. On page 42, line 3, there is a cut of approximately $2,500,000 made in the program for the purchase and maintenance of automobiles and trucks. The revised budget request on this item was $4,108,305. The Legislature is proposing $1,500,000. In the General Fund Fleet, there are 907 trucks which, by the end of the biennium, will be five to thirty-four years old, and 566 passenger cars which will be five to twelve years old.

To replace these trucks will require $2,661,200. To replace the 566 old automobiles will require $890,830. If no more than $1,500,000 is provided, there will be no new passenger cars to replace the old ones and the maintenance costs will be excessive and necessary State functions cannot be performed.

This worthy project was started by our present Secretary of Property and Supplies, Senator John Rice, who I had hoped one day would be Governor of Pennsylvania. It just happened in an off year. I think it is false economy to scuttle Secretary Rice's program.

On page 42, line 9, an appropriation of $203,000 was granted for administering the distribution of Federal surplus commodities. There was a request in the Governor's budget for $274,131. This amount is needed to provide for surplus food inspection. This inspection is required by the Federal Government and the department will only be complying with the law; otherwise, a lot of these supplies will be shut off.

On page 42, line 18, there is a $1,000,000 reduction in General State Authority Rentals. This will affect the price of bond issues. Inasmuch as sufficient funds will not be available to pay the rentals, this is an item which is going to be paid one way or another, either in reduced credit of the General State Authority or in no rents to the General State Authority.

On page 42, line 20, there is provision for the extension of Commonwealth Avenue, as provided in the Act of April 12, 1956. Two hundred ninety-five thousand six hundred dollars was requested and $200,000 was granted. In this case, $200,000 will probably be sufficient, and I do not believe any complaint has been made about that figure. However, I think economy such as this in our Department of Property and Supplies is not going to save any money at all for the Commonwealth.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I am not angry at anyone here tonight. However, I want to say a word or two about a department which has hardly been mentioned on this floor tonight, and this is the Department of Public Assistance.

There has been a transformation in these United States in the last quarter of a century which is amazing. Do you know there is not a poorhouse or a soup house in the United States today? When I was a young man, I knew a lot of people who worried that some day they would have to travel over the hills to the poorhouse. That has been done away with; they have simply done away with the poorhouse and the soup house.

In these United States, we have a Department called the Public Assistance Department. There has hardly been a word said here tonight on behalf of that department. I must say, it is the toughest department to handle in the State. From the Governor's Office down to the lowest department, the Department of Public Assistance is the toughest one to handle. Their customers are the poor, the unfortunate, the unlucky and the unhappy. They are irritable, even though at one time they were probably prosperous and happy. However, today we have the Department of Public Assistance.

I am not mad at the Appropriations Committee. I have no amendments to offer because I want to be fair. I think the Appropriations Committee has been rather fair with this department. I think they have written $7,000,000, but $5,000,000 of that goes to the nursing home care and the blind. There is only a few million dollars left, and with that few million dollars they must take cognizance of the increased cost of rents, fuel, light, supplies, equipment and salaries which are always going out.

While I do not have any amendments, I hope that the Conference Committee will listen to the Department of Public Assistance. Back in our counties, most of those boards do not get a penny for the work they do; not a penny. A few men at the top get paid, but all the boards back home, in every county, work day in and day out without a penny of compensation. They work for the people, the poor and the unfortunate.

I hope the Conference Committee will take into consideration that we have this department which provides for people who are needy of things, needy of food and a place to live. I hope they will be fair concerning the request of the Department of Public Assistance.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, one of the departments in the Commonwealth that has been affected by the cutting of the budget and the appropriations is the Department of Internal Affairs. In that department, various bureaus have suffered individual cuts. The Bureau of Land Records has had a reduction of $272,000. This $272,000 is necessary in order to provide a safe place for the valuable records of this Commonwealth.

When this Capitol was originally built, it was intended that there would be a fireproof depository somewhere on E Floor where the records of the Commonwealth could be kept. That was never provided. It is necessary that some type of fireproof filing system, cabinets or otherwise, be furnished in order that we may preserve these records that are so necessary to our counties throughout the State. Most of them consist of plans, maps, and so on, of which there are no other available copies.

Now with a cut of $272,000 in this appropriation, it will be impossible for the department to provide a safe depository for these records. Therefore, I ask that the Senate—not the Conference Committee but the Senate—restore this cut of $272,000 to the Bureau of Land Records.

There is also a cut of $213,000 in the Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey. We are trying to get new industry to come into Pennsylvania. In order to get these industries, we have to furnish them topographic and geographic reports. They are very necessary to our commerce and the extension of our commercial enterprises. Therefore, I again ask that the Senate restore this $213,000 to the Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey.

The Bureau of Weights and Measures has had a reduction of $79,000 in its appropriation. This cut of $79,000 will prevent this bureau from dealing with significant new developments in the weights and measures field. Perhaps the most dramatic illustration of this expansion is the rapidly increasing number of farm milk tanks which are being installed on the dairy farms of Pennsylvania. There were approximately 919 milk tanks in use in 1955 and there are at least 2,162, with probably even more not yet reported to us, in use today. These tanks require calibration and periodic checking by Weights and Measures Inspectors to guarantee that farmers, distributors and consumers receive fair treatment in the processing of milk.

In order to improve the service of the department in this field of farm milk tank calibration, the department purchased three one-half ton trucks late in the present biennium. This proposed cut will seriously impede the usefulness of these vehicles by failing to provide for their operation and maintenance during the 1957-1959 biennium.

The department has just purchased an additional heavy-duty truck to do the important checking of heavy-duty scales in the State. The proposed cut will deny the department the necessary funds to provide for an operator of this vehicle.

Finally, the Bureau of Statistics has a reduction of $57,000. The department has been gathering together necessary information for the use of commerce and industry throughout Pennsylvania. This statistical information is very much in demand. This proposed cut of $57,000 will make it impossible for the bureau to carry out the survey which they make in so far as statistical information for business is concerned.

The Bureau of Municipal Affairs will get a reduction of $47,000. This is the bureau which furnishes to all of our municipalities throughout the Commonwealth, information so vital to them in carrying out their municipal functions. That will be cut out if the reduction of $47,000 to that bureau is not restored.

The Bureau of Administration and the Bureau of Publicity and Information have a combined reduction of $32,000. This cut will eliminate the biennial and semi-annual reports which this department furnishes throughout this Commonwealth. It will impede the successful operation of the Department of Internal Affairs.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, this is another one of those departments which the Chesterman Committee recommended should be abolished. Senator Dent and I put in a bill for a constitutional amendment to abolish the Department of Internal Affairs which was voted down, and then we were lambasted all over the lot by Senator Leader, when he was running for Governor, because we did not vote for it. He said if he were elected, he would see that this Chesterman Committee report was adopted. Of course, it is the old story that the department was no good under the Republicans, but it has now become such a great thing and worth many times more than what it used to be.

I believe Secretary Livengood did a good job when he headed this department. I do not know what Genevieve Blatt is doing now that Secretary Livengood did not do, but I do notice that when Secretary Livengood had the department, in the last biennium of the Fine Administration, the total amount for the 1953-1955 biennium was $1,316,428 and now they are asking for $2,600,000, which is about twice as much in the space of two years.

That is the kind of economy this Administration is practicing. Instead of abolishing the department and cutting down and economizing, as Governor Leader said to the people he would do if he were elected, he is now asking for twice as much for this department as was appropriated when he took over. This is just the case of another broken promise by His Excellency, Governor Leader.

I think there is a lot of good that comes from this department. On the other hand, I think they collect a lot of information over there which probably never even sees the light of day. I do not know why we have to put up some kind of a sealed vault for all this information. We are going to have some new buildings put on the Capital plot. We are trying to design one of those buildings so that there will be a fireproof and bombproof cellar in which we can house these records at the proper time.

I think Miss Blatt is crying with a loaf of bread under each arm, when we only cut her appropriation $200,000. I think she should be happy with the amount she is getting.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I am sorry I cannot agree with Senator Mahany on the difference in the administration of the office of Secretary of Internal Affairs between Genevieve Blatt and Mr. Livengood.

Mr. Livengood used that office as political headquarters. He was always running for Governor and he did very little work in it. While he was there, he got a law school education, and during his tenure received the reports and statistics which I am now receiving from Genevieve Blatt. I do not think there is any comparison between the administration of that office at the present time and when Mr. Livengood ran the office.

I said before, and I say now, when Mr. Livengood ran that office it was a broken-down, neglected office. Now it is an office that carries a great deal of prestige with it.

RECESS

The PRESIDENT. If there are no objections, the Chair will declare a recess of the Senate for five minutes.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I have one more plea to make this evening.

I could, if I so desired, go into this thoroughly, but I am only going to read the letter which accompanied this information. It is from the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and it is addressed to me as "Dear Senator Schmidt." By the way, being a member of the legal profession, I recognize letters coming from the Supreme Court. This is from the prothonotary of this court.

"Dear Senator Schmidt:

"I am enclosing for your consideration statements relative to the necessity for the restoration of the total amounts requested for the operation of the Supreme and Superior Courts for the 1957-1959 biennium. As you no doubt know, the House of Representatives last week approved its bill 1700 reducing the request of these Courts by the sum of $105,334.00.

"If restoration of this cutback is not granted, it will become necessary to reduce considerably the purchase of essential office supplies, equipment, etc., and also to cut the amounts expended for hotel and traveling charges for the law clerks and secretaries when the Courts sit in the various districts of the Commonwealth, and in addition a cut in salaries and required personnel may result, thus greatly reducing the efficiency and curtailing the handling of the business of the Courts.

"The full amount requested should be reinstated, thus allowing for the purchase of necessary equipment and office supplies for these offices of the Courts and the Judges thereof. It would also permit these Courts to meet the necessary increased costs in hotel and traveling expenses for the Courts' employes, and allow for the proper operation of the State Board of Law Examiners. The restoration of the cutback would provide for the holding of any extra or additional sessions of the Courts as necessity may require.

"While all of the requests for the operation of the offices of the Supreme and Superior Courts for the 1957-1959 biennium are somewhat higher than the appropriation granted for the 1955-1957 biennium just ended, this is due primarily to increased costs in required material and supplies, and to the increases in employes' salaries granted by the Courts the latter part of last year, to become effective January 1, 1957, and, in addition, as far as the Superior Court is concerned, to the placing of the judges' secretaries on the State payroll rather than on the payroll of the counties, where they were prior to July 1, 1956.

"Your assistance is respectfully solicited in order that the full amount of the Supreme and Superior Court requests for appropriations for 1957-1959 may be granted.

"Yours very truly,

"Charles H. McKibben, Prothonotary"

Mr. President, I would like to offer this additional data that was furnished to me, and ask that it be entered in the record.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt, asks that statement relative to the Supreme and Superior Courts be made a part of the record and printed in the Legislative Journal.

There being no objection, this material will be printed in the Legislative Journal.

The allowance by the House of $89,300.00 is actually $7,013.49 less than the present salaries for the eight (8) employes of this office, plus the amount actually expended for dockets, expressage, postage and miscellaneous office supplies and equipment, during the last biennium.

The full $119,780.00 requested is essential for the operation of this office of the Supreme Court for the Eastern District of the Commonwealth (an office which handles appeals from 43 counties of the Commonwealth) during the coming biennium, and therefore, the sum of $30,480.00 cut by the House from this office's request should be restored.

By so doing, this office will be able to carry out its requirements under the present program, so far as salaries and expenses are concerned, and in addition, this office will be enabled to hire, as heretofore, necessary temporary stenographic and clerical assistance, as the business of the Court may require. Restoration of the cut would also allow for the purchase of necessary equipment and office supplies for this office and for the various offices of the Judges of the Supreme Court.

The House allowance of $169,688.00 is $3,007.35 less than the present salaries, plus the actual expenditures for hotel and travel costs of Supreme Court employees during the 1955-1957 biennium.

The full amount requested should be reinstated, thus allowing the Court to make provision for any extra session or sessions which circumstances may warrant and require, and furthermore, the Court would be enabled to meet the necessary increased costs in hotel and travel expenses for the law secretaries and stenographers when the Court is in session in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg, and also for payment of temporary clerk or stenographer assistance from time to time, as necessity demands. Without restoration of the $200,970. requested, the Supreme Court would be greatly curtailed in performance of its constitutional function.

Amount requested for 1957-59 biennium (see page 50 of our budget request, and page 179 of Governor's request) $80,000.00*

—$10,000.00

The original request of $80,000.00 should be granted due to the fact that as of June 1, 1957, the Board's present reserve from fees from law students is $25,000. and fees for the first five (5) months of this year indicate that there will be a substantial reduction therein.

To permit the State Board of Law Examiners to operate, the $80,000.00 appropriation will be required, in addition to the fees now on hand and to be taken in during 1957-1959.

*The sum shown in the Governor's Budget for this item (page 179) for 1957-59 biennium is $193,792—this is based on estimated fees to be taken in by the Board during 1957-59 and its reserve of fees now on hand, and a requested appropriation of $80,000.00.

PORTRAIT OF RETIRED CHIEF JUSTICE STERN

Amount requested (see page 56 of our budget request and page 179 of Governor's request) $1,000.00
Amount set by House Bill 1700 (page 80) 750.00
—$ 250.00

Inquiry will show that because of the increase in artists' fees, an appropriate portrait cannot be obtained for less than the sum of $1,000.00, and therefore this amount should be restored.

SUPERIOR COURT

Salaries and expenses of Court Crier, Stenographers, Law Secretaries, etc.

Symbol 542003-0152035

Amount requested for 1957-1959 biennium (See page 64 of our budget request and page 180 of Governor's request) $192,040.00
Amount fixed in House Bill 1700 (page 81) 165,000.00
—27,040.00

Amount which must be paid for salaries for 1957-1959 based on present payroll $153,940.00

Amount actually expended during 1955-1957 biennium for travel and hotel expenses of the Court's personnel while Court was in session in the various parts of the Commonwealth, and for Workmen's Compensation premiums for employees 11,087.38
$165,027.38

The House allowance of $165,000.00 is $27.38 less than the actual present salaries for the new biennium, plus the actual expenditures for hotel and travel costs of these Superior Court employees during the 1955-1957 biennium, just ending.

The full $192,040.00 requested is absolutely essential and is needed to prevent curtailment of the functions of the Superior Court during the coming biennium, and therefore, the sum of $27,040.00 which has been cut from the Superior Court's request should be restored. Restoration of the cut would allow the Court to place on its payroll the secretary of one of the Superior Court Judges, as has been done with the other six Judges' secretaries, rather than have this secretary remain on the payroll of Allegheny County. One of the reasons why the request for 1957-1959 appears to be higher than in 1953-1955 and in 1955-1957 is due to the fact that the legislature provided for the placing of the secretaries of the judges of the Superior Court on this Commonwealth payroll, where they rightfully belong, rather than on the county payroll. This legislation was not passed until about June, 1956—one year of the 1955-1957 biennium having then elapsed, while such payroll provision must now be made for the two years of the 1957-1959 biennium.

By granting the full amount requested, the expenses could be covered for the holding of additional sessions of the Superior Court at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg or Scranton, for hearing on petitions for supersedeas and other matters, and particularly for the proposed new session in June of each year at Philadelphia.

The Court must be in position to pay the salary of any additional stenographers and law clerks that are temporarily required, and to make some increases in the salaries and provide for increases in costs of travel and hotel expenses of its personnel as the occasion demands.

SUPERIOR COURT

DOCKETS, STATIONERY AND SUPPLIES

Symbol 542004-0152045

Amount requested for 1957-59 biennium (see page 66 of our budget request, and page 180 of Governor's request)	$20,000.00
Amount set by House Bill 1700 (page 81)	17,500.00
	<hr/> —$ 2,500.00

This appropriation is used by all three offices of the Superior Court—Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg for the purchase of dockets, stationery and supplies and equipment.

The full $20,000.00 requested should be restored. That sum is conservative and most essential to meet the rising costs in office equipment, dockets and office supplies.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if the Senator will look at the latest printer's number on House Bill No. 1700, he will see that the Appropriations Committee of the Senate did restore just about all of the cut that was made in the Superior and Supreme Courts. We anticipated their request and bowed their way rather low when we considered these appropriations.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment to House Bill No. 1700 at this time, and ask to be recognized to defend this amendment.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 24, lines 1 to 4, by striking out "Only those" in line 1, all of lines 2 and 3 and "eligible for assistance" in line 4.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

MOTION TO ADOPT AMENDMENT

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the amendment just read by the Clerk.

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the amendment I am offering here is an amendment to the Department of Health budget. It is one that was not previously offered.

This amendment would take out of the bill, as it is now printed, a rider which was improperly put in this bill in the first place, which would have a very important effect upon the county from which I come, and its eventual effect, of course, would be important for the entire Commonwealth.

House Bill No. 1700 it would provide that so far as the county health units are concerned, only those county health units which have been established as of the effective date of this Act would be eligible for State aid.

I object to this provision and ask for its amendment for several reasons. In the first place, my county, through the county commissioners, has decided that there shall be a referendum on the question of establishing a county health unit in the fall. Since we have this under way, it seems objectionable to me to have this question decided in Harrisburg by this rider, rather than to allow the people of my county to vote on whether they want to participate.

Secondly, the county of York will still be taxed. Money from our taxation will go into the General Fund. Money from that will be given as assistance to the five counties already participating under this plan, but York will not be eligible.

We have a Presbyterian Minister down in York who was appointed by the commissioners as the head of a committee to study this question and they recommended the adoption of a county health unit.

The other day we had a front page article in our newspaper, and that Presbyterian Minister was quoted as saying this was not taxation without representation, but it was certainly taxation without participation, because we are going to be taxed and, yet, we cannot benefit from the Act as can the other counties which already have units established.

Finally, Mr. President, I would like to make this plea, and I realize I am making it to the Conference Committee rather than to the Senate because the minds of the Senators this evening, or is it this morning, seem to be closed. I would like to point out that, in my opinion and in the opinion of others whose opinion on the Constitution is more worth-while possibly than mine, I believe this particular provision is unconstitutional. I believe this provision violates Article III, Section 15, which states that an appropriation bill shall contain only appropriations. It is obvious to me that, in effect, this is a substantive change of law. It should come as an amendment to the enabling act and it has no proper place and is unconstitutional when it appears as part of the Appropriation Act.

For that reason, Mr. President, I urge the adoption of this amendment. I ask for a roll call, and I am quite willing to take the routine roll call which has been established.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, before we vote, there is a section in here which clearly establishes that this bill cannot refer to any other bill that has ever been passed by the General Assembly. It cannot repeal any other act. I am trying to find the place. For the benefit of the gentlemen on the other side who have never read the bill, I would like to read this section to them.

Mr. President, I refer to page 96 of the bill, line 3, section 3 which says:

"This act is not intended to be inconsistent with or to repeal any provision of any act enacted at this or any prior Session of the General Assembly . . ."

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SEYLER. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, in my opinion, the issue before us is more than the simple approval or amendment or rejection of House Bill No. 1700. The issue tests whether or not the people of this Commonwealth want a standstill, do not move policy in a rapidly moving, competitive world.

I, for one, take the stand in the belief that the generation that is on our heels is quite willing to accept the many unsolved problems which we are handing over to them. However, I can see them pleading and begging that we will give them a chance to get the best possible preparation for the complicated world with the unfinished tasks which we are not completing.

A very wise American, a man whose advice we should have followed more than we have, some years ago had this observation on this standstill, do not move theory which is embodied in House Bill No. 1700. He said, "When I was president of a university, a man said to me, 'Good heavens, man, why don't you leave something alone and let it stay the way it is?' I said, 'If you will guarantee to me that it will stay the way it is, I will let it alone; but, if you leave anything alone, it will not stay where it is. It will develop and it will go either in the wrong direction or decay.'"

I think, Mr. President, this is the way the young people of this State are thinking. I want to quote from an editorial, written by a youthful Pennsylvanian. Incidentally, I think he is a constituent of the esteemed gentleman from Franklin County Senator Elliott. The editorial reads as follows: and the heading is "Studying to Death":

"Republicans are going to study Leader's educational program. This is what they say. But the truth is they are going to study it to death.

"Instead of facing the issue head on, the GOP moved yesterday to have the Joint State Government Commission conduct a thorough study of higher education problems and report back to the Legislature by January 1, 1959.

"This is studying something to death—something which has been studied by educators all over the country. This is not to mention that the program Leader has proposed was determined after a year's study by a special commission on higher education!

"The program was studied for a year before Leader proposed it. The crisis is here. The time is now right for action."

Did not Alice in Wonderland have some words of wisdom about running just to keep up? Certainly, with the world an apparent race between the Western Nations, we hope led by the United States, and opposed by an ism led by USSR, I would think, and I believe that Pennsylvanians think, that it is no time to lessen our efforts in such matters as health, welfare and education. These phases of State Government deal most directly with people. It is bad enough, it seems to me, to postpone repairing a bridge or building a road. This delay will certainly do damage to our cars and trucks and may affect people slightly. However, a standstill, do not move policy in matters physical, perhaps, can be condoned, but how can one justify standing still and not moving, when human lives are the great issue? This is another matter, in my opinion.

Mr. President, a hospital, the capacity of which has been increased over thirty per cent within the last year, certainly needs a larger budget for 1957-1959 than it operated on in 1955-1957. The increase awarded by House Bill No. 1700, for the operation of this institution for 1957-1959, is so small that this community found it necessary to bombard this Senator with pleas in letters, in wires and telephone calls for an expansion of this phase of the budget. The following are a few of the groups that wired or wrote to me on this question:

The Veterans' Council, representing Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Veterans of World War II; the President of the Borough Council; the Exalted Ruler of the Elks; the Chamber of Commerce; the American Legion; the AMVETS; and Business and Professional Women.

A telegram came from a group of women who did not find it convenient to get here today. However, they sent me a telegram, signed by the Moshannon Council of Republican Women, all of whom protested the welfare budget.

Among the letters which I received on this, and other questions, is the following one which I quote in part:

"We believe that the behavior of the Pennsylvania legislature this session has been a reflection of their political motivations and has shown little concern for the general welfare."

The next paragraph deals with some of these problems and the final paragraph reads as follows:

"Although we have voted for more Republicans than Democrats in the past, we will vote solidly for the Democratic Party in the next election unless this Republican legislature strongly supports the programs mentioned above."

This letter is signed by Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Ford, who are unknown to me.

Mr. President, these people look upon this hospital as a great healing agency and they can see through the fallacy of a standstill, do not move policy when such a policy could mean hospital beds unused because of lack of funds to man the posts. It is difficult enough in these days to build and provide sufficient hospital beds. Then, think of the real tragedy which could take place with hospital beds unused.

Automation and other trends indicate that Pennsylvanians will have more leisure time in the years just ahead, and what a playground the Maker gave us who live in this Keystone State. We have mountains, streams and lakes waiting for man to do his share to make them more usable as the Nation's finest playground. Fine plans and some starts have been made on this important venture and here, again, I believe that the youth of Pennsylvania of all ages do not want a standstill, do not move policy.

Pennsylvania's progress in the future will rest on the kind of an education we provide for her citizens. We, of the General Assembly, have this problem directly in our laps. As most of us know, Article X, Section 1, of the Pennsylvania Constitution says: "The General Assembly shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of public schools, wherein all children of the Commonwealth above the age of six years may be educated and shall appropriate at least $1,-000,000 each year for that purpose." As you know, that was written in 1873. However, Mr. President, the responsibility remains and each of us must ask ourselves if the standstill, do not move policy of House Bill No. 1700 really is carrying out to the degree desired by the citizens of the Commonwealth, this very important phase of State Government.

Mr. President, I do not want to take the time to give details concerning the part of our National Income spent on education, compared to what is happening in the USSR, but I am sure all of you know that in that respect, we are at a disadvantage and I, for one, doubt whether this is fair to our youth. However, let us take a couple of minutes just to compare ourselves with ourselves. Let us look at some pre-World War II data, as compared to present day data. It does not take any data to remind us that the world of 1957 is a much more complicated world than that of 1937. The school has a much more difficult job to prepare children for the 1957 world than was true of the 1937 world. School organization is a complicated system which must provide leadership for about 70,000 teachers and other professional employees. It is an organization which, at the last Session of the Legislature, was given tremendous additional responsibility, and rightfully so, for the $925,000,000 building program of the State, a facet which was of no concern on the State level and at scarcely any level in 1937.

I think one test, and one of the best tests, of the standstill, do move policy in this area is the way in which the educational leadership of the State was treated in House Bill No. 1700. If we really believe that education is important and has an important role, then it seems to me that we must recognize and give a green light to the leadership rather than the red signal.

I have made a brief study of House Bill No. 1700 in this respect, Mr. President, with the practice in the 1939-1941 biennium, the last one prior to World War II. I never got the impression that we were too generous in this respect in 1939-1941. However, if we were right in 1939-1941, then we are now guilty of some practices worse than standing still. We are really moving and moving backwards.

Now, for a couple specific items on leadership. However, before we do that, let us take one other item, the support of the State Library. The kind of library services provided by a community is one evidence of the value placed on education by that community and the same is true for a State. The 1939-1941 budget provided $223,000 and House Bill No. 1700 would provide $433,000, an increase over those twenty years of ninety per cent. However, during the same period, the whole General Budget for the Commonwealth increased from $426,700,000 to about $1,500,000, an increase of over 200 per cent.

Now, back to the amount which is paid for educational leadership in the Department of Public Instruction. The schools can scarcely rise higher than the leadership provided in the department here at Harrisburg. What has been the trend since the pre-World War II days? In the 1939-1941 biennium, the funds for which the Department of Public Instruction had responsibility amounted to $89,000,000. The salaries for the leadership in that Department totaled $624,000, which represents .0070 of the budgeted amount. I doubt whether .0070 was excessive. I am not active, as you know, in the business world, but I have a feeling that in the business world the percentage of a budget for leadership, at the central level, is more than .0070.

Now, Mr. President, let us look at what House Bill No. 1700 does to the leadership budget in the Department of Public Instruction. The amount of money over which the Department has the responsibility, according to House Bill No. 1700, is $650,000,000. The salaries to oversee this amount have been set at one and one-half million dollars. This represents .0023 of the total. The two figures to remember are .0070 and .0023. The first is the 1939-1941 figure and the second, .0023, is the proposal for 1957-1959, under House Bill No. 1700. You will notice that the latter figure is one-third of the former. The percentage for 1953-1955 is .0028 which, of course, is .0005 higher than the proposal for 1957-1959, and this, in itself, is a reduction of about seventeen per cent.

Mr. President, I believe these two figures spell out more than speeches. Those numbers, remember; for 1939-1941, the percentage of the budget for salaries was .0070 and for this budget it is .0023. As far as education is concerned, it is the intent of House Bill No. 1700 to make doubly sure that there is a standstill, do not move status for public education in Pennsylvania.

I have not had the time, since I first saw House Bill No. 1700, Printer's No. 856, to analyze the bill completely in all its phases. However, the shocking treatment accorded educational leadership at a time when, if ever, there was a time in our time when leadership with vision should be encouraged in this proposed legislation, is such that I believe that if you will counsel with your consciences, instead of with your Caucuses, you will come to the same conclusion which I believe the youth of the Commonwealth have—and there are youth of all ages—and that is that this Commonwealth is wealthy enough to carry out to a higher degree Article X, Section 1, of the Constitution.

Mr. President, I beg of all my colleagues to give real consideration to all the aspects of this standstill, do not move program before you enact legislation which would fail to give our people their just desserts in public health, in welfare, in recreation, in the protection of our natural resources and the proper development of the greatest of all resources of this State, a complete educational program for all its citizens. If a road or a bridge is not built for two years, the Commonwealth suffers some loss, but that loss is negligible compared to the loss in the life of a person. This is generally a young person, when a full educational opportunity is denied him for one year or two years. A young man or woman is only eighteen years of age one year of his or her life. If we stand still and do not move for two years, the youth of this State do not freeze also for two years; they go on and are two years older. These two years for them will never return.

Mr. President, accordingly, I must vote "no" on House Bill No. 1700.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I am going to vote "no" on House Bill No. 1700. In voting "no," I want it strictly understood, for the record, that I am not voting against the increased appropriations that were made by the Senate Appropriations Committee in mental health or any other increase. At the same time, I also want to say that if I would vote for the bill, I would not want it construed that I was voting for many of the unjustified reductions or cuts that were made to the various departments of State Government.

If the bills relating to mental health or to the hospitals were possible of separation, I would vote for them, but since that is not possible and all of the appropriations are contained in one bill and, as I said before, many of the cuts are unjustified, I must vote "no". I am voting "no" with the understanding that in accordance with what Mr. Mahany said, this bill will go to a Conference Committee and there numerous adjustments will be made. I am sorry this cannot be done before we take a final vote on the bill. I think it could have been possible for the leaders on both sides of the aisle to confer with the House Members, and I think they could have agreed on the restoration of some of the cuts so that we could have agreed on amendments here tonight and voted for the bill. Since that has not been done, I just cannot vote for this bill.

I repeat, I want it strictly understood, for the record, that I am not voting against the increases that were made or the replacements that were made for mental health and for other purposes.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I just want to say that I concur in the statements made by Senator Yosko. He has expressed very well the position of most of us.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

MEMBERS OF PENNSYLVANIA FEDERATION OF DEMOCRATIC WOMEN PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, to change the atmosphere a little bit, we have been visited throughout the day by a great many good looking women. There are two from my county present, and I feel I would be remiss if I did not introduce them. They are two very lovely ladies. I know one by reputation and I know the other one by reputation also, as well as being a close friend. Even though they are of the opposite party, they are as lovely as a great many of my Republican women back home.

I would like to introduce Elizabeth Olcus, from East

Brady, who is President of the Federation of Democratic Women, Northwestern Division of Pennsylvania, and someone who is closer to me at home is Vivian Kudelka, of Ford City, Pennsylvania, who is President of the Women's Division, Armstrong County Women's Democratic Organization. I would like to have them rise.

The PRESIDENT. We are very happy to have these distinguished visitors with us as well as all of the others who have been visiting the Senate today. We hope you enjoy your stay here with us.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, that certainly is not the agreement that was made today and I am going to object to these appropriation bills being read for the first time.

I think what you fellows are trying to do is quite unfair.

INTERROGATION

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, I do not remember any agreement I had with you about any bills. Is there some agreement you had with me that you are referring to or some agreement with someone else?

Mr. BARR. No, I am just saying that we kind of agreed that they would pass these bills in the House today. I do not think there has been a meeting of the Appropriations Committee for us to discuss them. I think you are trying to railroad these bills through, and that was not part of my thinking with you, may I put it that way?

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, I do not know that you and I had any agreement relative to this, other than a short statement which we made in the rear of the Senate a short time ago, indicating there were some appropriation bills that were coming over. I understood that you and Senator Dent agreed that we could report them out and pass them on first reading.

I am sorry if we misunderstood the agreement. I am willing to have these bills pass first reading today and appear on tomorrow's Second Reading Calendar. If there are any bills to which you have objection, we can discuss them at that time and if we agree to it, we will send them back to committee.

We are trying to drive for adjournment this Saturday and get as much of this work behind us as possible.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think it will be acceptable if we have that understanding. I will certainly accept the word of the Majority Leader. I have never had any reason to question his word.

If we have an understanding that the bills are to be printed for the information of all of us, I believe it will be satisfactory because it is rather difficult studying these bills while they are in committee, since all of us are not on the Appropriations Committee in the Senate. It is very important that each one of us get a view of the bills that come over from the House, and then tomorrow we will have an opportunity to study the bills on second reading.

With the agreement that a request from the Minority to hold over any of the bills for further study will be honored by the other side, I think we can go ahead and have them printed for the information of the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. I will agree to that, Senator.

Mr. DENT. That is all I wanted.

APPROPRIATION BILLS ON THIRD READING CALLED UP

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up the Appropriation Bills on Third Reading, beginning on page 3 of today's Calendar.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Health for payments to municipalities and municipality authorities under the provisions of the act of August 20, 1953 (P. L. 1217) entitled "An act providing for payments by the Commonwealth to municipalities which have expended money to acquire and construct sewage treatment plants in accordance with the Clean Stream Program and the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1987) and making an appropriation" and for the repair improvements or additions of certain sewage treatment plants.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

APPROPRIATION BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 66, Printer's No. 343, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to suggest to the Majority Leader that with all the haste that seems to have been shown on the other bills, why not give Senate Bill

No. 66 the same courtesy you are giving the other bills and pass it over to the House? Just because two Democratic Senators sponsored the bill, I suppose it is going to get the silent treatment.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it seems that several of our Senators have asked for the opportunity of studying this bill. Therefore, under the circumstances, I think we should accede to their wishes.

Mr. President, I want to assure Senator Dent that the bill being passed over has no relation whatsoever to the fact that it is sponsored by two Democratic Senators.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

APPROPRIATION BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 208, Printer's No. 335, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, because I have a couple of fellows over here who do not know too much about mushrooms, they want this bill to go over in order. Of course, they are Senate Bills and we should treat them all alike. That is all I have to say.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, may we be at ease a moment?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.
(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection to this bill going over in its order?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I assure you that my request has nothing to do with the fact that this bill has two Republican sponsors.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in order.

APPROPRIATION BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 232, Printer's No. 344, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I assure the gentleman that my request that this bill go over in its order is not because the sponsors are a hybrid mixture of both Democrats and Republicans.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 270, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs to be used by the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission for the encouragement and development of aeronautics.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

APPROPRIATION BILL OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I had amendments prepared for this bill, but I seem to have misplaced them. Therefore, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 270, Printer's No. 336, on third reading, go over in its order, temporarily.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

APPROPRIATION BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING
AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,
The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 865, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation out of the "Oil and Gas Lease Fund," to the Department of Forests and Waters for emergency stream clearance and channel rectification work.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?
Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

AMENDMENTS LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that these amendments be laid on the table.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in other words, I do not want to either approve the amendments or reject them at this time because I want to have a conference with my Senators in Caucus. If we have them on the table, tomorrow we would be in a position, if we approve the amendments, to vote on this bill for the third time.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state it.
Mr. DENT. Mr. President, if the amendments lay on the table tonight and we vote upon them tomorrow and they are accepted, would it not be necessary for the bill to be printed anyway before it could be voted on?

I think there is only one solution to this. Pass the amendments and the bill. They are in good shape.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator is absolutely correct.
Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think I might end the confusion in this matter if I just explain what the amendments do and everybody would not be so suspicious. I guarantee that I am only giving you a nice after-dinner cordial and not a Mickey Finn.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would like to clarify my position on why this bill was introduced. In the city of Butler, during heavy rains, a great part of the city and its industry is under water. We had the Department of Forests and Waters make an investigation and they told us that it would take about $300,000 to clear the channel. Therefore, this would just be an emergency measure, because it is a flood control program and would be finished by the Federal Government.

I received this figure of $300,000 from the Department of Forests and Waters and we offered an amendment so that the money would be procured from the oil and gas royalties. Senator Dent is now offering amendments whereby all of the money that is available in that fund would be available for parks and that sort of thing.

I want to concur in what was said here awhile ago about the Secretary of Forests and Waters doing a good job and trying to do a good job. However, I do know that his first love is to create new parks. He has advertised throughout the Commonwealth that we shall have new parks within a radius of twenty-five miles of every citizen in the State. We know that is his pet peeve.

If we take this seven and one-half million dollars out of the money that Secretary Goddard would have and put it is this whole program, I would not get the stream clearance that Senator Dent spoke about which he secured for his industry in Westmoreland County. He has had three such projects. This is the first time I have made any request and we took the funds out of the oil and gas fund.

I think your amendments, Senator Dent, will kill this bill. If you do not kill it here with your amendments, you are going to flag it down over in the House. If you do not flag it down, Governor Leader is going to veto it. I am going to insist that this bill be read for the third time and passed without the amendments.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, all I am trying to do is to make sure that those of us who have no legislation pending for the conditions that exist in our counties, which are parallel to the conditions Senator Pechan has, will have the same resources to correct these conditions as he is trying to get for his community. He wants to specifically appropriate $300,000 from the oil and gas lease fund for the city of Butler. All I am saying in my amendments is that also with your city of Butler, which is spelled out in the bill, the balance of $7,000,000, or any part thereof which is needed, be given to the Secretary of Forests and Waters for the very same purpose as Senator Pechan wants it for up in Butler.

You Members of the Senate may not realize it, but if you pass the bill as it is without my amendments, and if you have some stream clearance in your own community, there is no guarantee that there is any money in the budget for it because the Republicans have taken it all out.

You have taken $1,500,000 out. You took $900,000 out of channel clearance, which is $2,400,000 out of the budget. The only ones who will get any stream clearance or flood control in their areas are those who have a bill going through.

Senator Pechan, I cannot say what the Governor will do. You seem to know, but I really do not know what he will do. You say he will flag the bill, as amended, and veto it. What makes you think he will give Butler County $300,000 and cut the rest of us out? What makes you think that your bill has a chance of being signed by the Governor any more than this bill would have, as amended?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I want Senator Dent to know that if he had a specific bill for a specific amount for certain channel clearance, I would vote for his bill. However, I think to tie seven and one-half million dollars up for a $300,000 project is not quite fair.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I repeated in the amendments the specific purposes that are now contained in the Act, introduced by Senator Stevenson and a co-sponsor whom I forget. All I did was repeat in the amendments that he still spend that money, but to add, additionally, channel clearance and flood control. That is all I did. I did not do any fast maneuvering. The Secretary can spend the $7,000,000 now for parks; you cannot stop him.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, will the gentleman yield?
Mr. DENT. I will.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I think about all we can do on this bill, at this late hour, is to act upon this motion that the amendments be laid on the table. If that motion succeeds, then I will request that the bill go over in its order.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

APPROPRIATION BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 865, Printer's No. 337, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 919, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for reimbursements to counties for dependent neglected and delinquent child care services.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, there seems to be a misunderstanding or a dispute, not about Senate Bill No. 919 but about the amount of money it carries and whether or not there is a Federal appropriation attached to it.

I have a statement here from the Department of Welfare. It calls for $1,675,000 to finance reimbursements to counties for dependent and neglected children. It is for the mentally retarded program. Frankly, I do not know of any Federal funds which are available for that purpose. However, this question is in dispute.

If ever a Senate Bill went over in order, tonight I would like to see this bill go over in order so that we may have a chance to look into it. According to the statement I have here, there was an item recommended in the budget for it. Apparently, it has been left out, being lost in the shuffle; hence, the need for Senate Bill No. 919, which is $675,000 short of the needs. I just talked with Senator Berger about it and he agreed that if there is no Federal appropriation for it and if $1,000,000 is not enough, then an amendment would be made to provide sufficient funds to finance this program.

With that understanding, Mr. President, I will not ask that the bill go over in order, so that it can be presented to the House and possibly be amended there if it becomes necessary, and after we determine whether or not Federal funds are available for this purpose.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, just to clarify the discussion that I had with Senator Yosko on this, I want to say that I said there was an item in the budget, but there is no item in the appropriation bill for this particular fund. I said that Senate Bill No. 919 was intended to supply funds for the particular program which is mentioned in the budget on page 157, and that, in the Governor's recommendation, the sum of $524,000 in Federal funds is mentioned and $1,000,000 is requested. The figures used by Senator Yosko were labeled, "Governor's Revised Budget," which is something that has never been before the General Assembly. The extent of my statement to Senator Yosko was that I thought it should be in this bill or in the General Appropriation Bill, but that we had agreed on this bill and the amount that we had agreed on was $1,000,000. I did not say that if we needed more, we would put it in the General Appropriation Bill.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just cannot agree with that interpretation. When I look at page 157 and look under the heading, "Children's Services—Reimbursement to Counties and Non-sectarian Agencies," I find this section is not applicable to the program to which Senate Bill No. 919 is related. I insist that $1,000,000 is not enough for this program, unless it could be supplemented with Federal funds.

I say now that, according to my understanding, there are no Federal funds available for this purpose. Unless there is an agreement on adding to this appropriation, in order for the program to be financed, I would ask that this bill go over in order until we straighten it out tomorrow with the Department of Welfare or the Department of Public Instruction or the Governor's office, or a combination of the three offices. This is one of the most important programs which I believe we have in the local communities.

Over the week end, the Women's Organization of Northampton County, consisting of Democrats, Republicans, Independents and everything else, came to my office relative to this appropriation. I have a radio program every Sunday. After listening to their story, I gave them part of my time so they could tell their story over the radio. I visited the special classes they have in the schools, back in the county,—and they have them in many, many counties in Pennsylvania—and I feel very strongly that this program should be continued. I could talk here for a half-hour and give you reasons for supporting this program. Mr. President, I say that $1,000,000 is not enough for this program, unless, as I said before, it is supplemented with Federal funds.

For that reason, I would like an agreement from the Republican side of the Senate that if there are no Federal funds available to supplement this $1,000,000, we add to it by amendment over in the House or else put the bill over in order tonight until we determine that tomorrow.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, someone handed me a card and I think now is a good time to read it. It says, "If you are not confused, you have not been listening."

Mr. President, I have listened and I am confused. And the question recurring, Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

APPROPRIATION BILL OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 919, Printer's No. 326, on third reading, go over in its order, temporarily.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, Senator Stevenson, Senator Whalley and Senator Yosko have had some discussion about this matter and it appears that since this is a Senate Bill, Senator Yorke, Senator Stevenson and Senator Whalley have agreed, if the Senate concurs in their agreement, to pass the bill tonight over to the House. They would still be able to make the study tomorrow to find out the true status of the appropriation and if they feel an appropriation is needed, they will endeavor to have it amended in the House as they do not want to jeopardize the bill in any form.

Therefore, Mr. President, I now call up, from page 5 of today's Third Reading Calendar, Senate Bill No. 919, Printer's No. 326, on third reading, which previously went over in order temporarily.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

SENATE BILL No. 270 CALLED UP

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, since we are all so nice and fresh and since no one feels like going home, I call up, from page 4 of today’s Third Reading Calendar, Senate Bill No. 270, Printer’s No. 336, which went over in its order temporarily.
The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING
AMENDMENT OFFERED

Agreeably to order,
The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate No. 270, entitled:
An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs to be used by the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission for the encouraging and development of aeronautics.
And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?
Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.
The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?
Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in as much as many of the Members are of the floor at the present time, I would suggest to the Senator that he allow this bill to go over in order until tomorrow and give me a copy of his amendment in order for me to discuss it with the Republican Senators in Caucus. We will not be able to act upon the bill this evening.
Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I was going to suggest that the amendment law on the table with the others, because there is more room on the table than there is on my desk right now .
Mr. MAHANY. That is all right, Mr. President.
Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order that Senator Mahany takes the amendment up with his Caucus, I want to remind him that the only thing we are trying to do is to put back the original $3,000,000 because, for every million dollars the State puts up and for every million dollars the local airports put up, the Federal Government puts $4,000,000 up. I think, again, it is penny wise and pound foolish not to accept $12,000,000 worth of airport construction and maintenance in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. That is all we are trying to do.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if Senator Dent can find a couple more million dollars in his pocket, maybe we can go along with him. However, it is a question of how much he has.
Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I can always call on my friend, Graybill Diehm.
AMENDMENT LAID ON THE TABLE
Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the amendment be laid on the table.
Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.
And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?
APPROPRIATION BILL OVER IN ORDER
Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 270, Printer’s No. 336, on third reading, go over in its order.
The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.
MEMBERS OF PENNSYLVANIA FEDERATION OF DEMOCRATIC WOMEN PRESENTED TO SENATE
Mr. BARR. Mr. President, our Allegheny County girls, you know, are really good politicians. They have been around here all day. We now have four more who are remaining to watch just how this operation works.
I would like to present to the Senate several delegates to the convention who are here at the rear of the Chamber. They are Mary E. Naughton, Margaret Ott, secretary to Commissioner Kane, Alice Joyce and Eleanor McCallen.
The PRESIDENT. Will these ladies please rise? We are also honored to have you as guests here tonight. We hope you enjoy your visit.
Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I would love to introduce some Democratic ladies from Bucks County, but we do not have any down there. Therefore, I do not have any to introduce.
The PRESIDENT. Oh, yes you do. I was down there the other night, Senator. You are absolutely wrong.
Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I am going to make Senator Watson take his remarks back tomorrow. I am going to see that the ladies from Bucks County come up here tomorrow.
Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the gentleman from Bucks County is just a little forgetful. Yesterday, he introduced some Democratic women from his county.
The PRESIDENT. It is late at night and the Senator is not used to being up this late.
Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, if any of the girls from Bucks County come up, I want to meet them.

CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM J. GREEN PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, all day today, various Senators have been introducing ladies who are here for the purpose of attending a convention. I should like to bring to the Senate's attention that we have with us a distinguished gentleman from Philadelphia, Congressman William J. Green, who is observing how we are working today.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, on behalf of the Members of the Senate, wishes to state that we are very happy to have the distinguished Congressman here with us. We hope he will learn something here to take back to Washington with him.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if the Congressman's name were before us for appointment to the Turnpike Commission at the present time, I am sure we would give it deep consideration. I think, right now, he would probably get confirmed.

The PRESIDENT. Congressman Green probably would not be interested tonight.

Mr. MAHANY. Congressman Green should thank us for not getting him confirmed for the Turnpike Commission position.

The PRESIDENT. Perhaps he will.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, since the County Chairman of Philadelphia is present, we invite any of the Philadelphians to make a speech in order to impress him a little bit.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Charles R. Thomas, Pastor of the Church of Christ, Bear Creek Township, Luzerne County, guest Chaplain and guest of the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Post, offered the following prayer:

Oh God! Our loving heavenly Father, we ask Thy divine blessing upon the President of these United States, grant to him a speedy recovery from his illness, and may he realize more than ever, that with God, all things are possible.

We thank Thee for Thy providential care and watchfulness over us as individuals, and as citizens of this great State.

Bless our beautiful State of Pennsylvania, and grant to the Legislators assembled here today, the wisdom, guidance and courage they so need, that will enable them to lead us into the paths of peace, prosperity and righteousness.

We read in Thy Word, the Holy Bible, that righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people.

Help us to grasp the lesson of history; that all of the great nations, and great empires of the past that have fallen, and have gone into oblivion; not necessarily because of military or material weakness, but because of Spiritual and moral decay from within.

Save us we pray from such a catastrophe, and lead us in the paths of righteousness for Thy name's sake.

In the name of the Prince of Peace we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Monday, June 10, 1957 will be postponed until printed.

Amend House Bills returned for concurrence Nos. 612, 1170, 1176 and 1492.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. METZ, BOWMAN, OGILVIE and BREON,
(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 130.

In the House of Representatives, June 11, 1957.

The tax exempt list of real estate held by nonprofit organizations and trusts, charitable institutions and organizations, authorities, public service companies and other tax exempt bodies, together with the untaxed real estate of the Commonwealth and its agencies, boards and commissions has reached such proportion as to be a burden upon the political subdivision in which the real estate is located.

It is believed by many people that the system of tax exemption except as it applies to places of actual religious worship is obsolete; and that greater benefits to all of the people and to the tax exempt bodies themselves can be achieved through a different approach to the problem; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough and complete study of the system of real estate tax exemption in Pennsylvania, giving particular attention to:

1. The nature and number of tax exempt organizations other than religious bodies and the purposes to which they are dedicated.

2. The amount of real estate held by tax exempt organizations, other than real estate used as places of actual religious worship.

3. The amount of real estate owned by the Commonwealth.

4. The amount of tax revenue lost by reason of the exemption.

5. The impact of the loss of revenue upon political subdivisions and the means which political subdivisions employ to recoup that loss.

6. The economic and social effect of the exemption upon the community.

7. The value of the tax exemption to the entire people.

8. The need or desirability of conferring benefits upon the tax exemption organizations or any of them.

9. Alternative methods of conferring benefits found to be necessary or desirable.

10. The effect of taxing real estate owned by the Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the next General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Mr. H. B. MILLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives
June 11, 1957.

The recent death of the Honorable Daniel H. Erb, of Hollidaysburg, Blair County, after more than fourteen years of service, leaves a void in the House of Representatives which will be hard to fill.

Mr. Erb's excellent legislative record was attested to by his membership on the important House Appropriations Committee and his chairmanship of the House Committee on Counties.

In private life Mr. Erb was a recently retired Pennsylvania Railroad locomotive engineer. His long and faithful service in the field of transportation was characteristic of his devotion to his work and to those with whom he associated.

Mr. Erb was a wounded veteran of World War I, in which he showed his patriotic attachment and love of his country.

Mr. Erb was a member of Zion Lutheran Church, Hollidaysburg, where he served as a church councilman for three years. He was a member of Portage Lodge 200, F. and A. M., Altoona Consistory and the Jaffa Shrine Temple. He was a member of the Altoona Elk Lodge 102 and American Legion Post 516.

Mr. Erb's passing is an occasion on which it behooves us all to pause and contemplate upon the good which can be accomplished by earnest and sincere men who by hard work seek to advance the wellbeing of their fellows; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby expresses both its collective and individual sorrow upon the recent death of the Honorable Daniel H. Erb; and be it further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to Mrs. Daniel H. Erb.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOVETT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I want to say that during the heat of our argument here, we sometimes go astray. I do want to say that I feel in my heart that we have been unfair to the Members of this House in the right to debate on legislation.

I also want to say here today, that over the years in this great state of Pennsylvania, industry in this state was given every opportunity for many, many years. Large industry in this state stood in its own light to my mind, over the years that it had that opportunity. It bought up large tracts of land in order to keep competition from their doors, when they had the field to their own in Pennsylvania.

Over the years there have been some changes made. Industry in Pennsylvania has been well treated and is still well treated in Pennsylvania, regardless of what we say. Industry's profits in Pennsylvania are just as great as they are in any state in this nation.

The quarrel that I have had here is that in Pennsylvania, in our state Legislature, we have not progressed, we have not enacted laws, changed our Constitution, so that we could have a fair tax program in Pennsylvania. Big industry is somewhat to blame for that situation. There is no question about it. If you want to change our Constitution, which has been recommended by labor organizations, by the Joint State Government Commission and by many people throughout this state, you must let the people have the right to vote on a graduated income tax.

I have told you before that as far as this House has been concerned, both under the Democrats and the Republicans, we have moved in that direction, but never to the extent that we get the opportunity to make those changes. Large industry has small industry at its mercy, because if we had that right of a graduated income tax, it does not only deal with the people, it deals with industry the same. You could then protect small industry throughout the state of Pennsylvania and make those best able to pay, pay their share.

So, my friends, the threats that I made yesterday, after due consideration, if I carried on those threats I would possibly help my own ego, but I would not help my fellow Members by delaying tactics, so I say to you this morning, let's be fair. Let's be fair with one another. If you allow one Member to go afar of the question, the other Member has the same right. So let us this morning say that we will now be fair and give every Member his right to get up and debate the issues the same as his fellow Members.

I will withdraw that threat that I made yesterday, in the hope that during the remainder of the session of the Legislature, this session, we will not find that condition exists.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair is about to declare a recess for the purpose of a Republican and a Democratic caucus and for the Members to have their lunch.

The Majority and the Minority Leaders have statements to make at this time.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the plans with respect to the Republican caucus are that we should go immediately to the Caucus Room. We will recess our caucus one-half hour before time to return to the floor so that the Members can have time to attend to their lunches. We would like to have the Members go to our caucus room, the Republican Caucus Room immediately for their caucus.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

Mr. READNGER. Mr. Speaker, in order that we do not overtax the capacity of the restaurant, I am recommending that the Democrats eat first and be inin caucus room at 12:45, daylight time, three-quarters of an hour from now.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will now declare a recess for two hours. The Chair hears none.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

THE SPEAKER (W. STUART HELM) IN THE CHAIR

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. KENNETH B. LEE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, my remarks are made on this floor, but they are directed to His Excellency, the Governor of this Commonwealth.

His Excellency has indicated, in recent months, a profound interest in the field of higher education. He has proposed as system of Community Junior Colleges. He has proposed a program for student loans. He has many times through the length and breadth of this Commonwealth propounded the philosophy that the field of education should be free from politics, and that the personnel in this field would neither be hired nor fired for political reasons.

I would ask His Excellency, the Governor, if this precept has not been most violently violated in the actions of his office, in the actions of the Department of Public Instruction, and in the actions of certain members of the Board of Trustees of Mansfield State Teachers College, and the State Committeeman of Tioga County, in the removal of Mr. James Morgan as president of that institution.

Mr. Speaker, I am an alumnus of Mansfield State Teachers College. I graduated during President Morgan's tenure in office as president of that college, and I am extremely proud of the fact that I graduated under one of the best presidents or any teachers college ever had. This is not a partisan opinion. Ask any alumni, whether he be Republican or Democrat. Mr. Morgan is held in esteem and revered by them all. He has given more to our college than any one man. He has given 36 years of his life to it, as instructor, dean of instruction, and as president of the institution. He deserved better treatment than he received in the star chamber proceedings by which he was ousted. A Democratic member of the Board of Trustees, one, by the way, who was appointed by His Excellency, the Governor, and a graduate of Mansfield State Teachers College, feels the same way. I quote verbatim from his statement made at the ouster meeting on June 8, 1957:

Mr. Cichocki, stated as follows: "In my opinion we have done as a board, a great disservice to the man, a great dishonor to the institution and brought notoriety to members of this board which we are sweating under now. We had a circus here the other night."

He further stated, and I quote: "Very few words of kindness or understanding have been expressed for the position that president Morgan has been put in by members of this board and it is a very poor tribute, and it is a shameful tribute, and it will be on the conscience of everyone who has undertaken this movement, everyone entirely. But you have to live with your conscience. I feel that the members of the board have acted in a wilful manner. They ought to pray for forgiveness for the manner in which they have treated Mr. Morgan. I have never seen a more rotten deal handed to anyone."

I repeat, Mr. Speaker, that the person who made these statements is a trustee of Mansfield State Teachers College and was appointed by Governor Leader himself. The prelude to this overture was sounded some months ago by any colleague from Tioga County, when he mentioned there was a movement afoot to dismiss the business administrator of Mansfield State Teachers College. The person slated to replace the Administrator was the Chairman of the Democratic Party of Tioga County, and he is also the brother-in-law of the State Committeeman of Tioga County. This replacement was acceptable to no one, for many reasons, which are better not mentioned, and he was also resisted by president Morgan. Mr. Morgan's ouster, in my opinion, was a pure case of political retaliation, commenced by the local organization and aided and abetted in Harrisburg.

Mr. McInroy and I are, therefore, introducing a Joint Resolution in this House requesting that His Excellency, the Governor, make a thorough investigation of the facts surrounding the ouster of president Morgan, and that the Department of Justice investigate the legality of this ouster and of this appointment.

I would like to suggest to the Governor and to the Justice Department that this investigation be made prior to the acceptance of the application of Dr. Lewis Rathgeber for the presidency of Mansfield State Teachers College.

I would further suggest to His Excellency that he discover the answers to the following questions before he approves this application.

The first: Who was it that selected the officers of the Board of Trustees of Mansfield State Teachers College?

I would again like to quote from the minutes of the ouster meeting of June 8, 1957, for therein may lie a partial answer this question. Three of the board members explain how the slate was picked.

Mr. Cichocki says "I was contacted Sunday night prior to the first meeting by Tom Moore Urell who informed me of the slate of officers that had been drawn up by the Governor's office on consultation with him, and he asked if I didn't think that they were OK. Knowing no members of the board except Mr. Snyder, I gave my assent and from the time of that meeting to the meeting the other night, May 29, and until today, it is the sorriest think I have done. The chairman of the board, in my opinion, violated the trust not only of the public, but of four members of this board, and I don't know how many others."

The following is the version which Dr. Mader gave, another Democratic trustee: "Friday before our first meeting, Tom Urell came to see me, and I didn't know him before, and he told me about the college building program and said: 'We have a slate of officers that we have selected,' and I asked him: 'Who is "we"?' He said: 'Harrisburg.' He said 'For vice president, Snyder; for secretary, Sanford; and for Chairman, Lugg.' I said I didn't know the people and I didn't like this. Now, I would like to know where and how that slate was selected."

Still another member of the trustees, and her version: "I was approached prior to our organization meeting by Tom Urell. It was the first time I had met him, and he said that they had a slate of officers set up and I would be secretary. I said, 'Is this how it is done?' I thought at the time the board would work out well, but I have learned differently."

The second question I would like him to answer, Mr. Speaker, is: Are the board of trustees of the fourteen Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges governing bodies, or are they completely subjugated to rule of Harrisburg?

The third question is: Who was it that instigated the ouster proceedings against president Morgan?

There seems to be a difference of opinion among the board of Trustees of the college, but they seemed to agree on one thing, and that is that the pressure came from Harrisburg.

I would like to quote again from the minutes in which we find this statement: "Mrs. Lugg informed me that she has been in conference with Dr. Boehm and he said he wanted Mr. Morgan removed from Mansfield State Teachers College as its president."

My fourth question, Mr. Speaker, is: Why so much pressure necessary to get a Democratic board to sign the ouster resolution against Mr. Morgan?

I would further like to quote again from the minutes of the June 8th meeting. This has reference to the conversation the various board members had with the president of the board when she attempted to obtain their signatures on the resolution.

I again quote. Mr. Cichocki said, "I would like to speak on the applicant, and how I signed the resolution. As with other contracts that are signed when doubt is involved, I wish to withdraw my name from this one. I would like to relate the events as they occurred. On Tuesday night, May 7t, Ila H. Lugg came to my house and discussed with me signing the resolution requesting that Dr. Rathgeber be considered as a candidate for president of Mansfield State Teachers College. At that time I said no, and refused to sign the resolution. In the course of that discussion, the following information transpired. Mrs. Lugg informed me that she had been in conference with Dr. Boehm and he said he wanted Mr. Morgan removed from Mansfield State Teachers College as its president.

"Further, it is my remembrance and understanding that Mrs. Lugg attended a conference with Dr. Seifert, Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction, and he gave her a list of charges against Dr. Morgan that had been occurring over a period of years. At that time I stated that I was not interested in what charges had been made by anyone, or by Dr. Seifert, as I had very little faith in the charges and that they were not my problem as I was a new board member.

"Mrs. Lugg left my home at 11:00 o'clock without my signature. On Thursday, May 9, I was in Harrisburg. At that time it was brought to my attention the great need and necessity for my signature. Upon the understanding at that meeting Thursday, May 9, in Harrisburg at the Department of Public Instruction, and on the promise made on May 7 that president Morgan would be visited by Mrs. Lugg and, if necessary, other trustee (I declined the honor), my signature was affixed to the document in question on Saturday, May 11, after I drove to Nelson.

"Again at that time it was stated that all consideration and all courtesy and dignity and honor would be accorded Mr. Morgan in this very difficult and diplomatic situation. Because I put my faith and trust in the word of Mrs. Lugg, president of the board of trustees, I affixed my signature to this document. To this date it is my opinion that none of the information and promises that were made at any time were entirely true and have been carried out.

"I would like the other members of the board of trustees who received that resolution after my signature was on it, say what their considerations and thinking was on it."

This is the thinking of Dr. Mader: "May I describe my conference with Mrs. Lugg? After all the members of the board had signed this document, with the exception of Abe and myself, Mrs. Lugg came to my office and had the document with her. She told me a lot of things about the department wanting a change, and why they wanted it; nothing concrete. She said that this application was in the event that we had a vacancy. She said Alumni Day and commencement were coming up, and it would fall the duty of someone to ask Mr. Morgan. She said that she would not ask anyone else to do what she would not do herself, and it would be done by Alumni Day."

This was Mrs. Lugg's answer to that statement. "The reason it could not be done at that time was that we did not have Governor Leader's letter."

Dr. Mader continued, "I was left under the same impression as Mr. Cichocki, that nothing would be done about this if an amicable solution could be worked out. I told you I would not consent to be a party to throwing a man out of a job, and under those circumstances. I said that Frank Cichocki signed this, and he knew education better than I, and I signed the document under those circumstances.

"I am of the opinion now that I did a wrong thing and I would like my name off that document. There has been a lot of double dealing on this board from the very beginning.

"I went along, but since I found that there was double dealing, I will fight for what is right."

My fifth question, Mr. Speaker, for His Excellency, the Governor, is: Why was it that the notice to the trustees, with regard to the meeting called for the purpose of demanding Mr. Morgan's resignation, did not contain the purpose of the meeting?

Why did the president of the board refuse, when asked by one of the board of trustees what the purpose of that meeting was?

My sixth question, Mr. Speaker, is: Why was it sent on May 28th for a meeting to be held on the 31st, and with a holiday intervening in which no mail moved?

My seventh question, Mr. Speaker, is: Why was the meeting date of June 13th, called for the purpose of electing a new president, moved up to June 8th, so that the board members again did not have time to consider the matter and sufficient time to attend the meeting?

My eighth question, Mr. Speaker, is: Why was it that Dr. Cole, the head of the state hospital at Blossburg, a Republican, voted against president Morgan and for Dr. Rathgeber? Could it be that he had no desire to find himself in the same position as Mr. Morgan? Were there other means, less subtle, used to coerce the remaining board members?

Number nine: Why is it that one of the appointees of the Governor, and a relative of Dr. Rathgeber, voted not to accept Mr. Morgan's resignation and not to appoint Dr. Rathgeber to succeed him?

I quote from Dr. Mader from the minutes of the June 8th meeting: "I feel I should speak in defense of Dr. Rathgeber, who is related to me. I feel that the board, the ones who have taken this action, have placed him in the middle of something and are making him the hatchet man in this affair to the point that the student body, alumni, and a lot of people are going to take a dislike to him, not knowing the way the action was taken. In justice to him I state that you have placed him in the middle of something he is not to blame for.

"I do not think it is right. Anyone with a Ph. D. would have been satisfactory to you. I do not think you are for him as he stands, but because he has a Ph. D., and he was the only man available that you could run into this position."

I would like to point out again, Mr. Speaker, that every quote that I have made on this floor is a direct quote from members of the Board of Trustees of Mansfield State Teachers College, all of whom were appointed by His Excellency, the Governor, and all of whom are Democrats.

My tenth question, Mr. Speaker, for His Excellency, the Governor, is: Why did the president of the board at the June 8th meeting continually refuse to inform the members what the charges against Mr. Morgan were?

And, eleven: Why is it that three of the Governor's own appointees would not vote for Mr. Morgan's ouster, or for approving Dr. Rathgeber's application which had the endorsement of the Governor's office and that of the Secretary of the Department of Education?

I feel positive, Mr. Speaker, that if His Excellency, the Governor, finds the true answers to these questions, he will reach the same conclusion as that reached by the people of northeastern Pennsylvania, that President Morgan's ouster was no more and no less than a star chamber proceeding, and if the Governor is sincere in his concern for higher education he will do something about it.

He will not help destroy the morale of the faculty of Mansfield State Teachers College. He will not be a party to the destruction of the pride of the alumni in their school. He will not be party to the insertion of Dr. Rathgeber into a situation which will be so intolerable that his effectiveness as an administrator of the college will be all but sterilized.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McINROY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. SPEAKER, I, too, am an alumnus of Mansfield State Teachers' College. I have known President Morgan for a good many years. He has been an outstanding school man and an outstanding citizen in his community.

We feel it is politics of the worst kind. We feel this action should be closely scrutinized. Schools and politics should not be mixed. A man who has given 36 years of his life to education deserves better treatment.

We call for an honest investigation.

Moved by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, that the Chief Clerk be directed to request the House to furnish for the Law and Order Committee of the Senate a certified duplicate copy of House Bill No. 1389, Printer's No. 626, entitled:

"An Act amending the 'Liquor Code,' approved April 12, 1951, P. L. 90, providing that the population of a municipality to be used in determining the number of licenses to be issued therein shall be based on the last preceding United States census taken in such municipality."

to be substituted for the lost original copy thereof, which was referred to the Committee on Law and Order of the Senate on May 28, 1957.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chief Clerk is directed to supply a certified copy of House Bill 1389 to the Chief Clerk of the Senate. The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FILO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am appealing particularly to the Chairman and members of the Motor Vehicles Committee to give serious consideration to releasing House Bill 43, sponsored by Goldstein and Agnew, which is in your committee.

House Bill 43 would raise the age from 16 to 18 years for issuance of an operator's license.

To me, this age 16 requirement for an operator's license is as outmoded as our Constitution.

The progress made with autos by the auto industry, the increase in increasing horsepower to 300 and over and the accent on speed and power has the effect of putting a lethal weapon in the hands of immature youngsters.

The many millions of cars on highways have created additional problems for all of today's drivers in sharp contrast to the situation just twenty or thirty years ago.

Today in my county, Allegheny, six lives have been lost in accidents involving drivers in the 16-17 year age bracket. The most recent and most shocking accident in our area occurred on Thursday, June 6, 1957, in which five teenagers were killed and two very seriously injured. The driver in this instance was just 16 years of age.

Now I would just like to add two more paragraphs written in the Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph by James S. Streiner, Jr., and the title is

LESSON IN SAFETY

Price: Lives of 5 Youths

By James S. Streiner, Jr.

Five inseparable students have given little East McKeesport a lesson in safety—but they had to write it with their lives.

And East McKeesport admits today it half-expected the lesson.

But no one anticipated nearly ten per cent of the 52-member East McKeesport sophomore class would be wiped out in a grinding auto crash that sounded for half a mile across Thursday's soft summer night air.

It goes on to say, and I think that this been been repeated and will be repeated throughout the state and nation, it says:

Bruce was a junior, Jim Beswick a freshman, the others had completed their sophomore year Tuesday.

They were a team, always together—no different from their young teenage counterparts all over the nation.

Bruce had his Dad's car. He didn't get it very often because he'd had his license only six months. His Route 30 gas station job kept him busy, too.

Usually he got the car only when his father worked a late shift at Westinghouse Air Brake Co. He was the only one of the crowd with access to a car and he took great pride in keeping it shined.

Now ladies and gentlemen, I feel that we in this modern age should do something to prevent the loss of lives of our youngsters and prevent the danger to the lives of other people.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 15, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code" clarifying provisions relating to certain limitations of prosecutions.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 1 (Section 1201), page 3, line 3, by inserting after "occurred" "except violation of Section 620, subsection (j), shall be determined to have occurred in the county where the affidavit was sworn to or where the form was filled in, or in Dauphin County where the application or form was received by the department"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Will the gentleman from Westmoreland consent to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Will the gentleman tell us what the amendments do?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, this takes out the proviso in the proposal that pertains to the section in the Vehicle Code that provides the mechanics for any person that makes a false statement. I believe it is Section 620 J.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. We are on Senate Bill 15, is that right, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is correct. We are now considering Senate Bill 15, Printer's No. 330, on page 16 of today's calendar. The amendments to that bill have been offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in inferring that the amendments which are being offered have actually nothing to do with the basic problem that was originally in that bill? You are amending a different section of the Motor Vehicle Code. Is that correct?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 183, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) changing certain definitions providing additional definitions changing basis for reimbursement by the Commonwealth on certain accounts consolidating certain provisions further providing for reimbursement by the Commonwealth to school districts and vocational school districts and harmonizing the language.

On the question,

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, first I would like to inquire of the Chair if, when we act upon this bill today, we intend to debate and place into the record our position regarding the bill?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader?

Mr. McCANN. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman kindly repeat his question?

Mr. McCANN. I am not sure whether the present Speaker is acting upon bills on which we desire to place into the record a statement of position regarding such a bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman may file his reasons with the Clerk on any bill. If the gentleman desires to debate the bill—

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we do desire to debate the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is in order and will proceed.

Mr. McCANN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Yesterday afternoon, House Bill 183, at that time Printer's No. 622, was amended by the House to place the bill in its present position. At that time we presented to the House amendments which we felt were the best type of amendments for such a bill dealing with the subsidy program for the public school system.

After those amendments were defeated, we in turn accepted the amendments presented by the Majority party which was a compromise set of amendments dealing with the very same bill, House Bill 183.

This afternoon we are voting on that particular bill as it is now amended. House Bill 183, it is estimated, will distribute approximately $31.5 million to the school districts in the next two years. We, of course, wholeheartedly concur in the distribution of this money, for we believe that the school districts desperately need these additional finances to take care of increased costs as well as mandated salary increases under the law that was enacted in the previous session.

The one item that we want clearly understood is that in this bill on which we are voting today there is a change of policy. Under this bill that change of policy will occur in the second year. We objected to this change through the amendments that we presented yesterday. We object to the change today but we are forced to accept this since we believe this is the best we can get under the existing conditions. Therefore, we will support the bill.

The policy change that I speak of has to do particularly with the actual cost of education in the second year, when this bill requires the school districts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to determine by their budgets the reimbursement on the actual cost basis. I am hoping that the changes that I say here this afternoon will most certainly be wrong a year from now.

I have talked to a great number of school people about this very item. I feel that school board after school board, district after district, will add considerable administrative cost to bring their costs in line so that the actual cost will not be less than the bill itself. I do not believe that that will tend to improve the education of the youngsters in those particular school districts. If this will be the effect of this policy change that we are adopting here today, then we are not improving education, but are only improving the costs of education in determining the reimbursement.

We objected to this seriously in caucus, we objected to the amendments when they were first presented in this field, but they are a part of the present bill. We do concur that the change dealing with transportation that occurred in the bill is a very sound situation having to do with the reimbursement for transportation money.

The local effort increase that has been placed in the bill, which is one-sixth of a mill in the second year, is a compromise from the one and one-eighth mill local effort increase that was proposed in the bill prior to the acceptance of the amendments.

Basically the policy difference that exists between our position and those of the amendments that we have accepted are, as we indicated yesterday, that we felt the local effort increase should be held at its present four-mills level for the two-year period with which the bill and the amendments dealt.

The other change, as I mentioned before, had to do with the actual cost. We are rather hesitant regarding this situation but are willing to accept it for this session, so that this bill may move today over to the other Chamber to be enacted and passed in sufficient time to be a part of our coming year's school program.

We would like to say we believe that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania must continue to give to our school districts the additional funds that it takes to run a good, sound education system, and if those funds must be further increased by each succeeding session of the General Assembly, we certainly will propose and endorse those increases believing that education must be advanced to its fullest extent. This bill, of course, does not make such drastic policy changes as the original bill that was proposed quite some time ago.

With these amendments clarified, we have made our position clear for the record. With House Bill 183 in its present form, we feel that on this side of the House we should vote for the bill as it is now before us, and place on the record our position for future sessions.

With those remarks, we ask that the Members on the minority side agree to the bill as it is before the House today.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I, individually, intend to vote against House Bill 183.

At the outset I would like to state that the compromise arrived at yesterday on the floor of this House was not a compromise by us, on this side of the aisle and the membership on the other side of the aisle. I firmly believe it was a compromise arrived at by the majority party of this House in an effort to secure a sufficient number of votes to pass proposal 183.

In opposing this bill, I recognize there is a need for funds which this bill provides for the local school districts but I object to the formula for procuring those funds, and if others would be so disposed, I know that we could then get together and conclude with the type of subsidy bill which would be necessary to effect that which we have mandated the local districts to do.

This is a basic change in the policy of paying for the educational program in Pennsylvania, and the entire change in policy is basically a responsibility on the other side.

Now, it is well known that the PSEA or the Public School Employes' Association is in favor of the continuing the financial policy of the past in providing for education in the Commonwealth. There are many various organizations that believe in this in order to further promote education as it affects this Commonwealth.

I oppose this bill because it is a step backwards. It is a retreat from the position which we have gained today in the educational field of Pennsylvania. I for one, take this position because I do not believe that since we have had an Act on the books which the local school districts have availed themselves of, and under which they have set up this schedule for providing the additional facilities that are necessary to provide education for the youngsters in their respective districts, they have taken upon themselves a burden of financial responsibility in providing the additional classrooms that were so necessary.

In the forthcoming years, with the inception of this type of policy, they will be required to raise additional funds on a local level which will throw that program out of kilter. We might have delayed this policy from going into effect for a period of time until another Assembly would have gone into session, when the issue could have been decided very objectively by ourselves going before the electorate and taking the position as to what stand we shall take in regard to paying for education in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I further want to add that for many of these smaller districts, and many of you represent people of fourth class districts and many third class districts, with the actual cost computation in this bill, that serves as a penalty clause, the passage of this bill before us will penalize those districts.

I am going to register a protest vote against House Bill 183. I do not believe we are doing the right thing for those school districts back home that have set up their schedule in accord with our prior financial program of paying for education. I firmly believe that they should have known just which way we were going to go, and since I campaigned on the platform of a pledge that we would continue to expand the educational program of Pennsylvania the same as we have in the past, rather than laying the burden of local taxation upon the local districts, I, therefore, will vote "no" on this measure.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, as Mr. McCann stated, there should not be such a difference between the position of the majority and the minority as to the feature of actual cost. Call it a change of policy, if you will.

The proponents of this measure feel that the incorporation of this feature into the bill is sound, because in our research we found a great many cases of districts actually operating at a cost less than the maximum subsidy and they are, in effect, making a profit at the expense of the Commonwealth. Now no one wants to see the schools denied the money they need to carry on a good program, but there is not one of us in this House, or who has been in this House, who is not conscious of the problem that the so-called mandated increases pose to us biennium after biennium. Certainly, it seems sound that we should budget only for needs and not in excess of those needs whereby some districts make a profit.

I am not going to bore the House with figures on this issue but I will just take one figure and one case in which we found that a school district made approximately a 36 percent profit on their budget as a whole, which meant, in effect, that for every dollar expended the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was reimbursing that district $1.36.

On this point of breaking the so-called local effort and starting the costs back in the direction of the local level, it has long been recognized by many, and some have stated so very emphatically, that part of this cost should fall at the local level. To an extent we subscribe to that principle and we do not see any harm or danger to the districts in inaugurating it at this time.

I think it is clear and must be recognized that there is rapidly approaching a point beyond which the Commonwealth cannot go. It cannot for ever increase these reimbursements. That has been recognized by men and women on both sides of the aisle. It was recognized by the Governor himself when he first addressed us here in Joint Session of this year.

I will grant there is a chance that there will be a great deal of administrative maneuvering on the part of some districts in order to bring their actual costs in line with the so-called maximum subsidy. However, here is the situation. We know now where conditions exist which we do not feel are proper, where excessive reimbursements are being made in some cases that we know of. There are cases where we know there is "fudging." Perhaps we will run into difficulties in trying to correct that but at least we know there is something there to correct. In some cases, at least, I am convinced that the increase in cost will result in a richer program for the students. If that is so that is money well spent.

I differ with the gentleman from Westmoreland in that having to raise the funds back on the local level is going to set the local districts back for some time. A great many schoolmen have recognized that this is coming. A great many boards and areas have the facilities available.

The only thing this Legislature needs to do is to follow through to give these districts the totals, because I think it is a healthier condition for home rule and that more of the dollars collected get back to the kids in school if it is raised on the local level.

All in all we feel that this is the most equitable distribution of this money. In the matter of actual costs we feel that if this bill and these features are ably and intelligently administered by the Department of Public Instruction a broader spread of the money with greater advantage can be achieved. We feel this is in the best interests for the kids in school who, after all, are the most important and gives the greatest value received for a dollar spent.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, the problem which we face in trying to throw back some of the cost of education in our Commonwealth upon the local level was very fairly perused by the Joint State Government Commission some years ago. That report is on file.

When I became interested in the intricacies of this problem, I made a study of the report that came from that Commission and to the contrary of that alleged by the gentleman from Greene and by the gentleman from Westmoreland, this question of devising a method and means of returning some of the cost to the local level was at that time inculcated as a matter of an overtone policy to be absolutely followed as essential in the formulation of the financing of the educational system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I, therefore, do not consider that the amendments offered by the other side of the aisle were better than the amendments which have been proposed by the majority. Indeed, it is not exactly a change of policy. I call your attention to the fact that we are presently increasing the market values all over the state to the end that we might raise the assessed valuation and thereby putting more of the effort of governmental services upon the local level, which is a part of the policy soon to be designed in the Commonwealth.

I should also like to comment upon this question of actual cost and maximum subsidy. I point out to you that we have delayed this policy for one year in order to give those lower market value districts an opportunity to prepare themselves. I am informed reliably, I believe, that there are only about ten percent of the teaching units in the Commonwealth that might at all be concerned with this actual cost figure.

The gentleman from Greene has rather readily admitted that it is very possible that the motive in this bill might be an incentive for better and increased educational standards. It is thought that that is what the school boards will do and what the school administrators will attempt to accomplish within the year.

In the long run, we point out again, that by holding forth the incentive of closed schools, jointures, and other incentive measures in our educational processes during the past several years, we have been able to increase educational standards throughout the Commonwealth. We believe this same type of incentive is to be found in the provision in this bill asking those school districts to bring themselves up to the equalization effort or else get their subsidy on the basis of their actual cost.

I should further like to call your attention to the fact that there has been introduced and will probably be reported to the floor, a resolution asking for an extensive study of this entire educational problem because it has become so intricate, so bothersome, and so trialsome to everyone. We expect, therefore, by the next biennium, to have resolved this more successfully, perhaps than we have at the present.

I, therefore, Mr. Speaker, take the position that insofar as the policy of House Bill 183, Printer's No. 872, as presently amended we have the best and finest piece of legislation possible for this particular body to have brought out at this time.

Mr. ANDREWS. The gentleman from Bedford in his concluding remarks outlined the reasons why I am for this bill.

The time has long since passed when there should be a complete re-appraisal of our school problems. In the long range I prophesy that the ultimate solution of our problems will be for the state subsidy to be based on a per pupil basis, and the state to finance the entire cost of a minimum educational program on a per pupil basis.

If we do not ultimately arrive at such a solution, we will continue as we have in the past to patch, and patch and patch without arriving at a stable program, based upon a formula that can absolutely be depended upon, and which will be absolutely equitable as far as all the districts are concerned.

I repeat, I prophesy that the time will come when we will finance our school system on the basis of a subsidy equal to the minimum cost of educating a pupil on the basis of a minimum mandated program. The local district then can add such frills as lie within its means.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, it seems that when an item suits the occasion of the gentlemen on the other side they institute a study after promoting a program. Then on other issues, they cast those aside and institute a study because it just does not suit their occasion. It seems to me that we are going to study the problem after we initiate a new policy on the particular project in which we are interested.

Now the gentleman, Mr. Moscrip, stated that we must give the local districts the tools. I presume that by "tools" he means the facility to additionally tax the people of a local district, because most of the districts that have been able to levy a tax have taxed to the allowable extent in regard to the taxation that is levied under Act 481.

By that I mean the only place that many districts have to turn now in order to raise sufficient revenues—now I am not talking about the wealthier districts—the only way those poor districts have to raise revenue is to tax the wages on a local level and you move in this House to enable them to further tax those wages, by amending certain Acts that pertain to the millage as it concerns the "tax everything laws" of the 1947 session.

So again I say you are casting a burden upon the local districts, one that they cannot afford to take because of the program which they have set out upon in providing the additional facilities that were necessary in those respective districts.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Speaker, I believe that this is a good bill because it is a compromise.

If you examine all major Federal and state legislation, you will find that there are many compromises. That is what makes those bills good, and they usually last over a period of years.

Under this bill, in the second year of this biennium we will make a four and one-sixth mill local effort. That does not mean that the state will not spend as much money as they are now spending for education, but it does mean that we will use a different system of distributing that state money to our local school districts. The districts which are least able to pay for a good educational system will receive a larger share of the state budget for education.

All of us are in favor of an educational system which will provide equal education for each boy and girl in Pennsylvania. Unfortunately today some districts have much wealth. In one district we have a large steel mill. The school board of that area is able to levy a real estate tax on that steel industry. In another district we do not have industries. As a result they are not able to finance a good educational system.

This bill will help those districts which are unfortunate in not having satisfactory industrialization.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

----------	---------	-------	--------

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. WILLARD filed the following reasons for his vote: I voted for House Bill No. 183, Printer's No. 872, because we must have a subsidy bill.

I was very much in favor of House Bill No. 183, Printer's No. 622.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair requests the Speaker of return to the rostrum.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, for presiding.

POLITICAL WORKERS FROM PHILADELPHIA WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a group of political workers from Philadelphia, here today as the guests of the ladies from Philadelphia, Mrs. Anderson, Miss Duffy, Mrs. Monroe, Mrs. Pashley and Mrs. Varallo.

The Chair hopes that the ladies will enjoy their visit with us today. The Chair has been informed that they are also a Democratic delegation.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, rise?

Mr. ANDREWS. To ask permission to offer the Chair a bit of advice.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will be happy to accept advice from the gentleman from Cambria.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would ask the Chair to ponder the wisdom on the part of the Speaker of placing too many "able" men in the Chair if he has a reasonable hope of a second term.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thinks the advice is well given, and will be very, very careful in the future.

The Chair certainly wishes to compliment the Speaker pro tempore for doing such a splendid job today.

FAYETTE COUNTY WOMEN WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been informed there is a delegation of women present from the County of Fayette. The Chair welcomes them to the Hall of the House.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to address a parliamentary inquiry to the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated for the purpose of a parliamentary inquiry?

Mr. JOHNSON. Within the realm of my limited knowledge of parliamentary procedure, I will attempt to answer.

Mr. ANDREWS. This is one that the Majority Leader can answer very easily.

If I were to make a motion that all these appropriation bills that we are about to consider were to be re-committed to the committee for a more detailed study, are not the probabilities very strong that the motion would be defeated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say that I would fight your motion with all the vigor in my small frame.

Mr. ANDREWS. In that event the Majority Leader would prevail. I thank the gentleman.

And so with the purpose of not taking the time of the House for a roll call, I desire to say in part what I would say if I made the motion to recommit, and with the permission of the Chair and the House, I will so do.

Mr. Speaker, we are proceeding on the basis of the thought that it is a fine thing for the party in power, whether Republican or Democratic, to evade the realities of a situation by framing a budget that carries automatically a built-in deficit. That is what we have been doing for quite a number of years.

Now, we should face the realities of our problem, and I think the tactics of the administration perhaps have not been as wise as they should have been. I think His Excellency, the Governor, is pulling his program instead of pushing it. That is significant. If you are pulling a cart, those who observe see you first before they have a chance to observe what is in the cart you are pulling. When you are pushing a cart, the first thing they see is what you have in the cart.

I have listened to what has been said in the two Chambers of Pennsylvania's General Assembly, and I have found, to my sorrow, that what the Governor is supposed to need obscures what the people of this Commonwealth need. The critics do not stop to ask what is in the cart the Governor is pulling; they just say we do not want to give too much to that fellow, George Leader.

In this program which we have we are confessing our poverty. We confess we do not have enough money to adequately finance education. We pass a bill blithely raising the construction costs of our schools by a million dollars and we do not make any move to provide accommodations for the young people who will emerge from these schools that we build and rebuild, with the result that every college, every university in the Commonwealth and every medical school is turning away ambitious young men and women who seek a college education but for whom there is no room, and at a time when there is a crying need for more physicians, more technicians. We are miserly, positively miserly with our contributions to our medical schools.

Our great and good President has said "It is a greater crime to underfinance an essential need than it is to overfinance an unessential need."

So, I say to you that we are neglecting our universities because of our poverty; we are neglecting the handicapped children because of our poverty; we are neglecting not only the universities, but the medical schools, because of our poverty. We confront the next administration with a financial situation which means that the next

Governor will indeed be a genius if in his efforts to dig out, he does not dig his own grave.

When we spend the question occurs as to what we are buying. It does not mean a thing for the Majority Leader to say we spend, and spend and spend. What are you buying with what you are spending? Do you buy health? Do you buy education? Do you buy ease of mind for the families that have mentally ill in their family groups? What do you buy?

I say to create a financial structure embodying a built-in deficit simply places an impossible burden upon the next Governor of this state. You who have such high hopes of electing the next Governor should take some steps to insure that he is not overcome by the very problems we now evade. I say this General Assembly would be very, very wise if it faced the realities of the situation and sent all the bills back to committee. Why, in some respects we are not financing activities in accordance with the mandated laws that we have passed. In our negligence we even have so short-changed the supreme court that unless its appropriation as originally proposed is increased, it would not have the pay roll to function.

I am not going to take the time of the House at this late hour. The Minority Leader has a date with the Democratic ladies this evening and I want him, for the sake of the fact that he comes from Berks County and so do some of the ladies, to be able to attend the dinner they are giving.

I am curtailing what I believe is a plea of utmost importance, in deference to the social obligations which so sadly interfered. You have been in such a hurry, this General Assembly, and if we had spent more time here in the Hall of the House and in committee rooms, considering the problems that face us, instead of indulging in so much social extra curricular activity, we would be further along.

So I plead with you, I would plead if I had made the motion to recommend, to send the whole program back to committee. Erect a strong, stable financial structure and spend, and spend, and spend, as long as you are buying something that does not possibly have a monetary value.

In closing, I have had the good fortune at long last to find an editor after my own heart. I wish you would embody as a part of the remarks that I have been making, an editorial which appeared this morning in the Harrisburg Patriot. It is a powerfully telling document. It is something that every Member of this House should read.

I say send the bills back to committee, outline the essential needs of the Commonwealth, convene your Committee of Ways and Means and finance whatever program is designed to meet the essential needs of the state just as you frame a program to meet the essential needs of the home.

ONE OF WORST OF THE LOT

The Point we want to make is that this political trick of grossly overestimating revenue still stands as the traditional way out of Pennsylvania's budget mess. No recent-year Legislature has had the political courage and the governmental honesty to vote the adequate taxes which will put our Commonwealth on a pay-as-it-goes basis, and the current General Assembly is one of the worst of the lot.

This is why each new Legislature is presented a built-in financial crisis before its members even take the oath of office. This is why Pennsylvania is unlike so many other states, including neighboring New York, which just have wound up their fiscal years—not with a deficit but with tidy surpluses thanks to the upbeat national economy.

It isn't a matter of 20-20 hindsight to spotlight what Samuel Johnson called "the evil we suffer" and blame it on the Legislature. Many Pennsylvanians were blowing this same whistle loud and clear in May of 1956. This newspaper was among them. We were declaring on May 6, 1956, that "a deficit of anywhere from $50 million to $125 million now looms as sure." We also were emphasizing that this present General Assembly not only would have to raise the cash for this deficit but make up another $50 million, which was shoved into the treasury by the political device of accelerating the collection of the capital stock tax.

On these two items alone, this Legislature started out with a shortage of more than $110 million. If the last Legislature had given the State honest financing, this money alone would be more than enough to take care of the original $95 million budget difference argued by the Governor and the Republicans.

For All of the talk about "economy" and "no new taxes," another big financial crisis is being built up right today for the next Legislature. Pennsylvania still doesn't have an adequate tax structure and, barring totally unexpected action in the closing days of this session, it won't get one. It's reasonable to assume at this point that another big deficit is being built into this budget. In addition to the deficit, the Republican leadership is working on a new acceleration gimmick. This one would make sales tax payments due monthly instead of quarterly, bringing 25 months of sales tax revenue, instead of 24, into this budget period. Extra revenue—from the capital stock tax, the sales tax, or anything else—only can be accelerated into the treasury once, so this is a guaranteed chunk of new money which the next Legislature will have to find.

It doesn't take a crystal ball today to forecast an even worse financial crisis for the next Legislature than this one has. Many of the GOP appropriation cuts are as phony as a three-dollar bill. On some items, the Republicans simply are refusing to appropriate adequate funds for spending that is mandated by law. And as if all of this isn't bad enough, accepted and necessary programs and services are being shortchanged and Pennsylvania and Pennsylvanians will suffer.

"No new taxes" may have a pleasant sound, but Pennsylvanians should not be deceived. "No new taxes" is a cry of irresponsibility, and it will continue to be irresponsible until this Commonwealth finally gets an adequate revenue foundation.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am very glad to hear that at last the gentleman from Cambria has found one person who agrees with him.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Blair.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Has the gentleman from Blair recovered his glasses?

Mr. AUKER. I have and that is the reason I make the remark.

Mr. ANDREWS. I am glad that the gentleman has recovered his glasses. It will not now be necessary for him to rely upon what is in his head. He is at liberty to read.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I might reply to that by saying we only put in our head what we use our eyes to put there.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. READINGER. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I agree whole-heartedly with the remarks just made by the gentleman from Cambria, except in one respect. If I heard correctly, he indicated that he was shortening his remarks today from what he would normally do for the reason that the Minority Leader, meaning myself, had been invited to a dinner of some Democrat women. That is correct; I have been, but he has also.

I am wondering whether he is not curtailing his remarks because he wants to go to the dinner. I am sure that he did not intend—what I heard at least—to infer that either he or I would shorten our remarks on anything so important as this, if we thought that continuing to talk about it would accomplish the result desired; that is to make the Members on the majority side of this House understand just what we are getting into by short changing the budget by not passing the taxes necessary and making the appropriations needed.

But I say I am rising at this time to see that the record does not indicate that we are so interested in our social activities here that we would in any way short change our legislative activities.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1696

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1696, Printer's No. 658, entitled:

“An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for the maintenance of certain hospitals.”

was defeated on final passage Wednesday, June 5, 1957, be reconsidered.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, originally it was contemplated that we would offer amendments to this bill once it was reconsidered. By various meetings and negotiations a satisfactory arrangement has been made now for taking care of the prospective amendments to this bill by the conferees who will be appointed to the Conference Committee on House Bill 1700, the general appropriation bill.

Therefore, we are not going to offer any amendments to this bill but will join in its passage.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Breisch, Kehler, Mihm, Mills,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 954, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania for the School of Medicine

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 1, page 1, lines 2 and 3, by striking out "Two Million Twelve Thousand Dollars ($2,012,000)" and inserting "Two Million One Hundred Fourteen Thousand Dollars ($2,114,000)."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 954 makes an appropriation to the trustees of the University of Pennsylvania for the School of Medicine. The bill as originally introduced proposed that $2,506,050 be appropriated, but the Appropriation Committee cut this down to $2,012,000.

My amendment would increase that figure by $102,000. The last session's appropriation to the medical schools were calculated on the basis of $2,000 per student per year.

This session the same basis was used. However, the administration feels that inasmuch as certain medical schools have Senatorial scholarships, it is justified to increase the appropriation to these schools by the amount of the cost of the scholarships.

The schools that award these scholarships include the University of Pittsburgh, University of Pennsylvania and Temple University. The costs are as follows:

University of Pittsburgh $49,100.

University of Pennsylvania $102,000.

Temple University $107,286.

This figure of $102,000 for the University of Pennsylvania is based upon the experience during the last two years. During the year 1955-1956, 157 scholarships awarded to medical students at Penn, amounted to $300 per year, and seven scholarships at $150 per year, making a total for the year of 1955-1956 of $48,150.

For the year of 1956-1957, there were 179 scholarships at $300 a year, one scholarship at $150 a year, for a total of the year 1956-1957 of $53,850, or a total for the past biennium of $102,000. It is this figure that is being offered at this time.

I understand that the Appropriations Committee with regard to the Temple University Medical School not only accepted the figure of the Governor in his budget, but added $110,000 to that figure, which is slightly more than the amount that I am now discussing with regard to political or Senatorial scholarships.

In other words Temple University was taken care of by the Appropriations Committee; we now ask that the same privilege be given to the University of Pennsylvania. It is only fair.

Now with regard to the University of Pittsburgh, I am informed that the figures originally presented to the Governor by the University of Pittsburgh were in error. Based upon the information given to the Governor, the estimate in the budget was $1,800,000. The error, discovered after the budget came out, was that this figure was $200,000 too high, so the correct amount should be $1,600,000. The amount pertaining to Senatorial scholarships is $49,000 so the total amount actually required by the University of Pittsburgh would be $1,649,000, which is considerably less than $1,800,000.

Now, I say to you, Mr. Speaker, that we were much concerned with the Governor's budget here. We have here a situation where the amount involved is some $200,000 less than that required by the budget pertaining to the University of Pittsburgh.

I ask now why we cannot use some of that money and apply it to the University of Pennsylvania in the amount of $102,000. It certainly comes within the Governor's budget.

I say to you, that Temple University has been benefited, and the University of Pittsburgh has asked for considerably less than is required by the Governor's budget. It seems to me only fair that the University of Pennsylvania should be benefited in this very important respect.

The University of Pennsylvania is one of the greatest medical schools in the country, if not the world. It is something of which we as Pennsylvanians should be proud. The amount that we asked would be well within the Governor's total budget.

Therefore, I ask that the amendments be approved.

Mr. WOOD. I ask the membership to vote these amendments down. We have all agreed on $2,000 per student. As the gentleman said, that is the amount that was used. The amount in the Governor's budget, $3,012. That was the figure we used. The Budget Office agreed that they had made a mistake in the figures for Temple and Pittsburgh Universities and that they would give us new figures. These new figures were agreed upon by the Budget Office and Temple University and the University of Pittsburgh.

With that explanation, I ask the Members to vote the amendments down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

On a rising vote, eighty-two Members voting in the affirmative and one hundred twenty-three in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

-----------	---------	-------	--------

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1623, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation out of the "Oil and Gas Lease Fund" to be used by the Department of Forests and Waters for stream and flood control in Emporium Borough and Shippen Township Cameron County.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman from Cameron explain this bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, this is an Appropriation Bill for $130,000.

Mr. BRETH. That is a rather meager explanation, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Will the gentleman tell me what he has in mind? What would he like to know?

Mr. BRETH. Where is the money coming from and what is it intended to do?

Mr. TOMPKINS. The bill itself tells you that. It comes out of the Oil and Gas Lease Fund in which there is in the neighborhood of $7 to $7.5 million now, which is to be used for recreational and flood control purposes, and the purpose of the bill is to take care of flood control conditions.

Mr. BRETH. The amount is $130,000 out of $6 million or so, is that right?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right.

Mr. BRETH. And the project is located at Emporium Borough, Shippen Township in Cameron County?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right.

Mr. BRETH. As a project, it is essentially local?

Mr. TOMPKINS. It is a project that has been approved by the Department of Forests and Waters. They have already done their engineering on it.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if the project has been approved and the engineering has been done, why this bill is necessary?

Mr. TOMPKINS. In order to get the money with which to do the work.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I understand the Department of Forests and Waters has a budget from which it allocates funds for flood control purposes.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right, it is the Oil and Gas Lease Fund.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform me whether or not any and all flood control projects in the state of Pennsylvania require legislative action like this?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Off hand, I could not tell the gentleman.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know just why it is necessary to specifically name a certain fund in the Department of Forests and Waters for an amount small in comparison to the size of the fund, for a small local project as concerns the overall immense flood control program of the Department of Forests and Waters for the entire state?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Because I was advised that would be the source of revenue for the purpose of doing this project.

Mr. BRETH. May I ask the gentleman whether or not the Secretary of Forests and Waters advised him to put this bill in?

Mr. TOMPKINS. He did not.

Mr. BRETH. May I ask the gentleman whether or not if I had a project in Clearfield County that would require $130,000 and introduce a similar bill whether or not he would favor my bill?

Mr. TOMPKINS. If it were a meritorious project, I certainly would.

Mr. BRETH. Would I understand then, from the remarks of the gentleman, that if any and all Members who had a small flood control problem in his own locality would put in a bill for $130,000 that he would be in favor of taking that money from the Oil and Gas Fund as this bill does?

Mr. TOMPKINS. If the Department of Forests and Waters would approve the project, as they have done in this case, Yes.

Mr. BRETH. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

I dislike this bill. I think it is opening the door, in fact, tapping the keg of a pork barrel. And the pork barrel, at the present time, has something over $6 million dollars in it. Each year it will be swelled by millions upon millions, and if it is right and proper for any small local area to appropriate from that fund a sum as large as this or as small as this, whichever way you want to look at it, then I think we are opening the door to an immense session-by-session raid on the pork barrel from which the lid has been lifted.

The fund, as I mentioned sometime ago, called the Oil and Gas Lease Fund, is considered throughout the United States as one of the most outstanding pieces of legislation for good conservation and flood control in the history of America. It is designed to take a state the size of Pennsylvania and provide millions upon millions of dollars to be administered by the Department of Forests and Waters and its engineers in an overall plan which can be used over the period of years to install and operate a flood control project, which will be of immense merit generally throughout the state. If we permit such bills as this to pass the House and to become law, then I think we are endangering the proper use and benefit of those funds.

I think every Member of this House has in his own local area many small projects for which he would like very, very much to have $10,000 or $50,000, or any amount of thousand of dollars, as his own personal contribution to his local flood control program. But that is not good legislation. It is not good now and, as I mentioned previously, it will open the door to an immense pork barrel project. I think the citizens of Pennsylvania would not have their needs served beneficially by such action.

Mr. Speaker, I would like every Member to consider this bill carefully before he approves it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am surprised at the gentleman from Clearfield. He says that there are other needs in the state. Has he never sat beside the pellucid crystal stream that flows through Plank Road Hollow up at Emporium? If he sees the beauties of that stream he can understand the attachment of the gentleman from Cameron to all that pertains to Plank Road Hollow.

This bill will make the state General Assembly self-conscious of Plank Road Hollow, but I am sure that when it reaches its ultimate destiny on the desk of His Excellency the Governor, that unless His Excellency the Governor visits Plank Road Hollow, he will not be able to understand the affection that led the gentleman from Cameron to step out and be the one man in this House who took care of something that was of particular local and personal concern.

It is true, of course, that every Member of this House has some flood project in which he is interested, but only Cameron County has Plank Road Hollow! It is nice to be able to pull something out of a pellucid stream. Why, it's a monumental achievement, not emulated by any other Member of this House, for a legislator to cast his little personal hook and land what? A fish? A turtle? A water snake? No One hundred and fifty thousand dollars for a little stream in Plank Road Hollow.

I commend the ingenuity of the gentleman from Cameron County, who, when he knew that none of the rest of them was looking, and none realized that if they had something with a name like Plank Road Hollow they could get it into the Legislative Hall of Fame. I presume that with a little thinking every Member of this House could decide that he had something in his district that resembles the stream at Plant Road Hollow and tomorrow or the next day bring in a bill to finance stream clearance and flood protection in those sacred precincts.

All Hail to Plank Road Hollow!

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank most heartily the gentleman from Cambria for his very complimentary remarks about the beautiful streams we have in our county. When this project is completed, I want the gentleman to put on his Naval Captain's hat and come up and have a little trip with us up and down this river, together with the other Members of this House.

It seems to run in my mind that only within the past ten years this very body appropriated something like $50 or $60 million for the purpose of clearing up another stream in this Commonwealth known as the Schuylkill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1709, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of the University of Pittsburgh for the School of Medicine.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, lines 1 and 2, by striking out "one million six hundred thousand dollars ($1,600,000)" and inserting in lieu "one million six hundred forty-nine thousand one hundred dollars ($1,649,100)."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, as has been stated by a prior speaker today, last session's appropriation to the medical schools were calculated on a basis of $2,000 per student per annum.

This session the same basis was used. However, inasmuch as certain medical schools honor Senatorial scholarships, I feel that it is justified to increase the appropriation for these schools by the amount of the cost of the scholarships. The cost of these scholarships to the University of Pittsburgh is $49,100. Hence my amendment adds that figure to the original appropriation of House Bill 1709.

I ask for the support of these amendments.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KAMYK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman not think that the remedy would be to eliminate Senatorial scholarships, which are entirely political in character?

Mr. KAMYK. No, I do not think so. I think Senatorial scholarships help a lot of worthy students.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe the House of Representatives to be an equal body with the Senate of Pennsylvania?

Mr. KAMYK. I think we are an equal body, Mr. Speaker, but I do not want to interfere with the business of the other side.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, then, Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell me, if we are an equal body, why the Senators should have the political right to name persons for scholarships and not the House of Representatives?

Mr. KAMYK, Mr. Speaker, this became a practice long before I became a Legislator.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members to vote down this amendment for two reasons. First, the budget office admitted they had made a mistake, that they should have asked for $1,600,000 in the budget, and second, that the Pittsburgh Medical School has agreed to the reduction.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

On a rising vote, seventy-nine Members having voted in the affirmative and one hundred thirteen in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1718, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Commerce for housing and redevelopment assistance.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time?

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 1 and 2, by striking out "one million three hundred thousand dollars ($1,300,000)" and inserting in lieu "five million dollars ($5,000,000)."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I might say to the House that I was very fortunate today in that when I came in I found a report on my desk, and I think the other Members received the same report, from the Governor's Citizens Committee on Housing for the year 1957; fortunate, because on page 12 of this report appears the case which I wish to present to the House concerning urban redevelopment.

In 1949 under the Housing and Redevelopment and Assistance Law, the Legislature appropriated $15 million. Up to 30 percent of that appropriation was available for redevelopment assistance and the remainder was provided for capital grants to moderate-rental projects. In connection with the 1955 amendment under the same law, an additional appropriation of $5 million was made. In effect, this 1955 amendment gave redevelopment assistance priority over housing programs.

In the light of the federal program of assistance to urban renewal, we find that such state appropriations are clearly worth while because the total state-local contribution is matched two-fold by federal urban renewal grants.

Although the committee realizes that a number of economic factors may prevent urban redevelopment authorities from using clearance areas for middle income housing sites, the committee acknowledges that urban redevelopment authorities in Pennsylvania recognize the need for such sites and will attempt to provide them whenever feasible.

One other factor to be noted in connection with state assistance for redevelopment is that past experience in administering such assistance has shown that several years may necessarily elapse between the passage of the appropriation and the time at which it is actually expended, because of the time required for developing and obtaining federal approval of a complex redevelopment program.

The committee recommends the adoption of the Governor's 1957 budget message proposal to appropriate $5 million for state redevelopment assistance currently.

Mr. Speaker, that is the purpose of my amendments.

The original appropriation went back to 1949 and the Republican-controlled Legislature in its wisdom saw fit to embark on a proposition leading to redevelopment, putting the need for housing in the hands of private enterprise. I wish to compliment the majority party in the House and Senate for having embarked on such a program.

That $15 million lasted until the 1955 Legislature at which time $5 million was appropriated. The simple request by the Governor at the present time, and by this report which I just read, is for an additional appropriation for the next biennium in the same amount of $5 million.

I have here a list of the projects which are presently under consideration, totaling some 87. I am not going to read them at length, but believe me when I tell you that they blanket the entire state of Pennsylvania, every section. This is not like the bill we had yesterday which applied only to distressed areas. This applies all over the state of Pennsylvania. Believe me when I tell you every section has taken advantage of the Redevelopment Assistance Law, the appropriation of $15 million in 1949 and the additional appropriation of $5 million in 1955.

Reading a total of the 87 projects, it shows something like this: $2,521,000 was paid during this biennium from May 31, 1955 to May 13, 1957; committed and to be paid during the 1957-1959 biennium, $2,242,065, and allocated as to be paid during the 1957-1959 biennium, $2,343,882. Now I am aware that the Members on the other side, after my proposal to make the amount involved $5 million as requested is voted down, we will come along with another proposition upping the amount in the present House Bill 1718.

And I say, hurrah for them. It is a step in the right direction.

Just as I pointed out yesterday, I am very happy that this House at least has taken the initiative of restoring some of the cuts in some of these appropriations because I say to you that this bill, redevelopment housing assistance, is extremely important to the state of Pennsylvania and I therefore request the Members on both sides, because all of your areas are affected, to vote with me in reinstating this $5 million that I have requested.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the membership, I will say, as I did last evening, that we, too, intend offering amendments on this side wherein we are going to ask the membership to raise the suggested appropriation in the bill from $1.3 million to $2.8 million, or an increase of $1.5 million.

This is another project that, of course, merits the attention of all the communities. It is a worthwhile project. Slum clearance, of course, is put ahead of many things that are suggested in the nation in order to better the nation's health, to help control juvenile delinquency, and various other arguments are put forth in favor of it. So there is no question but what redevelopment is a good thing and it is commendable that the federal government has stepped into the picture to do the job, giving about 80 percent of the money.

I have the latest report from the Secretary of Commerce from the original appropriation arising out of the Duff Administration. There is $622,000 of that money remaining to be spent. It has been allocated to Braddock, Philadelphia, and so forth, but the matching money apparently for that amount has not been raised by these various cities.

For instance in order to absorb the $125,000 of the $622,000 remaining in the Duff Housing Fund, Braddock will have to come across with $125,000 during the next year; Philadelphia with $275,000. In other words, the report that we have here shows that the Department has allocated this money if they can show that the matching money by these communities has been forthcoming.

Likewise this report shows that $3.7 million of the $5 million that we appropriated during the 1955-1956 biennium has been used. In only two instances does the report show that cities have raised the required matching money. Reading has raised $50,000 and Oil City has raised $200,000 to match the state money.

So in order to use up $3.7 million of the existing appropriation, the city of Pittsburgh will have to raise $500,000; Reading, $50,000; Duquesne, $613,000. Where that city is going to get that large sum of money I cannot say, but this report does not show that it has been raised. As a matter of fact, of the $3.7 million, $1.3 million of it is going to go to the city of Philadelphia and the report shows that Philadelphia has raised its money. Now I do not know how they have done it or whether they even have set it up, but this report shows that Philadelphia has $1.3 million in the bank.

Be that as it may, of the $3.7 million left from the last biennium's appropriation, only about $1.3 million of it actually could be distributed right now because it does not show that the matching money has been set up.

Likewise, we have the report of what the Secretary of Commerce intends to do with the $5 million during the 1957-1959 biennium. He allocated 4.4 million rather than 5 million. For instance, he has the city of Harrisburg down for $750,000, and as I understand it, Harrisburg would have to match it with $750,000. Now you people who live in the environs of Dauphin County, may know if the city of Harrisburg set aside $750,000 in the bank to match the state money. I do not know.

By the same token, the city of Scranton, supposedly in a distressed area, is down for $750,000. My question is, does the city of Scranton have $750,000 set aside in the bank for that matching money?

In other words, this business of giving money for redevelopment is very fine, provided on the local level, where the people are sorely pressed by local taxes for schools and for their local governments, they can dig down and find this new money to match. It presents quite a problem.

So we feel within the realm of the type of budget that we are presenting to the people, $2.8 million is about all that can be squeezed out for this very worthwhile project and I, therefore, ask the Members to vote down the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

In the House of Representatives, June 11, 1957.

The continued operation of Mercy-Douglass Hospital in Philadelphia is a matter of vital concern to the citizens of that City.

It has become increasingly apparent that substantial continuing State appropriations are now and will in the future be required to insure the future availability of the services of said hospital; therefore be it

RESOLUTION No. 132.

In the House of Representatives, June 11, 1957.

Our sojourn for this session is rapidly coming to an end and our trek will soon be homeward bound, as we carry a bundle of memories, mostly pleasant.

During this session, our Speaker, Mr. W. Stuart Helm, has been a most able skipper. Mr. Helm has stood at the helm and has guided the legislative ship through the perilous straits.

Mr. Albert W. Johnson, the majority leader and Mr. Albert S. Readinger, the minority leader, have been able generals in the legislative field of battle, asking no quarter and giving none.

We also salute that great Field Marshal and Master Strategist, the gentleman from the Twenty-sixth Ward in South Philadelphia, the Honorable Louis J. Amarando, a great delegation leader.

We the members of this House have been enriched immensely by the gems of wisdom, most eloquently showered on us in the dissertations of that statesman and orator extraordinary, Mr. Hi Andrews.

Our relationship with all of the members of this House have been most enjoyable during this session.

We wish all the members good health and good luck in their future endeavors; therefore be it

Resolved, That we return to our homes and administer to our constituents and that we mend our political fences so well that all of us will return in 1959.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 133.

Whereas, it has come to the attention of the General Assembly that questionable circumstances surround the removal of Mr. James G. Morgan as President of Mansfield State Teachers College in Tioga County, and

Whereas, these circumstances have created dissension within the Board of Trustees of Mansfield State Teachers College as well as promoting public resentment to the extent that confidence in the administration of the Department of Public Instruction has been seriously undermined, be it therefore

Resolved (the Senate concurring) that the Department of Justice conduct a complete investigation of all activity in connection with the removal of Mr. James G. Morgan as President and the appointment of Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber, and be it further Resolved, that the Governor withhold approval of Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber until such time as he has fully studied this situation for the purpose of taking remedial action if found necessary.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, about two and a half months ago I introduced Resolution No. 49, with a copy of obscene literature. In our county we are at the present time prosecuting the people who sold these magazines. The only thing that this resolution would have done, would have been to permit us to get to the people where these originated.

We wanted a copy of this magazine sent to the Postmaster General to determine whether or not these magazines had gone through the mail. If they had passed through the mail then he could refer the matter to the Attorney General for action.

I would like to have something done with that Resolution so that we can not only take care of the people back home who were selling these magazines, but the people in New York.

ADJOURNMENT

Mrs. SARAH A. ANDERSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, June 12, 1957 at 10:00 a. m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 5:52 p. m. EST) the House adjourned.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. RICHARD E. OWENS, Th.D., Pastor of Saint John's Primitive Methodist Church, Hazleton, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Father, the Father of all men who by faith believe in Thee, instill within us the sense of Thy Fatherhood and the brotherhood of men.

Give us purpose in life and strength and courage to live out that purpose. Grant us hopeful hearts and understanding minds, that we may move forward. Make us worthy of our glorious heritage.

Give to these public servants, the Members of this Senate, the vision, the stamina and determination to hold high the sacred trusts committed to them. Make them truly sensitive to the obligations imposed upon them by their election to high office.

"God of Grace and God of Glory, on Thy people pour Thy Power, set our feet in lofty places; gird our lives that they may be armored with all Christ-like graces in the fight to set men free. Grant us wisdom, grant us courage that we fail no man nor Thee."

THIRD READING CALENDAR

APPROPRIATION BILL OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. KROMER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 66, Printer's No. 343, on third reading, go over in its order temporarily.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 208, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of the Pennsylvania State University for the use of the School of Agriculture for the erection of experimental mushroom houses and research in the communicable diseases of mushrooms and other places of the mushroom industry.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

REQUEST THAT APPROPRIATION BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 208, Printer's No. 335, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY, Mr. President, I was very much impressed last night with the outstanding speech Senator Dent made relative to the necessity of having research in these various enterprises, such as coal and mushrooms. I feel I would like to vote on this bill while I still have the views he so well expressed fresh in my mind.

Therefore, I object to Senate Bill 208 going over in order, unless Senator Dent has some very good reason for so doing.

Mr. DENT, Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT, Senator Mahany, would you say that your mind was fresher and better last night than what it is today?

Mr. MAHANY. No, I had an opportunity to think about all the things you said concerning mushrooms and I would like to vote on this bill now. I am all for research in mushrooms.

Mr. DENT. Would you tell the Senate how you voted on my amendments to restore the appropriation for research in coal?

Mr. MAHANY. Well, Senator, there is no money appropriated now for the mushroom industry. However, I understood there were quite a few hundred thousand dollars spent on research in coal. All I asked last night was that they make a progress report on what is being done and what the money is being spent for before we appropriate any more money.

It was not that I was against research in coal. It is just that I felt there was sufficient money in the till to take care of the work which was being done.

Mr. DENT. I think you will find that coal and mushroom research go hand-in-hand. What we are going to have to do because of the decline in coal mining is use the abandoned mines to raise mushrooms.

If you are more interested in mushrooms than you are in coal, then we should insist that this bill go over in order.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, I am not more interested in mushrooms than I am in coal. You are a past master at non sequitur reasoning, but I would say we should pass this bill today in order that we may get it over to the House and let them operate on it over there. I understand it takes a two-thirds majority and, of course, if you insist, I cannot do very much about it.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. MAHANY, Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MAHANY, Mr. President, am I under the right impression that it requires a two-thirds majority vote of the Senate to pass Senate Bill No. 208, Printer's No. 335?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senate Bill No. 208, Printer's No. 335, will not require a two-thirds vote.

Mr. DENT, Mr. President, I beg to differ with the Chair. I certainly do not want to appear antagonistic to the opinion of the Chair, but it is my firm belief that under the Constitution this bill will require a two-thirds majority vote or thirty-four votes of the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the Senate be at ease for a minute while the Chair confers with the Parliamentarian?

(The Senate was at ease.)

REQUEST THAT APPROPRIATION BILL GO OVER IN ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. LANE, Mr. President, I withdraw my request that Senate Bill No. 208, Printer's No. 335, on third reading, go over in its order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 233, entitled:

An Act to amend the preamble and section one of the act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-six (Appropriation Act No. 123-A) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for the construction of armory facilities under certain conditions" by providing that the Federal Government pay a portion of the cost of each facility.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to call your attention to the fact that Senate Bill No. 233, Senate Bill No. 930 and House Bill No. 1665 are all related subjects. They all deal with armories; permanent major repairs and construction of armories.

I would call to the attention of the Senate, in face of the dire need in the various departments, that this total amount contained in these three bills, which seem to be headed for passage, amounts to $1,671,000. I would suggest to you that you hold these bills or send them back to committee and amend the General State Authority Act, not by increasing its limitation but by taking out the limitation that has already been put into it and do this work under the General State Authority Act. By so doing, it will save us that $1,671,000 so that we can meet some of the needs in the other departments.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am somewhat disturbed over Senator Dent's statement, because I understood that the Administration was blaming the Republicans for upping the amount of the General State Authority debt limitation. Now we are being coached by the Democratic Floor Leader to do what the Democratic News blamed on the Republicans.

I have not, as yet, had any comment from the head office as to whether or not the Democrats want to share the responsibility for upping the debt limitation of the General State Authority. It seems to me they should make up their mind on the matter of Administration policy as to whether or not they want the General State Authority debt limitation lifted. Until they do, I do not see how we can go along with them because I, as the Republican Leader, do not want to take the entire responsibility for upping the General State Authority borrowing power.

I would suggest that we allow these Senate Bills to be passed by the Senate and sent over to the House. If we decide tomorrow that we want to have the General State Authority borrowing capacity lifted, we can then take care of it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I only made that as a suggestion to the Senate. If you want them to go over to the House, there will be no objection on this side.

I only want to say to you, however, that I accept publicly, and for the record, my full share of responsibility, or whatever you want to call it, for the desire to up the General State Authority borrowing capacity to take care of our universities and to take care of the many needs of the Commonwealth. I am sure it will also be a responsibility of the Administration.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—49

Barr,	Harney,	Miller,	Taylor,

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 270, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs to be used by the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission for the encouragement and development of aeronautics.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I just want to call to the attention of the Membership that Senate Bill No. 270 represents a $2,000,000 cut in the appropriation requested. I want you to know, also, that if we do not have Funds to match the local and Federal moneys, we are going to lose quit a lot of money which we could use in this Commonwealth as far as airports are concerned.

I know that throughout Pennsylvania we have a number of districts which want to participate in this Federal-State plan and a $2,000,000 cut is going to cut down on our activities.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, we intend to offer some amendments to this bill later. However, the amendments have not been prepared as yet.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. KROMER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order.

House Bill No. 560, Printer's No. 435; and Senate Bill No. 562 (Pink)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING, DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,
The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 585, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 1145) entitled as amended "Local Tax Enabling Law" further defining the taxing power of townships of the second class.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I expect to vote "no" on House Bill No. 585, because I feel this bill would take a lot of money away from the cities which have imposed wage or income taxes under the authority of Act No. 481.

In the suburban districts outside the city, there are many developments going up. The people who work in the city and have nice houses in the suburban areas, I feel should pay some tax to the place where they are earning their living. If we allow this to be drained further and further, the first thing we know the cities are going to be in a worse plight than they now are.

I suppose someone is going to ask me how I voted on the bill which prevents Philadelphia from collecting from nonresidents. I did vote for that, but I stated at that time the reason I was doing it was because Philadelphia is under the Sterling Act and if they had Act No. 481 governing the city of Philadelphia, I would vote for Act No. 481 to cover the city of Philadelphia.

I do feel that we should not further deplete the funds which these cities receive under Act No. 481.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I might say, in reply to the remarks of the Majority Leader, there already is the right on the part of school districts in second class townships to invoke a wage tax and thereby take it away from the cities that are now collecting it from the people in second class townships who work in the cities.

The only thing this bill would do is permit the local supervisors to share the wage tax with the school boards in those second class school districts.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Act No. 481 was amended so that we cannot levy a wage tax on a nonresident for school purposes. Where the school district levies a tax under Act No. 481, it cannot be levied on a nonresident. The reason for this difference is because the nonresident does not send his children to the city school. Therefore, he does not owe any tribute to the city schools, but he does owe a tribute to the city where he makes his living. If it were not for the city services, he would not be able to have the employment he now enjoys in that city.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I understand that House Bill No. 585 would permit townships to impose a wage tax, and the residents could deduct it from the cities wherein they work which impose a wage tax upon them. We had this problem in Philadelphia where we insisted that people who make their living in Philadelphia should bear part of the tax load.

To be consistent, I must vote against this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14

Berger,	Madigan,	Stevenson,	Watkins,
Elliott,	Pechan,	Van Sant,	Whalley,

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 720, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 31 1949 (P. L. 372) entitled "The General State Authority Act of 1949" increasing the power of the Authority to borrow money and issue evidences of indebtedness therefor and allocating the proceeds of the increased borrowing.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, before we get to the roll call, I would like to interrogate the Minority Leader, Senator Dent.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, do you remember the article that I read from the Democratic News the other day? I stated at that time that I did not want to vote for Senate Bill No. 720 unless Governor Leader repudiated the item in the Democratic News, and was willing to assume his just share of whatever responsibility is involved in raising the debt limitation or the borrowing power of the General State Authority Act. Are you in a position to state whether or not Governor Leader is willing to assume his just share of the responsibility and whether or not the Democratic Administration is willing to do the same?

Mr. DENT. Senator Mahany, after you referred to that a few minutes ago, I had occasion to talk to the Governor. He called about a matter, and I told him that you had just made a very lovely speech over there, in which you said there seems to be some question as to his share of the responsibility for increasing the State debt on the General State Authority Act borrowing power and the School Authority Act borrowing power. He said, "I am a Member of the General State Authority. We passed a resolution in the Authority, and I voted for it, to increase the limit to $100,000,000 and approving Senate Bill No. 720 for $40,000,000."

The article which appeared in the paper, according to the Governor, was called to his attention on a very recent date after Senator Mahany made his statement about it. The Governor said that it is a reprint from a local newspaper. Senator Barr said it is from the Sun-Telegraph and I believe the Governor might have thought it was from the Harrisburg Patriot. Anyway, it was a couple of your Republican newspapers that wrote the article. The Governor said, and I say for him and for the Democratic Administration, that we are taking more than our share of the responsibility because we believe they are needed services.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I believe my name appeared on that paper, and I repudiate the article.

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article four sections four and eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing for the election of the Attorney General.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, since I voted once on a bill similar to this one—incidentally, one which I introduced—and since I do not like to vote twice on the same type of bill, I expect to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, on reflection, as a lawyer, I do not see any sense, under our Pennsylvania Constitution, in making the office of Attorney General an elective office.

There have been some discussions about this bill and Senator Yosko's bill in the past month. I am not convinced that it makes good sense to separate the Attorney General from the Governor's Cabinet. In any event, it would seem to me that the Governor is entitled to the advice and counsel of a lawyer. Even if the Attorney General's office were separate, I believe the Governor would retain sufficient attorneys or solicitors so that he would be able to have counsel of his own choosing.

Therefore, Mr. President, I think whatever else this bill would do, should it ever become part of our Constitution, it would just further and increase the expense of the Executive Branch.

For these and some other reasons, Mr. President, I will vote against this bill.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President I regret very much that the House has not seen fit to pass the Senate Bill which was sponsored by Senator Yosko to do this very thing. However, inasmuch as it has not, and if we want the constitutional amendment, which Senator Yosko thought was so much needed in order to take care of this purpose and to carry out the election of the Attorney General, which is done in most of the other States in the United States, I think, rather than having pride of authorship, Senator Yosko should go along and vote for House Bill No. 1270.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, the responsibilities of a Governor are very great. Because of that, I feel he should be permitted to select his own Attorney General. It is more or less similar to the privilege given to an executive, to select his own secretary.

Therefore, Mr. President, I intend to vote against this bill.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. KROMER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 1594, Printers' No. 837.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1598, entitled

An Act reenacting and amending the act of January 14 1952 (P. L. 2046) entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Highways to erect and maintain toll bridges over the Susquehanna River at certain points and to provide the necessary approaches and connections with State highways * * *" making the erection of such bridges by the Department of Highways mandatory.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I am compelled to make a brief statement on this bill.

Earlier it had been my intention to offer amendments and I had asked my colleagues to support the amendments. I just want to tell them now that I have no intention of offering amendments to this bill.

The story on this bill is that for some time there has been a desire on the part of persons of the two counties involved in this bill, namely, York and Dauphin, to have bridges built across the Susquehanna River. I believe it was some years ago when a bill authorizing the Department to proceed to build toll bridges was passed. Since that time, extending over a period of about a year and one-half, a study has been made by the Department of Highways on the lower bridge, which is the one spanning the river between York County and Lancaster County. About six months ago, a feasibility study was ordered. The feasibility study was to consider the possibility of a bridge, to be built jointly by the Federal Government and the Pennsylvania Department of Highways. A subsequent feasibility study was made later than that and reported just very recently. I think it was about a week ago that the final feasibility report came in and the decision was made to build this bridge between York County and Lancaster County.

I have heard from the Deputy Secretary of Highways, General George Richards, today, that designs for the bridge will be let within this coming month.

Therefore, Mr. President, the situation now is that the one bridge called for in this bill will be built as a free bridge, jointly by the Federal Government and the State Highways Department. The other bridge, which will be the one at Millersburg, of course, remains. Both bridges remain in the bill. Unfortunately, one of them is going to be known as a free bridge. I am sure we do not want two bridges, one free and one toll, down in York County.

Therefore, Mr. President, I, personally, am going to vote "no" on this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MALLERY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, last night we touched upon the problems confronting the older people of the Commonwealth in obtaining employment. I have given considerable thought to what we might do in order to alleviate that problem.

I recall that years ago I sponsored a bill, which was passed, amending the Workmen's Compensation Law setting up the second injury fund. That bill has done great deal to encourage employment of the physically handicapped. The thought occurred to me that we might adopt the principle employed in that Act to encourage employers to employ our older citizens who may be physically competent and able to perform certain service.

I am informed that the thing which is preventing the employment is the cost differential to employers incident to the employment of older persons, by the retirement that must be provided for these older employes. I wish the Members of this Senate would read the amendment to the Workmen's Compensation Law, setting up the second injury fund, to determine whether, in your opinion, we might use this instrument to lend encouragement to the employment of our older citizens.

Therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Mahany, Senator Stevenson and myself, and anyone who would care to be a co-sponsor, I am presenting this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO EXPLORE METHODS WHEREBY THE EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES OPEN TO OLDER PERSONS MAY BE EXPANDED BY ELIMINATING THE PENSION COST DIFFERENTIAL TO EMPLOYERS

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. MALLERY, MAHANY, STEVENSON, SARRAF, DENT and McMENAMIN offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, June 12, 1957.

Whereas, the employment problems faced by our older citizens are of vital concern to the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, employment opportunities for many older persons are effectively restricted by the provisions of existing pension and retirement plans which impose a cost differential upon those employers who would employ older persons; and

Whereas, the benefits to the Commonwealth from a reduction in the number of unemployed older persons are such that ways and means need be found to eliminate the cost differential to employers incident to the employment of older persons; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to explore methods whereby the employment opportunities open to older persons may be expanded by eliminating the pension cost differential to employers; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, June 12, 1957

The House met at 10:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Charles R. Thomas, Pastor of the Church of Christ, Bear Creek Township, Luzerne County, guest Chaplain and guest of the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Post, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God! Giver of every good and perfect gift, we thank Thee for this new day; and grant to us a fresh vision of our responsibilities and privileges, as citizens of this great Commonwealth and Nation.

In Thy Holy Word we read: Behold now is the accepted time; Behold now is the Day of Salvation; Behold now it is high time to awake out of sleep.

Awaken us we pray Thee, to the solemnity of Life; and also to the brevity of Life. As the poet has truly said:—"Life is fleeting; make it pleasant; think of nothing but the present; for the past we leave behind us; and the future may not find us." Help us to realize that all we can call our very own, actually and truly is the present moment, the ever present now.

Help us so to think and act before Thee; as those who must give an account of their stewardship.

May we so live, that when we are called to give an account, we may repeat the words of that great poet, William Cullen Bryant:—

"So live that when thy summons comes to join the innumerable caravan that moves to that mysterious realm, where each shall take his chamber in the silent halls of death, Thou go not, like the quarry-slave at night, scourged to his dungeon, but sustained and soothed by an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Bless and guide each and every one of us, in all that we do and say.

In the name of Christ, we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, June 11, 1957 will be postponed until printed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Does the new book the gentleman is following eliminate the reading of the bill?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair informs the gentleman that the new book provides for the reading of the bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Then I want to inquire why the Chair does not say the Clerk will read the bill and then bring in the first section?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the gentleman from Cambria, the Chair from now on will follow the book..

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. BELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Minority Whip, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Minority Whip, Mr. Andrews, consent to be interrogated by the gentleman from Delaware?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I will consent to be interrogated if the gentleman will show the relevancy of the inquiry at this time, with no questions pending before the House and I having made no remarks subject to controversy.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair informs the gentleman that he will proceed until he is stopped by the Chair.

Mr. BELL. Thank you Mr. Speaker, you are a very fair Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Cambria remember the advice he gave the Speaker, Mr. Helm, yesterday after the fine performance of my colleague from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott?

Mr. ANDREWS. I very well remember.

Mr. BELL. Would the Minority Whip repeat that advice at this time?

Mr. ANDREWS. I advised the Speaker to be very careful about inviting too much competence to the Chair as a substitute, as there was danger inherent in that to anyone who might aspire to a second term. I would say to the gentleman from Delaware that I am now in the process of deflating the young man, and cutting him down to size, so that in the future he may not be a rival to any aspirations that others may have.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, in view of the splendid performance of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, may I advise the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, that sometimes chickens come home to roost.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would ask the House not to be too rough on this freshman or fledgling Speaker.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to make this statement for the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell: just wait until he is chosen Speaker.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there is no question pending before the House that gives relevance to the remarks made by the gentleman from Allegheny.

If he desires to address the House or make a speech, he should ask for permission to address the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The point of order of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, is well taken. It calls for the order of the day.

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough study of the Soldiers and Sailors Home at Erie, giving particular attention to:

- 1, the adequacy and condition of the physical property
- 2, the efficiency of operation

- 4, the good that is done and value of that good to the persons benefited
- 5, the good that is done for the entire State and the value of that good to the people of Pennsylvania
- 6, the problems involved in closing or curtailing the home
- 7, the problems involved in continuing the home
- 8, the desirability of the location
- 9, the humanitarian aspects of any recommended action, and

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 254, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929" requiring preference to be given to residents of the Commonwealth over one year when appointments are made to public offices and positions and imposing duties on the Governor and other appointing powers

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this bill to my mind is a type of parochialism to which this General Assembly should not be committed.

When this Commonwealth needs a particular type of service it should be in a position to draw upon the talent available best suited to the needs wherever found. To begin to establish the policy that public servants in important positions must come from the Commonwealth is to encourage a type of inbreeding that will not minister to the effective administration of our Commonwealth's government.

I hope this House will not commit itself to such a narrow interpretation of the powers of an administrator, this Governor or any other Governor, to find talent where he believes it can best be found.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I do not like to disagree with my learned colleague from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, but in this particular instance I have to.

I am thinking particularly of the situation that existed in the city of Philadelphia when the Democrat administration took over back in 1949. We had a mayor there who went completely haywire. It was almost impossible for a resident of the city of Philadelphia to get an appointive position with the city. So much so that we had applications from as far west as California, even from Paris, France, to fill vacancies that could have been filled by competent and intelligent citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and residents of the city of Philadelphia.

I think the need for this legislation was forcibly brought home when a recent appointment by the Governor brought in someone who had migrated to Ohio. I think it is absolutely unnecessary to go outside the confines of this Commonwealth to appoint capable men. If we have to restrict the administration by legislation of this type, then I am certainly in favor of it.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, the reference to this bill by my colleague from Philadelphia relates to the policy of hiring by a man who, when he went to the United States Senate, not only obtained a tremendous majority of 175,000 in the city, but the people of the Commonwealth liked his policy of hiring so much that they elected him to the United States Senate.

Furthermore, let me say that in connection with the broadminded attitude taken by Mr. Andrews, it is sometimes necessary to employ such policy in order to get a specialist like we have in the city of Philadelphia today, our Commissioner of Recreation, one of the outstanding men on recreation in all of the United States. Why should we deprive ourselves, either in the Commonwealth or in our major cities, of talent of such greatness by limiting ourselves to the people who can be found only in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

It is true you have good personnel in Pennsylvania. It is true that you should try to get Pennsylvanians, but when you have an opportunity to get an outstanding man in a particular field you should be free to do so.

When President Eisenhower needed a surgeon, and he came to Pennsylvania and took Dr. I. S. Ravdin to operate on him, do you not think he was doing a good thing by recognizing a Pennsylvania son to perform the operation? Should he have limited himself to the area to which he was confined? It seems to me that it is foolish to confine yourself to a particular residence when you need talent. I think this is a bill that is too limited in its scope and you should vote against it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if this is to be another Philadelphia difference of opinions as to policies, I withdraw from the conflict.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, just let's be fair and not vote for this bill.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to make the single observation about this bill, that the bill does not make it mandatory that appointees come from the state of Pennsylvania prior to our going out of the Commonwealth for them. It is only in the event that the Governor cannot find qualified and competent help within the borders of this Commonwealth that he has the right to go out of the state.

It is my thinking that if there is at least the same amount of competence and ability for a particular job in the Commonwealth as there might be without it, then by all means we should stay within our borders.

I favor this legislation for that reason.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I cannot quite foresee the excitement regarding this particular piece of legislation.

If all the ladies and gentlemen will take time to read the amended bill on page 4, they will note it specifically deals with the appointing power. The appointing power is the Governor. It designates that when, in the opinion of the appointing power, he has no person qualified for the position from the applicants or people evidently available for the particular position, then he still has the right to step out and get whomever he may desire for the position from any place other than Pennsylvania.

It does show the preference that Pennsylvanians should certainly be considered first, and I think all of us agree that qualifications are very important in filling some of these positions.

I, of course, do not understand the excitement regarding such a proposal because basically we are just showing our intentions as to how we feel about the appointments in this particular category. The Governor still has the right to make the decision because it says "Whenever the appointing power is able to show that no such person is qualified and available for the appointment," and then you proceed right on.

Under those conditions, I believe that we can, or at least I can, vote for the bill as it is amended and presented to the House.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, it is for the very reasons that Mr. McCann feels that he can vote for this bill that I feel this to be bad legislation. There are no criterions set up in this bill by which the Executive can objectively judge whether anyone is qualified, as Mr. McCann has stated, it is merely in the opinion of the appointing power whether or not there is anyone qualified to fill the job in the state of Pennsylvania.

This is purely a political bill. If the Legislature, in its wisdom, wishes to indicate to the Executive that they feel he should search harder in the state of Pennsylvania for his appointments, then perhaps the proper way to do that is by resolution.

Surely the way to do it is not by vague and unenforceable legislation on the books. I feel that this is a very bad bill.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I want to add my voice to the affirmative side of this debate. The point raised by Mr. Gailey a moment ago is one of the reasons why I think this is a good bill.

It is not hemming in the Executive so tightly that he cannot effectively go around and find somebody outside of the state of Pennsylvania if he cannot find somebody in the state.

It does give him a great deal of discretion in the matter to determine the qualifications. I think we are stating a principle here which is sound, that if you can find a qualified person in the state, take him; if you cannot get somebody from another state.

I see nothing wrong with the bill. I would like to see it pass.

On the question, recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. TOLL and REIDENBACH.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 136.

In the House of Representatives, June 12, 1957

Many retired school teachers are residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and due to the rising cost of living are confronted with the problem of adjusting their retirement allowances to the cost of living.

The longer the school teachers are retired and the older they are, the more inadequate are the retirement allowances.

The General Assembly has made some adjustments by setting a minimum of $30 for each year of service and added $5 a year.

The older retired school teacher's allowance was based on 40 years of service (now 35), 10 lost years (now the best 5 years) and lower salary schedules.

It is obvious that the factual situation recited above suggests a study to recommend an equitable adjustment; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission study the problems relating to the retired school teachers of the Commonwealth so as to improve their economic conditions and adjust the same in the light of present cost of living; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will now declare a recess until 2:00 p. m. EST., for the purpose of holding a Republican and a Democrat caucus beginning at 12:30, EST. The Chair suggests that the Members have lunch and report thereafter immediately to their caucus rooms. The Chair hears no objection.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 55, entitled:

An Act amending "The Support Law" approved June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2045) requiring reimbursement of the Department of Public Assistance from payments made by legally responsible relatives for support of beneficiaries during time public assistance payments were made to the beneficiaries.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1507, entitled:

An Act amending the "Local Tax Enabling Law" approved June 25, 1947 (P. L. 1145) fixing maximum overall limit of tax revenues in school districts of the second third and fourth class.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Green, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated, or the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Ashton?

Will the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Ashton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ASHTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this is the question. I have been a member of the school board that levies a 21 mill property tax and assesses city assessments on a basis of 75 percent of the actual value of the property. What will be the effect of this bill on that situation?

Mr. ASHTON. Mr. Speaker, I do not quite understand that question. Is it 75 percent of the assessed valuation or the valuation of the State Tax Equalization Board?

Mr. ANDREWS. Actual value as fixed by the city assessor, the assessing organization, made on the basis of actual transactions as near as is humanly possible. The real estate is assessed at 75 percent of its going value.

Mr. ASHTON. Is that the same figure as the State Tax Equalization Board value?

Mr. ANDREWS. Sometimes it is higher.

Mr. ASHTON. Well, Mr. Speaker, if the valuation of the assesment is 75 per cent of the valuation and that valuation is either the same or higher than the State Tax Equalization Board, this bill will reduce the amount which can be levied.

Mr. ANDREWS. How much will it reduce it percentage-wise, 21 mills now being levied? What will we have to go down to?

Mr. ASHTON. Percentage-wise, it will reduce it about 20 percent, and this is just an approximation.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, operating within the law, it will be absolutely impossible to operate that district unless we have at least 21 mills. Absolutely impossible. We have to borrow money to replace buildings that have been in use since the 1889 flood and it is very bad to place any school district by means of an arbitrary limitation in a position in which it will be impossible to operate unless we can find new sources of revenue.

We are using the wage tax up to the possibilities under the law and we have exhausted every source of revenue except taxes levied on real estate. To come along with this kind of a law that will absolutely place our district where, in order to maintain the present standards, we will have to come to this Department of Education as a distressed school district.

There was a time when we were, and we received an appropriation as a distressed school district. We have managed to dig out. Now they want to throw us back into the same category. I say this is intolerably timed legislation. There should be some avenue of discretion, insofar as local school directors are concerned and not be limited by a theoretical figure that may be all right in some districts, but will absolutely ruin other districts.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, realizing full well the situation where we are on this bill, would it be possible for the Chair to withdraw the decision to permit us to pass this bill over temporarily in the session here today for a conference with certain gentlemen on the other side as well as the gentleman from Cambria?

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman desires to make a motion to postpone, the Chair will entertain that motion.

The Chair understands that it is agreeable to the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1096, entitled:

provisions relating to nonresident children attending public schools their privileges the responsibility of their custodians payment of tuition and records of the children.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. TOLL. On what basis was a roll taken on a bill which was not in the binder on my desk? Others do not have the bill, either, to examine before you vote on it.

The SPEAKER. Bills should not be voted on if the bill is not on the Member's desk. The Chair had been informed the bill is in print and the clerks have copies of the bill.

Mr. TOLL. I am sorry to say, Mr. Speaker, I do not have it in my binder.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria states that the bill is in his folder.

Will the Clerks see that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Brien, get copies of the bill?

If the gentleman objects we will not consider the bill.

Mr. TOLL. I do, Mr. Speaker. I think we ought to have a chance to at least read it before the vote is taken.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman object to voting on the bill at this time?

Mr. TOLL. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, the last Printer's No. of the Senate Bills is 368.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to raise a mild objection. The bill, Printer's No. 905, that we just passed was not in my binder. I realize the bill has been passed but I suggest, if I may, that the Chair take things a little easier so that we can at least find out whether these are in our binders before we are asked to vote on them.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman should have raised the point before the bill was passed.

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, on House bills the last number that is in our binders is 902. Now the Page has brought up Printer's No. 915. What has happened between 902 and 914?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the Members that the last Printer's No. on their files is 902, except in the case of House Bill 4, which has a special Printer's No. of 915. An error in House Bill 44 was made in the original printing and they had to give it a new Printer's No. in reprinting it.

That is the explanation for the numbers between 902 and 914 not being available. We will take up no bills with Printer's Nos. beyond 902.

On Senate Bills the final Printer's No. is 389.

The Chair was informed that these bills were in print and in the files.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Brien vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 1026 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. FOSTER offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 1026, Printer's No. 548, entitled "An act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1185, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) authorizing the use of radiomicro-wave equipment in timing speed in certain cases further regulating certain convictions under the act and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Secretary of Revenue.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. KORNICK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the motion for recommitment, and in opposing it I ask for a roll call.

Mr. SILVERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I too rise to oppose this motion.

Time is of the essence and thousands of people are being killed on our highways. Anybody who would vote to recommit this bill is voting for increased fatalities on the highways, and I ask this House to strike down that motion to recommit. Time is of the essence.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if this is the bill to permit the use of radar for the detection of speed violators on the highways?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to debate the motion to recommit the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order and will proceed.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to this motion to recommit the bill. I am opposed to it because it is a deliberate attempt on the part of the majority party to scuttle the use of radar in this state, and the reason they are doing it is because they do not want to give Governor Leader and his administration the credit for passing such far-reaching and such important legislation. It is not for the purpose of an appropriation. There is money in the Department of Revenue, in the Highways Safety and Responsibility Division, to pay for any instruments required to start this pioneer program.

There is absolutely no reason in the world why we should, on the closing days of the session, refer this bill to the Appropriations Committee. This bill will unquestionably save thousands of lives over a period of time. It is important, really important, legislation. I hate to see it killed like this. I cannot see, for the life of me, how we can be partisan about which administration, the Democrat or the Republican should get credit. What do we care whether it is Leader or any other Governor who gets credit for a bill? The important thing is, is it a good bill?

If it is recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations it will never again see the light of day, I can assure every Member of this House. It is being recommitted for the specific purpose of giving it a burial, not for the purpose of making an appropriation.

I therefore ask Members on both sides to oppose the motion, and let the Department of Revenue worry about where they are going to get the revenue to set up the bill.

Mr. WHITENIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I too rise to oppose this motion to recommit House Bill 1185, Printer's No. 886.

As has been said before, radar can save lives. A few years ago it was used on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Mr. Speaker, I assume that I am out of order. I want to speak just on the motion not to recommit this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the motion to recommit.

Mr. WHITENIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I too am greatly moved. I am disturbed and surprised by this motion to recommit the bill to the Committee on Appropriations. It is vital, it saves lives and it is sorely needed. I certainly ask the support of all of you to vote against the recommitment of this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if this bill could be held to debate its merits before it is recommitted.

The SPEAKER. The motion before the House is to recommit the bill to the Committee on Appropriations. That motion must first be disposed of.

Mr. WHITENIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I am asking that it not be recommitted until we have an opportunity to debate it on its merits.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, has a degree of Doctor of Psychology, but he is certainly not psychic. He might be a seer, but I think he missed his calling when he said that the Republicans were against radar. You will find, when the roll call is taken, that there are many Republicans who believe in safety on the public highways as he does.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I wish to agree wholeheartedly with the gentleman from Allegheny who just spoke.

I believe the Members of the majority in this House know that I can be as partisan as the next man in debate on this floor, but I do not feel that the gentleman from Philadelphia is correct in the statement that he makes. I know that a large number of the Members on the majority side feel just as some of the Members over here on this side do, that we should have an opportunity to vote on this bill at this session. Certainly I do not want to be a party to accusing them of being against highway safety, nor of voting to kill this bill merely for political reasons. I am sure that is not so.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Hocker on this motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman state the purpose of the motion to recommit.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, my purpose was this, and solely this, that this is something entirely new that is going to be done. We understand that it is going to cost a lot of money, we have no idea how much, and we think in the Appropriations Committee we can find out just how much it will cost.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, could the gentleman state how many legislative days we have left in this session?

Mr. HOCKER. Your guess is as good as mine. I would not say that I knew.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell us whether there are enough legislative days left in order to pass this, if it is reported out again?

Mr. HOCKER. I cannot answer that. Probably the Speaker could answer that better than I.

Mr. TOLL. I nother words, it is very likely that if this bill is recommitted it will never come out again.

Mr. HOCKER. Will the gentleman repeat the question?

Mr. TOLL. In other words, Mr. Speaker, it is very likely if this bill is recommitted it will never come out of committee.

Mr. HOCKER. I would not say that, no. No, that is not what I would say would be done to the bill.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire of the Speaker whether there are enough legislative days left to pass a bill of this character, if it is reported out again?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to state what the final adjournment date will be. That decision will be made by this House.

Mr. TOLL. In other words as we stand the resolution was for the 15th of June.

The SPEAKER. That resolution has not been concurred in by the House of Representatives.

Mr. TOLL. But this is the only resolution before the House, is that right, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. There is no resolution before the House. The resolution to adjourn sine die on June the 15th is in the Rules Committee of the House.

Mr. KORNICK. Mr. Speaker, may we have a roll call on this motion?

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. KORNICK and TOLL and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 44, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) providing special registration provisions for motor buses of certain common carriers of passengers for hire.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:
